Modern Improvements. Among the many articles put forth in the interest of housekeepers, nothing has become more popular than James Pyle's Pearline. Five years ago it was scarcely known; since then it has found its way to all parts of the country. Its utility is acknowledged by all who try it, and unlike most of the labor-saving compounds, experience has proved Pearline to be perfectly harmless to the most delicate fabrics, and we feel sure that no one will be without it after a fair trial.

NEW ENGLAND'S SENTIMENTS.

A large part of the great influence which New England has wielded in the councils of the nation and through its progressive institutions has been because of the general unanimity of the six States on most important questions, enabling them to act as a unit. This is not now perhaps so true of political affairs as it once was, but in most matters there is a substantial agreement of opinion. Just at present this is shown in the universal commendation of Athlophoros, praises of which come from all quarters of every State. A few of them follow:

"I have been a great sufferer from rheumatism for the last three years," says E. Parkhurst, of Woonsocket, R. I., "having been unable to do any active labor during that time, and for a large portion of the time being confined to my bed. I had taken hundreds of dollars worth of medicine, with no relief, until I was induced to try a bottle of Athlophoros. The first three doses resulted in my having the best night's sleep that I had enjoyed for three years, and by the time the first bottle was taken I realized that I was on the road to complete recovery. I have since taken six bottles and am now able to attend to my business and consider myself a well man."

Mrs. C. N. Paige, of Boltonville, Vt., says,

"I first saw Athlophoros advertised in a paper, and as it was only recommended for rheumatism and neuralgia I had great faith to believe it could do me some good. My husband, therefore, sent for a bottle. I had been a great sufferer from neuralgia for years, and had spells when no one who saw me thought I could live. Many times I have wished death would end my agony. The pain would commence in the pit of my stomach and go from there right through my heart. I had employed doctors who were thought very skillful, but I got no benefit from them. I had these spells every two or three weeks for over two years before taking Athlophoros. That was one year ago last April and I have had only two of them since, the last one during the winter. I took then part of another bottle and have had none since. Words can never express the relief I feel at being rid of such agony as I suffered when I had those spells."

Mrs. Harriet Strong, of Westville, Ct., tells this straight-forward story:

"I had the rheumatism, which settled in my knees and hips. The joints were so stiff and the pain so great that I could not walk, but was obliged to move around in a chair. Several doctors did all they could for me, but I was no better. While in this condition, sitting in my chair by the window reading a paper, I saw an advertisement of Athlophoros. I thought I would try it and sent for a bottle. When they brought it to me I told them I considered it a dollar thrown away, as I had not a particle of faith, but I commenced taking it and after the third dose I thought I felt a change for the better. I continued to use it as directed until I have taken four bottles. Strange as it may seem, I am perfectly cured and am about the house all day, doing all the housework, with not a bit of rheumatism about me. I can never return thanks enough to the parties that make Athlophoros for the benefit I have derived from its use. I recommend it to everybody."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it, express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York.

Old Ben Wade.

Whatever Benjamin F. Wade believed or said, writes a correspondent of the New York Star, he believed and uttered with his whole soul, and had the habit, when under the excitement of some pressing events, of emphasizing his speech by slight oaths. Of course, all his judicious friends regretted this, but the habit was far less common than rumor has laid to his charge, and he was never rough or in any marked degree offensively profane. I remember one day—it was well along in the first summer of the war—that a gentleman from Western Pennsylvania came to me in Washington with a letter of introduction from my brother, residing in Erie, and setting forth that the bearer was a distinguished presiding elder of the Methodist connection anxious to offer his services to the country in whatever capacity he might be most useful, and desirous of an introduction to Mr. Lincoln and Mr. Wade. I took the reverend gentleman, who seemed a very determined and earnest man, at once to Mr. Wade, to whom he told his wishes, closing with the remark that he "was ready to preach, pray or fight for his country; only desiring employment in whichever service he could be of most use." Whereupon Mr. Wade grasped his visitor's hand a second time, with a most cordial grasp, and replied that, "in view of the situation of the country he thought such talk on the part of a clergyman was d—— sensible talk." And taking his hat and cane—which was a rifled cane, and in those days always loaded—said he would go at once with the gentleman to the white house, "for Mr. Lincoln would be glad to see such a preacher, and before sunset they would have him commissioned in some one of the duties suggested." It could not have been more than two hours before my clericle friend called on me again, now with his appointment as a chaplain in his pocket, and with transportation to a regiment then fighting in Tennessee; and he was to leave on the next train. The good man, who, as afterward I was glad to learn, proved himself through the war a genuine hero in all the capacities he had intimated, was delighted with his prompt success, and full of hearty expressions of admiration for both Lincoln and Wade. He declared, among other terms of high admiration, that they were "both lions of the tribe of Judah." "Yes," I replied, "they are indeed two noble men—grand men for the time;" but, thinking the senator's oath of the morning, followed, as I feared, by others, might need some excuse, I added, in apologetic tone, "you noticed that our good friend, Mr. Wade, is inclined, in his earnestness, to emphasize his remarks with words not exactly in order." "Yes, sir, I noticed it," replied the presiding elder, and, whispering in my ear, "but I noticed another thing, that he always puts his oaths in the right place."

One Faro Game.

Speaking of high play, I may as well tell you a story, the truth of which is well known among sporting men, about a game between John Morrissey and Ben Wood, the famous gambler, Fernando Wood's brother:

In 1867 I was running a game at No. 1 West Twenty-fourth street, New York city, where the Hoffman house now stands. I was going home about 4 o'clock one morning, when, seeing a light in the window of Morrissey's gambling-house, at No. 5, I thought I would go up for a few minutes and see what was going on. I found only a half dozen men there, the rest looking on while Wood and Morrissey were playing faro. About the time I came in the game stopped and Wood was $62,000 winner. The company took a few drinks, and, after some talk, Morrissey said to Wood: "You can double that $62,000 or lose it."

"All right," said Wood. "Get behind the table and give me sixty-two chips representing $1,000 each, and I'll go you." So Morrissey began to deal, and Wood to play against the bank. At first Wood's luck seemed to have turned against him, for in ten minutes he lost twenty-nine of his chips, so that he had only thirty-three chips left, representing $33,000. At this point he made up his mind to risk the whole of this sum upon a single turn. There were only three cards left in the box—the tray, eight, and six spot; it was the largest bet ever made in this country over a gaming-table. Morrissey drew the fatal cards slowly out of the box. If he won he would have his $62,000 back and would owe Wood nothing. All held their breath. The turn came tray, eight, and Wood scooped in $33,000 at one haul. The result of this turn gave Wood $66,000. The luck changed from that point, and Morrissey was soon cleaned out. When the game was over he handed Wood a check for $80,000 and a note at thirty days for the remainder of the $124,000 he owed him as the result of that night's play. The sort of a game I have just described is called a "snap," or "freeze-out." It is usually played by two men, each of whom puts up an equal amount of money." When either is cleaned out the "snap" is "broken" and the game is at an end.—Boston Herald.

The Parlor of Our Fathers.

The following description of the furnishing of a room a century ago is taken from one of the recently reprinted stories of Edmund Quincy:

The walls were panelled in oak, with a gilt molding, now a little tarnished. Between the two windows opposite was a large mirror framed in mahogany, with gilt sconces for light. Under it was a table covered with a rich Turkey rug, which was well piled with books and papers, and beneath which appeared a couple of small globes. The closed window shutters were well nigh concealed, as well as the high window seats of oak, by the depending folds of the crimson damask curtains. Between the two windows on my right hand was a card-table of mahogany, black with time, clasping heavy balls in its clawed feet.

On the side of the room opposite to the card-table was a most luxurious easy-chair—a fit cradle for declining age—and a foot-stool, both covered with chintz, protecting the crimson damask, which on occasions of importance we revealed to match the curtains. In the nook on the side of the fire-place, answering to the door by which I entered was a secretary, its looking-glass doors opening over what seemed to be a chest of drawers, but which, when drawn out, formed a writing desk with pigeon holes innumerable. Above the looking-glass doors were three smaller drawers, the inner one with fluted rays diverging from the middle of its lower edge like a cockle shell; the whole crowned by a sort of pyramidal pediment, the polished wood reflecting the surrounding objects like marble, and the brass handles glistening like gold.

A thick Turkey carpet covered the floor, and a sufficient number of inviting chairs, with carved frames and well-stuffed seats, expanded their arms to welcome the weary guest. It may readily be conceived that I took in this inventory in less than a tithe of the time it has taken to recount it, and had again returned to the blazing hearth. The chimney was one of those which men built when the forests grew up to their very doors, and it was their ambition to consume them as rapidly as possible. The fireplace was encircled with my favorite Dutch tiles and surmounted by a capacious mantelpiece, which, as well as the panels over it, was covered with particular care.

"An Old Puritan" writes to a London paper: "I would see daughter or sister of mine dead and buried ten times over rather than see any woman of my kith and kin reduced to the infamy of buying her bread by displaying her thighs, brandishing her legs, and twisting her gauzy apology for a petticoat before the obscene crew of musicers and rakes who form an appreciable section of every audience where a ballet is performed."

A bill in equity has been filed in the Massachusetts supreme court by Wm. C. Rogers, Wm. B. Bacon and Willard P. Phillips, trustees under the mortgage of the Eastern railroad, vs. the Eastern railroad company and the Boston & Maine railroad company. The bill, after reciting the trust, which provides that there shall annually be paid to the plaintiff a certain sum to constitute a sinking fund until the certificates of debt have been reduced to the amount of $10,000,000, proceeds as follows:

In November, 1883, said Eastern railroad company paid plaintiffs the sum of $122,513.70 as the net earnings for the year ending Aug. 31, 1883, and rendered to them an account of the operations of the road, showing that sum as the net earnings thereof for that period.

In making up said account said Eastern railroad company charged into expenses certain items of expenditure for the improvement of the company's property at East Boston, amounting to $48,093.57, which were not entered upon the company's books until September, 1883, and when so entered showed a deficit in the earnings of that month of $4989.51. But as the sum of $48,093.57 had been already charged to the earnings of the previous year in accounting to the plaintiffs as above set forth it should not, for the purpose of so accounting, have been again charged in September, 1883, and without that charge said September accounts show a balance of net earnings for the month of September, 1883, of $43,104.08, to which the plaintiffs are entitled.

In December, a lease was made of the railroad and other property of the Eastern railroad company to the Boston & Maine railroad, which by its terms went into effect on the first day of December, 1883. By the terms of said lease the railroad and all of the property of the said lessor were turned over to said lessee to hold and operate in connection with its own railroad and property. The joint income, after paying the fixed charges of both corporations, is said to be annually, as follows:

1st, $630,000 to the lessee; 2d, $100,000 to the lessor; 3d, $70,000 to the lessee, and 4th, the residue up to $336,000 to the lessor.

Said Boston & Maine railroad company has paid to said Eastern railroad company, and said Eastern railroad company has paid to the plaintiffs the sum of $245,681.09 as and for the rental on net earnings of the Eastern railroad for the year ending October 1, 1884, as made up under the lease, but not including the earnings of the month of September, 1883, during which the Eastern railroad company operated its own property and earned the net sum of $43,104.08.

Said Eastern railroad company, at the time said lease went into operation, were bound to pay over said sum of $43,104.08 to the plaintiffs as a part of said sinking fund and the same constituted a part of said sinking fund and was and is subject to the trusts thereof, and the Boston & Maine railroad took possession of all the property and assets of the said Eastern railroad company with full notice and full knowledge of said trust, and are bound to perform the same and to pay over said sum to the plaintiffs as the proper trustees thereof.

Therefore plaintiffs pray that this court will declare said trust and will decree that said Boston & Maine railroad pay to plaintiffs said sum of $43,104.08, the amount of said fund, with interest, and will give such other and further relief against said defendants, or either of them, as the nature of the case may seem to require.

A bill in equity has been brought in the Massachusetts court by F. Gordon Dexter, Amos A. Lawrence and T. Jefferson Coolidge, trustees, against the Boston & Maine railroad company, to prevent that company from making a lease of the Worcester, Nashua & Rochester railroad, and from taking possession of the road thereunder. The ground of the bill is that the lease is not authorized by the statutes of Massachusetts. There was a brief exparte hearing on Tuesday, Dec. 8th, before Judge Holmes, by whom an order of notice was issued returnable on Tuesday, the 15th.

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

A LEDGE DEVELOPED IN FISHER'S ISLAND SOUND, CONN.—Information having been received from Capt. S. J. Geer, master of steamer Block Island, of the existence of a rock southeast of Middle Clump, southern part of Fisher's Island sound, Lieut. J. E. Pillsbury, U. S. N., assistant United States coast and geodetic survey, commanding the steamer Blake, was directed to examine the locality.

At the western end of the rocky patch, already indicated on the charts and lying about midway between Middle Clump and the nearest point of Fisher's Island, Lieut. Pillsbury found a pinnacle rock having but seven feet of water over it, located on the following bear ngs, taken from Coast and Geodetic Survey Chart No. 355: Ram Island Reef spindle, N. ¾ E., 1½ miles; Latimer's Reef lighthouse, E. N. E. ½ E. easterly, two miles; North Dumpling lighshouse, W. ½ N., 2¼ miles.

This rock is to the southward of the main channel. Vessels passing between Middle clump and Fisher's island should, while abreast the clump, keep the wharf near Lyle's beach hotel barely open to the northward of Clay point, bearing about W. S. W. This leads to the northward of the rock.

About Dec. 15th the nun and can buoys in Boston harbor will be removed for the winter, and spar or ice buoys of corresponding numbers will be substituted.

All nun, can and bell buoys in Vineyard sound and Buzzard's bay will be removed for the winter about the 15th inst. Spar buoys of correspondi g numbers and colors will be substitute.

A Great Victory

A Terrible Case of Scrofula Cured by

Hood's Sarsaparilla

"In the winter of 1879 I was attacked with Scrofula in one of the most aggravating forms. At one time I had no less than thirteen large abscesses over and around my neck and throat, continually exuding an offensive mass of bloody matter disgusting to behold, and almost intolerable to endure. It is impossible to fully describe my sufferings, as the case was complicated with Chronic Catarrh. After three years of misery, having been treated by three physicians, I was worse than ever. Finally, on the recommendation of W. J. Huntley, druggist, of Lockport, I was induced to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. And now, after having taken twelve bottles, within the last twelve months, the scrofulous eruptions have entirely ceased, and the abscesses have all disappeared, except the unsightly scars, which are daily becoming smaller by degrees, and beautifully less." I do not know what it may have done for others, but I do know that in my case, Hood's Sarsaparilla has proved an effective specific indeed. As an evidence of my gratitude I send these facts unsolicited, and I am ready to verify the authenticity of this cure, by personal correspondence with any one who doubts it." CHARLES A. ROBERTS, East Wilson, N. Y.

This statement is confirmed by W. J. Huntley, druggist, of Lockport, N. Y., who calls the cure a great victory for Hood's Sarsaparilla. Send for book giving statements of many cures.

"A THING OF BEAUTY IS A JOY FOREVER!"

As the time is fast approaching when people will be looking for the beautiful, to make their annual Christmas gifts from, we would respectfully call attention to our stock, selected expressly for the holiday trade.

Our stocks of WATCHES, JEWELRY, CLOCKS, SILVER-PLATED WARE and FANCY NOVELTIES, were never as large as it is now. We take it as occasion to thank our friends and the public in general for the confidence and liberal patronage they have bestowed on us for the last six years since leaving the house of HUTCHINSON & CONNELL, and in the future as in the past our motto will be, "Knowledge & Honesty:" First, we understand our business in all its branches fully, and cannot take advantage of our customers through ignorance; Second, we sell everything for what it is.

Our reputation for skilled Watch-work is too well established to need any comment upon; there is no better repairing done in the State than we send out.

Please do not look in our window and think you see the bulk of our stock, for we cannot show but a small part of our stock in the window. Our show-cases are full, our safe is full. Please come in and let us show you.

We could quote our prices but do not think it wise to do so in a newspaper, but being the largest buyer in our line of any dealer in the State, we can give prices that no one can honestly beat.

The custom is growing in favor of purchasing Xmas gifts early and having them laid away, we already have several Silver and Gold Watch-s and Chains sold, some of them to be sent out of the State.

Please call early and see if we cannot please you in every way. Respectfully,

JAMES R. CONNELL, 7 Congress Street,

WRECK.

The schooner Onward, Lovell Hodgdon master, of Gloucester, Mass., sank in thirteen fathoms of water in Ipswich bay on the night of Thursday, the 10th inst. She was a net fisherman, and had her nets set in the bay. She left this port about eight o'clock Thursday evening to attend to her gear, and about an hour later struck heavily on Hampton ledge, remaining there till about midnight, when she came off, leaking badly. An attempt was made to beach her, but she went down in a few minutes in deep water, the crew taking to the dories as they stood, saving none of their personal effects; the nets, being set, were saved. Part of the crew landed at Hampton, and the rest pulled to Rockport, Mass. The schooner registered about forty-five tons, was built in 1852, and was owned by the master and others; she was insured.

MEDALS AWARDED.

Two gold medals of the New Hampshire Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, offered by Mrs. John J. Pickering of this city as prizes to the boys of the Exeter grammar and high schools for the best two essays on "Kindness to Animals," were awarded on Friday to John F. Dearborn of the high school, and Harry B. Tilton of the grammar school. Col. Marvin presented the medals, with appropriate remarks. Hon. John D. Lyman and Prof. Burbank made eloquent addresses, which were listened to with close and appreciative attention by the pupils and friends of the schools who were present to witness the interesting ceremony.

The schooner John Stroup, Sturgis master, was towed into Provincetown by the revenue cutter Gallatin on the 9th inst., having been picked up in a disabled condition eight miles east of Nauset lights. Her sails were blown away off Thacher's Island in the gale of the 7th, and she had drifted to where the cutter found her.

The schooner Monticello, Henshaw, from Rondout, N. Y., for this port, arrived at Vineyard Haven on the 10th inst., leaking.

Schooner Raymond T. Maull, Smith master, from Philadelphia with coal for this port, while off Race point on the night of the 9th inst. lost her head sails, and was obliged to anchor in the breakers. She pounded heavily at low tide, and started leaking. She got off with the assistance of the Race Point life-saving crew, and was towed into Provincetown, Mass., on the evening of the 10th.

There were twenty-seven fishing vessels at Rollins' and Randall & Caswell's wharves on Friday, the 11th inst., all having fish on board—some as high as 10,000 or 12,000 lbs. each, others with small fares. None of the boats seemed to be pitching out fish during the afternoon, the fishermen holding out for $4 per hundered, while the dealers would only offer about $3.

Among the many books which the Christmas season brings to the front as suitable for gifts, that of Miss Cleveland, entitled "George Eliot's Poetry, and Other Studies," stands prominent. It is beautifully bound, printed in clear type, and contains, among other engravings, a fine steel portrait of the author. The subjects upon which Miss Cleveland writes are of marked interest to the literary world, and are treated in a clear, vigorous and attractive style. It is a book any lady would be proud to possess, and its moderate price places it within the reach of all. Joaquin Miller says: "I congratulate country on Miss Cleveland's book. It is the best and bravest expression for poetry and religion together that America has yet found." The New York Critic says: "There is nothing dull about it. The author has a lively mind, and a pen that easily keeps pace with it." The book is sold only by subscription. A postal card addressed to "Agent," this city, will receive prompt attention.

A clam chowder will be offered free to the public by M. Garrity at his rooms on Daniel street this evening. The chowders prepared there are gotten up regardless of expense, and all condiments are included to make the dish pleasurable to the taste of gourmands.

"A Friendly Tip," the play performed at Music hall on Thursday evening by the W. J. Ferguson dramatic company, drew but a moderate sized audience, but greatly pleased those who did attend. There is much fun in the piece, and it is well brought out.

Friday morning the Chronicle contained a brief item of complaint at the needlessly-long time Market street had been obstructed by the work on the new sewer. That evening the Times said: "The trench at the foot of Deer street crossing Market street, in which the sewer is being laid, was filled in to-day."

There was a narrow escape from a frightful railway disaster in New Brunswick on the morning of Dec. 10th. The New Brunswick railway crosses the two branches of the Oromocto river, which there are about three miles apart, on temporary wooden bridges, while permanent steel ones are being constructed. On the 10th inst. a freight train from the westward crossed the south branch bridge in safety, but on reaching the bridge over the north branch the structure fell with the engine, the cars fortunately remaining on the track, with one hanging over the gap. The engineer escaped, but the fireman was drowned. About an hour later the night express from Boston dashed across the south branch bridge, but being duly signalled came to a stop; and the conductor on learning what the trouble was ahead, decided to back up to the last-passed station. On reaching the south branch, however, it was found that the bridge over which the train had thundered a few minutes before, had been entirely swept away, leaving only the rails stretched across the river like wires for a rope-dancer, being held together by the fishplates.

The Boston & Maine railroad has requested an investigation into the circumstances attending the death of Herbert Leach, found dead beside the track near Biddeford on the 7th inst. It is said neither the engineer nor fireman of the locomotive which was assumed to have struck him, were aware of having hit anything; and the only injury found upon his person was a cut on the back of the head. A coroner's jury was summoned at Biddeford on the 10th inst., and commenced an inquest on Friday.

A well known citizen of Wetherdville, Md., Mr. W. R. Graves, writes:—I suffer sometimes with acute rheumatism and your Salvation Oil gives me instantaneous relief, and I recommend it as a sure cure for this terrible disease.

Rochester has got a law-and-order league, with a membership of over 200, including the best men of the town of all parties, to stop the sale of liquor.

Mr. Mullins of the firm of Blakewell & Mullins, artists and modellers, Salem, Columbiana County, Ohio, while at the World's Fair, New Orleans, was seized with a severe attack of quinsy. He used St. Jacobs Oil, and he writes that it affected a wonderful cure.

GENTS:—I feel it my duty to say respecting Burdock Blood Bitters, that it is the best medicine I ever took. I suffered two or three years from stomach troubles and dyspepsia as well as from liver and kidney complaint. I was not able to attend to my business. My wife was afflicted in much the same way. We read of your Bitters in the papers and made up our minds that we would try them. The result is my wife and I began to improve at once, and I am now able to do more hard work than before in ten years. It relieved my kidney troubles as well. We both wish you, the makers of it, Godspeed.

Inaction Fraught With Danger.

Inaction of the kidneys and bladder is fraught with danger. Renal diseases of the most stubborn and fatal character have this initial symptom. To disregard it is to invite them. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters has the special quality of stimulating urinary secretion and discharge to a degree consonant with health, and no further. It is not an excitant of the organs, like the unmedicated stimuli of commerce. It simply arouses them when their activity and vitality are impaired. This stimulating and tonic action the Bitters likewise exerts upon the bowels, the liver and the stomach. It averts renal disease, cures dyspepsia, prevents and remedies fever and ague, and removes billiousness and constipation. No finer tonic exists, and to persons with a tendency to gout it strongly recommends itself, as it is a fine depurent of the blood.

Pain from indigestion, dyspepsia, and too hearty eating is relieved at once by taking one of Carter's Little Liver Pills immediately after dinner. Don't forget this.

Four boys of Newark, N. J., who were bitten by a mad dog a few days ago, have ailed for France on the steamer Canada from New York, for treatment by M. Pasteur.

AN IMAGINARY HELL.

Mr. Frank Morley, of Waterbury, Ct., is the possessor of a breezy and picturesque style of writing, which shows that he has missed his avocation if he is not an ink-slinger on some Connecticut paper that dares to call a spade a spade. He has lately been the victim of neuralgia at his home, 89 Grand street, and describes the disease and his cure in this lively fashion:

"After suffering all the terrors of an imaginary orthodox hell for two weeks with inflammatory rheumatism and daily growing worse, I was induced to try Athlophoros. The effect was like magic. I was relieved immediately and would like to say to all who are suffering with the dread disease, 'Don't wait; try Athlophoros.'"

Those who have suffered from inflammatory rheumatism will appreciate the force of Mr. Morley's remarks, and will also agree with the estimate which Mr. George L. Pease, another citizen of Waterbury, puts upon the value of Athlophoros:

"I would have Athlophoros," he says, "if I had to pay ten dollars a dose for it. After fourteen years of intense suffering it has done for me what our best physicians could not do. During that time I took every known medicine for neuralgia of the stomach, but found no relief at all until I took Athlophoros. The effect was wonderful. All pain disappeared and my general health was so much improved as to cause general comment. I cannot speak too highly of the merits of Athlophoros, and cheerfully recommend it to all who may be troubled with rheumatism or neuralgia."

From Pigeon Cove, Mass., Susannah Brown sends these words of good cheer to those afflicted with neuralgia:

"I had been troubled with neuralgia in my head for four or five years, day and night. Seeing an advertisement of Athlophoros in a Gloucester paper, I thought I would try it and so I sent a year ago for some. I have taken eight bottles and since last March I have had no neuralgia at all. My head, I think, is entirely well. I consider Athlophoros a great remedy for neuralgia and shall recommend it to any one troubled with it."

Mrs. Sarah J. Cross, of Monroe, N.H., says of her experience:

"Athlophoros has done wonderful cures for myself and all those who have used any that I let them have. As for myself the rheumatism is a thing of the past to me, and I feel like a new person."

"When I first tried Athlophoros," says Mrs. Mary T. Hart, of Farmington, Ct., "I was so afflicted with rheumatism in my knees that they were badly swollen, and I suffered a great deal of pain. Three doses began to have an effect, and when I had used two bottles the pain left and the swelling and stiffness disappeared and have never returned. About a year later my shoulder troubled me. One bottle of Athlophoros cured that and I have not had rheumatism since. I recommended its use to one or two neighbors, who tried it and were relieved."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will sent it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. ATHLOPHOROS Co., 112 Wall Street, New York.

President's Message.

Grover Cleveland's First Official Presentation to Congress.

The Government Finances—The Army, Navy, Postal Service, Public Lands, Pensions, Etc., Etc.

Adherence to the Civil-service Law—The Agricultural and Animal Industries, Etc., Etc.

A TRIBUTE TO MR. HENDRICKS.

TO THE CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES: Your assembling is clouded by a sense of public bereavement caused by the recent and sudden death of Thomas A. Hendricks, vice-president of the United States. His distinguished public services, his complete integrity and devotion to every duty, and his personal virtues will find honorable record in his country's history. Ample and repeated proofs of the esteem and confidence in which he was held by his fellow-countrymen were manifested by his election to offices of the most important trust and highest dignity, and, at length, full of years and honors, he has been laid at rest amid general sorrow and benediction.

CONSTITUTIONAL DUTY.

The constitution, which requires those chosen to legislate for the people to annually meet in the discharge of their solemn trust, also requires the president to give to congress information of the state of the Union and recommend to its consideration such measures as he shall deem necessary and expedient. At the threshold of a compliance with these constitutional directions, it is well for us to bear in mind that our usefulness to the people's interests will be promoted by a constant appreciation of the scope and character of our respective duties as they relate to federal legislation. While the executive may reccommend such measures as he shall deem expedient, the responsibility for legislative action must and should rest upon those selected by the people to make their laws. Contemplation of the grave and responsible functions assigned to the executive branches of the government under the constitution will disclose the partitions of power between our respective departments, and their necessary independence; and also the need for the exercise of all the power intrusted to each, in that spirit of comity and cooperation which is essential to the proper fulfillment of the patriotic obligations which rests upon us as faithful servants of the people. The jealous watchfulness of our constituencies, great and small, supplements their suffrage; and, therefore, in the tribunal they establish every public servant should be judged.

FOREIGN RELATIONS.

It is gratifying to announce that the relations of the United States with all foreign powers continue to be friendly. Our position after nearly a century of successful constitutional government, maintenance of good faith in all of our engagements, the avoidance of complications with other nations, and consistent and amicable attitude toward the strong and weak alike, have proved of a political disposition which renders professions of good will unnecessary. There are no questions of difficult pending with any foreign government. Question has arisen with the government of Austro-Hungary touching the representation of the United States at Vienna. Having, under my constitutional prerogative, appointed an estimable citizen of unimeachable honor and competence as minister at that court, the government of Austro-Hungary invited this government to cognizance of certain exceptions, based upon allegations against the personal acceptability of Mr Kelley, the appointed envoy, asking that, in view thereof, the appointment should be withdrawn. The reasons advanced were such as could not be acquiesced in without violation of my oath of office and the precepts of the constitution, since they necessarily involved a limitation in favor of a foreign government upon the right of selection by the executive and required such an application of a religious test as a qualification for office under the United States as would have resulted in the practical disfranchisement of a large class of our citizens and the abandonment of a vital principle of our government. The Austro-Hungarian government finally decided not to receive Mr. Kelley as the envoy of the United States, and that gentleman has since resigned his commission, leaving the post vacant.

AMERICAN PORK ABROAD.

I regret to say that restrictions have been put upon the importation of our pork into France, notwithstanding the abundant demonstration of absence of sanitary danger in its use; but I entertain strong hopes that, with a better understanding of the matter, this vexatious prohibition will be removed. It would be pleasing to be able to say as much with respect to Germany, Austria and other countries where such food products are absolutely excluded without present prospect of reasonable change.

THE ISTHMUS CANAL.

The interest of the United States in a practicable transit for ships across the strip of land separating the Atlantic from the Pacific has been repeatedly manifested during the last half century. My immediate predecessor caused to be negotiated with Nicaragua a treaty for the construction, by and at the sole cost of the United States, of a canal through Nicaraguan territory, and laid it before the senate. Pending the action of that body thereon, I withdrew the treaty for re-examination. Attentive consideration of its provisions leads me to withhold it from resubmission to the senate.

Maintaining, as I do, the policy of the president's from Washington's day, which proscribes entangling alliances with foreign states, I do not favor a policy of acquisition of new and distant territory, or the incorporation of remote interests with our own. The laws of progress are vital and organic, and we must be conscious of that irresistible tide of commercial expansion which, as the concomitant of our active civilization, day by day, is being urged onward by those increasing facilities of production, transportation and communication to which steam and electricity has given birth. But our duty in the present instructs us to address ourselves mainly to the development of the vast resources of the great area committed to our charge, and to the cultivation of the arts of peace within our borders, though jealously alert in preventing the American Hemisphere from being involved in the political problems and complications of distant governments. Therefore I am unable to recommend propositions involving paramount privileges of ownership or rights outside of our own territory, when coupled with absolute and unlimited engagements to defend the territorial integrity of the State where such interests lie.

SHIP RAILWAY.

While the general project of connecting the two oceans by means of a canal is to be encouraged, I am of the opinion that any scheme to that end, to be considered with favor, shall be free from the features alluded to. The Tehuantepec route is declared by engineers of the highest repute, and by competent scientists to afford an entirely practical transit for vessels and cargoes by means of a ship railway from the Atlantic to the Pacific. The obvious advantages of such a route, if feasible, over others more remote from the axial lines of traffic between Europe and the Pacific, and particularly between the valley of the Mississipi and the western coast of North and South America, are deserving of consideration. Whatever highway may be constructed across the barrier dividing the two greatest maritime areas of the world, must be for the world's benefit—a trust for mankind, to be removed from the chance of domination by any single power, nor become a point of invitation of hostilities or a prize for warlike ambition. An engagement combining the construction, ownership and operation of such a work by this government with an offensive and defensive alliance for its protection with the foreign states whose responsibilities and rights we would share, is, in my judgement, inconsistent with such dedication to universal and neutral use, and would, moreover, entail measures for its realization beyond the scope of our nationally policy or present means. The lapse of years has abundantly confirmed the wisdom and foresight of those earlier administrations, which long before the conditions of maritime intercourse were changed and enlarged by the progress of the age, proclaimed the vital need of inter-oceanic traffic across the commercial isthmus and consecrated it in advance to the common use of mankind by their positive declaration and through the formal obligation of treaties. Toward such realization the efforts of my administration will be applied, ever bearing in mind the principles on which it must rest, and which were declared in no uncertain tones by Mr. Cass, while secretary of state in 1858, announced that "what the United States want in Central America, next to the happiness of the people, is the security and neutrality of the inter-oceanic routes which lead through it."

TRANSCONTINENTAL RAILWAYS.

The construction of three transcontinental lines of railway, all in successful operation, wholly within our territory, and uniting the Atlantic and the Pacific oceans, has been accompanied by results of a most interesting and impressive nature, and has created new conditions, not in the routes of commerce only, but in political geography, which powerfully affect our relations and suggest and necessary protection of interests in, any trans-isthmian route which may be opened and employed for the ends of peace and traffic, or in other contingencies, for uses inimical to both.

Transportation is a factor in the cost of commodities scarcely second to that of their production, and weighs as heavily upon the consumer. Our experience already has proven the great importance of having the competition between land carriage and water carriage fully developed, each acting as a protection to the public against the tenuencies of monopoly, which is inherent in the consolidation of wealth and power in the hands of vast corporations. These suggestions may serve to emphasize what I have already said on the score of the necessity of a neutralization of any interoceanic transit, and this can only be accomplished by making the use of the route open to all nations and subject to the ambitions and warlike necessity of none.

The drawings and report of a recent survey of the Nicaragua Canal route, made by Chief Engineer Menocal, will be communicated for your information.

CHINA AND THE CHINESE QUESTION.

The harmony of our relations with China is fully manifested by the application of the acts lately passed to execute the treaty of 1880, restrictive of the immigration of Chinese laborers into the United States. Individual cases of hardship have occurred beyond the power of the Executive to remedy and calling for judicial determination.

The condition of the Chinese question in the Western States and Territories is, despite this restrictive legislation, far from being satisfactory. The recent outbreak in Wyoming Territory, where numbers of unoffending Chinamen, indisputably within the protection of the treaties and the laws, were murdered by a mob, and the still more recent threatened outbreak of the same character in Washington Territory, are still fresh in the minds of all, and there is apprehension lest the bitterness of feeling against the Mongolian race on the Pacific slope may find vent to similar lawless demonstrations. All the power of this Government should be exerted to maintain the amplest good faith toward China in the treatment of these men, and the inflexible sternness of the law in bringing the wrong-doers to justice should be insisted upon. Every effort has been made by this Government to prevent these violent outbreaks and to aid the representatives of China in their investigation of these outrages, and it is best just to say that they are traceable to the lawlessness of men not citizens of the United States engaged in competition with Chinese laborers.

Race prejudice is the chief factor in originating these disturbances, and it exists in a large part of our domain, jeopardizing our peace and the good relationship we try to maintain with China. The admitted right of a Government to prevent the influx of elements hostile to its internal peace and security may not be questioned, even where there is no treaty stipulation on the subject. That the exclusion of Chinese labor is demanded in other countries where like conditions prevail, is strongly evidenced in the Dominion of Canada, where Chinese immigration is now regulated by laws more exclusive than our own. If existing laws are inadequate to compass the end in view, I shall be prepared to give earnest consideration to any further remedial measures within the treaty limits which the wisdom of Congress may devise.

UNITED STATES TRUST FUNDS.

Under section 3,659 of the Revised Statutes all funds held in trust by the United States and the annual interest accruing thereon, when not otherwise required by treaty, are to be invested in stocks of the United States, bearing a rate of interest not less than 6 per centum per annum. There being now no procurable stocks paying so high a rate of interest the letter of the statute is at present inapplicable, but its spirit is subserved by continuing to make investments of this nature in current stocks bearing the highest interest now paid.

The statute, however, makes no provision for the disposal of such accretions. It being contrary to the general rule of this Government to allow interest on claims, I recommend the repeal of the provision in question and the disposition, under an uniform rule, of the present accumulations from investment of trust funds.

CITIZENSHIP AND NATURALIZATION.

The inadequacy of existing legislation touching citizenship and naturalization demands your consideration. While recognizing the right of expatriation, no statutory provision exists providing means for renouncing citizenship by an American citizen, native-born or naturalized, nor for terminating and vacating improved acquisition of citizenship. Even a fraudulent decree of naturalization can not now be concealed.

The privilege and franchise of American citizenship should be granted with care and extended to those only who intend in good faith to assume its duties and responsibilities when attaining its privileges. It should be withheld from those who merely go through the forms of naturalization with intent of escaping duties with their original allegiance, without taking upon themselves those of the new status, or who may acquire the rights of American citizenship for no other than a hostile purpose toward their original Government. These evils have had many flagrant illustrations.

I regard with favor the suggestion put forth by one of my predecessors, that provision may be made for a central bureau of record of the decrees of naturalization granted by the various courts throughout the United States, now invested with that power.

The rights which spring from domicile in the United States, especially when coupled with a declaration of intention to become a citizen, are worthy of definition by statue. The stranger coming hither with intent to remain, establishing his residence in our midst, contributing to the general welfare, and by his voluntary acts declaring his purpose to assume the responsibility of citizenship, thereby gains an inchoate status which legislation may properly define. The laws of certain States and Territories admit a domiciled alien to the local franchise, conferring on him the rights of citizenship to a degree which places him in the anomalous position of being a citizen of a State and yet not being a citizen of the United States within the purview of Federal and international laws. It is important within the scope of national legislation to define this right of alien domicile as distinguished from Federal naturalization.

OUR IMMEDIATE NEIGHBORS.

The commercial relations of the United States with their immediate neighbors and with important areas of trade near our shores suggest especially liberal intercourse between them and us.

Following the treaty of 1883 with Mexico, which rested on the basis reciprocal exemption from custom duties, other similar treaties were initiated by my predecessor.

On taking office I withdrew for reexamination the treaties signed with Spain and Santo Domingo, then pending before the senate. The result has been to satisfy me of the inexpediency of entering into engagements of this character not covering the entire traffic.

These treaties contemplated the surrender by the United States of large revenues for inadequate considerations. Upon sugar alone duties were surrendered to an amount far exceeding all the advantages offered in exchange. Even were it intended to relieve our consumers it was evident that so long as the exemption but partially covered our importation such relief would be illusory. To relinquish a revenue so essential seemed highly improvident at a time when new and large drains upon the treasury were contemplated. Moreover, embarrassing questions would have arisen under the favored nation clauses of treaties with other nations.

THE PUBLIC FINANCES.

The report of the secretary of the treasury fully exhibits the condition of the public finances and of the several branches of government connected with his department. The suggestions of the secretary relating to the practical operations of this important department, and his recommendations in the direction of simplification and economy, particularly in the work of collecting custom duties, are especially urged upon the attention of congress.

The ordinary receipts from all sources for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1885, were $322,690,706.38; of this sum $181,471,939.34 was received from customs and $112,498,725.54 from internal revenue; the total receipts as given above were $24,829,163.54 less than those for the year ending June 30, 1884. This diminution embraces a falling off of $13,595,550.42 in the receipts from customs and $9 687,346.97 in the receipts from internal revenue.

The total ordinary expenditures of the government for the fiscal year were $260,226,935.50, leaving a surplus in the treasury at the close of the year of $63,463,771.27.

This is $40,929,854.82 less than the surplus reported at the close of the previous year. The expenditures are classified as follows: For civil expenses, $23 826,942.11; for foreign intercourse, $5,459,509.11; for Indians, $6,552,494.63; for pensions, $56 102,267.49; for the military, including river and harbor improvements and arsenals, $42,670,578.47; for the navy, including vessels, machinery, and improvements of navy yards, $16,021,079.69; for interest on the public debt, $54,386,256.47; for the District of Columbia, $3,499,650.95; for miscellaneous expenditures, including public buildings, light-houses, and collecting the revenue, $54,728,054.21.

The amount paid on the public debt during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1885, was $45. 993,225.43, and there has been paid since that date and up to 1885, the sum of $369,828, leaving the amount of the debt at the last-named date $1,574,475,860.47. There was, however, at that time in the treasury, applicable to the general purposes of the government, the sum of $66,818,292.93.

The total receipts for the current fiscal year ending June 30, 1886, ascertained to Oct. 1, 1885, and estimated for the remainder of the year, are $315,000,000. The expenditures ascertained and estimated for the same time are $245,000,000, leaving a surplus at the end of the year estimated at $70,000,000.

OUR EXPORTS AND IMPORTS.

The value of exports from the United and to foreign countries during the last fiscal year was thus:

Domestic merchandise	$726,682,946
Foreign merchandise	15,506,809
Gold	8,477,822
Silver	33,753,633
Total	$784,421,280

Some of the principal exports with their values and the percentage they respectively bear to the total exportation, are given as follows:

	Value.	Per-centage.
Cotton and cotton manufactures	$213,799,049	29.42
Manufactures	160,370,829	22.07
Breadstuffs—provisions	107,832,456	14.77

Tobacco and its manufactures	24,767,578	3.41
Wool and its manufactures	21,464,322	2.98

OUR IMPORTS.

Merchandise	$579,580,033.80
Gold	26,691,896.00
Silver	16,580,627.00
Total	622,822,627.80

	Value.	Per-centage.
Sugar and molasses	$76,728,719	12.32
Coffee	46,722,918	8.09
Wool and its manufactures	44,656,482	7.73
Silk and its manufactures	40,383,003	6.96
Chemicals, drugs and medicines	35,070,816	6.07
Iron and steel and their manufactures	34,553,680	5.98
Flax, hemp, jute and their manufactures	32,854,874	5.69
Cotton and its manufactures	28,132,001	4.88
Hides and skins other than fur skins	20 586,443	3.56

THE REDUCTION OF THE TARIFF.

Of the entire amount of duties collected 19 per cent was collected from the following articles of import: Sugar and molasses, 29; wool and its manufactures, 15; silk and its manufactures, 8; iron and steel and its manufactures, 1; cotton manufactures, 6; flax, hemp and jute and their manufactures, 50.

I think that our revenues are in excess of the actual needs of an economical administration of the Government justifies a reduction in the amount exacted from the people for its support. Our Government is but the means established by the will of a free people by which certain principles are applied which they have adopted for their benefit and protection. And it is never better administered and its true spirit is never better observed than when the people's taxation for its support is scrupulously limited to the actual necessities of expenditures and distributed according to a just and equitable principle.

The proposition with which we have to deal is the reduction of the revenue received by the Government and indirectly paid by the people from custom duties.

The question of free trade is not involved, nor is there now any occasion for the general discussion of the wisdom or expediency of a protective system. Justice and fairness indicate that in any modification of our present laws relating to revenue, the industries and interests which have been encouraged by such laws, and in which our citizens have large investments, should not be ruthlessly injured or destroyed.

We should also deal with the subject in such manner as to protect the interests of American labor, which is the capital of our workingmen. Its stability and proper remuneration furnish the most justifiable pretex for a protective policy. Within these limitations a certain reduction should be made in our customs revenue. The amount of such reduction having been determined, the inquiry follows: Where can it best be remitted, and what articles can best be released from duty in the interest of our citizens?

I think the reduction should be made in the revenue derived from a tax upon the imported necessaries of life. We thus directly lessen the cost of living in every family of the land, and release to the public in every humble home a larger measure of the rewards of frugal industry.

AN OLD CUSTOM REVIVED.

The following despatch was sent from Washington on the 11th inst.: "The treasury department is in receipt of a letter from Mr. C. G. Whitlock, in which he says he has reliable information that twenty officers attached to the United States steamer Juniata, which has just returned to New York from a cruise in Chinese waters, have concealed on that vessel a large quantity of dutiable goods, including silks, rags, fans, vases, porcelain and ivory ware, Chinese and Japanese curiosities, which they intend to smuggle into the United States. The collector of customs has been instructed to investigate the matter and to report his action. He is instructed to send an inspector and assistants to the vessel and to request permission from the commanding officer to institute a thorough search. In case permission is obtained the customs officers are to take possession of smuggled goods which may be found and turn them over to the collector for action, in accordance with the law and the regulations. The secretary of the navy has also been notified of the case with a request for suggestions."

If this charge against the officers of the Juniata is well founded, their conduct is simply a revival of an old custom which we believe was first interfered with by Secretary Robeson, who prohibited the turning of homeward-bound men-of-war into freighting vessels. Many a junior officer used to be crowded out of his quarters to make room for the mass of foreign goods brought home by his superiors for themselves and friends; of course the junior was not obliged to give up his space for any such purpose, but a "request" from a commanding or executive officer is generally listened to respectfully by an ensign or junior lieutenant.

We remember that when the Enterprise returned from South America, where she had been engaged in surveying the river Amazon, some seven or eight years ago, she first put into Hampton roads, and was then ordered to this navy yard; and when she arrived here she was seized by the collector of customs, by order of the secretary of the treasury, acting in conjunction with the secretary of the navy, on account of the great amount of smuggled goods on board. Casks of wine and many other beautiful things were hauled from the ship to the custom house cellar in this city, but the matter was kept as quiet as possible, and the goods finally released on payment of the duties, the commander of the vessel representing to the secretary of the navy that the contraband stuff was all on board the ship and stowed away before the order against making a merchant fleet of the navy was received by him.

Cheap Money.

There is, absolutely, no answer to the proposition of the secretary of the treasury in his report to the president, that a cheaper dollar for the workingmen of the United States means a poorer dollar. "The daily wages of our workingmen and workingwomen are by far the most important aggregate of wealth to be affected by the degradation of the dollar, or by any legal tender equivalent of the dollar." The workingman and workingwoman has but one thing to sell—labor. Now if this labor is paid in a debased coin the price of labor will eventually be increased; but the workingman and workingwoman has to buy all the necessaries and comforts of life. He or she receives a higher wage on one thing, and pays a relatively higher price for many things. If he or she gains twenty cents on the dollar on wages, he or she pays an extra twenty cents on the dollar, or more, for everything bought. The capitalist can control his business; the laborer is in this regard powerless.

Bolivar, the largest elephant now in captivity in this country, on the 7th inst. had a terrific encounter with the great Nubian lion Prince at the winter quarters of Forepaugh's menagerie on Lehigh avenue, Philadelphia, and the lion, which was valued at $2000, was killed. The trainer had entered the cage with the lion; Prince was in a surly mood, and attacked him, and in endeavoring to escape the trainer loosened the bars of the cage and fell out. The lion bounded out after him, clearing his body as it lay on the ground. He did not turn back, however, but continued on through the ring-barn and entered the open door of the elephant house. Bolivar stood nodding where he was chained to a stake near the door. The lion attacked him, and an encounter ensued which ended in the lion being crushed to death.

Rheumatism

It is an established fact that Hood's Sarsaparilla has proven an invaluable remedy in many severe cases of rheumatism, effecting remarkable cures by its powerful action in correcting the acidity of the blood, which is the cause of the disease, and purifying and enriching the vital fluid.

It is certainly fair to assume that what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for others it will do for you. Therefore, if you suffer the pains and aches of rheumatism, give this potent remedy a fair trial.

A Positive Cure.

"I was troubled very much with rheumatism in my hips, ankles, and wrists. I could hardly walk, and was confined to my bed a good deal of the time. Being recommended to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, I took four bottles and am perfectly well. I cheerfully recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla as one of the best blood purifiers in the world." W. F. WOOD, Bloomington, Ill.

The Boston 99 Cent Store, No. 15 Market Street,

PORTSMOUTH, N. H. M. M. COLLIS, Proprietor.

As the time is fast approaching when people will be looking for the beautiful, to make their annual Christmas gifts from, we would respectfully call attention to our stock, selected expressly for the holiday trade.

Our stocks of WATCHES, JEWELRY, CLOCKS, SILVER-PLATED WARE and FANCY NOVELTIES, were never as large as it is now. We take this occasion to thank our friends and the public in general for the confidence and liberal patronage they have bestowed on us for the last six years since leaving the house of HUTCHINSON & CONNELL, and in the future as in the past our motto will be, "Knowledge & Honesty." First, we understand our business in all its branches fully, and cannot take advantage of our customers through ignorance; Second, we sell everything for just what it is.

Our reputation for skilled Watch work is too well established to need any comment upon; there is no better engraving done in the State than we send out.

Please do not look in our window and think you see the bulk of our stock, for we cannot show but a small part of our stock in the window. Our show-cases are full, our safe is full. Please come in and let us show you.

We could quote our prices but do not think it wise to do so in a newspaper, but being the largest buyer in our line of any dealer in the State, we can give prices that no one can honestly beat.

The custom is growing in favor of purchasing Xmas gifts early and having them laid away, we already have several Silver and Gold Watch s and Chains sold, some of them to be sent out of the State.

Please call early and see if we cannot please you in every way. Respectfully,

JAMES R. CONNELL, 7 Congress Street,

ANOTHER PORTSMOUTH BUILT VESSEL GONE.

The brig Curlew, which arrived at New York on the 11th inst., reported that on Dec. 6th, in latitude thirty-seven north, longitude seventy-four west, "while under lower topsail and close-reefed mainsail and storm staysail, saw a vessel flying a signal of distress; bore down and spoke her. She proved to be the schooner Joshua S. Bragdon of Boston, from Baltimore for Savannah, with a cargo of guano, in a sinking condition, with five feet of water in the hold. The captain wished to be taken off, as his boat was stove and washed away. We brought Captain Nelson, his wife and six men on board. There was a very high sea running at the time, and while hoisting the boat on board it was struck by a heavy sea and washed away and lost."

The Joshua S. Bragdon was built at this port in 1866, by William F. Fernald at the Raynes shipyard, for Mr. Atwood of Boston. She was a two-masted double-decked vessel, 118 feet long, 27.7 feet wide and fifteen feet deep, and registered 335.31 tons. She hailed from Boston, W. F. Humphrey being the managing owner.

The barque Medalpad, which arrived at New York from Pernambuco on the 10th inst., reported that on the 8th, in latitude 36 47, longitude 72 48, she picked up a long boat bearing the name Curlew of St. John, N. B.; the boat contained no oars, but two rudders, two sailors' knives and a little tobacco. This was undoubtedly the boat used by the brig in rescuing the crew of the Joshua S. Bragdon.

MAINE CENTRAL RAILROAD.

The 24th annual report of this corporation shows that it has a total mileage of 527, of which 250 miles, between Portland and Vanceboro, are laid with steel rails.

The road appears from the report of the Maine railroad commissioners to be in excellent condition, with rolling stock and equipment in very good order.

The net earnings are $1,116,705; from this, rents and interest paid, $890,767, leaves a surplus of $225,938, which pays a dividend of six per cent on the $3,603,300 of capital stock, leaving a balance to credit of profit and loss of nearly nine thousand dollars.

MARITIME NOTES.

The fishing schooner Onward, wrecked on Hampton ledge on the night of the 10th inst., was valued at $3000, and insured $2000 on vessel and $500 on outfits.

The ship Lizzie Moses, from Weehawken with coal, arrived in the lower harbor about three o'clock Sunday morning in tow of tug Knickerbocker, of Bath, and came to anchor. The tug Clara Batemen ran down on Sunday forenoon, and the ship was berthed at the Concord railroad wharf at 10:30 o'clock under Capt. Rand's supervision, the Knickerbocker leaving for Bath immediately after. The ship carries nothing higher than a topsail yard, and after discharging her cargo will be towed to Bath to be made into a barge.

Tickets for "The Mikado" are now on sale at Goodrick's bookstore. The advertisement is in another column.

Mr. George W. Marston, formerly of this city, has severed his connection with the Minneapolis Sunday Mercury, having disposed of his interest in that paper, and contemplates taking up his residence in California.

The days have commenced to lengthen at one end, the sun setting one minute later Sunday than it did on Saturday; but as it rose a minute later also, the general result on the day's length was the same as the Irish sailor experienced with his blanket, when he cut a piece off the top and sewed it on the bottom every day for a week, and still found the pesky thing too short to cover his toes.

Four men were discharged from the plumbers' gang in the construction department at the navy yard on Saturday evening.

Frank Vallelly of Newmarket was arrested at Dover on Saturday on a telegraphic despatch charging him with embezzling money of S. Eddy at Newmarket.

Portsmouth is reported to be getting ready to offer inducements to ship owners and masters to make that a port of entry for their vessels, and thus secure a share of the business which now goes to Portland. This is much more sensible than sending delegations to Washington to tease somebody to send a ship to the navy yard to be spoiled by men who want to be supported at the government expense. At present a very large share of the merchandise which is distributed by merchants in eastern New Hampshire and western Maine is shipped from the great cities to Portland. It could go to Portsmouth at a less cost, and when there be nearer its final destination than it is at Portland. There are men enough and dollars enough and there ought to be enterprise and courage and grit enough in Portmouth to secure this business, which naturally belongs to New Hampshire, and which would make her only sea-port much more lively and prosperous than it is now.—Manchester Mirror.

Through the untiring efforts of Congressman Henry G. Burleigh, judgment was entered on the 2d inst. in the court of commissioners of Alabama claims, at Washington, in favor of Walter N. Weeks, of Whitehall, administrator of the estate of the late Nathaniel G. Weeks, of Portsmouth, N. H., in the amount of $878.87, together with the interest on the same from Dec. 2d, 1863. The interest on the judgment, for the term of twenty-three years, will almost treble the face of the claim. This claim was for loss and damage sustained at the first date through the pirate ship "Alabama," and has been pending in court for some time, being once thrown out for lack of sufficient evidence. Further evidence being procured, it required the best efforts and skill of our congressman to get the claim again before the court for consideration, and it was finally brought to a successful termination.—Whitehall (N. Y.) Chronicle.

Rev. S. P. Sheffs, of South Natick, Mass., has accepted a call to the pastorate of the Unitarian church in Dover, with a salary of $1500.

At Milford, Dec. 11th, Augustus H. Wheeler, a fourteen-years-old son of A. E. Wheeler, fish dealer, while driving a delivery wagon across the track of the Wilton railroad was struck by the morning train from Boston. The boy was thrown twenty feet in the air and fatally injured, the wagon was demolished, and the horse killed.

The recent cyclones in the south and west have done terrible damage to life and property, but there's one comfort left—that people clamor for Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

—Judge (to darkey witness); "Do you know the nature of an oath?" Witness: "Sah?" Judge: "Do you understand what you are to swear to?" Witness: "Yes, sah. I'm to swear to tell de truf." Judge: "And what will happen if you do not tell de truf?" "I 'spects our side'll win de case, sah."

—A gentleman whose family consists of a wife and twin girl babies came in very late one night, and went to bed. His sleep was broken, and he tossed and tumbled and muttered something about "two of a kind" and a "small pair." "Poor John," murmured his wife; "he is tired, and is dreaming of the children."

WATERTOWN UNION LIVE STOCK MARKET.

For week ending Tuesday, Dec. 8th.

Amount of live stock at market: Cattle, 923; Sheep and Lambs, 8,884; Calves, 247; Horses, 101; Swine, 16,605.

Prices of Market Beef—Extra, $8 00; first quality, $7 00 @ $7 50; second quality, $5 00 @ $6 50; third quality, $4 00 @ $4 50.

Prices of Store Cattle—Working oxen ⅋ pair, from $100 @ $175; Forrow cows, $15 @ $30; Fancy cows, $50 @ $85; Milch cows and calves, $25 @ $48; year mgs, $10 @ $13; two years old, $14 @ $28; three year old, $24 @ $46.

Prices of Sheep and Lambs—In lots, $2 00, $3 00 @ $5 50 each; extra, $4 00 @ $4 50, or from 2 @ 4½c ⅋ lb; lambs, 4 @ 6c ⅋ lb.

Veal calves 2½ @ 6½c ⅋ lb.

Prices of Hides, Tallow and Skins—Brighton hides, 8 @ 8½c ⅋ lb; Brighton tallow, 4½ @ 5c ⅋ lb; country hides, 7 @ 7½c ⅋ lb; country tallow, 3½ @ 3c ⅋ lb; calf skins, 10c ⅋ lb; polts, 50 @ $1 10 each; dairy skins 50 @ 75c each.

The market on northern cattle rules steady on prices, the between 900 @ 1000 head on sale. A part of the stock trains were late on account of snow in the country and other detections. The quality is most instances ordinary for beef, and the market not active.

Milch cows were in fair supply and sales from $20 @ $65, as to quality, if not very fancy.

The Sheep Call—The supply is larger from the northern states than for any previous week, but as the supply of western at Brighton was light, the general tone of the market was unchanged. The Canada supply was light, but Maine ran in 1738 head of good quality for mixed lots.

Fat Hogs—Supply almost all western at 4 @ 4½c ⅋ lb, live weight. Northern Dressed—The few offered were taken at 5c ⅋ lb.

MUSIC HALL.

Wednesday Evening, Dec. 16th.

First and Only Representation in this City, by the

D'OYLY CARTE OPERA COMPANY,

50 —— ARTISTS —— 50

Under the management of Mr. John Stetson, of Mr. W. S. GILBERT and SIR ARTHUR SULLIVAN'S latest work, the new Japanese Opera in two acts, entitled, the

MIKADO;

Or, The Town of Titipu.

Mr. Stetson would respectfully remind the musical public that this will be the ONLY AUTHORIZED and GENUINE PRODUCTION of the "MIKADO" in this city, the Exclusive Right to the Original Orchestral Score and Libretto, together with the original models of the Scenes and the designs for the wardrobe, armor and properties from the Savoy Theatre, London, having been legally assigned to him by the Author and Composer through their Representative, Mr. R. D'Oyly Carte, for New York, Boston and the New England States.

The opera will be presented with an Admirable Cast, Complete Chorus and Grand Orchestra. A Special Car is used for the transportation of the New and Magnificent Scenery, Costly Real Antique Japanese Costumes, Armor, etc., constituting in every detail an exact counterpart of the famous original production at the Savoy Theatre, London, and the Fifth Avenue Theatre, New York.

The Sale of Seats will open at Goodrich's on Monday, Dec. 14th. Prices: Reserved Seats, 75 cents and $1.00; Gallery, 50 cents.

Excursion Trains will be run wherever practicable to accommodate suburban patrons.

Read what the people say concerning the ability of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil to cure asthma, catarrh, croup, colds, etc. Mrs. Dora Koch of Buffalo, says: "For croup it is decidedly efficacious." [Mrs. Jacob Mellinor of Marion, Ohio, says the same thing.] S. S. Graves, Akron, N. Y., writes: "Had asthma of the worst kind, took one dose of Thomas' Eclectric Oil and was relieved in a few minutes. Would walk five miles for this medicine and pay $5 a bottle for it." Druggist C. R. Hall, Grayville, Ill., says: "Cured an ulcerated throat for me in twenty-four hours." "Sat up in bed and coughed till the clothing was wet with perspiration. My wife insisted that I use Thomas Eclectric Oil. The first teaspoonful RELIEVED ME." E. H. Perkins, Creek Centre, N. Y., Thomas' Eclectric Oil is also a Tried Tor external application for rheumatism, cuts, scalds, burns, bites, bruises, etc. When visiting the druggist, ask him what he knows of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil; if he has been long in the drug trade, he sure he will speak highly of it.

Worked Wonders.

I CURE FITS!

When I say cure I do not mean merely to stop them for a time and then have them return again, I mean a radical cure. I have made the disease of FITS, EPILEPSY OR FALLING SICKNESS a lifelong study. I warrant my remedy to cure the worst cases. Because others have failed is no reason for a hopeless case. Send at once for a treatise and a Free Bottle of my infallible remedy. Give Express and Post Office. It costs you nothing for a trial, and I will cure you. DR. H. G. ROOT, 183 Pearl St., N.Y.

an aggregate capital of $16,948,000, and circulating notes have been issued to them amounting to $4,274,910. The whole number of these banks in existence on the day named was 2,927. The very limited amount of circulating notes issued by our national banks compared with the amount the law permits them to issue upon a deposit of bonds for their redemption, indicates that the volume of our circulating medium may be largely increased through this instrumentality. Nothing more important than the present condition of our currency and coinage can claim our attention. Since February, 1878, the government has, under the compulsory provisions of law, purchased silver bullion and coined the same at the rate of more than $2,000,000 every month. By this process, up to the present date 215,759,451 silver dollars have been coined. Every month $2,000,000 of gold in the public treasury is paid out for two million or more of silver dollars to be added to the idle mass already accumulated. If continued long enough this operation will result in the substitution of silver for all the gold the government owns applicable to its general purposes. It will not do to rely upon the receipts of the government to make good this drain of gold, because the silver thus coined having been made legal tender for all debts and dues, public and private, at times during the last six months 58 per cent of the receipts for duties have been in silver or silver certificates, while the average within that period has been 20 per cent.

The purchase of silver and its certificates received by the government will probably increase as time goes on, for the reason that the nearer the period approaches when it will be obliged to offer silver in payment of its obligations the greater inducement there will be to hoard gold against depreciation in the value of silver, or for the purpose of speculating. This hoarding of gold has already begun. When the time comes that gold has been withdrawn from circulation, then will be apparent the difference between the real value of the silver dollars and the dollar in gold, and the two coins will part company. Gold, still the standard of value and necessary in our dealings with other countries, will be at a premium over silver. Banks which have substituted gold for the deposits of their customers may pay them with silver bought with such gold, thus making a handsome profit; rich speculators will sell their hoarded gold to their neighbors, who need it to liquidate their foreign debts, at a ruinous premium over silver, and the laboring men and women of the land, most of them ignorant of all, will find that the dollar received for the wages of their toil has sadly shrunk in its purchasing power. So if this silver coinage be continued we may reasonably expect that gold will be equivalent will abandon the field of circulation to silver alone. This, of course, must produce a severe contraction of our circulating medium instead of adding to it.

The president goes on to mention our participation in the conference of the Latin union, and refers to the failure of that effort. He recounts sending a delegate to look into the financial condition of Europe, and says that the attitude of the leading European countries has not been changed on financial subjects since 1881 and that these views are supported by public opinion. He then says:

The steps thus taken have therefore only more fully demonstrated the uselessness of further attempts at present to arrive at any agreement on the subject with other nations. The condition in which our treasury may be placed by a persistence in our present course is a matter of concern to every patriotic citizen who does not desire his government to pay in silver such of its obligations as should be paid in gold. Nor should our condition be such as to oblige us, in a prudent management of our affairs, to discontinue the calling in and payment of interest-bearing obligations which we have the right now to discharge and thus avoid the payment of further interest thereon. That disaster has not already overtaken us furnishes no proof that danger does not wait upon a continuation of the present silver coinage. I recommend the suspension of compulsory coinage of silver dollars directed by the law passed in February, 1878.

THE LIFE SAVING SERVICE.

The most gratifying results have attended the operations of the life saving service during the last fiscal year. The observance of the provision of law requiring the appointments of the force employed in this service to be made "solely with reference to their fitness, and without reference to their political or party affiliation," has secured the result which may confidently be expected in any branch of public employment where such a rule is applied. As a consequence this service is composed of men well qualified for the performance of their dangerous and exceptionally important duties.

The number of stations in commission at the close of the year was 2 3. The number of disasters to vessels and crafts of all kind within their field of action was 371. The number of persons encamped in such disasters was 2,439, of whom 2,428 were saved, and only eleven lost. Other lives which were imperiled, though not by disasters to shipping, were also rescued, and a large amount of property also saved through the aid of this service. The cost of its maintenance during the year was $828,474.43.

THE ARMY.

The report of the Secretary of War is herewith submitted. The attention of Congress is invited to the detailed account which it contains of the administration of his department and his recommendations and suggestion for the improvement of the service.

The army consisted, at the date of the last consolidated returns, of 2,154 officers, and 24,765 enlisted men. The expenses of the departments for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1885, including $13,164,394.69 for public works and river and harbor improvements, were $45,850,966.54.

Beside the troops which were dispatched in pursuit of the small band of Indians who left their reservation in Arizona and committed murders and outrages, two regiments of cavalry and one of infantry were sent last July to the Indian Territory to prevent an outbreak which seemed imminent. They remained to aid, if necessary, in the expulsion of intruders upon the reservation, who seemed to have caused the discontent among the Indians, but the executive proclamation warning them to remove was complied with without interference.

Troops were also sent to Rock Springs, in Wyoming Territory, after the massacre of Chinese there, to prevent further disturbances, and afterward to Seattle, in Washington Territory, to avert a threatened attack upon Chinese laborers and domestic violence there. In both cases, the mere presence of the troops had the desired effect.

It appears that the number of desertions has diminished, but that during the last fiscal year they numbered 2,927, and one instance is given by the Lieutenant General of six desertions by the same recruit. I am convinced that this number of desertions can be much diminished by better discipline and treatment, but the punishment should be increased for repeated offenses. These desertions might also be reduced by lessening the term of first enlistments, thus allowing a discontented recruit to contemplate a nearer discharge, and the army a profitable riddance. After one term of service, a re-enlistment would be quite apt to secure a contented recruit and good soldier.

The acting Judge Advocate General reports that the number of trials by general courts-martial during the year, was 2,328, and that 1,851 trials took place before garrison and regimental courts-martial. The suggestion that probably more than half the army has been tried for offenses great and small, in one year, may well arrest attention. Of course, many of these trials before garrison and regimental courts-martial were for offenses almost frivolous, and there should, I think, be a way devised to dispose of these in a more summary and less inconvenient manner than by court-martial. If some of the proceedings of courts-martial which I have had occasion to examine, present the ideas of justice which generally prevail in these tribunals, I am satisfied that they should be much reformed, if the honor and the manliness of the army and navy are by their instrumentality to be vindicated and protected.

SIGNAL SERVICE.

The work of the Signal Service has been prosecuted during the last year with results of increasing benefits to the country. The field of instruction has been enlarged with a view of adding to its usefulness. The number of stations in operation June 30, 1885, was 482. Telegraphic reports are received daily from 110 stations. Reports are also received from 75 Canadian stations, 375 volunteer observers, 52 army surgeons at military posts, and 333 foreign stations. The expense of service during the fiscal year, after deducting receipts from military telegraph lines, was $797,592.97. In view of the fact referred to by the Secretary of War, that the work of this service ordinarily is of a scientific nature, and the further fact that it is assuming large proportions constantly, and becoming more and more unsuited to the fixed rules which must govern the army, I am inclined to agree with him in the opinion that it should be separately established. If this is done the scope and extent of its operations should, as nearly as possible, be definitely prescribed by law, and always capable of exact ascertainment.

The Malignant Ingenuity of a Fiend

Could scarcely devise tortures more excruciating than those to which the victim of rheumatism, in the inflammatory stage, is subjected. It is also dangerous on account of its tendency toward the heart and stomach. Among the benign qualities of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, is that of expelling from the circulation those acrid impurities to which the disease is attributable. Analysis proves that, in cases of rheumatism, the kidneys fail to eliminate these impurities from the blood. The Bitters, by stimulating these organs to activity, enables them to perform this all-important function, and, therefore, averts the disease or remedies it at the outset. The function of digestion, and secretion of bile by the liver, are also healthfully stimulated by the Bitters, which conquers dyspepsia and liver complaint, and remedies fever and ague, bilious remittent, and other ailments of malarial birth. It is also the leading tonic of the age.

The 70th anniversary of the Chestnut street Methodist church at Providence, R. I., was celebrated Sunday.

Bad drainage causes much sickness. Bad blood and improper action of the liver and kidneys is bad drainage to the human system, which Burdock Blood Bitters will remedy.

WORDS OF PRAISE.

Dr. James D. Bragg, a druggist and physician of the old school, residing at 271 East Main St., Bridgeport, Connecticut, is full of praise for Athlophoros. This is what he has to say:

"I have been a resident of this city for ten years and am conversant with the prevailing diseases in this section. None is so common as rheumatism and neuralgia. During the fall season I have a busy practice with neuralgia and rheumatic patients, and I prescribe Athlophoros with unparalelled success. It is a perfectly safe medicine, and so pure that a baby can take it."

One of the happiest men in Maine nowadays is William Sawyer, of West Hampden, Penobscot county. Mr. Sawyer is a butcher, long and favorably known in his county, and that he has abundant cause for his happiness will appear from the following statement.

"I was sick last fall with rheumatism," he says, "and a lady sent me word to try Athlophoros. I did so. When I got the medicine the minister was at my house. At four o'clock it took him and two others to get me up off the bed. I took the Athlophoros and in less than two hours one man got me off the bed and in ten hours I got off alone, and in eighteen hours my fever had all gone. I have recommended the medicine to three others that were not so badly off as I was and it worked like a charm. I tell the doctors that I will bet fifty dollars that I can cure any rheumatism fever, I don't care how bad, in twenty hours with one bottle of Athlophoros. I am a butcher going around all over the country and I have to tell this story sometimes ten times a day. I wouldn't be without Athlophoros, and carry it with me all the time."

"I wish to say a word in praise of Athlophoros," says E. J. Flood, of Oxford, Me. "I was taken with rheumatism last May and was treated by my family doctor for some time without relief. I then tried every other rheumatic cure I could hear of with the same result. Some five weeks ago I by chance learned of Athlophoros. I bought a bottle and began taking it and in less than twenty-four hours I could walk without a cane and suffered no pain. I have taken two bottles and to-day I am able to do a hard day's work. I consider it the greatest rheumatic remedy ever known. Since I have been cured I have had a number of people come to me to ask what I took to cure me. To-day I have had three ladies from a distance of six miles to hear about this great remedy. There are three persons in my village that are now using it with the happiest results."

Mrs. Charles H. Gifford, of Lincoln Centre, Me., says:

"I cannot express my thanks for the benefit I have received from the use of one bottle of Athlophoros. I inherited rheumatism from my mother, who suffered untold agony until her death. My father spent hundreds of dollars to get help for her and found none. I have tried many different remedies, but never got any relief to speak of from them, except from Athlophoros, which I can truly say has helped me. I wish to get a few more bottles, so that I can let some of my suffering friends have some."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.

[CONCLUDED]

NAVAL AFFAIRS.

The report of the Secretary of the Navy gives a history of the operations of his departments and the present condition of the work committed to his charge. He details in full the course pursued by him to protect the rights of the Government in respect of certain vessels unfinished at the time of his accession to office, and also concerning the dispatch boat Dolphin, claimed to be completed and awaiting the acceptance of the department.

No one can fail to see, from the recital contained in this report, that only the application of business principles has been insisted upon in the treatment of these subjects, and that whatever controversy has arisen was caused by the inaction on the part of the department of the contract obligations as they were legally construed. In the case of the Dolphin, with entire justness to the contractor, an attainment has been entered into providing for the ascertainment by a judicial inquiry of the complete or partial compliance with the contract in her construction, and further providing for the assessment of damages for the which the Government may be entitled on account of a partial failure to perform such contract, or the payment of the sum still remaining unpaid upon her price in case a full performance is adjudged. The contractor by reason of his failure in business, being unable to complete the other three vessels, they were taken possession of by the government in their unfinished state, under a clause in the contract providing such a course, and are now in process of completion in the yard of the contractor, but under the supervision of the navy department.

Inspired as I am by hope, shared by all patriotic citizens, that the day is not far distant when our navy will be such as befits our standing among the nations of the earth, and knowing as I do that the trend in the direction of such a consummation, I deem it my duty to especially direct the attention of Congress to the close of the report of the Secretary of the Navy, in which the humiliating features of the present organization of this department is exhibited, and the startling manner in which some of its present methods are exposed. The conviction is forced upon us with the certainty of mathematical demonstration that before we can expect the restoration of a navy we need a thoroughly reorganized Navy Department.

The fact that with seventeen years more than $75,000,000 have been spent in construction, repair, equipment and armament of vessels, and the further fact that, instead of an efficient and creditable fleet, we have only the discontent and apprehension of a nation undefended by war vessels, added to the disgrace now made, should prevent us to doubt that every attempt to revive our navy has thus far, for the most part, been misdirected, and all our efforts in that direction have been little better than blind gropings, and expensive, aimless follies.

Unquestionably if we are content with the maintenance of a Navy Department simply for ornament, the vigilance of a constant watchfulness may prevent some of the scandal and abuse which have found their way into our naval organization, and its incurable waste may be reduced to the minimum. But if we desire to build ships for present usefulness instead of naval memories of the days that are past, we must have a department organized for the work, supplied with all the latest and best ingenuity our country affords, and prepared to take advantage of the experience of other nations, systematized so that all effort shall unite and lead in one direction, and that with the expenditure of public war vessels now are useless unless they combine all that the ingenuity of man has up to this day brought forth relating to their construction. I earnestly commend the portion of the Secretary's report devoted to this subject to the action of Congress, in the hope that the suggestions touching the reorganization of his department may be adopted as the first step toward the reconstruction of our navy.

THE POSTAL SERVICE.

The affairs of the postal service are exhibited by the report of the Postmaster General, which will be laid before you. The postal revenue, whose rates of gain upon the rising prosperity of 1882 and 1883, outstripped the increasing expense of our growing service, was checked by the reduction in the rate of letter postage, which took effect with the beginning of October in the latter year, and it diminished during the two past fiscal years, the balance in proportion of $2,270,000 in 1884 to $920,000 in 1885.

Natural growth and development have, in the meantime, increased expenditure, resulting in a deficiency in the revenue to the expenses of the department of five and a quarter millions for the year 1885, and eight and twenty millions for the last fiscal year. The anticipated and natural revival of the revenue has been suppressed and retarded by the depression of business condition of the country, of which the postal service is a faithful indicator. The gratifying fact is shown, however, by the report that our postal revenue activity is marked by a gain of $380,000 in the revenue of the latter half of the last year over the corresponding period of the preceding year. The change in the weight of first-class matter which may be carried for a single rate of postage, from a half ounce to an ounce, and the reduction of one-half of the rate of newspaper postage, which, under recent legislation began with the current year, will operate to restrain the augmentation of receipts which otherwise might have been expected to such a degree than the scale of expense may gain upon the revenue and cause an increased deficiency to be shown at its close; and after no long period of rewakened prosperity, by proper economy, it is confidently anticipated that even the present low rates now as favorable as any country affords, will be adequate to sustain the cost of the service.

The operation of the Post Office Department is for the convenience and benefit of the people, and the method by which they pay the charges of this useful arm of their public service, so that it be just and impartial, is of less importance to them than the economical expenditure of the means they provide for its maintenance and the due improvement of its agencies, so that they may enjoy its highest usefulness. A proper attention has been directed to the prevention of waste or extravagance, and good results appear from the reports to have already been accomplished.

DOMESTIC MONEY ORDERS.

I approve the recommendation of the Postmaster General to reduce the charges on domestic money orders of $5 and less from 8 to 5 cents. This change will materially aid those of our people who, one and all, avail themselves of this instrumentality, but to whom the element of cheapness is of the greatest importance. With this reduction the system would still remain self-supporting.

THE FREE DELIVERY SYSTEM

has been extended to nineteen additional cities during the year, and 178 now enjoy its convenience. Experience has confirmed it to those who enjoy its benefits, and further enlargement of its facilities is due to other communities to which it is adapted. In the cities where it has been established, taken together, the local postage exceeds its maintenance by nearly $1,300,000. The limit to which this system is now confined by law has been nearly reached, and the reasons given justify its extension, which is proposed.

FOREIGN MAIL SERVICE.

It was decided by my approbation after a sufficient examination, to be inexpedient for the Post Office Department to contract for carrying our foreign mails under the additional authority given by the last Congress. The amount limited was inadequate to pay all within the purview of the law the full rate of 50 cents per mile, and it would have been unjust and unwise to have given it to some and denied it to others. Nor could contracts have been let under the law to all at a rate which would bring the aggregate within the appropriation without such practical pre-arrangement of terms as would have violated it. The rate of sea and inland postage, which was proffered under another statute clearly appears to be a fair compensation for the desired service, being three times the price necessary to secure transportation by other vessels upon any route, and much beyond the charges made to private persons for services not burdensome. Some of the steamship companies, upon the refusal of the Postmaster General to attempt, by the means provided, the distribution of the sum appropriated, as compensation, withdrew the services of their vessels, and thereby occasioned slight inconvenience, though no considerable injury. The mails have been dispatched by other means. Whatever may be thought of the policy of subsidizing any line of public conveyance or travel, it is admitted that it should not be done under cover of an expenditure incident to the administration of a department, nor should there be any uncertainty as to the recipients of the subsidy or any discretion left to an executive officer as to its distribution, if such gifts of public money are to be made for the purpose of aiding any enterprise in the supposed interest of the public. I can not but think that the amount to be paid and the beneficiary might better be determined by Congress than in any other way.

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE.

The report of the Attorney General contains a history of the conduct of the Department of Justice during the last year, and a number of valuable suggestions as to needed legislation, and I invite your careful attention to the report. The condition of business in the courts of the United States is such that there seems to be an imperative necessity for remedial legislation on the subject. Some of these courts are so overburdened with pending causes that the delays on determining litigation amount often to a denial of justice. Among the plans suggested for relief is one submitted by the Attorney General. Its main features are the transfer of all original jurisdiction in the Circuit Courts to the District Courts and an increase of Judges for the latter where necessary; an addition of Judges to the Circuit Courts and constituting them exclusively courts of appeal and reasonably limiting appeals thereto; further restrictions of the right to remove causes from the State to Federal courts; permitting appeals to the Supreme Court from the courts of the District of Columbia and the Territories only in the same cases as they are allowed from State courts, and guarding against an unnecessary number of appeals from the Circuit Courts. I approve the plan thus outlined, and recommend the legislation necessary for its application to our judicial system.

The present mode of compensating United States Marshals and District Attorneys should, in my opinion, be changed. They are allowed to charge against the Government certain fees for service, their incomes being measured by the amount of fees within a fixed limit as to their annual aggregate. This is a direct inducement for them to make their fees in criminal cases as large as possible in an effort to reach the maximum sum permitted. As an entirely natural consequence unscrupulous Marshals are found encouraging frivolous prosecutions, arresting people on petty charges of crime and transporting them to distant places for examination and trial, for the purpose of exacting fees and other profits, and District Attorneys uselessly attend criminal examinations far from their places of residence, for the express purpose of swelling their accounts against the Government. The actual expenses incurred in these transactions are also charged against the Government. Thus the rights and freedom of our citizens are outraged, and public expenditures increased for the purpose of furnishing public officers pretexts for increasing the measure of their compensation. I think Marshals and District Attorneys should be paid salaries adjusted by a rate which will make them commensurate with services fairly rendered.

PUNISHING MISDEMEANORS.

In connection with this subject I desire to suggest the advisibility of it be found not obnoxious to a constitutional objection of investing United States Commissioners with the power to try and determine certain violations of law within the grade of misdemeanors. Such trials might be made to depend upon the option of the accused. The multiplication of small but vexatious offenses, especially under the provisions of our Internal Revenue law renders some change in our present system very desirable, in the interests of humanity as well as economy. The District Courts are now crowded with petty prosecutions, involving a minimum fine in case of conviction, of only a slight fine, while the parties accused are harrassed by an enforced attendance upon courts held hundreds of miles from their homes. If poor and friendless, they are obliged to remain in jail months, perhaps, that also be charged with the duty of ascertaining the Indians who might properly be furnished with implements of agriculture, and of what kind, in which cases the support of the Government should be withdrawn; where the present plan of distributing Indian supplies should be changed; where schools may be established, and where discontinued; the conduct, method and fitness of agents in charge of reservations; the extent to which such reservations are occupied or intruded upon by unauthorized persons, and generally all matters related to the welfare and improvement of the Indian. They should advise with the Secretary of the Interior concerning these matters of detail in management, and he should be given power to deal with them fully, if he is not now invested with such power. This plan contemplates the selection of such persons for commissioners who are interested in the Indian question, and who have practical ideas on the subject of their treatment.

SURVEYING INDIAN LANDS.

The expense of the Indian Bureau during the last fiscal year was more than $6,500,000. I believe much of this expenditure may be saved under the present system, that the economical effects would be increased with its continuance, that the safety of our frontier settlers would be subserved under its operation, and that the nation would be saved through its results from the imputation of humanity, injustice and inhumanity which, I fear, now attaches to the policy and allotment of Indian lands in severalty, when deemed expedient, it will be necessary to have surveys completed of the reservations, and I hope that provision will be made for the prosecution of this work.

INDIAN TROUBLES.

In May of the present year a small portion of the Chiricahua Apaches on the White Mountain Reservation in Arizona left the reservation and committed a number of murders upon settlers in that neighborhood. Though prompt and energetic action was taken by the military, the renegades eluded capture and escaped into Mexico. The formation of the country through which these Indians passed, their thorough acquaintance with the same, the speed of their escape and the manner in which they scattered and concealed themselves in the mountains, near the scene of their outrages, put our soldiers at a great disadvantage in their efforts to capture them, although the expectation is still entertained that they will ultimately be taken and punished for their crimes.

INDIAN RESERVATIONS PROTECTED.

The threatening and disorderly conduct of the Bannacks, of Idaho Territory, early last Summer, caused considerable alarm and uneasiness. Investigation proved that their threatening attitude was due, in a great measure, to the occupation of the land of their reservation by immense herds of cattle, which their owners claimed were rightly theirs under certain leases made by the Indians. Such occupation appearing, upon examination, to be unlawful, notwithstanding these leases, the intruders were ordered to remove and the claim from the land of the Indians by the Executive proclamation. The enforcement of this proclamation had the effect of peace and order among the Indians, and they are now quiet and well behaved.

By an executive order issued on February 27, 1885, by my predecessor, a portion of the tract of country in the Territory known as the Old Winnebago and Crow Creek Reservations, was directed to be restored to the public domain and opened to settlement under the law lands of the United States, and a large number of persons entered upon those lands. This action alarmed the Sioux Indians, who claimed the territory as belonging to their reservation, under the treaty of 1868. This claim was determined after careful investigation to be well founded, and consequently the Executive order referred to, was by proclamation of April 17, 1885, declared to be inoperative and of no effect, and all persons upon the land were warned to leave. This warning has been substantially complied with.

OUR PUBLIC LANDS.

The public domain has its origin in cessions of lands by the States to the general Government. The first cession was made by the State of New York, and the largest, which in area exceeded all others, by the State of Virginia. The territory, the proprietorship of which became thus vested in the general Government, extended from the western line of Pennsylvania to the Mississippi river. These patriotic donations of the States was incumbered with no condition, except that they should be held and used "for the common benefit of the United States." By purchase with the common fund of all the people additions were made to this domain until it extended to the northern line of Mexico, the Pacific Ocean and the Polar Sea. The original trust "for the common benefit of the United States" remained. In the execution of that trust the policy of "many homes rather than large estates" was adopted by the Government. That these might be easily obtained and be the abode of security and contentment, the laws for acquisition were few, easily understood, and general in their operation.

But the pressure of local interests, combined with a speculative spirit, have in many instances procured the passage of laws which marred the harmony of the general plan and incumbered the system with a multitude of general and special enactments which rendered the laws intricate, and subject the titles to uncertainty and the purchaser often to oppression and wrong. Laws which were intended for the "common benefit," have been perverted so that large quantities of land are vesting in single ownership. From the multitude and character of the laws this consequence seems incapable of correction by a mere administration. It is not for the common benefit of the United States that a large area of the public lands should be acquired, directly or through fraud, in the hands of a single individual. The Nation's strength is in its people. The Nation's security is in their prosperity. The Nation's glory is in the equality of her place. The Nation's perpetuity is in the intelligence of her people. Therefore it is preferable, the plan adopted in the disposal of the public lands should in every way, and in all public acts, where practicable, tend to the success of these lands for actual settlers, and to the massing of large tracts of private property in Alaska, about three-fifths of the national domain has been sold or subjected to contract or grant. Of the remaining two-fifths a considerable portion is either mountainous or desert, a rapidly-increasing population creates a growing demand for homes, and speculation of all kinds has begun the eager competition to obtain the public land for speculative purposes. In the future this collision of interests will be more marked than in the past, and the execution of the Nation's trust in behalf of our settlers will be more difficult. I therefore commend to your attention the recommendations contained in the report of the Secretary of the Interior with reference to the repeal and modification of certain of our lands laws.

RAILROAD LAND GRANTS AND SUBSIDIES.

The Nation has made princely grants and subsidies to a system of railroads projected as great national highways to connect the distant States with the Union. It has been charged that these donations from the people have been diverted to private gain and corrupt uses, and thus public indignation has been aroused and suspicion engendered. Our great Nation does not begrudge its generosity, but it abhors peculation and fraud, and if favors granted by the people for the great corporations to which these grants were made can only be revived by a restoration of confidence, to be secured by their complete, and unclouded, and strictly manifested integrity. A faithful application of the undiminished proceeds of the grants to the construction and perfecting of their roads would go far to place the different obligations and entire justice to all the people in the enjoyment of their rights on these highways of travel, for all the public asks, and it will be content with no less. To secure these things should be the common purpose of the officers of the Government, as well as of the corporations. With this accomplished, prosperity would be permanently secured to the roads and national pride would take the place of national complaint.

PENSIONS.

It appears from the report of the Commissioner of Pensions that there were on the first day of July 1885, 345,125 persons borne upon the pension rolls, who were classified as follows: Army invalids, 241,456; widows, minor children and dependents, 99,669; survivors of deceased soldiers, 78,744; navy invalids, 2,754; navy widows, minor children, and dependents, 102. Survivors of the war of 1812, 196, and widows of those who served in that war, 17,212. About one man in ten of all those who enlisted in the late war are reported as receiving pensions, exclusive of the dependents of deceased soldiers. On the first of July, 1875, the number of pensioners was 243,821 and the increase within the ten years next thereafter was 110,04. While there is no expenditure of the public funds which the people more cheerfully approve than that for the pensioning of the services of our soldiers living and dead, the sentiment underlying the subject should not be vitiated by the introduction of any fraudulent practices. Therefore, it is fully as important that the rolls should be cleaned of all those who, by fraud, have secured a place thereon so that meritorious claims should be speedily examined and adjusted.

Still Holds the Fort.

Capt. Daniel Hall seems yet to be on duty as naval officer of Boston. The commission of Col. H. O. Kent was found to be, in its date, so near the time for the meeting of the senate, that it was deemed prudent to wait and learn what the senators' conclusions were as to Chase, Pillsbury and other "offensive partisans." The nomination will in due course be sent to the senate, and Col. Kent will doubtless pull through all right. There is nothing of the life-long democracy about such men as Saltonstall and Kent which should prevent their confirmation. Mr. Saltonstall at least is a good civil service man; and as for Col. Kent, now he has received his appointment, of course he will support the policy of the president, even at the risk of displeasing some of the old liners in the region of the Upper Coos.

Death of B. Gratz Brown.

Hon. Benjamin Gratz Brown died in Kirkwood, near St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 13th, at the age of fifty-nine years. He was a prominent figure in the politics of Kentucky for many years, and also earned a national reputation. He made the first emancipation speech ever delivered in the Missouri legislature, and in connection with Frank P. Blair, became an active promoter of that cause. He entered the Union service at the outbreak of the war, and after that contest joined what was known at that time as the liberal movement in that state, which resulted in his election as governor of the state, and the re-enfranchisement of the rebels. Subsequently he was elected to the United States senate and served one term, and later was nominated for vice president of the United States on the Greeley ticket. He ranked high as a man of ability, was philosophical in his tendencies, and was regarded as a profound thinker. He was a brave and patriotic man, and an earnest friend of freedom.

An Unpopular Treaty.

Mr. Dingley of Maine presented in the house last week a memorial signed by a number of citizens of Maine, protesting against any treaty or arrangement of legislation which would admit Canadian fish into American ports free of duty, except in the case of herrings for sardine packing, and earnestly praying that Congress will recognize the claims of our American fishermen to the same measure of protection that is accorded other industries of the nation. This is urged by the petitioners not simply because of the importance of the industry, which cannot maintain itself in open, free competition with the cheaper labor and cheaper vessels and supplies of Canadians engaged in the industry, but also because it is a nursery of seamen from which the nation has in the past drawn the men who have defended our flag on the ocean in time of war, and which it is as essential to maintain as a resource and defence in case of conflict with a naval power, as it is to erect forts and maintain a navy.

Parson Downs, the much-advertised clergyman of Boston, addressed a small congregation in the Institute hall last Sunday evening. Marcus P. Willie Goodwin, a son of Fred R. Goodwin of Kennebunkport, was shot by Ralph McKenny on Friday forenoon. The affair took place on the millpond. There were three boys on the ice—Willie and Charlie Goodwin, brothers, aged five and seven years, and the McKenny boy, aged twelve years. Charlie Goodwin says "the McKenny boy, after trying to fire off the pistol two or three times, aimed it at Willie, when it went off." The ball entered the boy's neck near the windpipe. Dr. Warren of Biddeford was summoned, and located the bullet, but was afraid to remove it, as it was too near the jugular vein. There is a slight chance of the boy's recovery.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H. M. M. COLLIS, Proprietor.

"A THING OF BEAUTY IS A JOY FOREVER!"

As the time is fast approaching when people will be looking for the beautiful, to make their annual Christmas gifts from, we would respectfully call attention to our stock, selected expressly for the holiday trade.

Our stocks of WATCHES, JEWELRY, CLOCKS, SILVER-PLATED WARE and FANCY NOVELTIES, were never as large as this year. We take this occasion to thank our friends and the public in general for the confidence and liberal patronage they have bestowed on us for the last six years since leaving the house of HUTCHINSON & CONNELL, and in the future as in the past our motto will be, "Knowledge & Honesty!" First, we understand our business in all its branches fully, and cannot take advantage of our customers through ingorance; Second, we sell everything for just what it is.

Our reputation for skilled Watchwork is too well established to need any comment upon; there is no better engraving done in the State than we send out.

Please do not look in our window and think you see the bulk of our stock, for we cannot show but a small part of our stock in the window. Our show-cases are full, our safe is full. Please come in and let us show you.

We could quote our prices but do not think it wise to do so in a newspaper, but belog the largest buyer in our line of any dealer in the State, we can give prices that no one can honestly beat.

The custom is growing in favor of purchasing Xmas gifts early and having them laid away, we already have several Silver and Gold Watch and Chains sold, some of them to be sent out of the State. Please call early and see if we cannot please you in every way. Respectfully,

JAMES R. CONNELL, 7 Congress Street,

THE MIKADO.

Of the latest and most popular comic opera by Gilbert & Sullivan, which is to be presented in Music hall to-morrow evening, the Manchester Union says:

The opera house was crowded on Saturday evening by the attraction of the popular opera, The Mikado, presented for the first time in this city, with full music, and complete scenery and appointments. Manager John Stetson, with one of the D'Oyly Carte Opera companies, fulfilled promise up to expectation. The opera was finely staged. Though it requires but two scenes, they were so handsome and elaborate in detail as to afford the audience extreme pleasure. The costumes and appointments were equally as complete and effective. A large and well trained chorus and a full and efficient orchestra adequately developed the beauties of the opera. The cast more than met expectation, for while it was presumed that the opera would be well sung, it was not anticipated that the business and action would be so satisfactory.

RAILROAD LITIGATION.

The validity of the Eastern railroad bondholders' election of directors at the meeting in Boston last week is not to be acquiesced in by the candidates on the defeated ticket, and their supporters, without a fight in the courts; and the entire question of the sinking fund, provided by the acts of 1876 and 1885, and its management and application by the trustees, will be involved.

It is claimed that all certificates of indebtedness purchased by the trustees must be immediately cancelled; and that in any event, the trustees, if they invest the sinking fund in such certificates, must hold them in trust for all certificate holders, and have no power to themselves vote thereon, or to use them to outvote their own beneficiaries under the trust. That as this sinking fund increases every year, the trustees would soon, if their action at the late meeting should be approved, by that method obtain absolute control of all elections, and the certificate holders, who are principals, would be controlled by their own agents.

It is further claimed that the action of the trustees is an unwarranted interference with the rights of the certificate holders, and that the trustees' action in refusing to put the motions for a new count or submit to the meeting the question of the result of its own balloting, and then declaring the meeting adjourned without even entertaining the appeal that was formally taken, was arbitrary and illegal in the extreme, and that all of these questions will come before the court.

If the trustees had not counted the sinking fund certificates the old directors' ticket would have been chosen by a large majority. It is also claimed that the trustees had no right to count the Harvard college proxy, and that this alone would have reversed the result. Sidney Bartlett, Charles Levi Woodbury, Henry D. Hyde and others of Boston, together with Hon. Orville D. Baker, attorney-general of the state of Maine, have been retained as counsel for various certificate holders, and Hon. William G. Russell and others of Boston act as counsel for the trustees. The suit is brought in the name of the New England Insurance company, and will be brought in the supreme court of Massachusetts, probably, in January.

The lions standing in front of the Rockingham house presented last week a very sanguinary appearance, with frequent red spots on different parts of their bodies. It was simply an artistic touching-up of their coats preparatory to their being "shined up" by new, dark green coatings of paint on Saturday, which make the patient watchers at the entrances look quite in keeping with the rebuilt hotel. The lanterns have been put in the street lamps, and ere long it is hoped will be brightly shining o' nights. The interior of the hotel is rapidly approaching completion. The frescoers' work is nearly done, and they will be followed by the men who lay the tile floors as soon as the scaffoldings of the artists on the ceilings can be removed.

Mr. Charles Donnell arrived on Monday from York harbor with 400 lbs. of fish, and William A. Langell with 800 lbs. from Capt. Frank R. Bragdon's boat "Pakeha," both coming in by teams. Some fares were brought in by dories, selling generally at $2.75 per hundred lbs. The weather was such that the fishing fleet mostly remained in port.

The Phantom party which it was intended to have in Franklin hall on Tuesday evening of last week, but which was postponed on account of the sudden illness of Mr. H. L. Harlow, has been set to come off on the evening of Tuesday, Jan. 5th.

On Nov. 14th Hon. A. K. W. Green affixed to a gas fixture in his store a flat white turnip weighing seven pounds. Nov. 21st he took it down and weighed it again, when it turned the scales at only five and one-half pounds. Now he wonders where that pound and a half of turnip went, in one week. He was satisfied, when he hung the turnip up, that it "couldn't be beet," but his boasting was put to an open shame when he weighed it the second time in presence of the boys, one of whom remarked that the position of the turnip on the gas fixture had probably made light of it. He would like to know what his profit would have been had he had two tons of this volatile vegetable on tap, which he retailed at twenty per cent advance on the price he paid; also how long it would have taken his stock of turnips to wholly disappear, without any being sold.

Dr. N. L. Folsom has been appointed a justice of the peace, and Samuel W. Emery, Esq., a notary public.

RYE, Dec. 14th.

The religious interest is steadily extending and deepening. Mr. Whittier is admirably adapted to the work, and he believes in making it thorough. Thursday last will be long remembered in our churches, especially the forenoon meetings, for the general spirit of confession and prayer. On the Sabbath the church was packed. About forty have expressed a desire to become Christians. Meetings will be continued every afternoon and evening this week, and Thursday will be observed as a day of fasting, humiliation and prayer, when schools will be closed, and all invited to church.—a mid-week Sabbath.

MARITIME NOTES.

The tug Clara Clarita, which arrived at this port on the 7th inst. and sailed on the 8th, in search of the tug Knickerbocker and ship Lizzie Moses, apparently failed to find the tow she was looking for, and which arrived here on the 13th without her aid. The ship arrived below at Provincetown, Mass., on the 8th, and the Clara Clarita was reported at Newport, R. I., on the 11th, waiting orders.

The schooner Emma K. Smalley, Robinson master, from Perth Amboy for this port, arrived at Gloucester, Mass., on the 14th inst., in distress, having had her decks swept, foresail blown away and mainsail split.

W. J. Sampson & Co. advertise at their splendid new room paper, curtain and paint store on Daniel street, great reductions in the prices of window shades, drapery fixtures, artists' materials, etc., and also that they have just received a lot of novelties for the holidays, including easels, banners and banner rods, and an entirely new style of paint-box, especially designed for the use of young people, no brushes and no instructions being required. They carry by far the largest, finest and most varied stock of goods in their special line ever shown in this city, and an hour can be very pleasantly spent in looking over it under the guidance of the gentlemanly and courteous member of the firm who has special charge of the in-doors trade, even if purchasing is not intended.

The social assembly of the Daughters of Rebekah, which was to have been given Dec. 15th, has been postponed to Dec. 29th, by order of the committee.

MUSIC HALL.

Wednesday Evening, Dec. 16th.

First and Only Representation in this City, by the

D'OYLY CARTE OPERA COMPANY,

50 —— ARTISTS —— 50

Under the management of Mr. John Stetson, of Mr. W. S. GILBERT and SIR ARTHUR SULLIVAN'S latest work, the new Japanese Opera in two acts, entitled, the

MIKADO;

Or, The Town of Titipu.

Mr. Stetson would respectfully remind the musical public that this will be the ONLY AUTHORIZED and GENUINE PRODUCTION of the "MIKADO" in this city, the Exclusive Right to the Original Orchestral Score and Libretto, together with the original models of the Scenes and the designs for the wardrobe, armor and properties from the Savoy Theatre, London, having been legally assigned to him by the Author and Composer through their Representative, Mr. R D'Oyly Carte, for New York, Boston and the New England States.

The Opera will be presented with an Admirable Cast, Complete Chorus and Grand Orchestra. A Special Car is used for the transportation of the New and Magnificent Scenery, Costly Real Antique Japanese Costumes, Armor, etc., constituting in every detail an exact counterpart of the famous original productions at the Savoy Theatre, London, and the Fifth Avenue Theatre, New York.

The Sale of Seats will open at Goodrich's on Monday, Dec. 14th. Prices: Reserved Seats, 75 cents and $1.00; Gallery, 50 cents.

Excursion Trains will be run wherever practicable to accommodate suburban patrons.

CONSTIPATION!

There is no medium through which disease so often attacks the system as by Constipation, and there is no other ill flesh is heir to more apt to be neglected, from the fact material inconvenience may not be immediately felt from irregular action of the bowels. When there is not regular action the retention of decayed and effete matter, with its poisonous gases, soon poisons the whole system by being absorbed into it, causing piles, fistula, headache, impure blood and many other serious affections. BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS will immediately relieve, and one bottle positively cure or relieve any case of Constipation.

"Was troubled for a year with torpid liver and indigestion, and after trying everything imaginable used BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS. The first bottle revived me and the second cured me entirely."—J. S. Williamson, Rochester, N. Y.

The reforms in the methods of doing the business of this bureau which have lately been inaugurated promise better results in both these directions.

THE PATENT OFFICE.

The operations of the Patent Office demonstrate the activity of the inventive genius of the country. For the year ended June 30, 1885, the applications for patents, including reissues, and for the registration of trade-marks and labels, numbered 35,668. During the same period there were 21,928 patents granted and reissued, and 1,439 trade-marks and labels registered. The number of patents issued in the year 1878 was 14,337. The receipts during the last fiscal year were $1,674,974.35, and the total expenditures, including contingent expenses, $984,193.11.

There were 9,8 applications for patents pending on the first day of July, 1884, and 3,766 on the same date in the year of 1885. There has been considerable improvement made in the prompt determination of applications, and a consequent relief to expectant inventors. A number of suggestions and recommendations are contained in the report of the Commissioner of Patents, which are well entitled to the consideration of Congress.

POLYGAMY.

In the Territory of Utah, the law of the United States passed for the suppression of polygamy has been energetically and faithfully executed during the past year, with measureable good results. A number of convictions have been secured for unlawful cohabitation, and in some cases pleas of guilty have been entered and slight punishment imposed upon promise by the accused that they would not again offend against the law, nor advise, counsel, aid or abet in any way its violation by others. The Utah Commissioners express the opinion, based upon such information as they may be able to obtain, that but few polygamous marriages have taken place in the Territory during the last year. They further report that, while there can no be found upon the registration lists of voters the name of a man actually guilty of polygamy, and while none of that class are holding office, yet, at the last election in the Territory, all the officers elected except in one county were men who, though not actually living in practice of polygamy, subscribe to the doctrine of polygamous marriages as a divine revelation and a law unto all, higher and more binding upon the conscience than any human law, local or national. This is the strong sentiment created by a community protected by a republican form of government to which they owe allegiance, sustained by a church makes a principle and a belief which sets at naught that obligation of absolute obedience to the land which lies at the foundation of republican institutions. The authority and supremacy and the destiny of the Nation rests upon our homes established by the law of God, guarded by parental care, regulated by parental authority and sanctified by parental love. These are not the homes of polygamy. The children of our land who rule the Nation as they would if they were conscious of the actions of their sons, live according to God's holy ordinance, and each, pure and happy in the exclusive love of the father of her children, walks in the light of true womanhood, unperverted and unpolluted, upon all within her pure and wholesome family circle. These are not the cheerless, crushed and unwomanly mothers of polygamy. The fathers of our families are the best citizens of the Republic; wife and children are the models of patriotism, of conjugal and parental affection begot devotion to country. The man who, undefiled with plural marriage, is surrounded in his home circle with his wife and children, has a stake in the country which inspires him with respect for its laws and courage for the defense of them. These are not the fathers of polygamous families. There is no feature of this practice or the system which sanctions it, which is not opposed to all that is of value in our institutions.

There should be no relaxation in the firm but just execution of the law now in operation, and it should be followed by some such further discreet legislation as will rid this country of this blot upon its fair fame. Since the people upholding polygamy in our Territories are reinforced by immigration from other lands, I recommend that a law be passed to prevent the importation of Mormons into the country.

CIVIL-SERVICE REFORM.

The report of the Civil-service commission, which will be submitted, contains an account of the manner in which the Civil-service law has been administered during the last year and much valuable information on this important subject. I am inclined to think that there is no sentiment more general in the minds of the people of our country than a conviction of the correctness of the principles upon which the law enforcing civil-service reform is based. In its present condition the law regulates only part of the subordinate public positions throughout the country. It applies a test of fitness to applicants for these places by means of competitive examination and gives large discretion to the commissioners as to the character of examination and many other matters connected with its execution. Thus the rules and regulations adopted by the commission have much to do with the practical usefulness of the statute and with the results of its application. The people may well trust the commission to execute the law with perfect fairness and with as little irritation as is possible. But it comes no refatation of the principle which underlies it, and no weakening of the safeguards which surround it can be expected. Experience in its administration will probably suggest an amendment of the methods of its execution, but I venture to hope that we never shall be remitted to the system which distributes public positions purely as rewards for partisan service. Doubts may well be entertained whether our Government could survive the strain of a continuance of this system, which, upon every change of Administration, inspires an immense army of claimants for office to lay siege to the patronage of the Government, engrossing the time of public officers with their importunities, spreading abroad the contagion of their disappointment, and filling the air with the tumult of their discontent. The allurements of an immense number of offices and places exhibited to the voters of the land, and the promise of their bestowal in recognition of partisan activity, debauch the suffrage and rob political action of its thoughtful and deliberative character. The evil would increase with the multiplication of officers consequent upon our extension, and the mania for office-holding, growing from indulgence, would permeate our population so generally that patriotic purpose, the support of principle, the desire for the public good and solicitude for the Nation's welfare would be nearly banished from the activity of our party contests, and cause them to degenerate into ignoble, selfish and disgraceful struggles for the possession of office and public place.

Civil-service reform, enforced by law, came not too soon to check the progress of demoralization. One of its effects, not enough regarded, is the freedom it brings to the political action of those conservative and sober men who, in fear of the confusion and risk attending an arbitrary and sudden change in all the public offices with change of party rule, cast their ballots against such a change.

Parties seem to be necessary, and will continue to exist. Nor can it be now denied that there are legitimate advantages not disconnected with office-holding which follow party supremacy. While partisanship continues bitter and pronounced, and supplies so much of motive to sentiment and action, it is not fair to hold public officials, in charge of important trusts, responsible for the best results in the performance of their duties and yet insist that they shall rely, in confidential and important places, upon the work of those not only opposed to them in political affiliation but so steeped in partisan prejudice and rancor that they have no loyalty to their chiefs and no desire for their success. Civil-service reform does not exact this, nor does it require that those in subordinate position who fail in yielding their best service or who are incompetent, should be retained simply because they are in place. The whining of a clerk, discharged for indolence or incompetency, who, though he gained his place by the worst possible operation of the spoils system, suddenly discovers that he is entitled to protection under the sanction of civil-service reform, represents an idea no less absurd than the clamor of the applicant who claims the vacant position as his compensation for the most questionable party work.

The Civil-service law does not prevent the discharge of the indolent or incompetent clerk, but it does prevent supplying his place with the unfit party-worker. Thus in both the phases is seen benefit to the public service, and the people, who desire good government, having secured this result, will not relinquish its benefits without protest, nor are they unmindful of the fact that its full advantages can only be gained through the complete good faith of those having its execution in charge, and this they will insist upon.

I recommend that the salaries of the Civil Service Commissioners be increased to a sum more nearly commensurate to their important duties.

THE GOVERNMENT LIBRARY.

It is a source of considerable and not unnatural discontent that no adequate provision has yet been made for the accommodation of the principal library of the Government. Of the vast collection of books and pamphlets gathered at the Capitol, numbering some 700,000 volumes exclusive of manuscripts, maps and the products of the graphic arts, also of great volume and value, only about 300,000 volumes, or less than half the collection, are provided with shelf room. The others, which are increasing at the rate of from 25,000 to 30,000 volumes a year, are not only unaccessible to the public, but are subject to serious damage and deterioration from other causes in their present situation.

A consideration of the fact that the library of the Capitol has twice been destroyed or damaged by fire, its daily increasing value and its importance as a place of deposit of books under the law relating to copyright, make manifest the necessity of prompt action to ensure its proper accommodation and protection.

DISTRICT MATTERS.

My attention has been called to a controversy which has arisen form the condition of law relating to railroad facilities in the city of Washington, which has involved the commissioners of the District, in much annoyance and trouble. I hope the difficulty will be promptly settled by appropriate legislation. The Commissioners represent that enough of the revenues of the District are now on deposit in the Treasury of the United States, to repay the sum advanced by the Government for sewer improvements, under the act of June 30, 1884. They desire now an advance of the share which ultimately should be borne by the District of the cost of extensive improvements to the streets of the city. The total expense, of these contemplated improvements is considerable, at $1,000,000, and they are of the opinion that a considerable sum could be saved if they had all the money in hand, so that contracts for work could be made at the same time. They express confidence that, if the advance asked for should be made, the Government would be reimbursed the same within a reasonable time. I have no doubt that these improvements could be made much cheaper if undertaken together and prosecuted according to a general plan.

The License law now in force within the District is deficient and uncertain in some of its provisions, and ought to be amended. The Commissioners urge with good reason the necessity of providing a building for the use of the District Government which shall better secure the safety and preservation of its valuable books and records.

THE PRESIDENTIAL SUCCESSION.

The present condition of the law relating to the succession to the Presidency in the event of the death disability or removal of both the President and Vice President is such as to require immediate amendment. This subject has repeatedly been considered by Congress, but no result has been reached. The recent lamentable death of the Vice President and the vacancies at the same time in all other offices, the incumbents of which might immediately exercise the functions of the Presidential office, has caused public anxiety and a just demand that a recurrence of such a condition of affairs should not be permitted.

CONCLUSION.

In conclusion, I commend to the wise care and thoughtful consideration of Congress such needs and the welfare of the American Nation. To subordinate these to the narrow advantages of partisanship of the accomplishment of selfish aims is to violate the people's trust and betray the people's interest. But an individual sense of responsibility on the part of each of us, and a stern determination to perform our duty well, must give us place among those who have added in their day and generation, to the glory and prosperity of our beloved land.

(Signed) GROVER CLEVELAND.

It should be remembered to the credit of W. H. Vanderbilt that he never aspired to be anything but a plain American citizen. With greater opportunities than most men, he never shamed his nationality by toadying to foreigners, by trying to ally his family with European "nobility," or by imitating the ostentatious display of English society. In that as in some other things his life was a gratifying contrast to that of some other money kings of New York.

Remember that Allcocks's are the only genuine Porous Plasters. They act quickly and with certainty, and can be worn for weeks without causing pain or inconvenience. They are invaluable in cases of spinal weakness, kidney and pulmonary difficulties, malaria, ague cake, liver complaint, dyspepsia, strains, rheumatism, sciatica and nervous debility. Other plasters blister and inflame the skin so that the pores are closed and often cause serious injury. Do not risk health and waste time and money by buying inferior articles made to sell on the reputation of the genuine. When purchasing plasters ask for and see that you get Allcock's Porous Plasters. Each genuine plaster bears the registered trade-mark stamp.

The great strike of shoemakers at Brockton, Mass., reported a week ago to have ended, is still apparently as far as ever from a conclusion. The strikers claim that their action was to prevent the undue reduction of wages. The manufacturers say the demands of the strikers are, virtually, that the trades unions shall run the business of the manufacturers as they like.

The Poor Little Ones.

We often see children with red eruptions on face and hands, rough scaly skin, and often sores on the head. These things indicate a depraved condition of the blood. In the growing period, children have need of pure blood by which to build up strong and healthy bodies. If Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" is given, the blood is purged of its bad elements, and the child's development will be healthy, and as it should be. Scrofulous affections, rickets, fever sores, hip-joint disease or other grave maladies and suffering are sure to result from neglect and lack of proper attention to such cases.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhœa, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. LONGEVITY IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Statistics show that New Hampshire is pre-eminently the home of the centenarian, nonagenarian and octogenarian, of hale and hearty old men who began life with the republic. Indeed, so numerous are the veterans of the war of 1812 in some of the remote towns of the Granite State that a popular impression prevails there that "the last war," as it is still called by these warriors of bygone days, was fought entirely by New Hampshire regiments, and that from Lundy's Lane to the battle of New Orleans they carried the American banner to the front on every hard-contested field. Many theories have been spun as to why people should live to be older in New Hampshire than in Vermont or Maine. Of course, there must be some good reason for it. Perhaps it is because they take better care of their health and understand what is the right medicine for the right disease. Such at least would seem to be the inference from the following account by Charles M. Lampney, Esq., a well-known attorney and counsellor, of Hampton, N. H., of how he was cured of rheumatism:

"I have had several attacks of rheumatism within the last thirty years," he says, "and have got rid of them the best I could with the help of good physicians. The last attack, which began in April, 1884, was the severest. I was daily under the care of the doctor, who gave me the best attention to relieve me of the severe pain and to relax the contracted muscles. I was taken in the back of the neck. In a few days the pain moved down into the limbs, and in the course of three weeks had run all through the joints from head to foot. At the commencement of the fourth week it had apparently settled down to stay all over me from the back of the head to the toes, and I was unable to move any part of the body except the right hand at the wrist joints. The day before, Deacon Hobbs, a neighbor, who had been suffering for several months with rheumatism, sent me word that he was taking Athlophoros and that it was doing him good. My father accordingly sent to Boston for a bottle. It was brought into the house at 8 o'clock in the evening and found me lying in bed like a corpse.

"I was about to give up the ghost and of course was ready to take anything in hopes that it might do some good. A dose was administered and three hours later another. My hearing became obtuse and my head confused. I dropped into a sleep and slept all night. The next morning after waking I had no pain and could move any part of the body. In the course of three hours I sat up in bed without any assistance. I continued to take the medicine every three hours through the day and a part of the next day and then stopped.

"In a few days I had very severe rheumatic pains in the thumb, and when I went to bed one dose was administered. I slept all night and in the morning the pain was gone. A few days later it returned in the left hand very seriously. On retiring one dose was taken, followed by sleep and no pain in the morning. The whole amount of medicine taken was one and a half bottles, and I have had no occasion to use any since. I consider that the Athlophoros saved my life and I recommend it to all who have rheumatic troubles."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prove that you buy it from your druggist, but if you haven't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York.

GLEANINGS.

Gold worth $30,800,000 was dug from Uncle Sam's rich soil in 1884.

Bishop Taylor writes that missionaries with big families are wanted in Africa. They can dig and teach, hoe and preach.

A large green stone taken from a cock's gizzard in Alexander County, South Carolina, turns out to be a $1,000 emerald.

Perhaps the most beautiful writer among well-known Englishmen is Mr. G. A. Sala, whose letters are as easy as print to read.

Neither the Capitol nor the White House is fireproof, notwithstanding the millions, that have been expended upon them to make them so.

A great English authority on dyspepsia speaks strongly in favor of milk puddings and stewed fruits for the dyspeptic, the bilious and the gouty.

Mr. Gerhardt, the artist, has been offered $10,000 for the Grant death-mask, but declines to sell it, nor will he part with it till he shall be ready to present it to the Nation.

Ten copies of the new ordinary edition in fac simile of the "Vicar of Wakefield" and ten copies of the large paper edition have been bound in wood from the panels of Dolly's chop-house, where Goldsmith, Johnson, and Garrick were accustomed to meet.

Physicians in the Sandwich Islands have come to the conclusion that the only way to stop the alarming spread of leprosy is to begin vaccinating with leprosy microbes, but no one has yet been found who is willing to submit to the operation.

Capt. Shackleford, master of Jay Gould's yacht, is on terms of social intimacy with the millionaire. It is said that he will soon be in Moreaini's shoes, as Mr. Gould has never felt the same toward that unhappy man since the Huelskamp scandal.

Mrs. Langtry, not satisfied with the natural color of her hair, which was beautiful, and of which she took incessant care, has painted it a kind of reddish color—which, it appears, is becoming the fashion in Paris—and has much injured her appearance.

Jonathan Findlay, now a resident of Montreal, Canada, was more than sixty years ago a pupil of Carlyle's, who, Mr. Findlay says, was a cruel tyrant, rulling a class of trembling boys with a rod of iron. He was rough and uncouth in his appearance, and no one suspected that within him were the elements of a great and successful writer.

Brass faucets are to shine no longer behind New York bars. Health officers are busy going the rounds of the 10,000 taverns of that thirsty town and the order is that John Barleycorn's blood shall be drawn through harmless wooden or glass-lined faucets, instead of through the contaminating metal.

The new White Cross Army is growing. It has a membership of 500 in New York, and is being established in all the large cities of the country. In Glasgow it is 65,000 strong. It is increasing rapidly in London. All its members sign pledges to maintain personal purity and to see their influence in repressing immorality, indecent language and coarse jests.

The queen wrote to all her family and announced her marriage to them, says Charles Greville in his memoirs. When she saw the duchess of Gloucester in town and told her she was to make her declaration the next day the duchess asked her if it was not a nervous thing to do. She said, "Yes, but I did a much more nervous thing a little while ago." "What was that?" "I proposed to Prince Albert."

Charles Sumner's Washington home, his only home during the later years of his life, now belongs to William W. Corcoran. No traces of its former illustrious occupant remain. The furniture, selected with much care, has been scattered far and wide under the hammer of the auctioneer. His pictures are all gone, and there are few things at the capitol to remind one of the upholder of the Union.

In the great Northwest it is no longer "Hail Columbia, but "Hail Columbus." The latter song is to be sung by many thousand throats at the next meeting of the National Sænger fest. The song is in German, and was written by Carl Joseph Brambach, of Bonn, Germany, to whom has just been paid $1,000—the Plankinton prize. It was Joel Barlow of old, who began his epic thus:

I sing the man who first unfurled
An Eastern banner o'er the Western world.

At Middlesboro, England, the other day, Dr. Strattern appeared as a witness at Petty Sessions, but declined to take an oath, on the ground "That it was a very serious thing to kiss a book which was handled by all kinds of people." After some argument the doctor offered by way of compromise to kiss the book if a clean sheet of paper were placed over the cover. The bench declined to accede to this or to allow the doctor to make an affirmation, and eventually he consented, under protest, to "run the risk of catching disease."

In 1851, when Louis Napoleon was President of France, some coins were struck with his head upon them. He examined them, said they were all right, and told the mintmaster to go ahead with them. A little later he noticed a stiff-looking lock of hair over the temple, such as we call a cow-lick, and ordered a new die made. That was done, but in the meantime twenty-three of the pieces had gone into circulation, one of which is said to be in the possession of Queen Victoria. One thousand dollars apiece has been offered for these rare coins, without takers.

A sheep-raiser in Texas went to a telegraph office to send a message to his ranch. He dictated this to the operator: "Meet me with two horses and Sheep. Shep was the name of his dog. The operator wrote, "Meet me with two horses and sheep." He showed it to the sender, who, evidently being as little familiar with spelling as writing, pronounced it satisfactory. When the Texan reached the specified place he was met, much to his surprise, by his men with a drove of 2,500 sheep. The sheep had been driven a long distance through the wintry weather. Many of them had died, and others had suffered seriously from exposure. The owner sued the company for damages, and won his case in the lower courts. This was reversed by the Court of Appeals, which held that in writing the message the operator acted as the agent of the sender and not of the company.

The daughter of a well-known woman is thus described by a correspondent: The genuine Newport belle, for she has lived there since she was a child, is Maud Howe, daughter of Julia Ward Howe, and who, though now 30, is still quite as beautiful as when she sat for the portrait now in the Corcoran Gallery at Washington, which attracted so much attention when it was exhibited at the Royal Academy. She is a striking-looking woman, with an "exquisitely turned jaw," a perfect neck, and an artistic head—round which she binds a wreath of ivy, in the style of the winner of the Olympian games. She is a lady of caprices. At present esthetic garments are her fad, and she attires herself in limp, loose gowns of dull faded colors, which cling about her in a way that would have charmed Rossetti. Dogs are, with her, another mania.

Owners of faded plush goods can brighten them up by sponging them with chloroform.

Catarrh

Is a very prevalent and exceedingly disagreeable disease, liable, if neglected, to develop into serious consumption. Being a constitutional disease, it requires a constitutional remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, acting through the blood, reaches every part of the system, effecting a radical and permanent cure of catarrh in even its most severe forms. Prepared by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

"Put the Old Flag, and an Appropriation."

The estimates of sums required by the different branches of the government to properly run their departments, are colossal! The democrats in Congress pared down every estimate for expenditure during the last presidential administration, and cried aloud as to extravagance, and departments "honey-combed with fraud!" Now they are asking about twice as much as they really expect to obtain, in order that they may be allowed enough to carry on the business of government. The folly of meagre appropriations to keep up buildings in navy yards, etc., is now admitted. Indeed, the democrats make no concealment of the fact that they endeavored to cripple the government because the republicans were in power, and that such policy is disastrous they do not now of course pretend to deny.

The Portland savings bank is the holder of bonds of the city of Evansville, Ind., but for some time past the city has refused to pay the semi-annual interest nominated in the bonds. A suit was brought in the United States circuit court of Indiana to recover the interest coupons. The city set up an answer that the city council had no righ to issue bonds, and that consequently they were invalid. The court has decided in this case and in others upon a similar issue brought against Evansville, that the bonds are valid, and the purchasers properly relied upon the recitals contained in the bonds. Whether the repudiating city will carry the case to the supreme court at Washington, or seek to compromise by the old mode of funding coupons and promising better financial conduct in the future, remains to be seen. The decision of the court was the same as had been pronounced in many previous cases. One of the cases cited by the judge in his opinion sustaining the validity of the bonds was that of the Portsmouth savings bank against Springfield. The court sustained the demurrer filed by the Portland savings bank to each paragraph of the answer made by the city.

The officers of the United States man-of-war Juniata state in regard to the charges that they had dutiable goods on board that the articles were purchased simply as presents for their friends. The bags of the seamen were not searched.

Commodore Charles Lowndes, on the retired list, died in Easton, Md., Dec. 14th, aged eighty-two years. He entered the service in 1815, and was retired in July, 1862.

A correspondent of the New York Times argues that though there may be a few officers in the construction bureau who could after failures construct a third-rate vessel from a foreign model, the secretary of the navy, his captains, commodores, and admirals know but little more about building a ship than a member of Congress. Because a man has been trained to sail and fight a ship is no reason to conclude that he can build one.

MATTERS IN YORK.

YORK CORNER, ME., Dec. 14th.

Mr. Ivory Simpson, who died Dec. 5th, was born Feb. 24th, 1795; consequently was aged ninety years, nine months and eleven days. He was the oldest man in town; and was the last pensioner, in this town, of the war of 1812. He was married to the now widow, Dec. 2d, 1819, and they have lived happily together sixty-six years and three days. They have now living seven children, seventeen grandchildren and eighteen great-grandchildren.

Mr. Horace B. Goodwin has moved from the "Bob house" to the house of Mr. John W. Grover, recently deceased.

Mr. Walter E. Trafton and family have moved from the Eben Ransdell place to Mrs. Starkey's house at "Fall Mill."

That forty-five-cent molasses at Plaisted's still takes the lead!

The Portland Argus has been a weekly visitor at the house of Mr. James A. Bragdon for eighty-three years; ever since its foundation.

The Christian Baptist soc'y are making preparations for a Christmas entertainment at their house of worship on Christmas evening; particulars not yet announced. There was no meeting at this church yesterday, Elder Maden being in attendance at the quarterly conference at Ogunquit.

"For Christmas spices, At very low prices," call at Plaisted's, where they can be obtained at about one-half the price charged at other stores.

The abutments of "Great bridge" have been rebuilt, and the roadbed raised about one foot, making a decided improvement in the traveling.

Mrs. Eliza Moody lies dangerously ill with hemorrhage; she is attended by Drs. Hazen of York and Wentworth of Kittery.

G. F. Plaisted has the following notice posted on the stove in his store:

NOTICE TO "GENTLEMEN."

The surface of the glass show-cases being very smooth, tobacco spit can be more easily removed than from the stove; therefore "Gentlemen" are requested to spit on the show-cases, rather than on the stove.

Three Peculiarities

Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier and regulating medicine, is characterized by three peculiarities, namely:

1st: The combination of the various remedial agents used.

2d: The proportion in which the roots, herbs, barks, etc., are mixed.

3d: The process by which the active medicinal properties are secured.

The result is a medicine of unusual strength and curative power, which effects cures heretofore unequalled. These peculiarities belong exclusively to Hood's Sarsaparilla, and are

Unknown to Others

Hood's Sarsaparilla is prepared with the greatest skill and care, by pharmacists of education and long experience. Hence it is a medicine worthy of entire confidence. "A THING OF BEAUTY IS A JOY FOREVER!"

As the time is fast approaching when people will be looking for the beautiful, to make their annual Christmas gifts from, we would respectfully call attention to our stock, selected expressly for the holiday trade.

Our stocks of WATCHES, JEWELRY, CLOCKS, SILVER-PLATED WARE and FANCY NOVELTIES, were never as large as it is this year. We take this occasion to thank our friends and the public in general for the confidence and liberal patronage they have bestowed on us for the last six years since leaving the house of HUTCHINSON & CONNELL, and in the future as in the past our motto will be, "Knowledge & Honesty:" First, we understand our business in all its branches fully, and cannot take advantage of our customers through ingorance; Second, we sell everything for just what it is.

Our reputation for skilled Watchwork is too well established to need any comment upon; there is no better engraving done in the State than we send out.

Please do not look in our window and think you see the bulk of our stock, for we cannot show but a small part of our stock in the window. Our show-cases are full, our safe is full. Please come in and let us show you.

We could quote our prices but do not think it wise to do so in a newspaper, but being the largest buyer in our line of any dealer in the State, we can give prices that no one can honestly beat.

The custom is growing in favor of purchasing Xmas gifts early and having them laid away, we already have several Silver and Gold Watches and Chains sold, some of them to be sent out of the State.

Please call early and see if we cannot please you in every way. Respectfully,

JAMES R. CONNELL, 7 Congress Street,

THE MIKADO.

The following cast will produce the comic opera "The Mikado" at Music hall this evening, supported by a chorus of fifty voices and a special orchestra: "The Mikado of Japan," Mr. N. S. Burnham; "Nanki-Poo," Mr. Roy Stainton; "Ko-Ko," Mr. J. W. Herbert; "Pooh-Bah," Mr. Harry Allen; "Pish-Tush," Mr. Louis J. Monico; "Yum-Yum," Miss L. Montague; "Pitti-Sing," Miss Agnes Stone; "Peep-Bo," Miss Mamie Cerbi; "Katisha," Miss Augusta Roche.

HAMPTON JOTTINGS.

HAMPTON, Dec. 15th.

Rev. Mr. Merrill, pastor of the Baptist church, recently gave a very able lecture, under the auspices of the W. C. T. U., showing the effects of alcohol on the human system, by a series of diagrams of the human stomach taken from real cases after death. The lecture was replete with physiological and scientific facts and principles, and was evidently the fruitage of much learning and careful study.

On Sabbath morning last Rev. Mr. Copp, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, preached a very impressive sermon in the Congregational church. The Scripture reading was also peculiarly instructive, and the whole service tenderly spiritual. The pulpit, too, without any floral decorations, was in harmony with the spirit of the hour, and sweetly voiced the poetic paradox, "When unadorned, is adorned the most."

Mr. G. W. Litch made a deeply interesting address, on Monday evening, in the town hall, on "Life, habits and religion of the Hindoos in India and Ceylon," illustrated with seventy-five photographs, reflected sixteen feet square by the oxy-hydrogen stereopticon. * *

MARITIME NOTES.

The schooner Annie H. Holton, at anchor in the lower harbor, drifted onto Hicks' rocks on the 15th inst., and was hauled off by the Clara Batemen.

CAPE NEDDICK, ME., Dec. 14th.

Mr. Editor: Having seen no account of the wreck of the schooner Sarah in the Gazette or elsewhere, I send you an account of it. The schooner Sarah, of Wells, Asa Bowen master, bound from Boston for Wells, came into Cape Neddick roads and anchored on the afternoon of Friday, Dec. 4th. It commenced to snow that night, and breeze up from the east-southeast, causing her to drag her anchor and go ashore just before daylight on the 5th, she becoming a total wreck, the crew barely escaping with their lives, and reaching shore in an exhausted condition. The captain tied his money, 130 dollars, to the rail in a box; the box washed away, and $65 in silver washed ashore and was found and returned to the captain; but the paper money was not found, probably being destroyed. The vessel was of forty tons gross register, built in Wells, fifty-three years old, and owned three-quarters by F. A. Pike of Wells and one-quarter by Capt. Wm. G. Matthews of Wells.

The schooner Addie E. Seavey, from Newburyport for Salem with sand, had her sails blown away on the night of the 7th inst. and was compelled to anchor, her crew being taken off and carried into Rockport, Mass., by the life-saving crew, the vessel afterward being towed into Pigeon cove, and into Gloucester on the 11th inst. Her captain, D. W. Haggerty, and part of her crew, belong here.

The schooner Gold Hunter, Capt. Matthews, which has been carrying bricks from the Piscataqua river to Boston this season, on Dec. 7th hauled up here for the winter; and the schooner Sharon, Donnell master, will haul up on her return from Boston, where she now is with cord wood and potatoes. J. S. B.

Mr. Eos Idris, of Boston, formerly of London, Eng., has been engaged as tenor of the Unitarian choir.

M. M. Collis invites all in want of holiday presents, useful or ornamental, or both combined, to call at No. 15 Market street, the Boston 99-cent store, and examine the immense variety of samples (the main stocks are stored in the upper two stories of the building) on the first and second floors. Mr. Collis claims to have the largest stock and most complete assortment of holiday goods in the city, and will be pleased to give optical proof thereof to all who may call. He certainly has an almost endless variety of articles in sight on the ground floor.

Irving W. Rand, of this city, was the successful competitor for appointment to a cadetship at West Point, before the examining board which recently met at Manchester, and his nomination will at once be made by Congressman Martin A. Haynes. The successful contestant is a son of Mr. J. Sullivan Rand, well and favorably known as a successful—because conscientious and painstaking—teacher. The rating of the highest three candidates was as follows: Irving W. Rand, 74; Wm. D. Eaton, a school teacher of Seabrook, 72; Arthur E. Locke of this city, 71 3-10.

Mr. Andrew P. Preston, the Congress block apothecary and dealer in fine fancy goods, asks "Have you seen the newest style bottles of Preston's cologne and imported bay rum? What would be more acceptable for a Christmas gift?" We haven't seen the bottles, but we know that Preston's cologne is the best article of the kind in the market, never staining even the most delicate fabric, and retaining its freshness of odor even to the last degree of faintness.

The sub-committee of school district No. 2, to whom was referred the question of the confirmation of W. J. Rockwood as master of the Jones grammar school, have confirmed him as principal, at a salary of $1100 per annum.

A dime show will open in Music hall next Monday evening, to play through the week.

A Kittery man fell overboard at the navy landing at the foot of Daniel street, Monday evening, and the sergeant of marines on duty on the Emerald, in attempting to fish him out with a boat-hook, tumbled overboard himself. Both were helped out by others.

There will be a big audience at Music hall this evening; but few choice seats are disengaged, and they will probably be taken before night.

If you want to make a Christmas present of a sensible and useful article, go to Ayers & Locke or George B. French and buy a Common Sense Jacket. The price of this admirable article is not so great as to preclude your making another present besides, if you want to.

At the regular communication of St. Andrew's lodge of Masons, held Monday evening last, it was voted to have a public installation of officers on Monday evening, Dec. 28th.

Among the nominations sent by the president to the senate on the 14th inst. where those of John S. H. Frink to be United States attorney for the district of New Hampshire, and Alpheus A. Hanscom to be collector of the port of Portsmouth. In these cases this was a mere matter of form, confirmation being a certainty.

At the session of the United States circuit court held on Tuesday, Judge Clark presiding, the final order of the foreclosure in the suit Mercantile Trust Co. vs. the Portland & Ogdensburg Railroad Co., made by Judge Colt, was filed.

City Marshal Norton and Capt. Hobbs have instituted quite a convenience to those who have mail matter going west, by having a box at the police station where letters can be left, and which are mailed at the depot at midnight for the Pullman train. This saves our business men quite a tramp, as they can get their mail at nine o'clock and send their letters at the same time, while letters cannot be deposited at the postoffice after 6:30 to go on the same mail.—Penny Post.

D'OYLY CARTE OPERA COMPANY,

50 —— ARTISTS —— 50

Under the management of Mr. John Stetson, of Mr. W. S. GILBERT and SIR ARTHUR SULLIVAN'S latest work, the new Japanese Opera in two acts, entitled, the

MIKADO;

Or, The Town of Titipu.

Mr. Stetson would respectfully remind the musical public that this will be the ONLY AUTHORIZED and GENUINE PRODUCTION of the "MIKADO" in this city, the Exclusive Right to the Original Orchestral Score and Libretto, together with the original models of the Scenes and the designs for the wardrobe, armor and properties from the Savoy Theatre, London, having been legally assigned to him by the Author and Composer through their Representative, Mr. R D'Oyly Carte, for New York, Boston and the New England States.

The Opera will be presented with an Adjustable Cast, Complete Chorus and Grand Orchestra. A Special Car is used for the transportation of the New and Magnificent Scenery, Costly Real Antique Japanese Costumes, Armor, etc., constituting in every detail an exact counterpart of the famous original production at the Savoy Theatre, London, and the Fifth Avenue Theatre, New York.

The Sale of Seats will open at Goodrich's on Monday, Dec. 14th. Prices: Reserved Seats, 75 cents and $1.00; Gallery, 5 cents.

CONSUMPTION.

I have a positive remedy for the above disease; by its use thousands of cases of the worst kind and of long standing have been cured. Indeed, so strong is my faith in its efficacy that I will send TWO BOTTLES FREE, together with a VALUABLE TREATISE on this disease to any sufferer. Give express and P. O. address.

DEAFNESS Its CAUSES and CURE, by one who was deaf twenty eight years. Treated by most of the noted specialists of the day with no benefit. Cured himself in three months, and since then hundreds of others by same process. A plain, simple and successful home treatment. Address T. S. PAGE, 126 East 26th st., New York City.

I CURE FITS!

When I say cure I do not mean merely to stop them for a time and then have them return again. I mean a radical cure. I have made the disease of FITS, EPILEPSY or FALLING SICKNESS a lifelong study. I warrant my remedy to cure the worst cases. Because others have failed is no reason for a trial free of charge. Give express and P. O. address. Dr. H. G. ROOT, 183 Pearl St., N.Y.

Remember that Allcocks's are the only genuine Porous Plasters. They act quickly and with certainty, and can be worn for weeks without causing pain or inconvenience. They are invaluable in cases of spinal weakness, kidney and pulmonary difficulties, malaria, ague cake, liver complaint, dyspepsia, strains, rheumatism, sciatica and nervous debility. Other plasters blister and inflame the skin so that the pores are closed and often cause serious injury. Do not risk health and waste time and money by buying inferior articles made to sell on the reputation of the genuine. When purchasing plasters ask for and see that you get Allcock's Porous Plasters. Each genuine plaster bears the registered trade-mark stamp.

Carter's Little Liver Pills will be found an excellent remedy for sick-headache. Thousands of letters from people who have used them prove this fact. Ask your druggist for them.

Members of the Cuban colony in Philadelphia are confident that another attempt is to be made at once by Cuban patriots to defeat the Spanish authorities.

If sick headache is misery, what are Carter's Little Liver Pills if they will positively cure it? People who have used them speak frankly of their worth. They are small and easy to take.

It is the intention of New Jersey sportsmen to apply to the legislature for the enactment of a law prohibiting the shooting of quail for the period of three years.

Chronic Catarrh.—I have suffered for years from chronic catarrh. Six weeks ago I was induced to try Ely's Cream Balm. Relief was instantaneous, and continued use has resulted in an almost complete cure. — S. M. Greene, Bookkeeper, Steamboat Co., Catskill, N. Y.

Was afflicted with catarrh and cold in the head. I tried many remedies without any beneficial effects, at last I used Ely's Cream Balm, which effectually cured me. — W. H. I. Hillard, Dentist, Bordentown, N. J.

It is Well to Begin the New Year Aright.

The wheel of fortune turns on forever. Tuesday, November 10th, 1885, at New Orleans, La., at the 189th Grand Monthly Drawing of The Louisiana State Lottery, Gen'ls G. T. Beauregard of La., and Jubal A. Early of Va., had the following result: No. 46,709 drew the Grand Capital Prize of $75,000, sold in fifths at $1 each, one to M. B. Nelson, job printer at No. 76 Merrimac street, Boston, Mass.; one to Joseph Pohl, Traverse City, Mich., collected through First National Bank of Traverse, Mich.; one to S. H. Bettys, Mt. Olivet, Ky., Bank of Commerce, Louisville, Ky.; and one paid to Wells, Fargo & Co.'s Bank of San Francisco, Cal. No. 848 drew the second Capital of $2,000, sold in fifths also; two fifths to Arnold Pres., No. 104½ Esplanade St., New Orleans, La.; two fifths paid to Wells, Fargo & Co.'s Bank, San Francisco, Cal.; one fifth; ticket No. 3,288 drew third Capital of $10,000, sold in fifths; one paid to F. Gross & Co., San Antonio, Texas; one to Isaac Rosenberg's Bank of Galveston, Texas, for John Brunton, a cotton screwman there; and to W. P. Campbell & Co., bankers, Florence, Ala. All information of the next (the 188th) Grand Monthly Drawing on Tuesday, January 12th, 1886, can be had on application to M. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, La. It is well to begin the New Year aright.

TWO RIVAL CITIES.

In the long and at times bitter rivalry between Connecticut's two biggest cities—Hartford and New Haven—honors now seem to be pretty equally divided. Hartford has secured the State Capital, one of the most beautiful in the country, situated in a lovely park, but New Haven has gone ahead in population. In the political rivalry between the two, also New Haven, by her Democratic majority, has succeeded in putting the trim little State on the list of those that voted for President Cleveland. Hartford, however, is just now proud of having had her many charms set forth at length, with plenty of illustrations, in the pages of Harpers' Magazine, and so the struggle goes on. Brains will succeed in putting one or the other city ahead, and just here it must be said that New Haven has an exceptionally brainy bar. But, then, Hartford has more literary people—Charles Dudley Warner, Mark Twain, Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe and others. Among the able lawyers of New Haven is Edward A. Anketell, the assistant clerk of the Superior Court, who office is No. 10 in the Court House. Mr. Anketell is well known to the legal profession throughout Connecticut and has also the reputation of being a favored writer for the press. As such this little story, coming from him under date of September 24, 1885, possesses no slight interest:

"Day before yesterday, and for a day or two prior thereto, I suffered great pain in my right arm, which I felt sure was rheumatic. Being determined to do something to relieve the pain if possible I sent out and got a bottle of Athlophoros, and took three doses during the day. Yesterday morning the pain was nearly gone and one more dose completed the cure, so that today my arm is as well as ever."

Mr. Anketell was wise in taking such prompt measures to check the pain. Doubtless if Mr. Morris Hobbs, of Hampton, N. H., had known of the existence of Athlophoros, the rheumatism from which he suffered would have been cured with equal speed long ago. Mr. Hobbs thus tells the story of his cure:

"I had the rheumatism nine months before I heard of your Athlophoros. I was prostrate all that time and could do nothing. I had several doctors, but they did no good. I tried all the medicine I could hear of with no better results. At last I saw Athlophoros advertised and sent for some. On the day it arrived I took three doses in the afternoon before I went to bed, and that night I slept as well as I did when a boy. It seemed to kill the pain at once, and I never have been troubled since. My joints were badly swollen at the time, but as soon as the pain stopped the swelling began to go down very gradually. I am satisfied that if I had taken Athlophoros when I was first troubled with the disease it would have saved me $500 in expenses, time and pain.

"I have recommended it to several others in this place with equally good results. One case was that of a boy 16 years old, who was so badly afflicted with rheumatism that his father had to carry him up stairs to bed for two weeks. His mother came to me to inquire about Athlophoros. I advised her to get it at once by all means and she did. In two days after taking the medicine the boy was out at play with other boys, being entirely cured and has been well ever since.

"If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold by druggists everywhere, or sent by mail.

WIT AND HUMOR.

London Truth announces that the Prince of Wales is Colonel of over forty English regiments, and the statement is creating a dark suspicion that he has Kentucky blood in his veins.—Life.

The latest piece of friendly advice which is being given in Paris is not to shake hands with a man who builds "castles in Spain," lest he should communicate the bacillus. — Brooklyn Eagle.

There was a brief but heated contest between a Bellington woman and a book agent the other day. The book agent used expletives and the woman used hot water.—Burlington (Vt.) Free Press.

Little Charley—"Papa, will you buy me a drum?" Fond father—"Ah, but my boy, you will disturb me very much if I do." Charley—"O, no, papa; I won't drum except when you're asleep."—Pittsburg Chronicle.

"O, Emeline, come quick! The baby's tumbled down into the cistern; we's bin a-fishin' for him for half an hour wid an umbreller handle and a chunk o' sponge cake, an' we can't even git a nibble."—Harper's Bazar.

In some respects a man resembles a silver coin. He can do more good by being good than by appearing good when he is not good. This thought was engendered by receiving a leaden dime in change.—Huntsville (Ala.) Mercury.

Country papers are expected to puff everything from a chicken-fight to a church-festival, and everybody from a young politician to a dead man who "had his faults—as who has not?"—and furnish copies of the paper gratis. —Galveston (Tex.) News.

A Colorado man visiting an Eastern city was attacked by a Full Hand. With great presence of mind he picked up a large Bluff which was growing there, and by skillful use of it he succeeded in frightening away his assailant.—Pittsburg Chronicle.

A Harvard student searched for a leak in the gas-pipe with a lighted match. He will never do it again. There is this to say in favor of a collegiate education: When a man learns anything he learns it so thoroughly that he never forgets it.—Boston Transcript.

A Washington belle has created something of a sensation in social circles by marrying a policeman. A policeman may make quite as good a husband as a Congressman, but his wife won't be able to find him when she wants him. Nobody can.—Norristown Herald.

One of the richest men in Texas, Ross Kennedy by name, has been sentenced to the penitentiary for two years for stealing a cow. He ought to have killed somebody if he wanted to be a nice, clean criminal, able to excite the sympathy of a jury.—New Orleans Picayune.

"Why are you making such a fuss over what the gossips are spreading about you? I have heard you say a hundred times that you didn't care what people thought of you." "True, but I do care what they say about me." "O, that's an entirely different thing." —Boston Transcript.

It is well to be exact, although the belief may be carried too far for the death of a young friend. A more or less poetical Hudson River Railroad conductor remarked, when asked the usual question, "How weighed spirit sank to rest at 3:45, railroad time."—Shoe and Leather Reporter.

"You needn't pretend to look down on me, sir," said a tramp to a lawyer, of whom he was begging. "Well, it seems to me you think you are somebody." "Well, I'm just as good as you, sir. I solicit money of you, that's all. So I don't see out that we are both in the same boat—both solicitors."

Parson Twangdoodle Baxter of the Austin Bay-Light Tabernacle met Jim Webster, who was complaining of hard times, etc. "Whisky am de cause ob all yer troubles and sorrers," replied Jim's spiritual advisor. "Dat's so, parson. I feels mighty troubled when I hasn't got any ob hit."—Texas Siftings.

"There," said a Washington hotel man, as he read of the railway accident and the burning of the mails near that city, "that accident cost me hundreds of dollars!" "Got stock in the road, I presume?" "No, but every Congressman who is out of the city will swear he sent me the amount of his board-bill by that mail."

Mr. D. L. Moody says about long prayers: "If when Peter found himself sinking in the waves of Galilee, he had insisted on putting before his petition, 'Lord, save me,' the regular prayer-meeting round-about introduction, he would have been forty feet under water before he could have asked of the Lord the help he needed."

"That," remarked Alexander, as he watched the explosion of one of his royal residences in Moscow, "that reminds me of a statue of Minerva." "And why, your Majesty?" deferentially inquired the Grand First Groom of the Buckwheat Cakes. "Well, you see, it is a bust of Pallas." The court wore full mourning for a week.—Chicago Rambler.

Country minister (to country editor) —"Do you ever stop to consider what death is, Mr. Shears? Do you realize that we are here to-day and gone to-morrow; that there is no knowing what a day, what an hour, may bring forth? Do you really know all that death means?" Country editor (with emotion)—"I ought to, Mr. Brosypod. My paper is full of dead advertisements."—N. Y. Times.

They were a North Minneapolis pair, and were sitting close together on the piazza, when he said: "Georgiana, dear, why are you like the moon tonight?" "I don't know, Augustus. Why am I?" "Because there's a circle round you" (lengthening his arm out a joint). "Yes, Augustus; and why are you like the moon?" "Am I like the moon? Why?" "Because you are ful-gent, Augustus."—Minneapolis Mail.

"Mr. Dusenberry, I do not see why you go to the public garden so often." "For the sake of the music, my dear. The orchestra is one of the finest in the country. I sit there and drink in the delicious strains." "A rhapsody fills up ——" "O fudge! The way your breath smells on your return makes me believe that you drink in something a good deal stronger than music. It isn't rhapsody that fills you up; it's beer."—Philadelphia Call.

Bostwick and family, attracted by the advertisement, "No mosquitoes, no malaria," etc., have left the seashore and taken quarters in a farmhouse in the hill country. After a hideous night they appear next morning with visible signs of conflict. Before B. can enter a protest the "patron" puts in, "I was jes sayin' to my wife a lot of muskeeters has followed them folks from the coast; next thing they'll be a-blamin' uv 'em on us."—Harper's Bazar.

Wife (to husband)—A boy at the door just left this note. It's addressed to you and marked "Present." Husband—"Present?" I don't know who could be sending me a present. Did the boy bring anything else? Wife (excitedly)—No. Perhaps the present is in the note. Maybe it's a check. Husband (opening the note)—No such luck as that. (Reading.) H'm. "Please pay boy amount due." This ain't no present. Tell the boy I'm out.—Harper's Bazar.

A lake has just been discovered in the Sierras so surrounded by bold cliffs that it is impossible to reach its shores save by one narrow cleft in the rocks. It has a circumference of at least a mile, and a beautiful flat surrounds it, and is utilized for pasturage. It is probably the mouth of some extinct volcano, and is exceedingly deep.

Letter From Boston.

BOSTON, Dec. 15th, 1885.

The new Hollis street theatre, built and managed by Isaac B. Rich, is nearer the up-town residences than any other first-class place of amusement. It has an attractive interior. The building is changed from the Hollis street church, where Thos. Starr King once preached. The old church on this site during the revolutionary war was the place where Rev. Mather Byles of celebrated renown preached. The jocose pastor lived at the corner of Tremont and Hollis streets. The theatre is well managed, has an extensive "executive staff," and while "the Mikado," the opening opera, is having a run, has an augmented orchestra of twenty-four musicians under John J. Braham's direction. Mr. Braham directed the music at the "Wentworth" at Newcastle, one or two seasons.

People who pass by the Parker house extension, at the corner of School street, are glad to see the store at this corner occupied, and the barricade so long in force, removed. On this spot, when I first came to the hub.—alas! many years ago,—John N. M. Hill, who was what the Portsmouth Journal would designate a "son of Portsmouth," was a clerk in a small apothecary shop of very modest and ancient style. The boys used often to drop in on Sundays and get a bit of slippery elm. Moffit was the son of the late Walter B. Hill, who was more than half a century ago a devout Methodist, and named his son for an eminent preacher of the denomination. The store was nothing like the establishment of John Sullivan, now on the opposite diagonal. Sullivan, by the way, is the son of the late Attorney General John Sullivan of Exeter, and served in the gallant Second New Hampshire as a bone-setter.

If Portsmouth people think the repairs on the Rockingham house have consumed much time in their completion, they should see the slow progress made on some intended changes in the Tremont house. Early last summer a beginning was made to change the front entrance and drop the office floor. As far as appearances go nothing can be said to have been completed save a bow window under the porch. In the same time two or more stories have been added to the Quincy house,—completed, furnished and occupied. The cafe at the Tremont, one of the quiet places in Boston, is presided over by "Jerry," a former attache of the Rockingham house in the days of the Coburns. Here lunch some of the leading lawyers who do not frequent the Union club, State House celebrities, and men who know where to obtain what are oftimes the best served viands in Boston. It is a place noted for the excellence of its gastronomic enjoyments, and the peculiarly respectable clientage which frequents it.

J. W. P. Carter of your city, and Jonathan Morrison, a nephew of the late Jonathan Morrison and for many years a Portsmouth boy, have established a manufacturers' agency for the sale of Faience and library lamps, decorated ware, etc., and have an office and sample room at 243 Franklin street. The style of the firm is "Morrison & Carter."

A Rival to Parson Downs.

There is a rumpus in the Congregational church at Killingworth, Conn., between factions led by the pastor, Rev. Ira C. Billman, and Deacon Julius Buell. The parson came from the west three years ago, and has been the prize preacher of Killingworth, though a Congregational council refused to "settle" him, on the ground that proof had been presented to them that he was unworthy to be pastor of a Christian church. Among the charges brought against him were, that he had called the Lord's Supper a picnic, and that he had obtained a divorce from his first wife by falsely swearing that she was an adulteress, in order to marry a second woman, whom he afterward treated so badly that she was compelled to leave him. But he is a fascinating brother, and such trifling charges as these had no effect on the major portion of his devoted flock, who regard Deacon Buell as a very bad man for opposing the persecuted saint. Recently the parson entered into a marriage engagement with Miss Ida Kelsey, a blooming damsel of his church. The announcement of this engagement set Deacon Buell to thinking of the propriety of a clergyman marrying when he had one divorced and one undivorced wife living, and a deputation of members of the church, headed by Deacon Buell, waited upon the minister, and expressed their disapprobation of his conduct. He defended his position, and said that while it might not be customary for a man with a wife living to contract an engagement with another woman, still "it was only a matter of taste." This did not satisfy the committee, and Deacon Buell has since bitterly opposed the minister, who however has held his ground, denounced the deacon as anti-Christ, and excommunicated him. On Wednesday, the 9th inst., having secured a divorce from his wife No. 2, the religious guide of Killingworth was married to Miss Kelsey.

Robert Toombs of Georgia, one of the rabid secessionists before and during the war, died at Washington, Ga., Dec. 15th. His life was a failure, the cause to which his life was devoted having failed.

The city election in Boston took place on Tuesday, Dec. 15th, and Mayor O'Brien was re-elected by a majority of 8,580—the largest ever given a mayor. The aldermen are evenly divided, six and six; council, forty-one democrats, thirty-one republicans. The democrats elected their candidates for school committee. Vote for license, 19,603; against, 10,284.

The only addition of importance made to the presidential bill as reported to the senate, is a provision for the repeal of the sections of the revised statutes which provide for special elections in the case of vacancies in the office of president and vice president. The effect of the repeal is to continue the successors to the presidency in office until the next general election.

The Indian tribes in Canada Northwest are vowing vengeance for the hanging of the Indian murderers of the Riel rebellion, and it is believed that Gaoriel Dumont is plotting another half-breed rebellion.

Training a Raw Servant.

A family in the pretty suburb of Scottwood have been in trouble with their hired girls. They had a jewel of a German girl, who had come from the East, and introduced many little ideas she had learned there—among others, to use Pearline in the laundry and "dust covers" in the bedrooms. But Louise got married, and the family has had a series of incapables ever since. Driven to desperation, the mistress finally secured a country girl, and determined to train her. She proved of Yankee descent, and was constantly experimenting, to find improved or "bandier" ways of doing her work. She was told of Louise's methods, and declared she was "goin' ter see" what they were worth. In cooking she soon excelled. She took a fancy to Pearline, and, aside from washing and bleaching clothes, did wonders with it. She washed the furniture with it; put it in the water to sprinkle carpets before sweeping; used it to shampoo the dog; dampened a cloth with it to rub the mantels, the book-covers, etc.; always had it in her dishwater; washed blinds and wood-work with it; in short cleaned everything, the house included, with it. With Pearline for an ally, she declares, "the cholera won't stand no show round this 'ere house!"—Toledo Blade.

"The sweetest thing that ever grew besides a human door," was little May, until she took to having headaches—for a time she lost her beauty, but one bright day her papa bought a bottle of Salvation Oil, and lo! she is as sweet and pretty as ever. (Only twenty-five cents a bottle.)

As the time is fast approaching when people will be looking for the beautiful, to make their annual Christmas gifts from, we would respectfully call attention to our stock, selected expressly for the holiday trade.

Our stocks of WATCHES, JEWELRY, CLOCKS, SILVER-PLATED WARE and FANCY GOODS were never as large as it is this year. We take this occasion to thank our friends and the public in general for the confidence and liberal patronage they have bestowed on us for the last six years since leaving the house of HUTCHINSON & CONNELL, and in the future as in the past our motto will be, "Knowledge & Honesty." First, we understand our business in all its branches fully, and cannot take advantage of our customers through ingorance; Second, we sell everything for just what it is.

Our reputation for skilled Watch work is too well established to need any comment upon; there is no better engraving done in the State than we send out.

Please do not look in our window and think you see the bulk of our stock, for we cannot show but a small part of our stock in the window. Our show cases are full, our safe is full. Please come in and let us show you.

We could quote our prices but do not think it wise to do so in a newspaper, but being the largest buyer in our line of any dealer in the State, we can give prices that no one can honestly beat.

The custom is growing in favor of purchasing Xmas gifts early and having them laid away, we already have several Silver and Gold Watches and Chains sold, some of them to be sent out of the state. Please call early and see if we cannot please you in every way. Respectfully,

JAMES R. CONNELL, 7 Congress Street,

Henry L. Richards Camp, No. 12, S. O. V., was inspected on Tuesday evening, the 15th inst., by Colonel Frank E. Libby of Great Falls, commander of New Hampshire Division, S. O. V. During the evening the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

Captain, Arthur L. Hersey;
First Lieut., Chas. Osgood;
Second Lieut., W. T. Entwistle;
Camp Council, Chas. Stevens, George Osgood, Everett L. Marston;
Delegate to Division Encampment, Chas. Stevens;
Alternate, Fred Watkins.

After the inspection the camp adjourned to an eating house where an oyster supper was served.

The camp propose to give their annual ball on the 22d of February, and preparations are to begin at once to make it the event of the season. Their regular course of assemblies will begin next month.

THE EASTERN RAILROAD SUIT.

A bill in equity has been filed in the Massachusetts supreme court by the New England Mutual Life Insurance company vs. Willard P. Phillips, William B. Bacon, William C. Rogers, trustees; Jacob C. Rogers, Charles J. Morrill, E. W. Hooper, George E. B. Jackson and John Cummings. This is a libel to test the validity of the alleged election of the directors of the Eastern railroad company at its annual meeting in Boston on the 9th inst. The trustees, with Richard Olney, were announced as the directors elected at that annual meeting.

The petitioner claims that the vote was not legal, inasmuch as the trustees named cast 1020 votes as holders of certain bonds or certificates of indebtedness which should have been cancelled by them, and that Harvard college voted by proxies signed by the president. The petitioner also claims that George C. Lord, Nathaniel J. Bradlee, Samuel C. Lawrence, Arthur Sewall, Frank Jones and Richard Olney were legally elected directors, and asks that the court decide whether or not the votes were legally cast for the directors declared elected.

The question to be decided are purely legal in their character, and there will be no hearing before a single justice, but the matter will go at once before the full bench of the supreme court. One of the questions to be decided will be whether or not the trustees, upon purchasing the certificates of indebtedness, are obliged to cancel them or can retain and vote upon them.

MARITIME NOTES.

Capt. Symonds has completed his dredging operations at Salem for this season, and his employes resident in this city have arrived home. The scows are hauled up at Salem.

The fishing schooner Agnes E. Downs, Downs master, sailed from this port on the 16th inst. for Eastport, Me., after a cargo of herring.

The Rye fishermen it is said will hereafter box their fish, and send direct to Boston instead of selling in this city.

The schooner Alice Tarlton, from Rockland for Port au Prince, was run into by an unknown schooner off Cape Cod on Nov. 12th. The stranger kept on her voyage, but the Alice Tarlton soon filled. The captain and crew took to the boats, and were afterward picked up by schoo n er Cumberland, and landed at Martinique on Dec. 5th; and from thence were sent home by steamer Muriel, which arrived at New York on the 15th inst. The Alice Tarlton was a two-masted schooner of 243 tons register, built at this port in 1847, and hailed from Boston.

The schooner Leonessa, Hatch master, from New York for this port, was blown off in the gale of the 10th and 11th, and had jibs blown away and foresail split; put into Portland on the 12th, and arrived at this port on the 15th.

WORCESTER, NASHUA & ROCHESTER RAILROAD.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Worcester, Nashua & Rochester railroad was held in Worcester, Mass., Dec. 16th, and nine directors chosen instead of fifteen as formerly, the new board being as follows:

Charles A. Sinclair, Portsmouth; Geo. C. Lord, Newton, Mass.; Frank Jones, Portsmouth; James P. Cook, Salem, Mass.; George W. Armstrong, Brookline, Mass.; Elijah B. Stoddard, Worcester, Mass.; Frank A. McKean, John A. Spaulding and Charles Holman, Nashua. This leaves but one Worcester man on the board, C. S. Turner, the former president, Stephen Salisbury and Judge F. H. Dewey having been dropped because they had sold their stock. Others of the old board dropped are: M. V. B. Edgerly of Manchester, J. Edwin Smith of Worcester, S. T. Fuller of Boston, James W. Johnson of Boston and A. J. Pillsbury of Brentwood. There were 19,686 shares voted on for directors.

A special meeting of the stockholders was held at the same time and place, and a vote taken on the question of ratifying the lease of the road to the Boston & Maine; 21,686 shares were voted on, all for the lease.

"The Mikado," at Music hall on the evening of the 16th inst. by John Stetson's company, was witnessed by a large and highly appreciative audience. There is a good deal of fun in the opera, and a number of taking airs; the two scenes are finely staged, the costumes are rich and elaborate, the acting fine, the chorus powerful and effective, and the orchestra excellent.

Mr. Alfred Webster of Kittery was stricken with paralysis on Sunday, and on Wednesday his condition was reported as very precarious.

The police were called to the railroad station on Wednesday night of this week, to look after some fellows on the Flying Yankee train who had got fighting drunk on the kind of stuff they get drunk on down in Maine. Three of them were taken to the lockup, a fourth one escaping. They had inaugurated a sort of free fight in the car they infested.

Mr. Chester L. Caldwell, who for some time has been an assistant draughtsman in the department of steam engineering at this navy yard, has been ordered to the Boston yard, and took his departure from this city Wednesday morning.

Hon. Chas. C. Dame, who was elected mayor of Newburyport on Tuesday, the 15th inst., by a vote of 1060 to 560, over Mr. A. C. Curtis, is a son of the late Joseph Dame of this city, and a brother of Mrs. A. C. Fonda. Mayor Dame is a lawyer by profession. For many years he was a collector of internal revenue, and was the Grand Master of Masons when President Johnson visited Boston.

Mrs. Newhall is at the Casino, with 300 costumes for the masquerade ball which takes place to-night.

The verdict of the coroner's jury at Biddeford on the death of Herbert Leach was as follows: "We find that Herbert Leach came to his death while carelessly walking on the track of the Eastern division of the Boston & Maine road, Dec. 7th, by being struck in the head and back by some part of the train bound east at or about 12:08 o'clock P. M., and the jury exonerates the railroad company from all blame." George H. Dorman, the engineer, and W. T. Murray, the fireman of the passenger train that is believed to have struck Leach, testified they did not know of any man being struck at the time, and C. C. Coolbroth and E. C. Cole, engineer and fireman respectively of the freight train that found Leach's body, testified as to the condition the body was in when found.

Sick Headache.
GENTS:—I have been subject to Sick Headache for years, and have tried, in vain, many advertised remedies and several physicians, but all to no purpose. At last I tried your B. B. Bitters—without much faith, I admit—but to-day I can truly say, that after taking the third bottle I have not suffered from it. I recommend it to all my friends; several have been cured by it. My little grandson was permanently cured of Biliousness and Sick Headache, which were so severe as to cause convulsions. They have all ceased since he commenced the use of B.B.B.

Harsh purgative remedies are fast giving way to the gentle action and mild effects of Carter's Little Liver Pills. If you try them, they will certainly please you.

An Austro-Hungarian customs conference is about to assemble in Vienna to discuss the question of the revision of the tariffs and the renewal of the treaty of commerce with Roumania. A commission of inquiry has reported in favor of enlarging Trieste harbor at a cost of $3,500,000.

Remember that Allcock's are the only genuine Porous Plasters. They act quickly and with certainty, and can be worn for weeks without causing pain or inconvenience. They are invaluable in cases of spinal weakness, kidney and pulmonary difficulties, malaria, ague cake, liver complaint, dyspepsia, strains, rheumatism, sciatica and nervous debility. Other plasters blister and inflame the skin so that the pores are closed and often cause serious injury. Do not risk health and waste time and money by buying inferior articles made to sell on the reputation of the genuine. When purchasing plasters ask for and see that you get Allcock's Porous Plasters. Each genuine plaster bears the registered trade-mark stamp.

The Malignant Ingenuity of a Fiend

Could scarcely devise tortures more excruciating than those to which the victim of rheumatism, in the inflammatory stage, is subjected. It is also dangerous on account of its tendency toward the heart and stomach. Among the benign qualities of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, is that of expelling from the circulation those acrid impurities to which the disease is attributable. Analysis proves that, in cases of rheumatism, the kidneys fail to eliminate these impurities from the blood. The Bitters, by stimulating these organs to activity, enables them to perform this all-important function, and, therefore, averts the disease or remedies it at the outset. The function of digestion, and secretion of bile by the liver, are also healthfully stimulated by the Bitters, which conquers dyspepsia and liver complaint, and remedies fever and ague, bilious remittent, and other ailments of malarial birth. It is also the leading tonic of the age.

While attempting to ford the Chattanooga river at Tallulah, Ga., Dec. 14th, Ernest Atwood and his bride were washed from a wagon and drowned. They had just been married.

Do not delay, but bear in mind that consumption often begins with a neglected cold or cough. Adamson's Botanic Balsam wins the day in curing coughs and colds. Price 10, 35 and 75 cents.

A Lovely Complexion.

"What a lovely complexion," we often hear persons say. "I wonder what she does for it?" In every case the purity and real loveliness of the complexion depends upon the blood. Those who have sallow, blotchy faces may make their skin smooth and healthy by taking enough of Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" to drive out the humors lurking in the system.

Burglars broke into St. Mary's Catholic church on Washington street, Dedham, Mass., and stole a chalice and other articles of silver used in the communion service. Similar articles were also taken from the parochial hall.

Pure blood is absolutely necessary in order to enjoy perfect health. Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood and strengthens the system.

James Crowley, ten years old, was drowned in Long pond at Concord on the 16th inst., while skating.

Carter's Little Liver Pills will be found an excellent remedy for sick-headache. Thousands of letters from people who have used them prove this fact. Ask your druggist for them.

The famous "Lancaster Starch Co. cases," which arose from the burning of a paper mill and have been in court ten years, have been settled by agreement.

If sick headache is misery, what are Carter's Little Liver Pills if they will positively cure it? People who have used them speak frankly of their worth. They are small and easy to take.

The Manchester locomotive works have received an order from the Boston & Lowell railroad for five new locomotives.

Chronic Catarrh.—I have suffered for years from chronic catarrh. Six weeks ago I was induced to try Ely's Cream Balm. Relief was instantaneous, and continued use has resulted in an almost complete cure.—S. M. Greene, Bookkeeper, Steamboat Co., Catskill, N. Y.

Was afflicted with catarrh and cold in the head. I tried many remedies without any beneficial effects, at last I used Ely's Cream Balm, which effectually cured me.—W. H. H. Hillard, Dentist, Bordentown, N. J.

Charles Foster, the noted spiritualistic medium, died in Salem, Mass., on the 16th inst., aged fifty-two years. He was born in Salem.

Almost Killed.

I was almost killed by the doctors, who treated me for the bleeding piles. It cost me over $100 without relief. I took Sulphur Bitters for two months, and now I am well.—Gus Hall, Troy, N. Y.

In Dubuque, Iowa, Dec. 16th, John B. Muller, proprietor of a marble yard, attempted suicide in a most extraordinary manner, driving two stone-chisels into his head, one of them going entirely through and protruding upon the other side. The other entered the head about an inch and a half. One chisel entered the right side of the head about an inch in front and above the ear and came out in nearly the same place on the left side. The other he drove into his forehead to the depth mentioned. He lived a number of hours.

How many people say: "Your plaster beats everything I ever tried." The Hop Plaster really cures backache, stitch, sciatica, lame side or hip, or pains in any part. The best porous plaster known. 25 cents.

On opening a car of wheat that reached Duluth, Mich., from Fargo, Dakota, a few days ago, the body of Andrew Kopp of Fargo was found, and in a secret pocket of his clothes was $475 in bills. Kopp sold a claim in Fargo for $875 and started for Germany, and it is supposed was induced by tramps to enter the car for a free ride, and was then murdered for his money.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhœa, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. codlanse

THE DECAY OF THE HILL TOWNS.

Those who have traveled through the hill country of New England must often have been struck by the sight of a white church standing almost alone upon a summit of the great ridge. Once it was the meeting place of some flourishing village, but when the railroads came, making their way through the rough forbidding country by following the water courses closely the villagers descended into the valleys, built up towns along the great highways of travel and left the old church to mourn over its lost glories and to struggle along weakly until it too had to succumb to the new order of things. The clergy who built up these pillars of orthodoxy were strong and earnest men, and those who have succeeded them are not less so. Their lives are marked by self-sacrifice and severe work. Their labors are carried on under many difficulties and hardships, and it is not surprising that many suffer from rheumatism and neuralgia. That many of them have found a cure, however, for these diseases may be seen from these letters. Rev. A. S. Cooper, of Williston, Vt., says:

"Twelve hours' use of Athlophoros greatly removed the pain from my system and rendered the muscles so supple that I could get up and down with ease, which I have not done for a long time. I called yesterday on a gentleman who got a bottle from me and who I expected would send for more through me, but I found he had got the start of me and ordered for himself, having been much benefited by it."

Henry L. Hall, editor of Willimantic (Ct.) Journal, who is well and favorably known for miles around, says:

"Three doses of Athlophoros relieved me from a very acute attack of inflammatory rheumatism in nine hours. I consider it an invaluable remedy in rheumatic affections, and esteem it a pleasure to recommend Athlophoros."

Mr. J. B. Webster, who is the carpenter for the Willimantic Linen Co., of Willimantic, Conn., and is well-known and much respected in that neighborhood, says:

"For three months I suffered with inflammatory rheumatism, and failed to receive any relief from any of the numerous remedies for that complaint until I took Athlophoros, which entirely cured me."

Rev. S. Donaldson, of Lyndon, Vt., writes:

"The bottle of Athlophoros helped my wife greatly. She had up to the time of taking it been a great sufferer from neuralgia and rheumatic difficulties, making it almost impossible for her to walk with any ease. These difficulties have been about her more or less for fourteen years. Since taking the medicine she has been comparatively free from pain and is able to walk better than before for several years."

Rev. Charles E. Harris, formerly of New Haven, now of Brooklyn, says:

"Athlophoros acted like a charm, and I have been quite free from any attack of rheumatism from that time until the present. I can, therefore, with all sincerity testify to the valuable quality of Athlophoros as a rheumatic cure."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed, ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS. NEW YORK

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head

HOURS WITH GREAT MEN.

I suppose that I could write an entire library of personal reminiscences relative to the eminent people with whom I have been thrown during a busy life, but I hate to do it, because I always regarded such things as sacred from the vulgar eye, and I felt bound to respect the confidence of a prominent man just as much as I would that of one who was much less before the people.

I remember well my first meeting with General W. T. Sherman. I would not mention it here if it were not for the fact that the people seem to be yearning for personal reminiscences of great men, and that is perfectly right, too.

It was since the war that I met General Sherman, and it was on the line of the Union Pacific railway at one of those justly celebrated eating houses, which I understand are now abandoned. The colored waiter had cut off a strip of the omelette with a pair of shears, the scorched oatmeal had been passed around, the little rubber door-mats fried in butter and called pan-cakes had been dealt around the table, and the cashier at the other end of the hall had just gone through the clothes of a party from Vermont, who claimed a rebate on the ground that the waiter refused to bring him anything but his bill. There was no sound in the dining room but the weak request of the coffee for more air and stimulants, or perhaps the cry of pain when the butter, while practicing with the dumbbells, would hit a child on the head, then all would be still again.

We had never met before, though for years we had been plodding along life's rugged way—he in the war department, I in the postoffice department. Unknown to each other we had been holding up opposite corners of the great national fabric, if you will allow me that expression.

I remember, as well as though it was but yesterday, how the conversation began. General Sherman looked sternly at me and said:

"I wish you would overpower that butter and send it up this way."

"All right," said I, "if you will please pass those molasses."

That was all that was said, but I shall never forget it, and probably he never will. The conversation was brief, but yet how full of food for thought! How true, how earnest, how natural! Nothing stilted or false about it.

I remember once, a great while ago, I was asked by a friend to go with him in the evening to the house of an acquaintance, where they were going to have a kind of musicale, at which there was to be some noted pianist, who had kindly consented to play a few strains. I did not get the name of the professional, but I went, and when the first piece was announced I saw the light was very uncertain, so I kindly volunteered to get a lamp from another room. I held that big lamp, weighing about twenty-nine pounds, for half an hour, while the pianist would tinky tinky upon the right hand, or bang, boomy to bang bang, down on the bass, while he snorted and slugged that old concert grand piano and almost knocked its teeth down its throat, or gently dwalled with the keys like a pale moonbeam simmering through the bleached rafters of a deceased horse, until at last there was a wild jangle, such as the accomplished musician gives to an instrument to show the audience that he has disabled the piano, and will take a slight intermission while it is sent to the junk shop.

With a sigh of relief I carefully put down the twenty-nine pound lamp, and my friend told me that I had been standing there like liberty enlightening the world, and holding that heavy lamp for Blind Tom.

* * * *

I had never seen him before, and I slipped out of the room before he had a chance to see me.—Carl Nye.

Judic's Memory.

Judic looks as sweet and fresh as a peach on the stage; though off she shows her age. She has one supreme physical charm, that of exquisite cleanliness. If she had just stepped from a bath and had been violet powered and polished she could not look more delightfully enticing. I think she has the loveliest expression of any woman I ever saw on or off the stage. A very pretty New Yorker, who traveled on from New York in the same car with her Monday, tells me she is unaffected and agreeable rather than sparkling in conversation. When this young lady was introduced Mme. Judic gazed at her a few moments and then said she had seen her before. The lady replied: "O no; it was the first time." "O, but I have; you were at the theatre on such a night and sat in such a box." It was true enough, and shows that the plump little artiste possessed the rare faculty of remembering any face once seen, even in a crowded theatre. —Albany Journal.

A Hungarian Noble's Home.

H. R. H. can not have been sorry to get to Paris, says the London Truth, as the country seats of Hungarian nobles are not temples of luxurious refinement. Here is the description of one of them by an English sportsman who had been invited for a month's hunting:

"It is an enormous building of whitewashed brick, standing in a moat, and strongly resembling an old-fashioned workhouse or county jail. Occupying three sides of a square, the central court is of loose sandy shingle; nor, for some acres round the house, is a tree higher than a furze-bush to be seen. For protection against the feræ naturæ of the count's vast hunting-ground, the environs of the house are "cleared" in a style which an American pioneer would have applauded.

A walled garden with a single small and ill-built forcing-house constitute the grounds. Beyond all is plain and forest, forest and plain, interspersed with hamlets, inhabited principally by the keepers and trackers of the count. Within all is as barrack-like as without. Ill-painted wainscot and ill-whitewashed walls, ornamented here and there with ill-proportioned bas-relief, whitewashed or rather yellow-washed like the rest, pervade the vast mansion; with the exception of the state-rooms, which are hung with faded damask, and scantily filled with the meager furniture of the last century. An enormous hall, on whose walls trophies of antlers and boars' heads are divided by gun racks and stacks of arms, occupies the central ground floor, and admits the winds of heaven to the vast staircase and roomy corridors above. Except in the state apartments and in the countess' boudoir not a carpet is to be seen, and of forty bedchambers there are only eight in which fireplaces are to be found.

A short distance from St. Paul is a point where the observer can look into five counties. A town has been lately started there, which it is expected will some day rival St. Paul and Minneapolis.

The latest thing in London is a man dressmaker, Col. M., who has sprung into sudden notoriety in that difficult trade. He is an impoverished sprig of nobility, who has for some years served as one of the Equerries to the Queen. He is first cousin of a Duke, and is invited out to dinner everywhere. Making of dresses is his special gift. He designs them all himself, takes the measure, tries them on, and fits them; and the ladies declare that his work is "elegant." To have him make one's dress is now the swell thing in London.

After Diphtheria.

Diphtheria is a terrible disease, requiring the greatest medical skill to effect a complete cure. Even when its power is broken, it clings to the patient with great persistency, and often leaves the system poisoned and prostrated. Just here Hood's Sarsaparilla does a vast amount of good, expelling impurities from the blood, giving it richness and vitality, while it renovates and strengthens the system.

The Springfield, Mass., board of health has decided to post a red card bearing the words "Contagious disease" upon every house where scarlet fever may exist.

Remember that Allcock's are the only genuine Porous Plasters. They act quickly and with certainty, and can be worn for weeks without causing pain or inconvenience. They are invaluable in cases of spinal weakness, kidney and pulmonary difficulties, malaria, ague cake, liver complaint, dyspepsia, strains, rheumatism, sciatica and nervous debility. Other plasters blister and inflame the skin so that the pores are closed and often cause serious injury. Do not risk health and waste time and money by buying inferior articles made to sell on the reputation of the genuine. When purchasing plasters ask for and see that you get Allcock's Porous Plasters. Each genuine plaster bears the registered trade-mark stamp.

THE REBUILT "OMAHA."

The following is the irreverent manner in which Hon. Wm. C. Whitney, secretary of the navy, in his annual report to the president for the year ending June 30th, 1885, refers to the U. S. S. Omaha and her rebuilding at this navy yard:

My experience of the manner in which important decisions are necessarily made by the secretary, without opportunity for proper deliberation and intelligent advice, leads me to say without hesitation that the follies of the department are largely attributable to this. Take the "Omaha" for an example. She has been remoist within the last four years, at an expense of $572,000. It was an act of the greatest folly. She is a repaired wooden vessel, with boilers, machinery, and guns, all of which would at the time have been sold for what they would have brought by any other nation on earth. In the event of a war she can neither fight nor run away from any cruiser built contemporaneously by any other nation. Her rebuilding cost the full price of a modern steel ship of her size and all modern characteristics. Now, if one should seek to ascertain who is responsible for the decision that the "Omaha" should be rebuilt, it would be found that no one so decided, after discussion and an intelligent knowledge of facts. The chief constructor will deny responsibility except for the survey; the engineer-in-chief the same; and the secretary of the navy, if he should be able to recall the circumstances, would doubtless remember that he was advised that she needed general repairs and rebuilding, and gave the orders in ignorance of the probable result of his decision.

The president needs a more careful recording officer. It is said that H. O. Kent's nomination for naval officer has been sent to the senate, as "vice Hall, suspended." But all the same Hall has never been suspended. The senate will probably return the nomination informing Mr. Cleveland that he must be square in these matters, and later on the president will send in the name of Kent "vice Hall, removed." This will be more in accord with the principles of the civil service reform of which the president is so able an exponent.

A Washington despatch of the 17th says that in the senate on the previous day a resolution was passed calling upon the president to furnish all the papers in cases where republicans have been removed from office for offensive partisanship, and furthermore that such papers shall be printed in the Congressional Record. It is thought that this will bring out some lively campaign matters.

Representative Seney, of Ohio, is preparing an act for the repeal of the civil service law, and he is being supported by quite a number of congressmen. They admit that routine matters, where mere clerical labor is performed, should be non-partisan, but insist that other offices, without exception, should be distributed after the Jacksonian plan. What they want is a change in the system of administering the law, so that only such offices as are mentioned shall come within the pale of the law.

A conspiracy of foreign-born socialists in San Francisco to murder prominent citizens by wholesale, with dynamite, has been discovered. The arrested parties say their schemes were wholly directed against the Chinese.

The steamer City of Mexico, lying in New York harbor, was seized by the government on the 17th inst., and a large quantity of arms and ammunition found in the hold. It is alleged that the vessel was bound on a fillibustering expedition to Cuba.

The particulars of a terrible tragedy at Refugio ranch on the lower Rio Grande have been received at Matamoras, Mexico. A few days ago Louis Alvarido, a suitor of Senorita Paula Satinas, secretly murdered his rival, Lasimirio De Ollas, near the ranch, and then upon the girl's refusal to marry him, shot and mortally wounded her, she dying in great agony. Alvarido fled into the interior.

Dickens' Christmas Carol Free.

Boston, Dec., 17.—Dickens' "Christmas Carol" is the acknowledged masterpiece among all his Christmas stories. "Old Scrooge" and "Tiny Tim" are very famous characters. The whole story beautifully illustrated, will be given entire in the next Boston Sunday Globe, in addition to all its other features. Those who have read it will want to read it again, and those who never read it have a rare treat in store. It will sell rapidly. File your order early.

As the time is fast approaching when people will be looking for the beautiful, to make their annual Christmas gifts from, we would respectfully call attention to our stock, selected expressly for the holiday trade.

Our stocks of WATCHES, JEWELRY, CLOCKS, SILVER-PLATED WARE and FANCY NOVELTIES, were never as large as it is this year. We take this occasion to thank our friends and the public in general for the confidence and liberal patronage they have bestowed on us for the last six years since leaving the house of HUTCHINSON & CONNELL, and in the future as in the past our motto will be, "Knowledge & Honesty." First, we understand our business in all its branches fully, and cannot take advantage of our customers through ingorance; Second, we sell everything for just what it is.

Our reputation for skilled Watch work is too well established to need any comment upon; there is no better engraving done in the State than we send out.

Please do not look in our window and think you see the bulk of our stock, for we cannot show but a small part of our stock in the window. Our show-cases are full, our safe is full. Please come in and let us show you.

We could quote our prices but do not think it wise to do so in a newspaper, but being the largest buyer in our line of any dealer in the State, we can give prices that no one can honestly beat.

The custom is growing in favor of purchasing Xmas gifts early and having them laid away, we already have several silver and Gold Watch s and Chains sold, some of them to be sent out of the State.

Please call early and see if we cannot please you in every way. Respectfully,

JAMES R. CONNELL, 7 Congress Street,

Installation 3d Wednesday evening in January.

MASONIC ELECTION.

At the annual meeting of Davenport Council, No. 5, Royal and Select Masters, held Thursday evening, Dec. 16th, the following-named officers were elected for the ensuing year:

T. I. M., Howe Call;
R. I. M., Andrew P. Preston;
P. C. W., Wm. G. Billings;
Treas., Benj. F. Webster;
Rec., Jos. R. Curtis;
C. of C., Charles W. Norton;
C. of G., Thomas R. Norton;
Marshal, Michael Crowley;
Chaplain, John Christie.

STRAFFORD DISTRICT MEDICAL SOCIETY.

The seventh annual meeting of the Strafford District Medical society was held in Dover on the 15th inst., the attendance of members being very large.

Drs. Samuel C. Whittier of Portsmouth, and Albert Fenner and L. G. Hill of Dover acted as council, the regular members being absent. The council reported favorably on the credentials of Drs. C. H. Hirsh and E. W. Hodsdon of Dover, and they were elected. Treasurer Tufts' annual report was read and accepted.

The president of the association, Dr. John W. Parsons of Portsmouth, delivered the annual address; subject, "The treatment of hemorrhoids and sciatica." Dr. J. W. Wheeler of Dover read an article on the "Treatment of uterine fibroids," and Dr. C. A. Fairbanks of Dover read a paper on "Nitrate of amyl."

Officers for the ensuing year were elected, as follows:

President, John W. Parsons of Portsmouth;
Secretary, C. A. Fairbanks of Dover;
Treasurers, C. A. Tufts and J. W. Pray of Dover;
Councillors, S. C. Whittier of Portsmouth, M. C. Lothrop of Dover, C. E. Blaze of Rochester;

A STRONG MAN.

The Portland, Me., correspondent of the Boston Journal sends the following to that paper:

Democrats of this state will soon call a halt if appointments are not to be made upon the recommendation of the members of that party in Maine. The disturbing element appears to be Frank Jones of Portsmouth, who has already dictated the appointment of postmasters at North Anson and Rockland contrary to the recommendations of the democratic sachems of this state. The man selected by Mr. Jones for the North Anson office was entirely unknown to Chairman Brown, and his appointment was the first that Mr. Brown knew that such a man lived in the town of North Anson. It now appears that the appointment of Capt. Hurley to be postmaster at Rockland, one of the most important offices in the state, was made on the recommendation of Mr. Jones, and was as much a surprise to the people of that city as was the North Anson appointment to the people of that town.

BODY FOUND.

The Times reports that on Tuesday forenoon, the 15th inst., Mr. Dennis Shea and two other men from this city found below high-water mark on the beach about half-way between Odiorne's point and Dow's, Rye, the remains of a human body, consisting of the bones of the trunk; the thighs, and the arms to the elbows. There was some flesh and skin adhering to the bones, but nothing to identify the remains, which were buried by Mr. Shea above high-water mark.

MAINE CENTRAL RAILROAD.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Maine Central railroad was held at Portland, Me., Dec. 16th; it was voted that the number of directors for the coming year be thirteen, and the stockholders then proceeded to ballot for directors. The following board was elected: Arthur Sewall of Bath, Me., George C. Lord of Newton, Mass., Darius Alden of Augusta, Me., Frank Jones of Portsmouth, Samuel C. Lawrence of Medford, Mass., Amos Paul of South Newmarket, Nathaniel J. Bradlee of Boston, Wright Avis of Portland, Horatio Jose of Portland, Joseph S. Ricker of Deering, Me., John Ware of Waltonville, Me., Thomas W. Hyde of Bath, and Francis W. Hill of Exeter, Me. The whole number of votes was 28,128.

President Sewall made a report, in which he showed that the gross earnings have increased $23,406 99, and that a reduction had been made in the operating expenses of $19,811.07. The road from Bangor to Mount Desert is expected to be of great advantage to the company. The road has paid a dividend of six per cent on the capital stock. The floating indebtedness is $600,931.54.

Capt. Frank L. Bird, who has been favorably known for many years in this region as a steamboat master, and who last season commanded the steamer Appledore, has associated with himself as mate a fair daughter of Kittery; that is, she will be merely the mate should she ever go afloat with him, though he is too sensible a man and too good a disciplinarian to aspire to be anything more than executive officer in the home circle, concerning the duties and management of which he is probably as hopelessly "at sea" as seamen usually are.

There will be no skating on the north pond this winter, as the rise and fall of the tides will break the ice up as fast as it can make.

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, Thursday evening, Dec. 17th, Mayor Eldredge in the chair:

Present the full board, except Aldermen Coffin and Littlefield.

The records of the last meeting were read and approved.

Petition of John F. Shillaber and other business men on Bow street, for the city to accept and maintain a street light to be erected at cost of the petitioners, was referred to the committee on street lights. Petition of Capt. Daniel C. Rich for acceptance of a light on Market street, on same conditions, was referred to same committee.

Petition of drivers of steam fire engine teams for increase of pay from $25 each to a sum equal to that of other officers of the fire department, upon the recommendation of Ald. Cook and Magraw was granted, to take effect on the 1st of January next.

Bills amounting to $21.07, for work in removing mud from the north pond, were ordered to be paid.

The removal of the gates of the pond was discussed, and it was stated that the Brewster street reservoir is now useless for several hours each tide; also that the water runs out too low, on the Christian Shore side of the pond, to be depended on in case of fire. Referred to a special committee, Messrs. Magraw, Cook, Hatch and Locke, to report.

Adjourned to 7:30 o'clock P. M., Dec. 31st.

Poultry thieves are abovt. On Wednesday night of this week twelve hens were stolen from a poor widow living on Cabot street, and it is reported that other henroops at the west end of the city were feloniously entered. The heads of the fowls were found near by their coops, having been cut off by the thieves. Forty fowls were stolen one night the first of the week, from a place on Jones avenue; the thieves made two trips, and were seen by the woman of the house, but her husband being in Newcastle that night, and she alone on the place, she was afraid to say anything to them. A charge of small shot—not too small—administered to some of these sneaks, would be a good thing.

Messrs. Herman and Alma Clark have commenced the buying of fish at the old Railway wharf. Mr. William Hunnefieldt, who is an expert at the preparing of tongues and sounds, and is also familiar with the fitting of boxes for packing, is engaged with them; and Mr. Albert Clark is their writer. They are quite young men, and it is to be hoped they may be encouraged.

Ex-Gov. Hale seems to have come pretty near having a vessel named for him, the shape of the last letter in the name of the schooner Governor Hall, of Philadelphia, now lying at Concord railroad wharf, being all that makes the difference in the name.

CONSUMPTION.

I have a positive remedy for the above disease; by its use thousands of cases of the worst kind and of long standing have been cured. Indeed, so strong is my faith in its efficacy, that I will send TWO BOTTLES FREE, together with a VALUABLE TREATISE on this disease to any sufferer. Give express and P. O. addr ess. DR. T. A. SLOCUM, 181 Pearl St., New York.

DEAFNESS

its CAUSES and CURE, by one who was deaf twenty-eight years. Treated by most of the noted specialists of the day with no benefit. Cured himself in three months, and since then hundreds of others by same process. A plain, simple and successful home treatment. Address T. S. PAGE, 128 East 26th st., New York City.

I CURE FITS!

When I say cure I do not mean merely to stop them for a time and then have them return again, I mean a radical cure. I have made the disease of FITS, EPILEPSY or FALLING SICKNESS a life long study. I warrant my remedy to cure the worst cases. Because others have failed is no reason for a hope previ ting a cure. Send at once for a treatise and a Free Bottle of my infallible remedy. Give Express and Post Office. It costs you nothing for a trial, and I will cure you. Adr. H. G. ROOT, 183 Pearl St. N. Y.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

At New York on the 16th inst. judgment for $79,000 was entered against William Heath & Co. by Addison Cammack.

The Union Pacific railway company now operates 4,499 miles of road, and either controls or has proprietary interests in 4,305 miles more, total 5,804. In operating the system, which penetrates five states and territories, over 20,000 men are employed.

The Poor Little Ones.

We often see children with red eruptions on face and hands, rough scaly skin, and often sores on the head. These things indicate a depraved condition of the blood. In the growing period, children have need of pure blood by which to build up strong and healthy bodies If Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" is given, the blood is purged of its bad elements, and the child's development will be healthy, and as it should be. Scrofulous affections, rickets, fever sores, hip-joint disease or other grave maladies and suffering are sure to result from neglect and lack of proper attention to such cases.

A committee of Harvard undergraduates has prepared an address to the governing board of the university, praying that compulsory attendance upon prayers be abolished. The address will be sent to every student in the college for his signature, and will then be presented to the proper authorities.

The combination, proportion and proposes in preparing Hood's Sarsaparilla, are peculiar to this medicine, and unknowe to others.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhœa, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. codlaw3w

NEW ENGLAND'S SENTIMENTS.

A large part of the great influence which New England has wielded in the councils of the nation and through its progressive institutions has been because of the general unanimity of the six States on most important questions, enabling them to act as a unit. This is not now perhaps so true of political affairs as it once was, but in most matters there is a substantial agreement of opinion. Just at present this is shown in the universal commendation of Athlophoros, praises of which come from all quarters of every State. A few of them follow:

"I have been a great sufferer from rheumatism for the last three years," says E. Parkhurst, of Woonsocket, R. I., "having been unable to do any active labor during that time, and for a large portion of the time being confined to my bed. I had taken hundreds of dollars worth of medicine, with no relief, until I was induced to try a bottle of Athlophoros. The first three doses resulted in my having the best night's sleep that I had enjoyed for three years, and by the time the first bottle was taken I realized that I was on the road to complete recovery. I have since taken six bottles and am now able to attend to my business and consider myself a well man."

Mrs. C. N. Paige, of Boltonville, Vt., says:

"I first saw Athlophoros advertised in a paper, and as it was only recommended for rheumatism and neuralgia I had great faith to believe it could do me some good. My husband, therefore, sent for a bottle. I had been a great sufferer from neuralgia for years, and had spells when no one who saw me thought I could live. Many times I have wished death would end my agony. The pain would commence in the pit of my stomach and go from there right through my heart. I had employed doctors who were thought very skillful, but I got no benefit from them. I had these spells every two or three weeks for over two years before taking Athlophoros. That was one year ago last April and I have had only two of them since, the last one during the winter. I took then part of another bottle and have had none since. Words can never express the relief I feel at being rid of such agony as I suffered when I had those spells."

Mrs. Harriet Strong, of Westville, Ct., tells this straight-forward story:

"I had the rheumatism, which settled in my knees and hips. The joints were so stiff and the pain so great that I could not walk, but was obliged to move around in a chair. Several doctors did all they could for me, but I was no better. While in this condition, sitting in my chair by the window reading a paper, I saw an advertisement of Athlophoros. I thought I would try it and sent for a bottle. When they brought it to me I told them I considered it a dollar thrown away, as I had not a particle of faith, but I commenced taking it and after the third dose I thought I felt a change for the better. I continued to use it as directed until I have taken four bottles. Strange as it may seem, I am perfectly cured and am about this house all day, doing all the housework, with not a bit of rheumatism about me. I can never return thanks enough to the parties that make Athlophoros for the benefit I have derived from its use. I recommend it to everybody."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. ATHLOPHOROS Co., 112 Wall Street, New York.

"A Deed Without a Name."

"Thou art the man!" the speaker said, as he placed his hand on the accused's shoulder.

The person spoken to started, flushed, paled and stared with a look of amazement that deepened into an expression of fixed horror.

The speaker was a man of about twenty five years of age, of medium height, slender and elegant form, fair complexion, yellow hair and mustache, and blue eyes.

His name was William Hanson. He was a gentleman of fortune and of "elegant leisure," "taking his ease at his inn," which in this instance was a well-known Southern summer resort.

The one whom he addressed was a youth scarcely twenty-one years of age, of middle height and well proportioned frame, but very thin, even to emaciation. His features were handsome, picturesque and striking. He wore a suit of rusty black cloth, well brushed and scrupulously clean and neat.

He was a student at a Southern University, and—now in his vacation time, being poor — he was clerk at the Crest Hou e at the Isle of Storms, off the coast of Maryland.

The memorable interview we have referred to took place in the office of the hotel, in the "still, small" hours between midnight and dawn.

The two men were alone in the apartment.

Young Harcourt would have been abed and asleep, but that something emaciating from his aspect like a mist, overshadowing his presence like a cloud, "murdered sleep," and so he sat in the office trying to drown memory in absorbing work on his account books.

William Hanson might have been in his room and in dreams but that a great desire kept him up, a great hope sent him to seek this private interview with the clerk of the Crest House.

And so, when the house was supposed to be buried in sleep, he stole to the office and startled the solitary worker with the words quoted.

The clerk kept his dark, troubled eyes fixed upon the face of the speaker, with a stare of stupefied horror that soon grew into a glare of terror and despair.

"Yes, I repeat, Harcourt, 'Thou art the man!'" reiterated the accuser, letting his hand fall with some force on the shoulder of the accused.

The youth shrank under the touch as his breath came and went in deep inspirations, his flexible nostrils expanded and contracted, and his sensitive lips quivered under his dark mustache. But his great, gloomy eyes never moved from their fixed glare, nor did his cheeks change from their ashen, death-like pallor.

"Now, then! Why don't you speak? What have you to say?" demanded Hanson, the accuser, fixing his light blue eyes significantly on the blanched face of his companion.

"Oh, yes, you do! I see that you understand perfectly that I am talking about the suppressed act in this week's drama, the act done in Number 25, at two o'clock last Thursday," said Hanson, pointing his words with a penetrating look under which Harcourt shrank into himself.

"It was—" began the wretched youth, impulsively, and then, suddenly conscious that he had half betrayed himself, he stopped short, threw his hands to his face and covered his eyes, for he was unable to bear the inclusive gaze of his accuser.

"'It was'—well, what? What were you about to say that it was?" demanded Hanson.

There was no reply, only the stricken youth seemed to collapse, to shrink more and more into himself.

"'It was'—What was it now? Can't you tell me?"

Still there came no answer from the wretched young man.

"No? You can't tell me? Then I will tell you, William Harcourt! 'It was'—a murder," whispered Hanson into the ear of the other.

"No! no! no! As the Lord hears me, it was not!" burst in passionate denial from the lips of the youth, who never moved from his shrunken posture, or uncovered his hidden eyes.

"It was a midnight murder!" emphatically repeated Hanson.

The young man shuddered as he broke forth in a sort of half suppressed fierceness of denial.

"It was not! Heaven truly knows that it was not! It was an accident!"

"It was an assassination," sternly asserted the accuser, gazing on the accused, who sat cold, stony, frozen, only repeating, with desperate effort:

"As I live and breathe, it was an accident—a pure and perfect accident."

"It was a midnight assassination, and you, William Harcourt, the midnight assassin!" repeated the accuser, with determined persistence.

A groan of irrepressible agony burst from the bosom of the despairing youth. His form shook as with an ague.

"May the Lord strike me dead this instant if I am a murderer!" he groaned, wringing his hands.

"It was entirely accidental," moaned Harcourt.

"Accidental!" sneered the accuser. "Well, it was accidental that I became a hiding witness to the crime."

"You!" exclaimed Harcourt, dropping his hands from before his eyes and staring at the speaker.

"Yes, I, I, William Hanson, saw all that happened in Room Number 25, on last Thursday night, between two and three o'clock."

The wretched clerk sat with his head bowed upon his bosom, his arms fallen each side of his chair, and his body sunk back in the collapse of final despair.

"Shall I tell you how I became an eye witness of your crime?"

Harcourt moaned, but failed to speak.

"I will tell you, that you may know for a certainty, I have the power of life and death over you," continued the accuser, watching the accused to mark the effect of his words. He saw abject misery and despair; nothing more or less. He continued:

"I occupy, as you know, room Number 23, which is next to the corner room, Number 25. These rooms look out upon the south balcony. I am rather a restless sleeper, easily disturbed by light and sound, and needing darkness and silence to insure repose. That Thursday night, after the card playing, I went to my room at about eleven o'clock. The house was very quiet; but there was a full moon, and too much light came into my room. I must give you these details so that you may understand the accident by which I became the unseen and unsuspected witness of a crime."

The speaker paused and looked keenly at his wretched companion, but saw no change in the utter despair of his attitude and expression.

"After preparing for bed," continued Hanson, "as it was too much light for me, I closed my window shutters and drew down my shade, and made it nearly totally dark. But then—and "hereby hangs a tale," or rather a rope with a noose at the end of it."

He paused, and glanced furtively at his victim, who cowered as if he had received a lash.

"But then," resumed Hanson, "though my own room was dark, I was annoyed by a line of light from room Number 25. The light—which was a bright beam of the moon piercing through a small knot hole about half way up the wooden partition between the two rooms—shone across my room and flashed in the face of the looking-glass on my dressing-table, and dazzled my eyes every time I turned to the front of my bed. It was a trifle, but it kept me awake to become the witness of a crime—providentially, perhaps. What do you think?" demanded the narrator, suddenly pausing to put the question.

Harcourt never replied by word or look, and his accuser continued his story.

"I heard my neighbor come up into his room, lock his door, and move about, preparing to get into bed. I hoped that he would close his windows. He had two windows to that corner room: one south window, opening on the balcony in a line with mine, and one east window, opening on a roof. I knew that troublesome moonbeam came through the open east window, the moon being in the east. Pray, excuse these details; they are really necessary to the understanding of the case," said Hanson, interrupting himself to cast a glance at his wretched companion.

But Harcourt might have been dead for any sign he gave.

"I heard Yelverton go to bed, and—without closing any of his windows. After a while I heard him snoring, while I still lay awake tormented by the moonbeam as well as by the snores. Are you listening, or are you in a trance?" inquired the speaker, suddenly stopping and turning to the silent and frightened clerk.

"I am listening," replied Harcourt, in a hollow voice that seemed to come from subterranean depths rather than from the motionless man in the chair.

"Very well, then, I will go on. I lay awake, harassed by the snores and the moonbeam until I heard some distant clock strike two. A few minutes later the sound of the snoring began to subside and finally ceased. Then I thought if I could stop up that knot hole through which the moon shone I might go to sleep. I put out my hand and picked up one of my socks from the floor and thought I would poke the toe of it into that troublesome hole. I stood up on my bed until my face was opposite the hole. I looked into the moonlit room and saw—but you were there! You know what I saw!"

"Oh, Lord in heaven! Why was I ever born?" wailed Horcourt, startled out of his stillness and wringing his hands above his head.

"You were there. Oh, how stealthily you must have entered! I never heard you, but I saw you in the brilliant moonlit room. You did not see me with my eye at the knot-hole, for my room was dark; but I saw you and saw all that happened.

"You stood by his bedside. You took his trousers; you searched the pockets and drew from them a packet and placed it in your bosom. At that moment Yelverton awoke, discovered you, seized a pistol from under his pillow and leveled it at your head. You sprang upon him and threw up his arm before he could pull the trigger. There was a momentary struggle for the possession of the pistol, then an explosion. Yelverton fell back, shot dead."

"Oh, that it had been myself!" wailed the youth.

"Indeed!" sneered Hanson, "I shouldn't have thought that to have been your sentiment at the time, for I think I never saw an instance of the instinct of self-preservation so instantaneous in asserting itself, or so promptly obeyed. One moment you gazed upon your victim, then darted to the door, locked it on the inside, leaving the key in it, snatched up another key from the floor, hurried to the open window on the roof and closed it fast, darted to the open window on the balcony, passed through it and closed the shutters, which fastened by a spring on the inside, and could not be opened from the outside. Thus you made good your escape, leaving the room locked and bolted from within, even while the roused house was hurrying along the hall towards the spot from which the report of the pistol had been heard. They tried the door, and finding it locked on the inside, burst it open. They found the man dead in his bed. They found the windows fastened on the inside. No one could have entered the room, they said. Yel-

Remember that Allcocks's are the only genuine Porous Plasters. They act quickly and with certainty, and can be worn for weeks without causing pain or inconvenience. They are invaluable in cases of spinal weakness, kidney and pulmonary difficulties, malaria, ague cake, liver complaint, dyspepsia, strains, rheumatism, sciatica and nervous debility. Other plasters blister and inflame the skin so that the pores are closed and often cause serious injury. Do not risk health and waste time and money by buying inferior articles made to sell on the reputation of the genuine. When purchasing plasters ask for and see that you get Allcock's Porous Plasters. Each genuine plaster bears the registered trade-mark stamp.

An elephant, monkeys, a sea lion, etc., were quietly turned over to him, and he has since been in a quandary. He cannot handle or do anything with the animals, and the circus men simply stand off and enjoy his discomfiture.

Quick Transit in Boston.

Ex-Senator Wadleigh and others, Ex-Mayor Prince among them, ask to be incorporated as the Boston Elevated Railroad company. Their object is to build and operate elevated railroads on which trains shall be run by electricity. One proposed line is from Scollay square, Boston, to Harvard square, Cambridge; others from the same or another central point to West Roxbury park and to Brookline town hall, and from the foot of Summer street, Boston, to Milton town hall. Besides these a circuit railroad is proposed, to extend from the Boston & Lowell railroad along the shore front to the New York & New England railroad; thence by the Old Colony, Albany and Providence railroad stations to the Lowell, completing the circuit. The projectors claim to have certain advantages over any previously devised plan, in the particulars especially of operating by electricity and not by steam, and in the model or design of their road and its running gear. Their model is that known as Riley's patent, and of this patent they are owners or lessees for this part of the country.

The want of proper facilities for a quick transit between the stations on Causeway street and the Albany, the Old Colony and the New York & New England railways, has long been felt, and any result which will enable passengers east of Boston to pass between the stations at the hub in less time than is at present required, of course will be hailed with much satisfaction.

Secretary Whitney Criticised.

The Boston Traveller remarks that a writer who signs himself "A Civilian," and who, from his terse, vigorous style, as well as from the intimate knowledge he displays concerning the matter in hand, it has been surmised is Ex-Secretary of the Navy William E. Chandler, furnishes in the current number of the United Service an article on the bureau of navigation, which is very entertaining reading. He shows very clearly that the framers of our government wisely provided for a civilian head of both army and navy in the person of the president, who was made commander-in-chief of each, and who has for nearly the entire period of our history exercised such command through his representatives, the secretaries of war and the navy, who have also been civilians.

The people have thus themselves constantly maintained domination over both these departments of the public service. The people have insisted on the supremacy of the departmental powers, and all attempts on the part of military chieftains and naval officers to supersede, by extension of their powers of command, the secretaries of the two great departments, have failed.

Secretary Whitney, however, is a very busy, not to say overworked, man. He is one of the leading politicians of the administration, and so is keeping an eye on a chance to make what political capital he can. It is understood that he has not given over his as yet fruitless task of searching the books of the navy department for evidence of fraud under preceding administrations; he has to maintain an oversight over the construction of the unfinished cruisers; he has social duties to perform, and to meet these drafts upon his time and energies he has, as "A Civilian" shows, virtually abdicated the command of the navy itself in favor of a junior commodore in the navy, the chief of the bureau of navigation.

The abuse of power on the part of the chief of this bureau had to some extent been suffered previous to President Arthur's administration, but it was promptly corrected by Secretary Chandler. Secretary Whitney has gone further than any of his predecessors. Commodore Walker, as the head of the bureau of navigation, is given the assignment to duty of nearly the entire navy, the result of which is a disgraceful favoritism, the breaking down of discipline, and the unconstitutional self reduction of the secretary of the navy to a mere figure-head. The whole matter is one which will bear investigation.

The "State of Dakota."

The first legislature of the state of Dakota assembled at Huron, Dakota, on the 14th inst. The house was organized by the election of Mr. Turner as speaker, and the senate organized with Lieut. Gov. Frank as president, and J. H. Drake as secretary. A joint session was held at which Judge Campbell administered the oath of office to the members. Committees were appointed to draft rules. Later in the week two United States senators were elected. What puzzles the legislators in Washington is to find out just when and how Dakota became a state.

A Washington special says: "There are indications of a protracted debate in the senate on the resolution of Mr. Butler about South Dakota. The discussion has assumed a partisan character. The southern men interpose more objections to bringing a state into the Union, than they did to taking a state out of it."

The Wisconsin Central railroad has made a desirable innovation upon a bad custom by paying the porters of its new sleeping-car lines $50 a month, and forbidding them, on pain of discharge, from receiving tips. The Pullman company pays its porters $10 a month.

The College of the Propaganda at Rome announces that up to Nov. 1st, in the vicarate of Cochin China, nine missionaries, seven native priests, sixty catechists, 270 members of religious orders, and 24,000 Christians were massacred; 200 parishes, seventeen orphan asylums and ten convents, were destroyed; and 225 churches were burned.

The French election of president will take place Dec. 28th.

George B. Chase, a gambler who shot his wife dead in Providence, R. I., three weeks ago, has been sentenced to state prison for life.

A Philadelphia despatch reports a big boom in the iron trade, business improving at all points, and new furnaces constantly going into blast.

Ex-Gov. Bell has written a memoir of Dr. John Taylor Gilman, for many years a celebrated physician of Portland, and the founder of the Maine General Hospital. He was the son of Nathaniel Gilman, and born in the Gilman mansion in Exeter in 1806. The memoir is written with that discriminating taste in which the governor abounds, and is printed only for private circulation. The mechanical execution is highly creditable to the News Letter press. An excellent steel plate likeness of the good doctor is prefixed to the memoir.

One Dollar. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine of which this can be truly said; and it is an unanswerable argument as to the strength and positive economy of this great medicine. Hood's Sarsaparilla is made of roots, herbs, barks, etc., long and favorably known for their power in purifying the blood; and in combination, proportion, and process, Hood's Sarsaparilla is peculiar to itself.

"For economy and comfort we use Hood's Sarsaparilla." MRS. C. BREWSTER, Buffalo.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla takes less time and quantity to show its effect than any other preparation I ever heard of. I would not be without it in the house." MRS. C. A. M. HUBBARD, North Chili, N. Y. 100 Doses

One Dollar

Hood's Sarsaparilla cures scrofula, salt rheum, all humors, boils, pimples, general debility, dyspepsia, biliousness, sick headache, catarrh, rheumatism, kidney and liver complaints, and all affections caused by impure blood or low condition of the system. Try it.

"I was severely afflicted with scrofula, and for over a year had two running sores on my neck. I took five bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and consider myself entirely cured." C. E. LOVEJOY, Lowell, Mass.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla did me an immense amount of good. My whole system has been built up and strengthened, my digestion improved, and my head relieved of the bad feeling. I consider it the best medicine I have ever used, and should not know how to do without it." MARY L. PEBLE, Salem, Mass.

As the time is fast approaching when people will be looking for the beautiful, to make their annual Christmas gifts from, we would respectfully call attention to our stock, selected expressly for the holiday trade.

Our stocks of WATCHES, JEWELRY, CLOCKS, SILVER-PLATED WARE and FANCY NOVELTIES, were never as large as this year. We take this occasion to thank our friends and the public in general for the confidence and liberal patronage they have bestowed on us for the last six years, since leaving the house of HUTCHINSON & CONNELL, and in the future as in the past our motto will be, "Knowledge & Honesty!" First, we understand our business in all its branches fully, and cannot take advantage of our customers through ingorance; Second, we sell everything for just what it is.

Our reputation for skilled Watch work is too well established to need any comment upon; there is no better engraving done in the State than we send out.

Please do not look in our window and think you see the bulk of our stock, for we cannot show but a small part of our stock in the window. Our show-cases are full, our safe is full. Please come in and let us show you.

We could quote our prices but do not think it wise to do so in a newspaper, but being the largest buyer in our line of any dealer in the State, we can give prices that no one can honestly beat.

The custom is growing in favor of purchasing Xmas gifts early and having them laid away, we already have several Silver and Gold Watch and Chains sold, some of them to be sent out of the State. Please call early and see if we cannot please you in every way. Respectfully,

JAMES R. CONNELL, 7 Congress Street,

SOCIETY ELECTION.

At a meeting of the Order of the Iron Hall on Friday evening, Dec. 18th, the following-named officers were elected for the ensuing year:

Judson F. Trafton, chief justice;
Langdon M. Perkins, vice justice;
John H. Wells, accountant and cashier;
Daniel J. Hurley, adjuster;
Charles F. Langley, herald;
—— Rice, watchman;
Edward M. Bryant, prelate;
David Urch, Cyrus H. Hobbs, Solomon Littlefield, trustees;
Andrew B. Sherburne, medical examiner.

At a meeting of the Grand Council, Improved Order of Red Men, held in Dover on the 17th, the following officers were elected: E. P. Johnston of Manchester, great sachem; J. E. Dixon of Woburn, Mass., formerly of this city, great senior sagamore; J. C. Lamos of this city, great junior sagamore; F. M. Rose of Biddeford, G. K. of R.; J. Beaumont of Biddeford, G. K. of W.; W. E. Littlefield of this city, great prophet.

MARITIME NOTES.

The schooner Alice Tarlton, previously reported sunk by collision off Cape Cod, was built at Kittery by the late Samuel Badger, who at that time (1847) was one of the prominent ship-builders of New England. She was at first rigged as a barque, and carried that rig for a number of years, when she was changed to a brig; and she remained a brig until five or six years since, when she was altered to a schooner.

The hull of the wrecked schooner Maggie Quinn, bought at auction by Mr. Howell C. Russell, is to be built into the extension of the wharf in the rear of his store.

The schooner Loella, Amee master, was lying neaped in the dock at Smuttynose island, Shoals, on the 18th inst., having on board Lemuel B. Caswell's fish to be taken to Boston.

The schooner Z. S. Wallingford has hauled up for the winter at Randall & Caswell's wharf. The Active will lie up at Jones' wharf.

The Pacific Mail steamship Acapulco, commanded by Capt. William G. Shackford, was obliged to put to sea from the harbor at Aspinwall on the 2d inst., and was not able to return until the 4th. In the afternoon of the 4th she was again compelled to put to sea, and had to lie at anchor until the 8th, when she returned and loaded for New York and left the same day. The Acapulco arrived at New York on the 17th inst.

In considering what kind of a gift to select for Christmas, do not forget the Common Sense Jacket, sold by George B. French, Ayers & Locke, and E. S. Fay. A lady presented with one of these rightly-named garments will be likely to think of the donor quite frequently during the winter.

Capt. Hurley, who was recently appointed postmaster at Rockland, Me., says Hon. Hon. Frank Jones of this city was not instrumental in securing his appointment. The only connection that Mr. Jones had with the matter was that Capt. Hurley, with Mr. Jones' consent, used his name as a reference with regard to his personal character.

News was received in this city on the 18th inst. of the death at Burton, Kansas, of Adams Perry, formerly of this city, and oldest son of the late Dr. Adams Perry. The deceased will be remembered as prominent in church and temperance matters in this city for many years prior to his moving to Kansas, about a dozen years ago, and was we believe a member of the Masonic and kindred organizations in this city.

The windows of Preston's store attract a good deal of attention, by reason of the fine show daily made of rich and beautiful fancy articles, suitable for holiday gifts. The display of tempting goods is changed daily.

The relative percentage of the four young men who headed the list of those examined as candidates for the cadet appointment in the gift of Congressman Haynes this month was: Rand 74, Eaton (a Seabrook school teacher) 72, Locke 71 3-10, Mason (a pupil in the Portsmouth high school) 70 13-20. These four were all from this section, and three of them from this city.

It is said that the squirrels have not yet hibernated, which is alleged to be "a sure sign" of an open winter.

A game of polo between the Exeter and Portsmouth polo clubs, for the benefit of the Portsmouth club, will be played next Tuesday evening at the Casino. This game will decide the playing between these clubs, as they now stand even.

The masquerade ball at the Casino on Thursday evening was a very pleasant occasion, though not a financial success for the management, the attendance not being nearly so large as was anticipated. Those who did attend were treated to a fine band concert, and had a good dance.

Mr. Albert L. Stringer, formerly of this city, and for several years bookkeeper for Hon. John Laighton, is now teller of the Kansas City Safe Deposit & Savings bank. Mr. Stringer is much pleased with Kansas City.

The fancy goods store of Frank H. Cousens, on Main street, Biddeford, was broken into on the night of Dec. 15th, and goods to the value of $75 taken. The safe was tampered with and damaged, but resisted the efforts of the thief or thieves to open it.

NAVY YARD ITEMS.

Fourteen riggers were discharged from the department of equipment at the navy yard on Thursday evening last, leaving but five men in the gang, only one of them being from this city. This discharge included several men who had been employed at the yard for twenty or twenty-five years. Four blacksmiths, six boat-builders and thirteen laborers were discharged from the department of construction the same evening; there are now but five men left in the boat shop.

The boats, furniture and other articles manufactured at this navy yard for the new steel cruisers have been sent away by rail.

Rev. Joseph P. She fe, Jr., has accepted the call of the Unitarian society at Dover.

On a recent evening Mr. Eugene Knights, who lives on the road from Kennebunkport to Biddeford, carried home his loaded gun and placed it in the entry. Soon after, as the family were seated around the fire, the gun fell to the floor, striking upon the hammer and discharging its contents into the room. The charge took effect in the leg of the youngest child, sixteen shot passing through. The child is in a fair way to recover.

A "did not know it was loaded" accident occurred in New Haven, Conn., recently, at Mr. W. T. Drake's. Miss Morrison, a school teacher, and a daughter of Mr. Drake, were at the table eating, while a young son of Mr. Drake was fooling with a gun, which, in the usually unsuspected manner, was discharged, a portion of the contents lodging in and under the teacher's chignon, causing a scalp wound from which the blood flowed freely. The faces of both ladies were grazed with shot, but no permanent injury is anticipated.

A colored sailor named A. Saunders, captain of the hold on the United States steamer Swatara, fell dead in the streets of Portsmouth, Va., on the night of Dec. 16th. He was the first colored man ever enlisted in the United States navy, and entered the service over forty years ago.

J. A. Cunningham, a noted democratic politician of Philadelphia, was arrested Dec. 16th for trying to kill an organ grinder.

Heart Pains.

"Rough On Corns."

Two French children named Bogden, aged one and three years, were burned to death in Auburn, Mass., Dec. 17th, by the explosion of a kerosene lamp while they were alone in their home.

"Buchu-Paiba."

John Hart, an Irishman, who worked for Mrs. John Firth in Roslyn, L. I., on the 16th inst. bound and gagged the old lady, and then ransacked the house for money. He was captured soon after with $131 in his possession, and it was with difficulty that the people were prevented from lynching him.

If you once try Carter's Little Liver Pills for sick headache, billiousness or constipation you will never be without them. They are purely vegetable: Small and easy to take, all druggists sell them.

Abe Buzzard, the notorious robber and outlaw, has been placed in the penitentiary at Philadelphia to serve a twelve years' sentence.

Harsh purgative remedies are fast giving way to the gentle action and mild effects of Carter's Little Liver Pills. If you try them, they will certainly please you.

A boy named Charles Pantier, fifteen years old, fatally shot himself at Buffalo, N. Y., Dec. 16th. He had previously attempted to shoot his school teacher.

James Pyle's Pearline for all uses in kitchen as well as the laundry, in place of soap, is fast growing in favor. Be sure and take none of the dangerous imitations having the same outward appearance, or with similar sounding names. Nothing answers like Pearline.

"False as a bulletin" was current in Napoleon's time. "False as a weather prediction" is likely to immortalize the memory of Gen. Hazen.

Bad drainage causes much sickness. Bad blood and improper action of the liver and kidneys is bad drainage to the human system, which Burdock Blood Bitters will remedy.

About $80,000 worth of stock in the Sampson mine in Colorado, that is reported to have just shut down as a financial failure, was owned in Wallingford, Meriden, New Haven and Yalesville, Conn. Many people in Wallingford had pretty much all their property invested in the concern.

verton had shot himself, was their verdict. He had attempted suicide once before, it was said. Everyone was shocked, but no one was much surprised. A man who led such a life as Yelverton might have ended it by his own hand at any time these ten years past. Such was public opinion. Only one man knew the facts of the case. That man was myself. But I gave no sign."

"Why did you not?" breathed Harcourt, in a hollow tone.

"Because the secret was too valuable to be thrown away."

"But as you saw all that occurred, you must have seen that it was an accident!" pleaded Harcourt.

"An accident?—was it accident that you stole to Yelverton's room in the dead of night, or what was more sacred than my own—another man's money that had been intrusted to my keeping as clerk of the hotel—" moaned Harcourt.

"And that you staked at the table and lost to Yelverton—"

"A blackleg—a sharper, who won by cheating" broke in the youth, in a tone of desperation, trying to justify himself for endeavoring to get the money back.

"Don't malign the dead," sternly commanded Hanson.

"I do not wish to, but I told the plain truth."

"What business had you to be in the company of a blackleg and a sharper, and of all things, what right had you to stake another man's money?"

"None! none! Oh, God! 'Easy is the descent to hell,'" groaned the miserable, criminal, tearing his hair.

"Yes," assented Hanson, coldly; "and in your case it was not only a descent; it was a plunge, a tumble, a dive. You were half way down before you realized that you had started. But come! you need not go headlong to the bottomless pit, unless you choose. I am willing to admit that, from your point of view, the death of Yelverton may have seemed an accident; but under the circumstances of your presence in the room, no jury in the world would call it an accident. The law would call it a murder."

"I was trying to wrest the pistol away, to prevent him from shooting me, when it went off and killed him."

"And he was trying to prevent your escape with his property, when the pistol went off, shot and killed him. The law would call it murder, my boy. But come! Do not despair. You acted, one might almost say in self-defence—though in self-defence while committing a robbery. You did not mean to become a criminal. You did not voluntarily descend into the dark abyss. You made one misstep and fell headlong."

"But the verdict of the coroner's jury was that 'Nathan Yelverton came to his death by a bullet shot into his brain from a pistol held in his hand.' This verdict was literally true. The pistol was in his hand when the shot was fired," said Harcourt, speaking with difficulty,

"Yes, the pistol was in his hand, but he did not fire it. The pistol was in your hand, also, for you had hold of it trying to wrest it from him. And between you, the weapon was discharged and Yelverton killed."

"It was an—"

"Now, don't say that again; it is stupid and monotonous. Pull yourself together, man, and face the music. The coroner's jury have found it suicide, and suicide it rests. Poor Yelverton's body has this day been given up to his friends, and shipped to Washington to be buried there, with the stigma of suicide on his name. The curtain has fallen on the last act of the tragedy. This settles it—unless I, the hidden witness of the crime, should come forward to give information," concluded Hanson, with a penetrating gaze into the gloomy face of his companion.

"Why did you not give this information before the coroner's jury?" demanded Harcourt in a tone of despair.

"Why? Because, in the first place, I never was called as a witness; in the second place, I make it a rule of life never to give anything for nothing; in the third place, I kept silence that I might sell it to you."

"To me?"

"To you."

"I am too poor to offer you a bribe, Mr. Hanson."

"And I too rich to need a bribe of the sort you must mean."

"What, then, do you want?" asked the terror-stricken clerk.

"Not your money, even if you had it to offer me. I wish you, in return for my silence, to do something for me."

"What is it?"

"I want you," he said, "to do something that will so severely try you, rack you, madden you, that you could never consent to do it but to save you from a shameful death, your aged mother from a broken heart, and your betrothed bride from a blighted life."

He spoke slowly, solemnly, impressively, keeping his eyes fixed on the tragic face of the youth.

"Tell me, tell me!" exclaimed the latter. "For myself—ah!—Heaven truly knows that I would rather die than live! But for my poor mother and Roma—oh! for Roma!—I would do anything—anything—to avoid disgrace—disgrace that would more than kill them! Tell me what it is you wish me to do," demanded Harcourt, in a voice of desperation.

"I will tell you later. You are too much excited now. I will leave you to think over your position, and meditate upon the sacrifice you would be willing to make for safety. Meet me on the Serpent's Back at sunrise to-morrow. Good night, or rather, good morning—for it is nearly three o'clock," said Hanson, as he left the office. The above we publish as a specimen chapter of Mrs. Southworth's new story; but the continuation of it from where it leaves off here, can be found only in the N. Y. Ledger. Ask for the number dated January 2, which can now be had at any news office or book-store. If you are not within reach of a news office, you can have that number of the Ledger mailed to you by sending six cents (postage stamps will do) to Robert Bonner, publisher, 182 William street, New York. The New York Ledger is the Great Family Paper, full of good and interesting reading, and has among its regular contributors the Rev. Dr. John Hall, Bishop Clark of Rhode Island, and many other distinguished men.

The Malignant Ingenuity of a Fiend

Could scarcely devise tortures more excruciating than those to which the victim of rheumatism, in the inflammatory stage, is subjected. It is also dangerous on account of its tendency toward the heart and stomach. Among the benign qualities of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, is that of expelling from the circulation those acrid impurities to which the disease is attributable. Analysis proves that, in cases of rheumatism, the kidneys fail to eliminate these impurities from the blood. The Bitters, by stimulating these organs to activity, enables them to perform this all-important function, and, therefore, averts the disease or remedies it at the outset. The function of digestion, and secretion of bile by the liver, are also healthfully stimulated by the Bitters, which conquers dyspepsia and liver complaint, and remedies fever and ague, bilious remittent, and other ailments of malarial birth. It is also the leading tonic of the age.

AN IMAGINARY HELL.

Mr. Frank Morley, of Waterbury, Ct., is the possessor of a breezy and picturesque style of writing, which shows that he has missed his avocation if he is not an ink-slinger on some Connecticut paper that dares to call a spade a spade. He has lately been the victim of neuralgia at his home, 89 Grand street, and describes the disease and his cure in this lively fashion:

"After suffering all the terrors of an imaginary orthodox hell for two weeks with inflammatory rheumatism and daily growing worse, I was induced to try Athlophoros. The effect was like magic. I was relieved immediately and would like to say to all who are suffering with the dread disease, 'Don't wait; try Athlophoros.'"

Those who have suffered from inflammatory rheumatism will appreciate the force of Mr. Morley's remarks, and will also agree with the estimate which Mr. George L. Pease, another citizen of Waterbury, puts upon the value of Athlophoros:

"I would have Athlophoros," he says, "if I had to pay ten dollars a dose for it. After fourteen years of intense suffering it has done for me what our best physicians could not do. During that time I took every known medicine for neuralgia of the stomach, but found no relief at all until I took Athlophoros. The effect was wonderful. All pain disappeared and my general health was so much improved as to cause general comment. I cannot speak too highly of the merits of Athlophoros, and cheerfully recommend it to all who may be troubled with rheumatism or neuralgia."

From Pigeon Cove, Mass., Susannah Brown sends these words of good cheer to those afflicted with neuralgia:

"I had been troubled with neuralgia in my head for four or five years, day and night. Seeing an advertisement of Athlophoros in a Gloucester paper, I thought I would try it and so I sent a year ago for some. I have taken eight bottles and since last March I have had no neuralgia at all. My head, I think, is entirely well. I consider Athlophoros a great remedy for neuralgia and shall recommend it to any one troubled with it."

Mrs. Sarah J. Cross, of Monroe, N.H., says of her experience:

"Athlophoros has done wonderful cures for myself and all those who have used any that I let them have. As for myself the rheumatism is a thing of the past to me, and I feel like a new person."

"When I first tried Athlophoros," says Mrs. Mary T. Hart, of Farmington, Ct., "I was so afflicted with rheumatism in my knees that they were badly swollen, and I suffered a great deal of pain. Three doses began to have an effect, and when I had used two bottles the pain left and the swelling and stiffness disappeared and have never returned. About a year later my shoulder troubled me. One bottle of Athlophoros cured that and I have not had rheumatism since. I recommended its use to one or two neighbors, who tried it and were relieved."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will sent it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us as directed. ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York.

A WONDERFUL LIFE.

Brilliant Career of an American Named Ward.

The remarkable career of Ward, the American soldier who preceded Gordon in command of the foreign legion in China, was related to a New York Tribune reporter recently by a friend of the soldier, who knew him from boyhood. He said: "Ward was a most remarkable man—a greater man, in my opinion than Gordon, though the hero of Khartoum commands my deep admiration. Ward was born in Salem, Mass., and when he was a boy went to sea with his father, who was a shipmaster. When the Crimean war broke out young Ward enlisted in the French army, and became a sub-lieutenant. Unfortunately he became involved in a quarrel with his captain, and, resigning his commission, he challenged that officer to a duel. The challenge was accepted, and Ward killed the captain. Years after, when fortune smiled on him, Ward sent a large sum of money to Paris to be invested for the support of the widow and child of his former captain. Ward's next venture was a commercial one to Vera Cruz. It proved unsuccessful, and he was then sent by me to the west coast of Mexico to buy a lot of brass cannon which had been condemned. He embarked on this enterprise in a vessel which took down to Central America a lot of Walker's filibusters. The adventurous character of Walker's enterprise appealed to Ward's fancy, but he saw in it so much to condemn and so much that was repugnant to him in the character of a large part of those who made up the filibustering party that he did not join the expedition.

"Having completed his work on the west coast of Mexico Ward went to San Francisco and got a berth as an officer of a ship going to China. He received his discharge in China and entered there the service of the emperor. He rose rapidly in favor and rank, and organized the foreign legion to fight for the emperor against the Taeping rebels. He married a Chinese lady of high rank, and was made a mandarin of their most exalted order. In order to marry a woman of the rank which he did he was told that he must renounce Christianity. He declined to do this, and the matter was finally settled by his marrying her by proxy. He became a citizen of China and a subject of the emperor. Once he was seized by the English and French admirals and kept for some time a prisoner. He was told that if he would claim American citizenship he would be liberated. This he refused to do, saying:

"'I was born in America, and love my native land, but I have sworn allegiance to the emperor and am a Chinese.'

"He was finally released, and continued his most successful and brilliant military career. He ordered three gunboats built in America, which were to go up the Peaiu river and the canal and fly the mandarin flag before the gates of Pekin. I was building the boats for him when he was killed. He was the most powerful man in China, and had he lived I believe he had the genius and the daring to have made himself absolute master of the Chinese empire. When our civil war broke out he wrote to me: 'My heart is with my native land in her struggle against rebellion. Were I free I would return at once to offer my life and my sword to my country. But my work is here.' He was killed while exposing himself in a reconnaissance before some city which he was besieging. He was one of the bravest, most temperate, upright, and honorable of men; of boundless ambition and dazzling genius. He was a young man only 36 or 37 at the time of his death. Though he never received a liberal education he was one of the best-informed men I ever saw, a constant student, a good linguist, and a great reader of books of all kinds."

When Making a Call.

Where do people wish to sit down when they make a call? Near their hostess. What arrangement suits a small company who fancy prove congenial friends if they had any opportunity really to discover each other? Nearer together, not at points equally distant from a common centre. Shall an affectionate family sit Indian fashion around the edges of their home, each in his own fixed place? The result is certain to be Indian silence and monotony. Put down in black and white, such questions seem too trivious for consideration, but, in fact, they arise daily in multitudes of homes. Chairs being to sit in, it follows that the use for which the room is intended is the first question to be asked. The parlor, which in most families is the quiet corner where a guest may spend an uninterrupted half-hour during a social call, needs some easy-chairs, lest the wearied visitor never comes again; but it still needs more light chairs—more than one—that can easily be moved about. Whether the easy-chairs are cane-seated rockers or plush divans, their positions cannot readily be changed, while the light chair that can be taken in the hand and carried from one corner to the other will furnish the opportunity for sociability two or three times in a single call perhaps. It must be a chair that can be carried; it is not enough that it rolls on casters, for it is still clumsy and heavy, and the effort necessary to alter its position will often prevent the change altogether.

This is not the battle, however. The original arrangement of the furniture is like the disposition of troops. It is here that the hostess shows her knowledge of human nature and her experience of society. A clever woman, to whom the great world was a second nature, once said on this point that she always observed how the chairs were left in a drawing-room where several people had been sitting and put them in the same position next time. This is the secret of success with chairs. Dispose them so that persons who fall into them shall sit down in the place most natural and satisfactory. Arrange a group of chairs near the door where the casual caller will drop into one and the hostess into another, and without realizing the fact that they are sitting near together will yet be placed in the best possible position for a little conversation. If it is a large drawing-room, constantly used by a number of people, multiply these groups of seats, not in ridiculous estuetic situations, with sofas at right angles to the room, but conveniently and naturally. Sit down in the chairs, if necessary, and see in what position you would like to find your neighbor. If you remember that the chairs are to sit in, not to look at, not even to give color, you will place them as people will wish to find them, and without knowing why, your drawing-room will often be full of people and its reputation will go abroad.

Minister (to Deacon of the church)—"I want to refer to a matter, my dear Deacon, that has been preying on my mind for some time. I am sure you will overlook any apparent meddling in your affairs, knowing that I only speak for your own good." Deacon (cordially)—"Certainly, my dear sir, speak your mind freely." Minister—"I understand you have been speculating a good deal of late. Now, aside from the danger of such a business and the consequent misery it may entail upon your family, do you consider it just the proper thing for a Deacon of the ——" Deacon—"Yes, I admit that I have speculated some. I cleared $5,000 only yesterday on a wheat transaction." Minister (astounded)—"No, is that so? What's wheat worth to-day?"

SKIN, SCALP, BLOOD

Cleansed, Purified and Beautified by the Cuticura Remedies.

FOR cleansing the Skin and Scalp of Disfiguring Humors, for allaying Itching, Burning and Inflammation, for curing the first symptoms of Eczema, Psoriasis, Milk Crust, Scald Head, Scrofula, and other Inherited Skin and Blood Diseases, CUTICURA, the great skin cure, and CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite Skin Beautifier, externally, and CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the new Blood Purifier, internally, are infallible.

NAUGHT BUT GOOD.

We have been selling your CUTICURA REMEDIES for the past three or four years, and have never heard aught but good words in their favor. Your CUTICURA SOAP is decidedly the best selling medicinal soap we handle, and is highly prized here for its soothing and softening effect upon the skin.

The Reform Progresses.

The nomination of Albert B. Stearns for appraiser of the port of Boston is not likely to be confirmed; and the president is censured by some treasury officials for making it. A commission of General-Appraiser Combs and three special agents appointed by Secretary Manning unanimously reported, in September, that there was no use for two appraisers at Boston. The law provides for two, but there has been only one for some time. Notwithstanding the adverse report, the president wishes to fill the vacancy in order to provide a democrat with a place. "He does his work slowly," said Mr. Adams, a New York democratic member of Congress, "but when he gets through, all the offices will be filled with good democrats."

And however much there may have been a temporary reduction of the forces in the custom houses as contemplated by the collectors of Burlington, Vermont, and Baltimore, pending a confirmation by the senate, the places will be worked for all they are worth. The democrats are not to be blamed for this. It is good while since they have had a chance to practice reform, which, of course, is a different affair from preaching it.

"We Draw the Line at That."

It is stated that Secretary of State Bayard will exert his influence to have the nomination of B. W. Hanna, as minister to the Argentine Republic, rejected. The new appointee's course has not been up to the standard of dignity mapped out by the Delaware statesman; hence he desires the senate to reject him. "That's what's the matter," etc.

It is said that this is by no means the only appointment which "the administration" would like to have rejected. Mr. Cleveland has expressed a wish to have the republican senators call around and talk over the fitness of some of the candidates for office, but our boys say "we will keep on our side of the fence," and inform his excellency that if he will mind his business they will pay attention to theirs.

Mining Horrors.

A blast in one of the Pennsylvania Coal Co.'s mines at Nanticoke, Pa., on the morning of Dec. 18th, caused a fall of rock and let into the mine a vast amount of water and quicksand. Most of the miners escaped, though some of them were so exhausted as to faint on reaching the surface. Twenty-nine men were cut off from the shafts by the masses of sand, and though all the men who could work set in at once to dig their imprisoned comrades out, and worked in short shifts, it was reported on the evening of the 19th that all hope of effecting a rescue had departed.

Despatches received in St. Petersburg, Russia, on the 19th inst., announced that a terrible dynamite explosion had occurred in the Pilitjuchin mine in Siberia. The accounts were conflicting as regards the number of persons killed, some placing the number at 400, while others place it as high as 1000.

In compliance with the senate resolution recently introduced by Mr. Hale of Maine, the postoffice department is preparing a list of postmasters who were recommended by Mr. S. S. Brown, chairman of the democratic state committee of Maine. The list, it is said, will comprise a hundred or more names of postmasters.

David Miles, a prominent stockbreeder of Milford, Me., was gored to death by a pet bull Dec. 17th. His body was mangled in a shocking manner. The animal had always been gentle. It had to be shot before the bars could be entered.

John Magee and his wife, Sarah, were on the 18th inst. arrested in Kensington, a suburb of London, on a charge of having attempted to extort money from the prince of Wales, by means of threatening letters.

A letter was received at the White House last week from a Connecticut democrat explaining that great luck had come to him in the poultry business. He had been struggling along for some time, but matters grew worse and worse till he changed the name of his establishment to the "Cleveland hennery." From that moment there had been a marked improvement among the hens, and he now feels himself to be on the high road to prosperity.

J. C. Ayer & Co., of Lowell, Mass., have been notified that unless they at once pay a fine of $100,000 imposed by the Dominion government for alleged undervaluation of patent medicines, the goods under seizure will be sold.

The Singer Sewing Machine Co. has shut down its works at Elizabeth, N. J., throwing out of employment 3000 men and 300 women. This action is taken in consequence of the city levying a tax of $29,000 on the company's property. The city owes the company $1,000,000 on a judgment, and the company holds $800,000 of the city bonds, which cannot be sold for over ten per cent of their face value.

Harry W. Bickford, for some time past employed by George C. Goodwin & Co., wholesale druggists of Boston, it is reported has disappeared. A woman not Bickford's wife, and about $7000 of the firm's money, have also departed.

A Great Victory

A Terrible Case of Scrofula Cured by

Hood's Sarsaparilla

"In the winter of 1879 I was attacked with Scrofula in one of the most aggravating forms. At one time I had no less than thirteen large abscesses over and around my neck and throat, continually exuding an offensive mass of bloody matter disgusting to behold, and almost intolerable to endure. It is impossible to fully describe my sufferings, as the case was complicated with Chronic Catarrh. After three years of misery, having been treated by three physicians, I was worse than ever. Finally, on the recommendation of W. J. Huntley, druggist, of Lockport, I was induced to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. And now, after having taken twelve bottles, within the last twelve months, the scrofulous eruptions have entirely ceased, and the abscesses have all disappeared, except the unsightly scars, which are daily becoming smaller by degrees, and beautifully less. I do not know what it may have done for others, but I do know that in my case, Hood's Sarsaparilla has proved an effective specific indeed. As an evidence of my gratitude I send these facts unsolicited, and I am ready to verify the authenticity of this cure, by personal correspondence with any one who doubts it." CHARLES A. ROBERTS, East Wilson, N. Y.

This statement is confirmed by W. J. Huntley, druggist, of Lockport, N. Y., who calls the cure a great victory for Hood's Sarsaparilla. Send for book giving statements of many cures.

As the time is fast approaching when people will be looking for the beautiful, to make their annual Christmas gifts from, we would respectfully call attention to our stock, selected expressly for the holiday trade.

Our stocks of WATCHES, JEWELRY, CLOCKS, SILVER-PLATED WARE and FANCY NOVELTIES, were never as large as this year. We take this occasion to thank our friends and the public in general for the confidence and liberal patronage they have bestowed on us for the last six years since leaving the house of HUTCHINSON & CONNELL, and in the future as in the past our motto will be, "Knowledge & Honesty." First, we understand our business in all its branches fully, and cannot take advantage of our customers through ingorance; Second, we sell everything for just what it is.

Our reputation for skilled Watch work is too well established to need any comment upon; there is no better engraving done in the State than we send out.

Please do not look in our window and think you see the bulk of our stock, for we cannot show but a small part of our stock in the window. Our show-cases are full, our safe is full. Please come in and let us show you.

We could quote our prices but do not think it wise to do so in a newspaper, but bring the largest buyer in our line of any dealer in the State, we can give prices that no one can honestly beat.

The custom is growing in favor of purchasing Xmas gifts early and having them laid away, we already have several Silver and Gold Watch s and Chains sold, some of them to be sent out of the State. call early and see if we cannot please you in every way. Respectfully,

JAMES R. CONNELL, 7 Congress Street,

POLICE COURT--BATCHELDER J.

SATURDAY, Dec. 19th.

Peter McCoy and William Brown, two drunks, were each assessed $9 90, fine and costs, and nobody in the world caring enough about either of them to pay that amount to keep them out of the house of correction, both were sent up.

John White, another drunk, was proved to have been drunk way through; but being an imported instead of a native-born bummer, he was not allowed to go to the haven of rest at Brentwood. Instead he was "fired out," and ordered to depart from New Hampshire under penalty of having the tramp law enforced in his case if found drunk here again.

NAVY YARD ITEMS.

Commodore P. C. Johnson, commandant of the Portsmouth navy yard, in a letter dated December 11th, informs the navy department that the U. S. S. Vandalia is in condition to receive her officers and men. He says: "It would be advantageous to the officers, who will be in charge of the various departments of the ship, if they joined her before the stores and outfit are placed on board; and an economical measure if the crew were employed in preparing the ship for sea. It would be a satisfaction to have the engineer officers here, in particular, that the engines may be tried while they are present. It is believed that the ship will be ready to sail by the end of the present month."

THE THEATRE.

The May Henderson Dramatic Co. open their weeks engagement at Music hall this evening, in the sensational drama "The Pirates of the Gulf." The company has been playing to large houses on the New England circuit, and was in Concord week before last, receiving highly commendatory notices from the press of that city. Tickets for any evening in the week can now be procured at Goodrich's bookstore.

The Court street Christian society are to hold their annual Sunday School festival at Congress hall on Wednesday evening, Dec. 30th.

At the annual meeting of Junkins Council, American Legion of Honor, of Greenland, held on the evening of Dec. 18th, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Ernest L. Place, commander; William S. Bennett, vice commander; Nath'l M. Gookin, orator; Charles H. Brackett, secretary; Nath'l P. Ordway, collector; Ernest Holmes, treasurer; Jeremiah C. Shaw, chaplain; William H. L. Brackett, guide; Arthur H. Durgin, warden; E. Bloomer Jewell, sentry; Wm. O. Junkins, medical examiner; Wm. O. Junkins, David P. Batchelder, Eben L. Dalton, trustees.

The Worcester, Nashua & Rochester railroad company, by Charles A. Sinclair, its president, has filed a petition that the lease to the Boston & Maine railroad company, dated October 30th, 1885, be confirmed, and that savings banks and institutions for savings be authorized to invest in bonds and notes of the Worcester, Nashua & Rochester railroad company, notwithstanding said lease.

Paymaster I. Goodwin Hobbs, U. S. N., has joined his family at Newport, R. I., after an absence of three years on the Asiatic station.

E. S. Newton & Co. sold in Boston on Saturday forty-two boxes of steak cod, 500 lbs. to the box, at $2.25 per hundred lbs. The prices are low just now, as the markets are glutted with poultry; turkeys were selling in Boston at ten cents a pound by wholesale, Saturday. Newton & Co. shipped 284 boxes of fish last week, mostly to the Boston and New York markets.

Good progress is being made on the breakwater for the harbor of refuge off Rockport, Mass. Every favorable day sloops deposit freights of stone, most of the stones weighing six or eight tons, on the line of the breakwater. Two scows, so constructed as to allow the bottoms to open and discharge their contents, have been contracted for with Messrs. Goss, Sawyer & Co., the Bath, Me., shipbuilders, and are expected to arrive early next month, when the work will move along more rapidly. The scows will be of a capacity of 175 tons each, and will be towed by a tug. The tug Jetty, lately employed upon the jetties at the mouth of the Merrimac, will soon receive a new boiler, and, if she proves satisfactory, will be purchased for the work. Enough scows will be added to complete the contract on time. Last week a tripod was erected on Thatcher's island, making five now in use for the triangulation of the work. The first favorable day, the engineer and a diver will visit Avery's rock to look for the spindle which was knocked down in the recent gale. A large buoy will take its place for the present, and in the early spring a monument or pier will be erected on the ledge.

On Saturday and Sunday there was a considerable fleet of vessels lying at anchor in the lower harbor, from stress of weather.

The schooner Agnes E. Downs, Levi Downs master, sailed for Eastport on Sunday last for a cargo of frozen herring.

Fish have been caught recently nearer in shore than for a long time previous to this season. The late catches have been at the Middle banks, which has caused shorter trips than usual. Some fishermen account for this upon the supposition that the water is warmer now than for some seasons past.

The U. S. S. Tennessee was in port at Laguayra on the 5th inst.

Lieutenant W. C. Cowles has been ordered to the Washington navy yard.

Paymaster H. T. Stancliff is ordered to special duty at the navy department.

Lieutenant R. Hunt has been detached from the hydrographic office, and ordered to the Brooklyn.

Lieutenant B. A. Fiske has been detached from the Brooklyn, and ordered to special duty in the bureau of ordnance.

Lieutenant J. Garvin has been detached from the naval observatory, and placed on waiting orders.

Mr. Leonard Emmons of Saco, a building contractor and prominent citizen, who had served in both boards of the city government and was for years a deputy sheriff of York county, died on the night of the 18th inst., from injuries received in a sawmill on the 16th. He was working at an edging saw, when a piece of board was caught by the saw and thrown with tremendous force against his stomach, the blow turning him around so that the board, which rebounded so as to be again caught by the saw, struck him a second time in the small of the back.

A cow recently purchased by Hiram Foss of Old Orchard was put into the field with a horse. The two animals at once commenced a warfare which terminated in the death of the horse, the cow thrusting one of her horns into his breast, so that he bled to death in five minutes.

The wife of Capt. W. Dyer Crediford, of Kennebunk, died quite suddenly a few days ago, of paralysis. Capt. Crediford himself received a shock of paralysis last summer, from the effects of which he has not since been able to transact any business.

A big company has been formed in Gloucester, Mass., to conduct the frozen herring trade this season. The fleet will "pool their issues," the vessels being under charter according to their tonnage, and the crews on wages. Capt. Charles Carroll has gone to Fortune bay, Newfoundland, as the company's agent, to see to the loading of the vessels, and Capt. Henry B. Thomas, who has had long experience in the herring trade, will represent the company in Gloucester.

The schooner Northern Eagle, Capt. James Brown, arrived on Sunday morning with 8,000 lbs. of fish; the Rising Star, Capt. John Muxer, with 11,000 lbs.; and the Martha Jane, McLeod master, with 13,000 lbs.; all sold to E. S. Newton & Co. The schooner Comet also arrived on Sunday, with 2,700 lbs.

"A month ago I was happy!" is the declaration of Bryan W. Proctor the poet. So were lots of other folks, who are now telling people in decided nasal tones: "Got a toad in my head." But there's still happiness to be secured; a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup will cure any cough or cold.

Dog Lost.

A LIBERAL REWARD will be paid for information that will lead to the recovery of a RED IRISH SETTER, about eighteen months old; answers to the name of "Jake." He has white on his breast, is tall and slim, rather dark on the back, and feathered lighter. Last seen in Dover on Sunday, December 13th.
Address, CHAS. B. GOODWIN,
P. O. Box 1072, Dover, N. H.

Cat Lost.

A TORTOISE SHELL ANGORA CAT was lost Saturday night or Sunday; is quite shaggy. A suitable reward paid for her return to No. 6 Austin Street.

CONSUMPTION.

I have a positive remedy for the above disease; by its use thousands of cases of the worst kind and of long standing have been cured. I shall send FREE TO ALL who desire it, two bottles of my remedy, together with a VALUABLE TREATISE on this disease to any sufferer. Give express and P. O. address. Dr. T. A. SLOCUM, 181 Pearl St., New York.

DEAFNESS its CAUSES and CURE, by one who was deaf twenty-eight years. Treated by most of the noted specialists of the day with no benefit. Cured himself in three months, and since then hundreds of others by same process. A plain, simple and successful home treatment. Address T. S. PAGE, 128 East 26th St., New York City.

I CURE FITS!

When I say cure I do not mean merely to stop them for a time and then have them return again, I mean a radical cure. I manufacture Preparations of Pure OPIUM, and I do SCIENTIFICALLY the long study. I warrant my remedy to cure the worst cases. Because others have failed is no reason for a CHEAP RECEIPT for a cure. Send at once for a treatise and a Free Bottle of my infallible remedy. Give Express and Post Office. It costs you nothing for this, and I will cure you. DR. H. G. ROOT, 183 Pearl St., N.Y.

Having spacious and good accommodations and long and large experience he solicits patronage in his line.

THIS PAPER is on file in Philadelphia at the Newspaper Advertising Agency of Messrs. N. W. AYER & SON, our authorized agents.

I suffered from rheumatism the most excruciating pain for three months, lost flesh and appetite, and was almost helpless. One bottle of Athlophoros relieved me, and though I am weak I am gaining every day. Mrs. B. F. Brown, Vineyard Haven, Mass.

Since the siege of Paris, in 1870, the consumption of horseflesh has gradually increased there.

"Rough on Catarrh"

Corrects offensive odors at once. Complete cure of even worst chronic cases, also unequalled as gargle for diphtheria, sore throat, foul breath. 50c.

It is proposed in Paris to erect a "velodrome," a covered track, for bicycles and their three-wheeled kindred.

Bed-Bugs, Flies.

The wheat yield of California this year was 20,000,000 bushels.

Thin People.

"Wells' Health Renewer" restores health and vigor, cures dyspepsia, impotence, sexual debility. $1.

The United States district judge at Atlanta, Ga., has decided the case arising out of the recent elections in that city in favor of the prohibitionists.

"Rough on Pain."

Spinney & Co., the large firm of shoe manufacturers at Lynn, Mass., have decided to remove their entire business to Maine. The attitude of the labor unions of Lynn has caused this move.

No one knows better than those who have used Carter's Little Liver Pills what relief they have given when taken for dyspepsia, dizziness, pain in the side, constipation, disordered stomach, etc. Try them.

At a meeting of the corporation agents in Lewiston, Me., last week it was unanimously voted to adopt a system of weekly or fornightly payments.

Carter's Little Liver Pills may well be termed "Perfection." Their gentle action and good effect on the system, really make them a perfect little pill. They please those who use them.

Hillard Hall, ex-governor of Vermont, died very suddenly on the 18th inst. at the residence of his son, Charles Hill, in Springfield, Mass. The deceased was ninety years old.

Take Care of the Children.

For children, Brandreth's Pills are simply invaluable. One or two pills taken every night for ten days will cure them of scarlet fever, diphtheria, whooping cough, colds, diarrhœa or local pains.

Brandreth's Pills are purely vegetable—contain no mercury, mineral or dangerous drug. They require no care in diet or exposure, and are perfectly safe for old or young, male or female. One or two at night, for a week, taken on an empty stomach will cure the worst case of dyspepsia, liver complaint or rheumatism.

Scarlet fever has become epidemic in Old Spain village, a suburb of North Weymouth, Mass.

A Burglar Captured.

This morning about two o'clock, John Wood, the well known plumber who resides on Maine street, was awakened by hearing glass broken. On getting out of bed he received a blow on the head. He immediately grappled with the burglar, and after a terrible struggle succeeded in holding him until his wife obtained help. On being searched at the station, Mr. Wood's watch and wallet was found on his person. He gave the name of Robert Jerry. The broken glass proved to be a bottle of Sulphur Bitters which had almost cured Mrs. Wood of rheumatism.

The Methodist church at North Adams, Mass., has subscribed over $4,500 toward reducing its debt of $10,000.

You can get our beautiful Banner Picture with no advertising on it, suitable to hang in any home. Ask your grocer to show it to you. BEACH SOAP CO., Lawrence, Mass. Send your address wrappers.

A Valuable Medical Treatise.

The edition for 1886 of the sterling Medical Annual, known as Hostetter's Almanac, is now ready, and may be obtained, free of cost, of druggists and general country dealers in all parts of the United States, Mexico, and indeed in every civilized portion of the Western Hemisphere. This Almanac has been issued regularly at the commencement of every year for one-fifth of a century. It combines, with the soundest practical advice for the preservation and restoration of health, a large amount of interesting and amusing light reading, and the calendar, astronomical calculations, chronological items, etc., are prepared with great care, and will be found entirely accurate. The issue of Hostetter's Almanac for 1886 will probably be the largest edition of a medical work ever published in any country. The proprietors, Messrs. Hostetter & Co., Pittsburgh, Pa., on receipt of a two cent stamp, will forward a copy by mail to any person who cannot procure one in his neighborhood.

The New York aldermen have instructed the corporation counsel to memorialize the legislature for an act which will settle beyond peradventure the question whether the remains of General Grant can be allowed to rest permanently at Riverside park.

WORDS OF PRAISE.

Dr. James D. Bragg, a druggist and physician of the old school, residing at 271 East Main St., Bridgeport, Connecticut, is full of praise for Athlophoros. This is what he has to say:

"I have been a resident of this city for ten years and am conversant with the prevailing diseases in this section. None is so common as rheumatism and neuralgia. During the fall season I have a busy practice with neuralgia and rheumatic patients, and I prescribe Athlophoros with unparalelled success. It is a perfectly safe medicine, and so pure that a baby can take it."

One of the happiest men in Maine nowadays is William Sawyer, of West Hampden, Penobscot county. Mr. Sawyer is a butcher, long and favorably known in his county, and that he has abundant cause for his happiness will appear from the following statement.

"I was sick last fall with rheumatism," he says, "and a lady sent me word to try Athlophoros. I did so. When I got the medicine the minister was at my house. At four o'clock it took him and two others to get me up off the bed. I took the Athlophoros and in less than two hours one man got me off the bed and in ten hours I got off alone, and in eighteen hours my fever had all gone. I have recommended the medicine to three others that were not so badly off as I was and it worked like a charm. I tell the doctors that I will bet fifty dollars that I can cure any rheumatism fever, I don't care how bad, in twenty hours with one bottle of Athlophoros. I am a butcher going around all over the country and I have to tell this story sometimes ten times a day. I wouldn't be without Athlophoros, and carry it with me all the time."

"I wish to say a word in praise of Athlophoros," says E. J. Flood, of Oxford, Me. "I was taken with rheumatism last May and was treated by my family doctor for some time without relief. I then tried every other rheumatic cure I could hear of with the same result. Some five weeks ago I by chance learned of Athlophoros. I bought a bottle and began taking it and in less than twenty-four hours I could walk without a cane and suffered no pain. I have taken two bottles and to-day I am able to do a hard day's work. I consider it the greatest rheumatic remedy ever known. Since I have been cured I have had a number of people come to me to ask what I took to cure me. To-day I have had three ladies from a distance of six miles to hear about the great remedy. There are three persons in my village that are now using it with the happiest results."

Mrs. Charles H. Gifford, of Lincoln Centre, Me., says:

"I cannot express my thanks for the benefit I have received from the use of one bottle of Athlophoros. I inherited rheumatism from my mother, who suffered untold agony until her death. My father spent hundreds of dollars to get help for her and found none. I have tried many different remedies, but never got any relief to speak of from them, except from Athlophoros, which I can truly say has helped me. I wish to get a few more bottles, so that I can let some of my suffering friends have some."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York.

THE MAXIMS OF A CHINESE GOURMAND.

Dinner-giving is a science which is carefully cultivated in China, and the table has there, as elsewhere, played an important part in politics, literature, and art. A distinguished apostle of this cult was a certain Yuan Tsutsai, who lived in the last century and who seems to have been the Samuel Rogers of the day, for he cultivated the muses in a dilettante fashion, and also collected around his hospitable board all the celebrities of the time. He was originally an official, but retired into private life at the age of 40, and settled in a charming residence in the country, where he devoted himself to literature, his garden, and the pleasures of society and the table. The most eminent literary men of the day sought his company; he wrote polished verses, and was epicurean in his tastes. His character was not wholly irreproachable; but he lived until he was 80 years of age, and left behind him a cookery-book, in which he discussed the subject of food and drink from a scientific and artistic point of view. Facts of this volume were recently translated by the North China Asiatic society in Shanghai, and are thus rendered accessible to English readers. His maxims are more polished and more ambitious than those of the immortal Mrs. Glasse, but they are equally sensible and practical.

Cooks are declared to be low "fellows of the baser sort," who must be constantly scolded or rewarded, otherwise they deteriorate sadly. Hence Mr. Yuan bestows on them some good advice. They should keep the utensils clean, and not use the same one for two different things; they should not slice bamboo-shoots with a knife which has just been used to cut onions (from which it would seem the minor ills of life are much the same all the world over); they should know what should be served with what, and the different times required for cooking various things, what is in season and what is not, and they should allow nothing to remain on the fire beyond its proper time.

The food being cooked, the service is the next subject that comes to be considered, and on this head some excellent counsel is given. Elegant food, says the writer, is not so important as elegant service. Everything on the table should be scrupulously clean, and the various dishes should be sent up in their proper order. For instance, salted meats should precede those of a milder flavor; thick food should precede thin ones, and foods without gravy should precede those with gravy. Five consecutive dishes should not be all salt; this would tax the stomach too severely. Three of the five should contain either mustard or pepper to recover the palate, just as acid and sweet things should be used to prevent the palate from being dulled by too much wine. When the dinner is cooked and served, the rest remains with the diners, and to these Mr. Yuan devotes several chapters. His first maxim is: "Don't eat with your ears"—in other words, do not have whatever you have heard is dainty. "Remember," he says, "that well-cooked bean-curd is much nicer than badly-cooked bird's-nest; and that sea-slugs, if not good, are not equal to common bamboo-shoots. The fowl, the pig, the fish and the duck—these are the heroes of the dinner-table. Each has its characteristic flavor, and each forms a 'school' by itself. Sea-slugs and birds'-nests are but their retainers, having nothing of their own, but living, as it were, in other men's houses." That is, fish, pork, and poultry form the backbone of the banquet; the other delicacies are merely to set off or improve these. To illustrate this maxim he relates that he was once invited to a banquet by a certain official of his acquaintance, where the rice-bowls were very large, and each held about four ounces of bird's-nest, but quite tasteless. Somebody began to say something in praise of the display, but Yuan laughed and said: "I came here to eat bird's-nest, not to [illegible] in it wholesale. Now, you might deal in this, but you couldn't eat it. So, what is the use of it all? It only makes a show, it would be better to fill your bowls with pearls, which would cost more money, but this is not eating." The philosopher was averse to display, he loved little dinners. Another maxim is, "Don't eat with your eyes." This is a warning to hosts against providing too many courses. He frequently points out how the different parts of any given food are adapted, and even essential, in order to produce the best result from the whole. "We know," he says, "that the yelk of an egg is richer than the white, but he is a fool who eats only yelks and throws away the whites." With regards to wine he is very emphatic: "Don't take wine too freely. Only a sober man knows right from wrong, and it is the same with food. It has been wisely observed that language fails to describe the delicate nuances of flavors. How, then, should a half-tipsy sot know anything about them? I have myself often seen two men playing at 'guess fingers' and shouting in their food the while as though it were so much sawdust, sacrificing everything to the enjoyment of wine. No, I say, food first and wine afterward. Thus we can enjoy both." He warns cooks against using hot-water dishes (which have long been known in China), for they destroy the flavor of every delicate dish.—London Times.

Stage-Struck Young Ladies.

The season's crop of young ladies with phenomenal genius for the stage appears likely to be unusually large. Already several have been heard from and the returns from remote counties are not yet in. Out west there is a young debutante named Stella Rees, about whom the paragraph writers are industriously raving. She has begun her stage career and the customary enthusiastic allusions to her youth, beauty, and talent are coming into New York in such bulk as to threaten the machinery of the postoffice with untoward clogging up. In the metropolis, waiting for the opportune moment for flashing resplendent upon the dazzled community, is a young girl from Georgia named Hussey. She has already given two recitals before small invited audiences of critical people, and in that capacity she has attracted marked attention and a very considerable degree of commendation. What she will accomplish when she appears with the regular surroundings of the stage is quite another question. Miss Hussy is a very young girl. I should not think she could be over 15 or 16, and she shows a good deal of originality and power in her recitation. She will probably appear in tragedy before the season grows much older. The third of the series of expectant stars who have thus far approached the visible firmament this year is a little Miss Speyer, with golden hair, big black eyes, and the taste for declamation which usually betokens a coming debut. The success of Miss Anderson and Miss Mather both of whom began at the top of the ladder instead of its lower end, has been responsible for a vast deal of this kind of thing. Not many years ago most ambitious young ladies could be really convinced that, without the experience which actual employment on the stage involves, there can be no more than a very small chance in a profession which depends largely upon the skillful use of its technicalities. But this assurance is nowadays met by a reference to Miss Anderson and Miss Mather, and the cloud of debutantes increase in density from year to year. —N. Y. Times.

Mutations in Politics.

The Concord Monitor appears to be very much distressed because Mr. Jones instead of some Concord man, as under the rule of Frank Pierce many years ago, wields the patronage of New Hampshire. The fact is Mr. Cleveland is somewhat recent as a public man, and has not time to look back into the history of the democratic party in New Hampshire to find who led the forces thirty or forty years ago. The president appears to pay the most heed to the vigorous men in his party who have advanced ideas and practical notions, and are honorable in their advocacy of the claims of their political friends to office. Mr. Jones has never abused the confidence Mr. Cleveland has reposed in him. When he seeks to foist upon the government an improper person it will be time enough for republican papers to interfere in this regard. The Monitor seems to lose sight of the fact that in both parties the old stagers after awhile lose their grip, and new men are put at the helm. Notably this was the case with the republicans at the last session of the legislature, when the senatorship and the state printing floated by the Monitor office and landed at the French settlement down the river. Yes, none of us are proof against the changes which occur in politics.

Purity of the Administration.

A sample of the "Reform" notions of Secretary Manning is seen in the appointment of William H. Thornton to be a special agent of the treasury department in Philadelphia, to look after and examine the mail received there for dutiable articles and merchandise.

This same man, not many years ago, was discharged from the war department because he was caught stealing the records of the office for the purpose of furnishing to newspapers what purported to be damaging evidence against a prominent senator. He is a brother-in-law of William Dickson, the foreman of the jury in the second star route trial. Dickson induced Mr. Randall to go to the chief clerk of the war department to have the discharge papers revoked. When he was informed, however, that the man in whose behalf he was making the application might consider himself lucky to have escaped the penitentiary, Mr. Randall withdrew and washed his hands of the whole matter. It remains for the secretary of the treasury of this "Reform" administration to reward with an appointment in the government service the man who escaped by sheer good luck the fate that he so richly deserved.

When this case is brought to the notice of the president how he will again call upon the republican senators to post him in regard to the rascals who seek to be turned in.

The passenger department of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railway announce the publication of a new and valuable work—whose scope and intent is best expressed on its title page, which reads as follows: "'Voltagal, Genius of Electricity,' or, Ned Benson's Adventures and Talk with one of the Genii, by 'A Man,' of the Rock Island Route—respectfully dedicated to the Boys and Girls of America, by the General Ticket and Passenger Agent of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railway." It is an appropriate sequel to "Watt Stephens on steam and its uses," which attained such a popularity a year ago. It is a carefully written pamphlet of eighty pages, elegantly printed, and will be sent to any applicant on receipt of ten cents in postage stamps. Address "E. ST. JOHN, Gen. Ticket and Passenger Agt. C. R. I. & P. Ry., Chicago, Ills."

"The Columbia Bicycle Calendar for 1886;" a really artistic and elegant work in chromo-lithography and the letter press is the Columbia Bicycle Calendar for 1886, just issued by the Pope manufacturing company of Boston. Each day of the year appears upon a separate slip, with a quotation pertaining to cycling from leading publications and prominent personages. The calendar proper is mounted upon a heavy back board, upon which is exquisitely executed, in water-color effect, by G. H. Buek, of New York, a charming combination of cycling scenes. As a work of convenient art, it is worthy of a place in office, library or parlor.

Gen. Beauregard will give a history of the Shiloh campaign in the January number of the "North American Review." He claims that Gen. Algernon Sydney Johnson acted only as a corps commander at Shiloh. Gen. Beauregard emphatically asserts (contrary to the common belief) that he was the sole commander on both days, and without naming them, controverts the reports of Grant and Sherman as to the nation's forces being taken by surprise.

Assistant-Secretary Smith has taken hold of the appointments in the treasury, and now all who want favors of that kind go to him direct, and the office of appointment clerk is reduced to its proper place, that of a mere clerkship. This change does not altogether please Mr. Eugene Higgins, who liked the place for the brief authority it gave him. It is stated now that Mr. Higgins will resign about the first of next month, and that Mr. Albright of Albany, N. Y., will succeed him.

The "Friendly Tip" dramatic company, which recently appeared at Music hall, and gave a really good show to a small audience, has fallen to pieces.

John Lavine of South Berwick, who works in one of the mills at Salmon Falls, in crossing the river back of the mill last Friday evening broke through the ice, and went down twice before being rescued. It was a very narrow escape.

The fish market at Spring hill has been re-opened, by Mr. William Cochrane, who carries on the business of buying and selling fish and clams.

There will be a Christmas eve service in the Unitarian church on Thursday evening.

The Dover Democrat has been again enlarged, by the addition of a column to a page, and something in the length. It now has thirty-six columns, and is the largest daily in the state.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H. M. M. COLLIS, Proprietor.

"A THING OF BEAUTY IS A JOY FOREVER!"

As the time is fast approaching when people will be looking for the beautiful, to make their annual Christmas gifts from, we would respectfully call attention to our stock, selected expressly for the holiday trade.

Our stocks of WATCHES, JEWELRY, CLOCKS, SILVER-PLATED WARE and FANCY NOVELTIES, were never as large as this year. We take this occasion to thank our friends and the public in general for the confidence and liberal patronage they have bestowed on us for the last six years since leaving the house of HUTCHINSON & CONNELL, and in the future as in the past our motto will be, "Knowledge & Honesty:" First, we understand our business in all its branches fully, and cannot take advantage of our customers through ignorance; Second, we sell everything for just what it is.

Our reputation for skilled Watch work is too well established to need any comment upon; there is no better engraving done in the State than we send out.

Please do not look in our window and think you see the bulk of our stock, for we cannot show but a small part of our stock in the window. Our show-cases are full our safe is full. Please come in and let us show you.

We could quote our prices but do not think it wise to do so in a newspaper, but being the largest buyer in our line of any dealer in the State, we can give prices that no one can honestly beat.

The custom is growing in favor of purchasing Xmas gifts early and having them laid away, we always have several Silver and Gold Watch Chains and Chains sold, some of them to be sent out of the State. Call early and see if we cannot please you in every way. Respectfully,

JAMES R. CONNELL, 7 Congress Street,

Andrew P. Preston, E. C.;
Harry G. Tanton, Gen.;
Edward W. Riley, Capt. Gen.;
John Christie, Prelate;
John Hatch, S. W.;
Wm. G. Billings, J. W.;
Wingate N. Ilsley, Treas.;
James L. Parker, Rec.

THE THEATRE.

Last evening Rivers & Hyman's Criterion Dramatic Co. played "the Child Stealer" at Music hall to a good audience, and gave a good entertainment. The leading lady, Miss May Henderson, is an excellent actress, and she is well supported. The company are to play here through the week, which of itself is a guaranty of good performances, for with poor ones they would speedily find themselves playing to empty seats. To-night they present "The New Magdalen," and to-morrow night "The Pirates of the Gulf." Tickets at Goodrich's.

MARITIME NOTES.

Deputy United States Marshal Kent received a despatch on Monday afternoon from Symonds & Libby, proctors for the Portland Machine Co., directing a release of the attachment upon the steamer City of Portsmouth.

The yacht Puritan, which lies between the bridges at Beverly, has been sold by Gen. Paine to Commodore J. Malcomb Forbes. Gen. Paine is to build a new eighty foot sloop from designs by Burgess, who designed the Puritan.

The Dover Democrat of the 19th inst. said: "The tug Ann cut her way through the ice in the lower river to-day to go down with a gondola to Portsmouth, to load smith's coal for C. H. Trickey & Co.

The schooner E. A. Williams, Martin master, came in on Monday with 10,000 lbs. of fish, which she sold at $1.25 per hundred lbs.

The schooner A. C. Newhall, Capt. Solomon White, went from this port to Boston last week with 8,000 lbs. of fish, which she sold at $2.50 per hundred lbs.; she was offered $3.50 here, but would not accept it.

THE EASTERN RAILROAD.

The Boston Post of Monday, in its financial article, referring to the transactions in Eastern railroad stock at the brokers' board on Saturday says: "Eastern sold at 65 3-4 to 66 1-2, some 436 shares changing hands, and closed strong at 65 3 4 bid. The syndicate apparently changed its tactics Saturday, and began again to accumulate stock. It is said they are stimulated to do this on account of the increased earnings of the road. For November, 1885, the gross earnings of the Boston & Maine-Eastern showed an increase of $35,000 over November, 1884, and as the October earnings showed about $25,000 increase over October, 1884, making a gain of $60,000 in the gross for the two months, it begins to look as if our estimate of $6,800,000 gross for the year, as published a few daysago, would be more than fulfilled. The December earnings show a still greater increase, if anything. There is no question but what these roads will be run the coming year at sixty-two per cent of the gross earnings, against sixty-four per cent last year. The syndicate are feeling very confident of carrying their points before the courts. It is rumored that the counsel have agreed to go before the full bench early in January on the questions at issue, instead of waiting and going before a single judge. This will have a tendency to greatly expedite matters. One great secret of the strength in Eastern is the fact that the new syndicate know on about what terms they can bring about a consolidation with the Boston & Maine."

To-morrow and Thursday, at No. 68 State street, Mr. Conn will display as handsome a lot of turkeys and geese—probably the handsomest lot that will be shown in the city during the holiday season. These birds were raised in Vermont, stall fattened on corn, and selected by Mr. Conn in person; and nothing nicer will be offered this year, in the way of a centre-piece for the Christmas dinner.

The boys were skating on the south pond, Monday, going down to within a hundred yards or so of the bridge.

Mr. Harry B. Drew has commenced running a city parcels delivery, calling for bundles and packages of all kinds, and delivering them in any part of the city for five or ten cents, according to size. Orders may be left at Mr. J. S. Whidden's store on Congress street.

The debt of Rockingham county is $14,018.64, an increase of $640.10 during the past year.

Fifty Dover men, who have been employed on the Boston & Maine railroad since last spring, were discharged last Friday evening, there being no need of their services during the winter.

There were more teams in from the country on Monday than is usual on that day of the week. The number on Saturday was unusually small.

Great bay is partially frozen over, but the channels are still open, so that the smelt fishermen have had no opportunity as yet of plying their vocation.

The friends of Mr. George E. Baker of Newcastle, who was drowned some weeks since while on the way from this city to his vessel in the lower harbor at night in a sail boat, have viewed the remains found at Rye Beach by Dennis Shea last week, and being satisfied that they are those of Mr. Baker, have made arrangements for their interment.

The store of Mr. Charles Littlefield at Ogunquit was broken into on Saturday night, and a quantity of goods and a sum of money stolen. It is thought that the burglars are the same as stole Mr. Peletiah Perkins' team at Cape Neddick on Sunday morning.

YORK CORNER, ME., Dec. 21st.

Yesterday (Sunday) morning, when Mr. Peletiah Perkins of the Clay Hill district went to his barn, he found his horse, harness and sleigh missing. The thief had cut the bells from the shafts. Constable D. C. Goodwin was notified and immediately telephoned to Biddeford, Dover and Portsmouth. Tracks were found from Perkins' to Cape Neddick village, and there the trail was lost. Officer Goodwin then went to Portsmouth, and learned from the gate tender at the Portsmouth bridge that two chaps, with a team without bells, passed there at about half-past two o'clock Sunday morning. City Marshal Norton of Portsmouth is on the track, and doubtless the two chums will have an opportunity to ride at the expense of York county, instead of at Mr. Perkins' expense. Perkins will give them the full benefits of the law, he having the ability as well as the disposition to do so.

The snow of Saturday fell very evenly and will make "good doings," although the wind of yesterday moved considerable of it.

The blacksmith shop of Mitchell & Freeman has been the scene of great activity recently, they having two hired men, all very busy. P.

THE MAINE LEGISLATIVE REUNION.

The Boston & Maine railroad will have tickets on sale at Boston through to Augusta, Me., to be sold only to ex-members upon the presentation of their invitations to participate in the legislative reunion, at $5 the round trip. At other points on the line of their road, between Boston and Portsmouth on the Eastern division, and Boston and North Berwick on the Western, they prefer parties attending the reunion to notify the agent at the nearest station that he may arrange to procure tickets for them. From stations in Maine they propose to sell to Portland and return at two cents per mile, and at Portland, or Boston & Maine Junction, the Maine Central tickets may be obtained. Parties in every case should inquire for "reunion tickets," and obtain them for the round trip, as no return tickets are likely to be obtained at the reunion.

The Mayor's Message.—May we be pardoned for requesting the mayor to incorporate in his new message the fact that many of our most prominent citizens have been cured of rheumatism, neuralgia and kindred complaints, by Salvation Oil, and recommend this valuable medicine to be kept in every family.

Cat Lost.

A TORTOISE SHELL ANGORA CAT was lost Saturday night or Sunday; is quite shaggy. A suitable reward paid for her return to No. 6 Austin Street.

Spectacles.

LOST on Saturday, somewhere within a thousand feet of Market Square, a pair of SPECTACLES, in a case. The finder will be rewarded on returning the same to this office.

OFFICE OF THE U. S. MARSHAL,
PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Dec. 5th, 1885.

NOTICE is hereby given that a libel is filed before the Honorable Daniel Clark, Judge of the District of New Hampshire, by the Portland Company, a corporation existing under the laws of the State of Maine and having its place of business at Portland in said State of Maine, against the Steamer City of Portsmouth, now lying in the harbor of Portsmouth in said District of New Hampshire, her tackle, apparel and furniture, and also against all persons intervening for their interests therein,—in a cause of contract civil and maritime, and that trial will be had on said libel at a special District Court to be holden at the Court House in Concord in said District of New Hampshire on the (20th) twenty-second day of December, 1885, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon.

Said Steamer City of Portsmouth has been taken into my custody as by the monition issued in said cause directed. J. HORACE KENT, Deputy U. S. Marshal for the Dist. of New Hampshire. td

CONSUMPTION.

I have a positive remedy for the above disease; by its use thousands of cases of the worst kind and of long standing have been cured. Indeed, so strong is my faith in its efficacy, that I will send TWO BOTTLES FREE, together with a VALUABLE TREATISE on this disease, to any sufferer. Give express and P. O. address.
DR. T. A. SLOCUM, 181 Pearl St., New York.

DEAFNESS Its CAUSES and CURE, by one who was deaf twenty-eight years. Treated by most of the noted specialists of the day with no benefit. Cured himself in three months, and since then hundreds of others by same process. A plain, simple and successful home treatment. Address T. S. PAGE, 128 East 26th St., New York City.

I CURE FITS!

When I say cure I do not mean merely to stop them for a time and then have them return again. I mean a radical cure. I have made the disease of FITS, EPILEPSY or FALLING SICKNESS a life-long study. I warrant my remedy to cure the worst cases. Because others have failed is no reason for a hearing for a cure. Send at once for a treatise and a Free Bottle of my infallible remedy. Give Express and Post Office. It costs you nothing for a trial, and I will cure you. DR. H. G. ROOT, 183 Pearl St., N.Y.

BATCHELOR'S Factory, 81 East 13th St., N.Y. City.

"The Proper Study of Mankind is Man,"
Says the illustrious Pope. If he had included woman in the list, he would have been nearer the truth, if not so poetical. Dr. R. V. Pierce has made them both a life study, especially woman, and the peculiar derangements to which her delicate system is liable. Many women in this land who are acquainted with Dr. Pierce only through his "Favorite Prescription," bless him with all their hearts, for he has brought them the panacea for all those chronic ailments peculiar to their sex; such as leucorrhœa, prolapsus and other displacements, ulceration, "internal fever," bloating, tendency to internal cancer, and other ailments. Price reduced to one dollar. By druggists.

The comptroller of the currency has extended the corporate existence of the Laconia national bank, of Laconia, to Dec. 28th, 1905.

Life Preserver.
If you are losing your grip on life, try "Well's Health Renewer." Goes direct to weak spots.

A runaway couple were married in the saloon of steamer Zangler at Snowhill, Md., last Thursday. The pursuers were too late.

"Rough on Piles"
Cures piles or hemorrhoids, itching, protruding, bleeding, internal or other. Internal and external remedy in each package. Sure cure, 50c. Druggists.

Pretty Women.
Ladies who would retain freshness and vivacity. Don't fail to try "Well's Health Renewer."

Annie Keenan, fourteen years old, fell while taking part in the carnival at Jonesville, Wis., and is dying from a fractured skull.

"Rough On Itch."

No one knows better than those who have used Carter's Little Liver Pills what relief they have given when taken for dyspepsia, dizziness, pain in the side, constipation, disordered stomach, etc. Try them.

Dr. L. R. Sattler of Newark, N. J., is going to Paris to be treated by Prof. Pasteur, having been bitten by a mad dog.

Carter's Little Liver Pills may well be termed "Perfection." Their gentle action and good effect on the system, really make them a perfect little pill. They please those who use them.

It will cost the Dominion government $100,000 to reimburse the grocers and saloon keepers who obtained the licenses under the Dominion liquor act, which the privy council has declared unconstitutional.

Take Care of the Children.
For children, Brandreth's Pills are simply invaluable. One or two pills taken every night for ten days will cure them of scarlet fever, diphtheria, whooping cough, colds, diarrhœa or local pains.
Brandreth's Pills are purely vegetable—contain no mercury, mineral or dangerous drug. They require no care in diet or exposure, and are perfectly safe for old or young, male or female. One or two at night, for a week, taken on an empty stomach will cure the worst case of dyspepsia, liver complaint or rheumatism.

The Chinese at El Paso, Texas, are taking out naturalization papers. There are about 200 in the city. It is said that this course will be followed by all the Chinese throughout the southwest.

A Burglar Captured.
This morning about two o'clock, John Wood, the well-known plumber who resides on Maine street, was awakened by hearing glass break. On getting out of bed he received a blow on the head. He immediately grappled with the burglar, and after a terrible struggle succeeded in holding him until his wife obtained help. On being searched at the station, Mr. Wood's watch and wallet was found on his person. He gave the name of Robert Jerry. The broken glass proved to be a bottle of Sulphur Bitters which had almost cured Mrs. Wood of rheumatism.

The paintings belonging to the late George Whitney of Philadelphia were sold in New York last week. Amount realized, $73,822. The highest price paid for any one picture was for "Our Animal Driver," by Vautier, $5150.

Advice to Mothers.
Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhœa, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. STATUE OF "LIBERTY ENLIGHTENING THE WORLD."

More Money Needed.

The Committee in charge of the construction of the pedestal and the erection of the Statue, in order to raise funds for its completion, have prepared, from model furnished by the artist, a perfect-fac-simile Miniature Statuette, which they are delivering to subscribers throughout the United States at the following prices:
No. 1 Statuette, six inches in height,—the Statue bronzed; Pedestal, nickel-silvered,—at One Dollar each, delivered.
No. 2 Statuette, in same metal, twelve inches high, beautifully bronzed and nickeled, at Five Dollars each, delivered.
No. 3 Statuette, twelve inches high, finely chased, Statue bronzed, Pedestal, Heavily Silver-Plated, WITH PLUSH STAND, at Ten Dollars each, delivered.
Much time and money have been spent in perfecting the Statuettes, and they are much improved over the first sent out. The Committee will receive orders from subscribers many letters of commendation.
The New York World Fund of $100,000 completes the Pedestal, but it is estimated that $40,000 is yet needed to pay for the iron fastenings and the erection of the Statue.
Liberal subscriptions for the Miniature Statuettes will produce the desired amount.
Address, with remittance,
RICHARD BUTLER, Secretary,
American Committee of the Statue of Liberty,
33 Mercer Street, New York.

Blowing Up Hell Gate

Has been a laborious and costly work but the end justifies the effort. Obstruction in any important channel means disaster. Obstructions in the organs of the human body bring inevitable disease. They must be cleared away, or physical wreck will follow. Keep the liver in order, and the pure blood courses through the body, conveying health, strength and life; let it become disordered and the channels are clogged with impurities, which result in disease and death. Take Care of the Children.

For children, Brandreth's Pills are simply invaluable. One or two pills taken every night for ten days will cure them of scarlet fever, diphtheria, whooping cough, colds, diarrhœa or local pains. Brandreth's Pills are purely vegetable—contain no mercury, mineral or dangerous drug. They require no care in diet or exposure, and are perfectly safe for old or young, male or female. One or two at night, for a week, taken on an empty stomach will cure the worst case of dyspepsia, liver complaint or rheumatism.

LONGEVITY IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Statistics show that New Hampshire is pre-eminently the home of the centenarian, nonagenarian and octogenarian, of hale and hearty old men who began life with the republic. Indeed, so numerous are the veterans of the war of 1812 in some of the remote towns of the Granite State that a popular impression prevails there that "the last war," as it is still called by these warriors of bygone days, was fought entirely by New Hampshire regiments, and that from Lundy's Lane to the battle of New Orleans they carried the American banner to the front on every hard-contested field. Many theories have been spun as to why people should live to be older in New Hampshire than in Vermont or Maine. Of course, there must be some good reason for it. Perhaps it is because they take better care of their health and understand what is the right medicine for the right disease. Such at least would seem to be the inference from the following account by Charles M. Lampney, Esq., a well-known attorney and counsellor, of Hampton, N. H., of how he was cured of rheumatism:

"I have had several attacks of rheumatism within the last thirty years," he says, "and have got rid of them the best I could with the help of good physicians. The last attack, which began in April, 1884, was the severest. I was daily under the care of the doctor, who gave me the best attention to relieve me of the severe pain and to relax the contracted muscles. I was taken in the back of the neck. In a few days the pain moved down into the limbs, and in the course of three weeks had run all through the joints from head to foot. At the commencement of the fourth week it had apparently settled down to stay all over me from the back of the head to the toes, and I was unable to move any part of the body except the right hand at the wrist joints. The day before, Deacon Hobbs, a neighbor, who had been suffering for several months with rheumatism, sent me word that he was taking Athlophoros and that it was doing him good. My father accordingly sent to Boston for a bottle. It was brought into the house at 8 o'clock in the evening and found me lying in bed like a corpse.

"I was about to give up the ghost and of course was ready to take anything in hopes that it might do some good. A dose was administered and three hours later another. My hearing became obtuse and my head confused. I dropped into a sleep and slept all night. The next morning after waking I had no pain and could move any part of the body. In the course of three hours I sat up in bed without any assistance. I continued to take the medicine every three hours through the day and a part of the next day and then stopped.

"In a few days I had very severe rheumatic pains in the thumb, and when I went to bed one dose was administered. I slept all night and in the morning the pain was gone. A few days later it returned in the left hand very seriously. On retiring one dose was taken, followed by sleep and no pain in the morning. The whole amount of medicine taken was one and a half bottles, and I have had no occasion to use any since. I consider that the Athlophoros saved my life and I recommend it to all who have rheumatic troubles."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York.

CARTER MEDICINE CO., New York City.

McCullough and Williams.

When the ladies would leave him alone, which was not often, John was a good comrade and a bon vivant. He liked, above all things, a practical joke. A couple of years ago he struck up a great friendship with President Arthur and his set in Washington, and was the life of the table at all the diplomatic stag parties. About that time Gus Williams was blossoming out from the variety to the regular stage, and had acquired considerable reputation as a general raconteur of funny conceits and sprightly after-dinner wit.

McCullough, who had suffered from several practical jokes played on him by the Dutch comedian, determined to take him down and nip his reputation in the bud. He took John T. Raymond, Jim Collier, and the political coterie of Washington into his confidence, and the game was perfected.

The president gave a little dinner party, and, among others, Gus Williams was invited. It was impressed on him that he was celebrated at the white house as a very funny fellow, and he was expected to keep the table in a roar. He said nothing, but secretly laid himself out to do it. He reported at the dinner table with a choice budget of original witticisms, which he was sure could not fail to make a great effect when he got a chance to fire them off.

The dinner passed very merrily, but whenever Williams attempted to get off a joke he was sure to be interrupted by either McCullough or Raymond before the point of the joke could be brought out. At last, however, there was a lull, and he couldn't be staved off any longer. He began a story. The whole party listened with great gravity. The wag proceeded in his best style, working it up to the laughing point. The story was a good one, but they all preserved their equanimity and listened without a smile. When the climax came and the joker stopped there was a dead silence.

"Well, what then?" asked McCullough, after a painful pause.

"That's all of the story," replied Williams, sadly.

The tragedian gave him a pitying look, and, exchanging glances with the other actors, changed the subject.

Later the wit took heart again and tried on a new story, but the result was the same, and Williams noticed that the whole party cast looks of pity and astonishment at him. He grew secretly mad and desperate at this, and tried frequently, but still in vain, to make a point. Not a laugh did he get that night.

Afterward, on the way home, McCullough talked with the wit in a fatherly way.

"You made a terrific exhibition of yourself to-night, my boy," he said. "You need rest, and you'll take it if you are wise. Your brain is going. There's too much strain upon it, inventing jokes for years for your performances." He insisted on seeing the joker home and tucking him in bed, and then sent three doctors to him, at his own expense, to the great discomfiture of the funny man.—Chicago Times.

Theebaw's Soldiers.

With all his deficiencies, the Burmese soldier has one advantage over disciplined troops. He requires no commissariat, and is ready for serving at a few minutes' notice, a few pounds of rice and a little ngapi or fish-paste carried on his person sufficing for his very modest requirements. Not deficient in pluck, cheerful and obedient, and patient under physical hardship, it is found that for sudden and short expeditions, to chase rebels or to punish freebooters, he is second to none. There were reasonable hopes, therefore, of making him thoroughly efficient; but, in spite of every effort, the experiment had to be abandoned. The Burman is impracticable as regards routine and discipline. Drill is simply odious to him after the novelty wears off; an incorrigible sloven, he can not understand the necessity of keeping his arms and accoutrements clean and in a serviceable condition. Marching to and fro on sentry is to him simply ridiculous; he can not be reconciled to the loss of his cheroot, even when guarding a powder magazine; and night, as he sagely remarks, being allotted by an all-wise Providence as the time for sleep, he does not understand why he should then remain awake, even in cases where extra vigilance is required. Allowing the widest margin, it is doubtful whether Theebaw could collect more than thirty thousand muskets. One-third of these are more or less arms of precision, such as Remingtons and Sniders, while the rest are of the "Brown Bess" pattern, nearly all of which are unserviceable, and dangerous only to those who fire them off. To sum up, the Burmese army can not be relied on to deal successfully even with filibustering enterprises, such as that which resulted in the capture of Bhamo, and would be altogether powerless against disciplined troops armed with breech-loaders. So if the mandate goes forth to make Upper and Lower Burmah politically one country, as they are now one geographically, it might be carried out by a military promenade, with little or no bloodshed so far as the results of collisions between the troops of the two states are concerned.—The National Review.

A Sad Case.

The most tragic events will present themselves to the ordinary mind tinged with a certain personal application, sometimes very grotesque in its expression. On the occasion of a recent homicide which occurred at a leading restaurant in this city this fact was somewhat amusingly illustrated. A customer, pausing at the window, was addressed by the affable and polite French woman who presides over the receiving department. Pale as death, and evidently nearly prostrated by the shocking event, she proceeded, with Gallic volubility, to relate the harrowing details. Her auditor was quite impressed with the sympathy exhibited, but his appreciation was slightly modified by the concluding remark, accompanied by shaking her head and wiping the tears from her bright eyes: madame added in a voice trembling with emotion: "Yes, it was very dreadful. The house was full and everybody ran out, and oh, dear! I think we lost more than twenty dinners by it."—San Francisco.

Music from gas is the latest English invention. It is called pyrophone. Its compass is three octaves, with a keyboard, and it will be played in the same manner as an organ. It has thirty-seven glass tubes, in which a number of gas jets burn. These jets, placed in circles, contract and expand like the fingers of a hand. When the small burners separate the sound is produced; when they close together the sound ceases. The tone depends upon the number of the burners and the size of the pipes in which they burn, so that by a careful arrangement and selection all the notes of the musical scale may be produced in several octaves. Some of the glass tubes in which the jets burn are nearly 11 feet high.

The duchess of Connaught is a soldier's daughter as well as a soldier's wife, and she likes to feel that her husband is filling a suitable niche in her country's army; so the plucky little woman has urged that he ought to go back to India and take her with him, and it is stated that she has been heard because of her importunity.

Mr. Stedman's Latest Work.

We regret that our limited space permits us only to mention, not to describe the many excellences in the recently published volume of Mr. E. C. Stedman.

It is rare to find a poet of the acknowledged excellence of Mr. Stedman as a writer and a critic, who, with his knowledge of what comprises poetry and of the elements which constitute a poet, can give us an impartial and correct statement of the American school of poetry, and discuss the merits and defects of his poetic friends, living or gone before, in the just, discriminating and sincere style which is seen throughout Mr. Stedman's volume. The book will at once take its place as standard authority upon American poety, and herein is its great value. It is the unprejudiced testimony of an eminently able expert upon a subject of which people can afford to acquire much information not heretofore possessed. Hence it is not to be wondered at, that although the readers of poetry and the better publications of the day may be far less than those who enjoy "nothing but leaves," yet the first edition of Mr. Stedman's book was early exhausted. The book deserves the success it has achieved. It is the result of a long, patient, painstaking effort on the part of the writer to do even justice to his cotemporaries of early and late years, without a single particle of prejudice in its composition. It is ten years since the completion of the critical survey of the poets of England by this author, whose training and correct taste afford us now a second valuable addition to English literature, in the shape of a volume readable alike by the lettered and the unlearned. The pages bare marginal notes. A copious index will be of service to those using the volume as a work of reference. This book will be found in every well selected library, and need we add that it is one of the most judicious presents that can be found at this season in the book stores.

AFFAIRS IN KITTERY.

KITTERY, ME., Dec. 22d.

Mr. Herbert A. Harrold, who left here for Victoria, Orange county, Florida, about two years ago, describes it as a most beautiful place. Since his settling there a broad-gauge railroad has been built, with a depot one-half mile from his house, giving easy access to all trains going north and south; there is also a daily mail. The land is high and rolling, making it especially adapted for orange and vegetable growing, and is considered the best in the state. Victoria is surrounded by deep fresh-water lakes, full of fish of different kinds. There are several good openings for stores, sawmill, etc. Persons desiring any information in regard to land, climate, etc., will do well to address Mr. Harrold, who will be pleased to give it.

Mr. Ephraim A. Cook of Hampton, N. H., formerly of this town, has raised this season about twenty-five bushels of red kidney beans of extra quality. As this variety of bean is quoted at the highest price in the market, our friend "Eph's" bean crop will bring him in a good little sum.

Morrill lodge of Good Templars, of North Kittery, are making arrangements to have an entertainment about New Year's. They are contemplating the purchase of a new organ.

Mrs. Ephraim A. Cook with her little daughter, of Hampton, N. H., and Miss Emma F. Clark of Newburyport, Mass., returned last week from visiting friends in North Kittery and vicinity.

We are still on the qui vive for the postoffice in North Kittery. Two parties recently stood up a stick, and it fell that way. This is alleged to be just as sure a way to tell, as an apple-tree twig in the hand of a "diviner" is to find a vein of water twenty feet under ground.

SUB ROSA.

The country trade in this city was brisk on Monday, and on Tuesday the stores were thronged with buyers. Persons who drove in from Hampton and Rye ways, Tuesday, reported the sleighing to be as good as could be asked.

Mr. L. E. Staples has added a full line of Paine's Common-Sense Jackets to his stock. These jackets being very serviceable articles of wearing apparel, and to be had at a comparatively low price, make them excellent Christmas presents. Their use by ladies and gentlemen will, we believe, become very general.—Times

On Saturday evening, Abbie Wilson of York was making a call on some friends in the vicinity of the Cape Neddick house, when two men came along, cut the bells off the harness, jumped into the sleigh and drove eastward, to the discomfiture of the lady, who came out of the door in time to see them going down the road.—Penny Post.

The Biddeford Journal of Dec. 21st contained the following despatch from North Parsonsfield: "Yesterday Mrs. Margaret Edgcomb, familiarly known as 'Aunt Polly,' died at the great age of 104 years. Mrs. Edgcomb (Fletcher) was born in Kennebunkport, Cape Porpoise, Aug. 18, 1781. She married and moved to Parsonsfield in 1810. She became a pensioner under the act of March, 1875. About five years ago she became helpless, since which time she has been well cared for by her daughter Dorcas at the house of Mr. Enoch Alley. The worn-out cord of life was sundered without a struggle."

The Biddeford Times of Dec. 21st said: "Mrs. Hettie Clough, wife of Charles Clough of Dayton, died yesterday. Her exact age was unknown, but she was known to be over a hundred years old. She was a native of Kennebunk. The last twenty years of her life have been spent in bed."

"The Lucky Galveston Screwman."

John Brunton, a cotton screwman of Galveston city, held one-fifth of ticket No. 3 238, which drew the Third Capital Prize of $10,000 in The Louisiana State Lottery Drawing of Nov. 12th, and cashed it was.—Galveston (Tex.) News, Nov. 13th. Next!

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

Notice is given that a lighthouse, erected by the government of Canada on Green point, which forms the western head of the entrance to Hubbard's cove in St. Margaret's bay, in the county of Lunenburg, N. S., will be put in operation on Jan. 1st, 1886, in lat. 44 37 14 N., longitude 64 3 8 W. The light is fixed red, elevated sixty feet above water and should be visible eleven miles all points of approach. The illuminating apparatus is dioptric, of small size. The building is of wood, painted white, and consists of a square tower forty-two feet in height from the ground to the vane of the lantern, with keeper's dwelling attached.

The Dover Democrat of Dec. 21st says: "A dispatch from Washington at three P. M. to-day, states that the president has nominated to the senate, Mark F. Nason for postmaster of Dover. As the author of the dispatch is well known to us, we presume the statement to be true. Comments reserved for another occasion, if the report is verified."

Rheumatism

It is an established fact that Hood's Sarsaparilla has proven an invaluable remedy in many severe cases of rheumatism, effecting remarkable cures by its powerful action in correcting the acidity of the blood, which is the cause of the disease, and purifying and enriching the vital fluid.

It is certainly fair to assume that what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for others it will do for you. Therefore, if you suffer the pains and aches of rheumatism, give this potent remedy a fair trial.

A Positive Cure.

"I was troubled very much with rheumatism in my hips, ankles, and wrists. I could hardly walk, and was confined to my bed a good deal of the time. Being recommended to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, I took four bottles and am perfectly well. I cheerfully recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla as one of the best blood purifiers in the world." W. F. Wood, Bloomington, Ill.

For Twenty Years

I have been afflicted with rheumatism. Before 1883 I found no relief, but grew worse. I then began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it did me more good than all the other medicine I ever had." H. T. Balcom, Shirley, Mass.

"I suffered from what the doctors called muscular rheumatism. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and am entirely cured." J. V. A. Proudfoot, letter carrier, Chicago, Ill.

We shall be glad to send, free of charge to all who may desire, a book containing many additional statements of cures by

As the time is fast approaching when people will be looking for the beautiful, to make their annual Christmas gifts from, we would respectfully call attention to our stock, selected expressly for the holiday trade.

Our stocks of WATCHES, JEWELRY, CLOCKS, SILVER-PLATED WARE and FANCY NOVELTIES, were never as large as it is now. We take this occasion to thank our friends and the public in general for the confidence and liberal patronage they have bestowed on us for the last six years since leaving the house of HUTCHINSON & CONNELL, and in the future as in the past our motto will be, "Knowledge & Honesty." First, we understand our business in all its branches fully, and cannot take advantage of our customers through ingorance; Second, we sell everything for just what it is.

Our rep tation for skilled Watch work is too well established to need any comment upon; there is no better engraving done in the State than we send out.

Please do not look in our window and think you see the bulk of our stock, for we cannot show but a small part of our stock in the window. Our show-cases are full, our safe is full. Please come in and let us show you.

We could quote our prices but do not think it wise to do so in a newspaper, but bring the largest buyer in our line of any dealer in the State, we can give prices that no one can honestly beat.

The custom is growing in favor of purchasing Xmas gifts early and having them laid away, we already have several Silver and Gold Watch s and Chains sold, some of them to be sent out of the State. Please call early and see if we cannot please you in every way. Respectfully,

JAMES R. CONNELL, 7 Congress Street,

MASONIC ELECTION.

At the annual convocation of Washington Chapter, No. 3, Royal Arch Masons, held at Masonic hall on Tuesday evening, Dec. 22d, the following were elected officers for the ensuing year:

W. Freeman, H. P.;
O. G. Fernald, K.;
H. G. Tanton, S.;
John Nutter, Treasurer;
W. G. Billings, Recorder.

CHRISTMAS FESTIVALS.

The Methodist church and Sunday school will have their Christmas tree and festival in the church on Christmas eve.

The Christmas festival of the North church and Sunday school will be in the chapel of the society on Middle street on Tuesday evening, Dec. 29th.

The Unitarians will have their Christmas tree and festival in Franklin hall on the evening of the 30th.

A correspondent at Cape Neddick, Me., informs us that "they are to have a Christmas tree on Boon island, and the youngsters are anticipating a great time." We hope their highest anticipations will be realized.

THE THEATRE.

The Criterion Dramatic Co. played "The New Magdalen" on Tuesday evening, and played it well, to an audience of moderate size. This evening "The Pirates of the Gulf" will be presented.

HAMPTON JOTTINGS.

HAMPTON, Dec. 21st.

There were but small congregations in attendance at divine services in the several churches last Sabbath; the high wind completely filled the air with the light snow, making it anything but pleasant to be out of doors.

The farmers are improving the sledding by getting out their logs and firewood before the snow gets deep in the woods and fields.

Mr. Frank Laird, our new postmaster, is making arrangements to move his apothecary store into larger quarters; his stock of drugs, medicines, perfumery, etc., is as large and well selected as any village drug store in the state can show.

The scholars of the Bride hill district will have a literary entertainment and Christmas tree in their schoolhouse on Thursday evening, the 24th.

Mr. William E. Noyes of North Kittery, Me., passed the Sabbath at Mr. Ephraim A. Cook's on Bride hill.

E. F. C.

The holiday trade is more brisk and extensive this year than for a number of years past, the stores this week being fairly thronged with purchasers. A large variety of the richest and choicest fancy articles can be found at Preston's, while Connell, near by, has an extensive and varied stock of watches, jewelry, gold and silver ware, etc. H. B Buzzell & Son, Market square, have an almost infinite variety of fancy goods, and Christmas and New Year cards; M. Goodrich, corner of Daniel and Market streets, in addition to his ordinary very large list of books and fancy articles has received an extensive consignment of toys of many kinds, which he is selling at very low prices; and at Montgomery's music and art store, on Pleasant street, can be found a greater variety of beautiful articles to choose from than ever before. Of the immense stock of goods, of many kinds and all prices, to be seen in the Boston 99 cent store on Market street, we have before spoken; it would seem that in the bewildering profusion of the display at that store, every one might be able to find something to suit. Furs, laces, ribbons, handkerchiefs, and a thousand and one other articles suitable for gifts to ladies, can be found in the immense establishment of Ayers & Locke, or at Staples' on the opposite side of Market street; while anything desired in the shape of a fancy lamp or fine house furnishings, can be had at J. P. Sweetser's or Charles W. Taylor's. In short, for whatever is needed, whether in the line of fancy goods, clothing, footwear or articles for the table, a perusal of our advertising columns will tell the intending purchaser just where to find the best stores and most reliable dealers in the city.

A social dance under the management of a committee of fishermen was held in the south ward-room on Tuesday evening.

Mr. Conn has at No. 68 State street a superior lot of geese and turkeys, and a big lot of them, too; there is no need to look elsewhere for a choice bird for the Christmas table. Almost anything else required for the Christmas dinner can be found at C. E. Laighton & Son's, John J. Laskey's, Gerrish's or John Laighton's.

Miss Margaret Loughton, who has for nearly six years successfully taught the grammar school at Newcastle, has resigned her position. It is not known whom the town will secure in her place.

The chief engineer of the fire department has given orders that Col. Sise steamer, No. 2, shall answer all first alarms tha: may be given hereafter during the winter.

If you feel inclined to present yourself or anyone else with an overcoat or other ready made garment, C. E. Myers & Co. have a large stock, and reliance can be placed in the goods being exactly as represented.

It has been currently reported that Miss Ullie Akerstrom, the actress, who recenly played a weeks engagement in this city, was affected by brain trouble, caused by overwork. It is authoritatively announced that there is no truth whatever in the report.

Capt. I. H. Washburne, of the marine corps, has been placed on the retired list of the navy.

Charles Woodman, Esq., of Dover, a wealthy and for many years one of the prominent citizens of that place, died Dec. 21st. He was several times an alderman of the city; was a director of the Dover & Winnepiseogee railroad and the Strafford national bank, and was a large owner of real estate. The building on the corner of Daniel street and Market square in this city was owned by him.

The schooner Cora Greenwood, bound from Boston to Bristol, Me., in attempting to make this harbor, Monday afternoon, went aground on Fort point, and hung there until high tide that night, when she came off without much damage.

MARITIME NOTES.

There is considerable complaint among the Ipswich bay fishermen in regard to the robbing of trawls. The schooner Grace Choate had her trawls skinned on Monday, not only the fish being taken, but the buoys and anchors also. The trawlers say the net-fishermen are the thieves, but if we remember aright the same complaints of robbing trawls were common before the gill-net was introduced in the American codfishery.

The schooner Emily A. Staples, owned by Joseph Ham of Boston and commanded by Capt. Frank P. Coleman of Newington, left Boston on the 18th of April for Saco, Me., to begin carrying bricks from the latter port to Boston; and she discharged her last cargo at Boston on Nov. 16th, having during the season made nineteen round trips, transporting 1,239,020 bricks, beside some return freight, without accident of any kind, stocking $2496.27, and netting her owner 37 1-2 per cent. During the season she sailed 4420 miles, and went through bridges 288 times. She made one trip from Saco to Boston and back, discharging in Boston, and passing through bridges fourteen times, in three days, five hours and fifteen minutes, including Sunday, during which day the schooner had to lie idle in Boston; taking that day out the trip was made in two days, five hours and fifteen minutes, the best time ever made on that route.

The schooner Emerald, Wylie master, arrived on Tuesday with a fare of fish. Prices rule low, and will continue to until after the holidays. Some of the fishing vessels kept hold of the wharves, their skippers not caring to try for fish at at present prices.

The tug Clara Batemen went to the Shoals on Tuesday, to tow from Smuttynose island the schooners Loella and Lucy, which have been neaped in the dock there. The Loella, with cured fish, oil, etc., the product of Mr. Lemuel B. Caswell's summer fishery, goes to Gloucester; the Lucy will haul up for the winter at this port.

The claim of the Portland Machine Co. against the steamer City of Portsmouth has been adjusted, and the libel dismissed from the docket.

"If the heart of a man is depressed with cares, the mist is dispelled when the bottle appears." Not a bottle of spirits, oh no! but a small vial of that invaluable compound known to civilization as Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

WHAT IS DYSPEPSIA?
Among the many symptoms of Dyspepsia or indigestion the most prominent are: Variable appetite; faint, gnawing feeling at pit of the stomach, with unsatisfied craving for food; heartburn, feeling of weight and wind in the stomach, bad breath, bad taste in the mouth, low spirits, general prostration, headache, and constipation. There is no form of disease more prevalent than Dyspepsia, and none so peculiar to the high-living and rapid-eating American people. Alcohol and tobacco produce Dyspepsia; also, bad air, rapid eating, etc. BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS will cure the worst case, by regulating the bowels and toning up the digestive organs. Sold everywhere.

CONSUMPTION.

I have a positive remedy for the above disease; by its use thousands of cases of the worst kind and of long standing have been cured. I shall send, free of charge, to any sufferer, two bottles of my remedy, together with a VALUABLE TREATISE on this disease to any sufferer. Give express and P. O. address.
DR. T. A. SLOCUM, 181 Pearl St., New York City.

DEAFNESS Its CAUSES and CURE,

by one who was deaf twenty-eight years. Treated by most of the noted specialists of the day with no benefit. Cured himself in three months, and since then hundreds of others by same process. A plain, simple and successful home treatment. Address T. S. PAGE, 128 East 26th St., New York City.

I CURE FITS!

When I say cure I do not mean merely to stop them for a time and then have them return again, I mean a radical cure. I have made the disease of FITS, EPILEPSY or FALLING SICKNESS a lifelong study. I warrant my remedy to cure the worst cases. Because others have failed is no reason why I do not now receive a cure. Send at once for a treatise and a free bottle of my infallible remedy. Give Express and Post Office. It costs you nothing for a trial, and I will cure you. Dr. H. G. ROOT, 183 Pearl St., N.Y.

SALVO REMEDY!

TESTIMONIALS.

CHAS. MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"Inventors cannot employ a person more trustworthy or more capable of securing for them as early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, October 19, 1870.
R. H. EDDY, Esqr. my dear Sir: You procured for me, in 1860, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have occasionally employed at the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still always return to the wind of my business, to your door, and advise others to employ you.
Yours truly, GEORGE DRAPER.

I found it a sure cure. I have been troubled with catarrhal deafness for seven or eight years with a roaring noise in my head. I bought medicine in 13 states but nothing helped me till I procured a bottle of Ely's Cream Balm. In four days I could hear as well as ever. I am cured of the catarrh as well. I consider Ely's Cream Balm the best medicine ever made.—Garrett Widrick, Hastings, N. Y.

A man well armed and provided with considerable money was arrested at Council Bluffs, Iowa, on the 19th inst. He said that he was on his way to Washington to kill the president and rid the country of the democrats.

No one knows better than those who have used Carter's Little Liver Pills what relief they have given when taken for dyspepsia, dizziness, pain in the side, constipation, disordered stomach, etc. Try them.

A typhoon swept over the Philippine islands on November 7th, destroying over 4,400 buildings, including thirteen churches and ten convents. Eighteen lives were lost, and 500 head of cattle perished.

Carter's Little Liver Pills may well be termed "Perfection." Their gentle action and good effect on the system, really make them a perfect little pill. They please those who use them.

Senator Standford denies the story that Gen. Grant endeavored to induce him to become a republican candidate for president in the last campaign.

James Pyle's Pearline is constantly growing in popular favor—and no wonder, for it is wonderfully effective and pleasant to use. It saves half the labor of washing, and does not hurt the clothes.

The London Athenæum lightly mentions Cheyenne mountain, in Colorado, as "Mount Cheyenne, a hill." "A hill," 10,000 or 12,000 feet high, and so big that if you could balance it on Great Britain it would sink the island!

STATUE OF "LIBERTY ENLIGHTENING THE WORLD."

More Money Needed.

The Committee in charge of the construction of the pedestal and the erection of the statue, in order to pay the Iron Finish for its completion, have prepared, from model furnished by the artist, a perfect facsimile of Miniature Statuettes which they are delivering to subscribers throughout the United States at the following prices:

No. 1 Statuette, six inches in height,—the Status bronzed; Pedestal, nickel-silvered,—at One Dollar each, delivered.

No. 2 Statuette, in same metal, twelve inches high, beautifully bronzed and nickeled, at Five Dollars each, delivered.

No. 3 Statuette, twelve inches high, finely chased, Statue bronzed, Pedestal, Heavily Silver-Plated, with extra wrance, at Ten Dollars each, delivered.

Much time and money have been spent in perfecting the Statuettes, and they are much improved over the first sent out. The Committee have received from subscribers many letters of commendation.

The New York World Fund of $100,000 completes the Pedestal, but it is estimated that $50,000 is yet needed to pay for the iron finishings and the erection of the Statue.

Liberal subscriptions for the Miniature Statuettes will produce the desired amount.

Address, with remittance,
RICHARD MUELLER, Secretary,
American Committee of the Statue of Liberty,
38 Mercer Street, New York.

TWO RIVAL CITIES.

In the long and at times bitter rivalry between Connecticut's two biggest cities—Hartford and New Haven—honors now seem to be pretty equally divided. Hartford has secured the State Capital, one of the most beautiful in the country, situated in a lovely park, but New Haven has gone ahead in population. In the political rivalry between the two, also New Haven, by her Democratic majority, has succeeded in putting the trim little State on the list of those that voted for President Cleveland. Hartford, however, is just now proud of having had her many charms set forth at length, with plenty of illustrations, in the pages of Harpers' Magazine, and so the struggle goes on. Brains will succeed in putting one or the other city ahead, and just here it may be said that New Haven has an exceptionally brainy bar. But, then, Hartford has more literary people—Charles Dudley Warner, Mark Twain, Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe and others. Among the able lawyers of New Haven is Edward A. Anketell, the assistant clerk of the Superior Court, who office is No. 10 in the Court House. Mr. Anketell is well known to the legal profession throughout Connecticut and has also the reputation of being a favored writer for the press. As such this little story, coming from him under date of September 24, 1885, possesses no slight interest:

"Day before yesterday, and for a day or two prior thereto, I suffered great pain in my right arm, which I felt sure was rheumatic. Being determined to do something to relieve the pain if possible I sent out and got a bottle of Athlophoros, and took three doses during the day. Yesterday morning the pain was nearly gone and one more dose completed the cure, so that today my arm is as well as ever."

Mr. Anketell was wise in taking such prompt measures to check the pain. Doubtless if Mr. Morris Hobbs, of Hampton, N. H., had known of the existence of Athlophoros, the rheumatism from which he suffered would have been cured with equal speed long ago. Mr. Hobbs thus tells the story of his cure:

"I had the rheumatism nine months before I heard of your Athlophoros. I was prostrate all that time and could do nothing. I had several doctors, but they did no good. I tried all the medicine I could hear of with no better results. At last I saw Athlophoros advertised and sent for some. On the day it arrived I took three doses in the afternoon before I went to bed, and that night I slept as well as I did when a boy. It seemed to kill the pain at once, and I never have been troubled since. My joints were badly swollen at the time, but as soon as the pain stopped the swelling began to go down very gradually. I am satisfied that if I had taken Athlophoros when I was first troubled with the disease it would have saved me $500 in expenses, time and pain.

"I have recommended it to several others in this place with equally good results. One case was that of a boy 15 years old, who was so badly afflicted with rheumatism that his father had to carry him up stairs to bed for two weeks. His mother came to me to inquire about Athlophoros. I advised her to get it at once by all means and she did. In two days after taking the medicine the boy was out at play with other boys, being entirely cured and has been well ever since."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK HEADACHE

yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

HEAD ACHE

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold by druggists everywhere, or sent by mail.

The proposed universal day meets with no encouragement from astronomers. Upon the proposition to count the hours of the day from 0 to 24 in civil life one of them says that it will scarcely ever be adopted, for nobody (except, perhaps, sick people lying in bed), will have patience to count the strokes of the clock up to twenty-four.

Doctors say that mothers who have pride in the weight of their newly-born children should weigh them as soon as possible after birth. Children lose weight during the three first days of life, and the loss sometimes amounts to twelve ounces or more. It takes them nearly a week to regain the weight they had at the time of birth.

When Rubinstein was in this country "Josh Billings" was introduced to him, and the pianist in conversation presently endeavored to impress upon the Yankee an idea of his high family rank. "Indeed," he said, "I have ascertained that my ancestors were prominent men in the Crusades, and one of them accompanied the Emperor Barbarossa." "On the piano, I suppose," said Josh.

Mme. Annie Louise Cary Raymond, while in Scarboro, Me., last summer, learned of a little girl in town who had a hip trouble that threatened to cause permanent deformity. Mrs. Raymond had the child sent to the Maine General Hospital, where she maintains a free bed, and under the excellent treatment there the little patient seems likely to be entirely cured.

A writer in the Eastern Medical Journal says that the medical idea of a teaspoonful is one fluid drachm. This is, in fact, about the measurement of that article as used by our grandmothers. But this and the dessert spoon are now made so much larger than formerly that they hold nearly two drachms, and people who measure medicine by them overdose themselves. The tablespoon remains as in the old days.

Justice always falls on somebody in China. A barber in Haukow threatened his assistant with prosecution on the charge of stealing 27 cents, whereupon the accused man took opium. An official investigation was ordered, but the barber bought up the mandarin, who acquitted him, but, as it was necessary to make an example of somebody, ordered the policeman in whose beat the barber lived to be fined and severely whipped.

It is said that the first restrictive liquor law ever passed in this country was enacted in a little town in Rhode Island and read as follows: "Every saloonkeeper who sells more than one gallon of liquor to a minor shall be fined $1 and costs." The first temperance pledge remembered in circulation in New England was thus worded: "I solemnly swear to abstain from the use of intoxicating liquors on all occasions except on training days, wedding days, banquets, and other great occasions."

The popular old ballad of "Billee Taylor" is said to have been written in honor of one Hannah Snell, who lived in the last century. She pursued her lover, not to kill him, but to tie him firmly to her apron strings. She married Jim Lums at Wapping. Lums was a Dutch sailor, who squandered her money and then ran off and left her. She donned man's clothing and pursued, enlisting as a marine and doing valiant service in Admiral Boscowen's fleet. Learning that her husband had been executed for murder, she returned to Wapping and long kept a public house there.

Houses in Finland are built by first raising a substantial foundation of stone several feet above the ground. Upon this beams are piled one above the other, dovetailed at the corners, and packed with moss and other good non-conducting material, and firmly fastened to each other by wooden pegs so as to make up the walls. Deals are laid on the outside of the walls, and they are carved, painted and otherwise adorned, according to the wealth and fancy of the owner. Houses thus constructed are very warm. The Czar and Czarina slept in one of them on their recent visit to Finland.

The O'Connell family had two divisions. The liberator headed the famous one. His brother James, who was made a baronet finally, remained till his death a prosperous British official. Mrs. Morgan O'Connell, of the boycotting of whom by her tenants so much has recently been reported, married Sir James O'Connell's son.

A Valuable Medical Treatise.

The edition for 1886 of the sterling Medical Annual, known as Hostetter's Almanac, is now ready, and may be obtained, free of cost, of druggists and general country dealers in all parts of the United States, Mexico, and indeed in every civilized portion of the Western Hemisphere. This Almanac has been issued regularly at the commencement of every year for one-fifth of a century. It combines, with the soundest practical advice for the preservation and restoration of health, a large amount of interesting and amusing light reading, and the calendar, astronomical calculations, chronological items, etc., are prepared with great care, and will be found entirely accurate. The issue of Hostetter's Almanac for 1886 will probably be the largest edition of a medical work ever published in any country. The proprietors, Messrs. Hostetter & Co., Pittsburgh, Pa., on receipt of a two cent stamp, will forward a copy by mail to any person who cannot procure one in his neighborhood.

Good News from Washington.

One application well rubbed in of Salvation Oil cured me of rheumatism in the arm, of two months' standing. I never intend to be without it. H. B. Kramer, 234 1st St. S. E., Washington, D. C.

A syndicate, consisting of Hon. J. R. Bodwell of Hallowell, Me., and Boston and Portland parties, has purchased a controlling interest in the water company of Augusta, Me., and next year will erect extensive water works above the dam, applying the Holly system. Large mains will be extended both sides of the river for supplying the city with water.

Catarrh

Is a very prevalent and exceedingly disagreeable disease, liable, if neglected, to develop into serious consumption. Being a constitutional disease, it requires a constitutional remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, acting through the blood, reaches every part of the system, effecting a radical and permanent cure of catarrh in even its most severe forms. Prepared by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

The last hope of rescuing any of the imprisoned miners at Nanticoke, Pa., has been abandoned.

A Burglar Captured

This morning about two o'clock, John Wood, the well-known plumber who resides on Maine street, was awakened by hearing glass break. On getting out of bed he received a blow on the head. He immediately grappled with the burglar, and after a terrible struggle succeeded in holding him until his wife obtained help. On being searched at the station, Mr. Wood's watch and wallet was found on his person. He gave the name of Robert Jerry. The broken glass proved to be a bottle of Sulphur Bitters which had almost cured Mrs. Wood of rheumatism.

Sergeant Liebmann of the signal service arrived at Rockport, Mass., Dec. 21st, to close the station on Thatcher's island, on account of the expense of keeping the cable in repair. Communication has been interrupted to the island for nine months. The inspector has recommended that the station be removed to Straitsmouth island, where it will be much more easily kept in repair, and equally serviceable.

They Don't Like It.

The London Standard, commenting on Secretary Manning's report, makes a savage attack on the American tariff system. The tariff, it says, is a nationally-sustained promoter of business dishonesty, under which all forms of rascality thrive. It also charges that all American exported manufactured goods are shoddy.

The fact is that the American tariff system is not devised especially to benefit the British manufacturers, but to protect the American manufacturers and working people; that it is fairly effective is shown by the wrath of the British papers, such as the New York Nation and Evening Post, on this side of the water, and the Standard and Times on the other.

As to American exported manufactured goods being all shoddy, it is notorious that many British articles of export to India, China, and even to the British colonies of New Zealand and Australia, are stamped with the forged names and trade marks of American manufacturers.

Wasting the Country's Time.

The president and his cabinet have been photographed. We hope no republican newspapers will find in this a sufficient waste of the country's time to start a national issue out of it.—Manchester Union.

Don't be alarmed, brother. It is not the republican papers which for twenty-five years past have howled, every time the president or a member of his cabinet has stepped outside of Washington, about "our absentee president" or "our absentee cabinet," and wailed over the outrageous waste of the people's time by the people's paid servants! It was "the democratic house" which insolently demanded of President Grant a bill of particulars regarding his absences from the capital, and which received from that quiet hero a slap in the face which must have made its cheeks tingle.

When President Cleveland was adrift in the Adirondacks all last summer, and the members of his cabinet were scattered abroad, leaving only that fearful and wonderful lawyer, Attorney General Garland, to represent the administration at the national capitol, the republican papers had no fault to find; and neither did the democratic papers, though their sorrows too were great to be borne if Grant ran down to Long Branch for a day, or Arthur left the White House for a week when the thermometer indicated a hundred degrees above zero.

A Washington despatch of Dec. 22d says: "Secretary Lamar will spend the holidays at his home in Mississippi, and will leave here this evening or tomorrow. Assistant Secretary Jenks will leave Washington tomorrow for his home near Pittsburg, returning about Jan. 4th. The commissioner of patents, Mr Montgomery, is now at his home in Michigan, and is not expected to return before Jan. 6th.

Naval Battle.

Reports have been received at Baltimore, Md., of an attack on the state police sloop Carrie, Wingate master, by a large force of oystermen belonging to Somerset county. The sloop was lying at anchor, when more than fifty oystermen, armed with guns, pistols and knives, surrounded her in boats. Captain Wingate's men attempted to repel the attack, and a small cannon in the police boat was brought into use. It is reported that one of the dredgers' boats was sunk. The oystermen finally forced the police sloop to retreat. Just before sunrise on the 21st inst. Deputy Commander Clark of the oyster navy made a raid on a fleet of oyster vessels illegally dredging, and succeeded in capturing seven of them.

New Hampshire Insurance.

The committee appointed by the New Hampshire Club "to confer with authorities of the state and insurance boards, to see if any action can be taken to harmonize present difficulties between them to enable all to obtain the amount of insurance they require," met at Hotel Windsor in Manchester on the 22d inst., and discussed the insurance question at length: On home insurance, Charles H. Bell of Exeter, E. H. Rollins of Dover, David H. Goodell of Antrim, C. H. Sawyer of Dover, J. W. Sanborn of Wolfboro; on foreign insurance, C. H. Amsden of Penacook, W. S. Pillsbury of Londonderry, J. S. Collins of Gilsum; on statistics, E. M. Slayton of Manchester, C. J. Amidon of Hinsdale, H. C. Merril of Manchester. The meeting adjourned subject to the call of Chairman James A. Weston.

It is reported that Miss Annie E. Smart, for a number of years past a public school teacher in this city, has been offered a position as teacher in Chicopee, Mass., and will accept it.

Young ladies, on the eve of marriage, now give "spinster dinners," at which female friends only are entertained. They are allowed to talk of every thing, and never fail to mention the numerous curative benefits of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup that cures all coughs, colds, bronchitis, croup, and sore throat.

—A minister, having taught his little girl the Lord's prayer, was surprised to hear her repeat it with the following variations: "Give us this day our daily bread, or biscuit and honey, if you please."

I found it a sure cure. I have been troubled with catarrhal deafness for seven or eight years with a roaring noise in my head. I bought medicine in 13 states but nothing helped me till I procured a bottle of Ely's Cream Balm. In four days I could hear as well as ever. I am cured of the catarrh as well. I consider Ely's Cream Balm the best medicine ever made.—Garrett Widrick, Hastings, N. Y.

As the time is fast approaching when people will be looking for the beautiful, to make their for the annual Christmas gifts from, we would respectfully call attention to our stock, selected expressly holiday trade.

Our stocks of WATCHES, JEWELRY, CLOCKS, SILVER-PLATED WARE and FANCY NOVELTIES, were never as large as this year. We take this occasion to thank our friends and the public in general for the confidence and liberal patronage they have bestowed on us for the last six years since leaving the house of HUTCHINSON & CONNELL, and in the future as in the past our motto will be, "Knowledge & Honesty:" First, we understand our business in all its branches fully, and cannot take advantage of our customers through ignorance; second, we sell everything for just what it is.

Our reputation for skilled Watch work is too well established to need any comment upon; there is no better engraving done in the State than we send out.

Please do not look in our window and think you see the bulk of our stock, for we cannot show but a small part of our stock in the window. Our show-cases are full, our safe is full. Please come in and let us show you.

We could quote our prices but do not think it wise to do so in a newspaper, but being the largest buyer in our line of any dealer in the State, we can give prices that no one can honestly beat.

The custom is growing in favor of purchasing Xmas gifts early and having them laid away, we already have several Silver and Gold Watch and Chains sold, some of them to be sent out of the State. Please call early and see if we cannot please you in every way. Respectfully,

JAMES R. CONNELL, 7 Congress Street,

CHRISTMAS EVE.

The following is the programme of music to be given at the Unitarian church this (Thursday) evening, by Miss Edith Wendell, soprano, Mrs. Emma J. Williams, contralto, Mr. Eos Idris, tenor, Mr. Henry L. Harlow, basso and musical director, and Miss Lizzie M. Davis, organist — the regular choir of the church:

Overture, "Norma," Bellini.

Christmas Anthem, "There were Shepherds," Buck.

Tenor Solo, recitative, "Comfort ye my people;" air, "Every valley shall be exalted," from "the Messiah," Handel.

MR. IDRIS.

Festival Jubilate, Wm. Berge.

Priest's War March, Mendelssohn.

VIOLIN AND ORGAN.

The church is handsomely dressed with evergreen for this revival of the Christmas eve service, which though formerly observed every year by the society has not prevailed for over quarter of a century.

CHRISTMAS FESTIVALS.

Thursday afternoon (Christmas eve) at five o'clock, carol service of the three Sunday schools, — St. John's, Christ church and the navy yard,—in St. John's church;

Christmas day, forenoon services at the usual hour in St. John's church, with sermon, and holy communion; music by choir, assisted by chorus choir from the choir chapter;

Saturday, Dec. 26th, St. Stephen's day, regular services at 10:30 A. M., with communion;

Sunday forenoon, in St. John's, Christmas music repeated; Suuday afternoon, usual service in Christ church.

On Wednesday, Dec. 30th, at the Casino, Christmas tree and festival of the three Sunday schools, with dancing and other social amusements.

The Pearl street Freewill Baptist society and Sunday school have a Christmas tree in the audience room of the church this evening. Those not having a regular church home are invited to participate in the festivities of the evening.

POLICE COURT--BATCHELDER J.

WEDNESDAY, Dec. 23d.

William Fahey and John Dawson, two bummers, were assessed $9.90 each for drunkenness. Their hearts were made glad by their committal to Brentwood in default of payment of fines.

STILL ADVANCING.

At the brokers' board in Boston, on the 23d inst., Eastern railroad stock made an advance of $1 to $69 per share, but later on, in sympathy with the rest of the list, dropped back to 67 1-2, closing, however, at sixty-eight bid, sixty-nine asked. The syndicate continued to take all the stock offered. The Post in its financial article for that day said:

A widespread belief in a speedy consolidation of Eastern and Boston & Maine is the cause of the strength and activity of the stock. As matters now look, the day when Eastern crosses par cannot be far distant in the year 1886. In the equity session of the supreme court to-day, before Justice Devens, in the suit of F. Gordon Dexter and others vs. the Boston & Maine railroad, to test the validity of the recent election of the directors of the Eastern railroad, the counsel for the plaintiff stated that the parties had practically agreed upon the facts, and that the case would go to the full court for its decisions on the law questions involved.

VACANCY FOR A CADET.

OXFORD, MD., Dec. 14th.

Editor New Hampshire Gazette—

Dear Sir: There is a vacancy in your district for a cadet who wishes to enter the Maryland Military and Naval Academy. Any one who procures the appointment will be allowed to attend the academy free of charge for board, his only expenses being for tuition, washing, and incidentals. The academy is national in its character, interests, and representation, having now cadets from thirty states of the Union.

The Naval Department is an important feature of the institution, and the practice-ship Winifred lies at anchor in the beautiful Tred-Avon river before the academy, ready for use at all times. The discipline, system of instruction, and manner of life are the same as at West Point and Annapolis.

The faculty is composed of graduates of the national military and naval academies, of Yale college, and of other first class colleges of the country.

We would thank you to publish this letter, in order to aid some worthy young man to secure the appointment from your district. Truly yours,

H. C. BOUNDS, Secretary.

Mr. J. W. Young, shoemaker, and dealer in leather and shoemaker's supplies, has at his place, the old Telephone Station, in rear of the city building, the largest stock of roll leather, taps, heel pieces, brads, tacks, pegs, cement—in short, of everything needed by the trade —in the city. Rubber heels, rubber sheets for patching, and rubber cement. The attention of the country trade is especially invited; prices low.

The game of polo at the Casino on Tuesday evening of this week between the Exeter and Portsmouth clubs was won by the Exeters in three straight goals. Supper was served at the Webster house after the game.

The schooner Florence N. Tower arrived on the 23d inst. with 263 tons of Lehigh broken coal for the Portsmouth Brewing Co.

Mr. Lemuel B. Caswell reports that during the last storm a singular fish came into the dock at Smuttynose island at the Shoals, and after remaining a short time went out again. The creature was about eighteen feet long, had a tail like a shark and a head like a dog.

There were about twenty arrivals of fishing vessels on Wednesday, the 23d inst., among them the Albert Woodbury, with 15,000 lbs. of fish; Waverly, 3,500 lbs.; Northern Eagle, 3,600 lb.; Charles A. Dyer, 4,000 lbs.; Flora Temple, 4,500 lbs.; Flying Dart, 3,000 lbs. Most of these catches were sold to E. Newton & Co. at $1.40 per hundred.

The schooner Pushaw, from this port for Tenant's harbor, Me., put into Port Clyde on the 20th for shelter from a gale, and dragged ashore. It was thought she would come off without much difficulty or damage, on the abatement of the wind.

The tug Clara Batemen on the 23d inst. towed in from the Shoals the schooner Loella, loaded with dun fish, fish oil, etc.; the schooner anchored in the lower harbor, being bound for a market. The steamer also brought in the "pinque" Lucy to be laid up here this winter.

Get your Christmas goose or turkey at Conn's to-day.

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

Lieut. J. E. Pillsbury, U. S. N., assistant United States and geodetic survey, commanding steamer Blake, has developed the following dangers:

Between Petit Menan Island and Schoodic Peninsula.—Two small ledges, hitherto uncharted, lie near Moulton's ledge, off the entrance to Dyer's bay. The first, Stonehouse ledge, has eleven feet of water over it. From it Petit Menan lighthouse bears S. E. by E. ⅝ E., distant 2⅞ miles, and Moulton's ledge buoy S. W. ¾ S., distant ⅝ of a mile. The other ledge is ⅝ of a mile south of Moulton's ledge, has a least depth of eighteen feet, and is located on the following bearings: The Castle, (easternmost bare rock, entrance to Dyer's bay,) N. N. E. ¼ E., easterly 3¾ miles; Petit Menan lighthouse, E. ⅛ S., 2¾ miles; southern extremity of Shoodic island, W. ¾ S., 4¾ miles. These ledges are to the northward of the usual course of vessels passing outside Petit Menan island. If standing in for Dyer's bay or for Goldsborough bay do not bring the highest part of Eagle hill on any bearing between N. by E. and N. by E. ¾ E., until up with Petit Menan point.

Bass Harbor Bar.—The depth over the bar between Bass harbor head and Great Gott's island, in the best water, is but twelve and 12¾ feet, instead of fourteen and fifteen feet, as indicated heretofore on coast and geodetic survey charts. In crossing the bar keep Bass harbor head best aboard, giving the shore a berth of about 350 yards.

Between Monhegan Island and Seguin Island.—The group of ledges nearly surroun ing Pumpking island has several detached spurs hitherto uncharted. These lie to the southeastward and southwestward of the island, within a limit of ¾ of a mile from its southern end, and have from ten feet to 3¾ fathoms of water over them, with deep water separating them from each other and from the island. The outer ledge, nearly 1¼ miles S ¾ W. from Pumpkin island, has a depth of 5¾ fathoms, and breaks in heavy weather. Pumpkin island should be given a berth of 1½ miles.

Wreck of the Perkiomen.—The government inspector has recently made an examination of the sunken steamer Perkiomen off Cape Cod, which the contractors have been trying to destroy during the past two months and whose operations have been interfered with by extremely heavy weather, and found twenty-three feet of water on the highest point at nearly low tide, so there is now no danger of passing vessels striking the wreck.

CONSUMPTION.

I have a positive remedy for the above disease; by its use thousands of cases of the worst kind and of long standing have been cured. Indeed, so strongly is my faith in its efficacy, that I will send TWO BOTTLES FREE, together with a VALUABLE TREATISE on this disease to any sufferer. Give express and P. O. addr ss.

DR. T. A. SLOCUM, 181 Pearl St., New York.

DEAFNESS

Its CAUSES and CURE. By one who was deaf twenty-eight years. Treated by most of the noted specialists of the day with no benefit. Cured himself in three months, and since then hundreds of others by same process. A plain, simple and successful home treatment. Address T. S. PAGE, 176 East 26th St., New York City.

I CURE FITS!

When I say cure I do not mean merely to stop them for a time and then have them return again, I mean a radical cure. I have made the disease of FITS, EPILEPSY or FALLING SICKNESS a lifelong study. I warrant my remedy to cure the worst cases. Because others have failed is no reason for a hope not entertained. Send at once for a treatise and a Free Bottle of my infallible remedy. Give Express and Post Office. It costs you nothing for a trial, and I will cure you. DR. H. G. ROOT, 183 Pearl St., N.Y.

SALVO REMEDY!

STATUE OF "LIBERTY ENLIGHTENING THE WORLD."

More Money Needed.

The Committee in charge of the construction of the pedestal and the erection of the Statue, in order to raise funds for its completion, have prepared, from model furnished by the artist, a perfect facsimile Miniature Statuette, which they are delivering to subscribers throughout the United States at the following prices:

No. 1 Statuette, six inches in height, the Statue bronzed; Pedestal, nickel-silvered,—at One Dollar each, delivered.

No. 2 Statuette, in same metal, twelve inches high, beautifully bronzed and nickeled, at Five Dollars each, delivered.

No. 3 Statuette, twelve inches high, finely chased, Statue bronzed, Pedestal, Heavily Silver-Plated, with PLUSH STAND, at Ten Dollars each, delivered.

Much time and money have been spent in perfecting the Statuettes, and they are much improved over those first sent out. The Committee have received from subscribers many letters of commendation.

The New York World fund of $100,000 completes the Pedestal, but it is estimated that $50,000 more is needed to pay for the iron fastenings and the erection of the Statue.

Liberal subscriptions for the Miniature Statuettes will reduce the desired amount.

Address, with remittance,

RICHARD BUTLER, Secretary,
American Committee of the Statue of Liberty,
83 Mercer Street, New York.

"The Proper Study of Mankind is Man,"

Says the illustrious Pope. If he had included woman in the list, he would have been nearer the truth, if not so poetical. Dr. R. V. Pierce has made them both a life study especially woman, and the peculiar derangements to which her delicate system is liable. Many women in the land who are acquainted with Dr. Pierce only through his "Favorite Prescription," bless him with all their hearts, for he has brought them the panacea for all those chronic ailments peculiar to their sex; such as leucorrhœa, prolapsus and other displacements, ulceration, "internal fever," bloating, tendency to internal cancer, and other ailments. Price reduced to one dollar. By druggists.

THE DECAY OF THE HILL TOWNS.

Those who have traveled through the hill country of New England must often have been struck by the sight of a white church standing almost alone upon a summit of the great ridge. Once it was the meeting place of some flourishing village, but when the railroads came, making their way through the rough forbidding country by following the water courses closely the villagers descended into the valleys, built up towns along the great highways of travel and left the old church to mourn over its lost glories and to struggle along weakly until it too had to succumb to the new order of things. The clergy who built up these pillars of orthodoxy were strong and earnest men, and those who have succeeded them are not less so. Their lives are marked by self-sacrifice and severe work. Their labors are carried on under many difficulties and hardships, and it is not surprising that many suffer from rheumatism and neuralgia. That many of them have found a cure, however, for these diseases may be seen from these letters. Rev. A. S. Cooper, of Williston, Vt., says:

"Twelve hours' use of Athlophoros greatly removed the pain from my system and rendered the muscles so supple that I could get up and down with ease, which I have not done for a long time. I called yesterday on a gentleman who got a bottle from me and who I expected would send for more through me, but I found he had got the start of me and ordered for himself, having been much benefited by it."

Henry L. Hall, editor of Willimantic (Ct.) Journal, who is well and favorably known for miles around, says:

"Three doses of Athlophoros relieved me from a very acute attack of inflammatory rheumatism in nine hours. I consider it an invaluable remedy in rheumatic affections, and esteem it a pleasure to recommend Athlophoros."

Mr. J. B. Webster, who is the carpenter for the Willimantic Linen Co., of Willimantic, Conn., and is well-known and much respected in that neighborhood, says:

"For three months I suffered with inflammatory rheumatism, and failed to receive any relief from any of the numerous remedies for that complaint until I took Athlophoros, which entirely cured me."

Rev. S. Donaldson, of Lyndon, Vt., writes:

"The bottle of Athlophoros helped my wife greatly. She had up to the time of taking it been a great sufferer from neuralgia and rheumatic difficulties, making it almost impossible for her to walk with any ease. These difficulties have been about her more or less for fourteen years. Since taking the medicine she has been comparatively free from pain and is able to walk better than before for several years."

Rev. Charles E. Harris, formerly of New Haven, now of Brooklyn, says:

"Athlophoros acted like a charm, and I have been quite free from any attack of rheumatism from that time until the present. I can, therefore, with all sincerity testify to the valuable quality of Athlophoros as a rheumatic cure."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York.

GOD'S CHRISTMAS GIFT.

BY ULLIE R. AKERSTROM.

'Twas Christmas day,
The pure snow lay
Deep over the slumbering, silent earth;
While all around
Was heard the sound
Of innocent, careless, heartfelt mirth.

By rushed a throng,
With laugh and song,
Of schoolgirls chatting of Christmas cheer;
Unheeding one
Who, pale and young,
And empty handed, lingered near.

As they passed away,
With hearts so gay,
I turned to the maiden standing near,
And gaily said
As she raised her head,
"Well, what did Santa bring you, dear?"

Her dark brown eyes
Looked their surprise,
As she said, "O Miss, we are but poor;
We deem it wealth,
If perfect health
And food are plenty within our door.

"So, Miss, you see
That such as we
Are well content these toys to spare.
I covet not
A richer lot,
Of greater treasures I have a share.

"For one above
In gracious love,
This day to me has kindly given
A plea ure rare,
A gem most fair,
It is the Christian's hope of Heaven.

"Last night so plain
This message came,
For thee was Jesus crucified.
He reigns above,
O trust His love,
And He will be thy refuge-guide."

Her eyes were raised
To meet my gaze,
As she said (I still her image see),
"He died for me,
Low as I be,
Christ was God's Christmas gift to me."

I bowed my head,
No word I said,
A lesson deep in my heart was laid
O would that I Could look on high,
With the trust and faith of that little maid!

IN THE SAME FIX.

Slade and Co.'s immense shop was crowded.

Charmingly-attired ladies swarmed about the counters; harrassed saleswomen pulled down innumerable boxes and answered unlimited questions; and the little baskets chased one another along the wires to the cassier's desk.

At a farther counter, where pretty toilet articles held sway, stood Annie Rogers gazing at her own fair image in a plate-glass hand-mirror with Russia-leather back.

"He'll be sure to like it," she said, looking up at the young man who stood waiting at her side. "I'll take it," she added, turning to the girl behind the counter, and producing her purse; "it's his birthday, you know," she went on, as the hand-glass went flying down the wire; "we always make birthday presents to each other. Dear old Uncle Dodson!"

"Uncle Dodson" he had always been to her, though she was only an orphaned relative of his dead wife, adopted in her infancy.

"He's a lucky person with you to care for him," said Howard Canby, taking charge of the hand-mirror as it reappeared in its neat wrappings; "you'll let me walk home with you?" he went on as they stepped out into the crowded street.

More than one noted them admiringly as they walked slowly down the street together—the graceful girl in her soft light dress, her cheeks grown pink and her eyes brigut in the fresh air, and the tall young man, not far behind her in personal advantages, bending to talk to her.

But they were not aware of these approving glances; they were not conscious, in fact of anything beyond their own absorbing conversation, a hint of which may be gathered from their parting words. For, as they mounted the broad steps of the big Dodson house, Annie was murmuring:

"What will Uncle Dodson say?"

"He'll give us his consent and blessing, of course, my dear girl," said Howard cheerfully.

And he gave Mr. Dodson's birthday present into her possession, pressed her hand with a whispered word, and went down the steps reluctantly.

Annie looked at them sharply. Probably it was some friend of Uncle Dodson's come to see him—he was something of an invalid.

But the hat—a smart speckled straw, with a blue band—had an unmistakably youthful air. She ran up the stairs wonderingly.

Mr. Dodson was sitting in the large arm-chair before the window, where most of his time was spent. A young man of two-and-twenty, or thereabouts, noticeable for nothing unless for the cheerfulness of his rather boyish face, sat near him.

Mr. Dodson looked up with a welcoming smile as Annie entered.

"My nephew, Dudley Hobart, my dear," he said.

The young man rose and bowed—rather constrainedly, Annie thought.

Mr. Dodson regarded her anxiously.

"Sit down," he said.

Annie sat down at his side, feeling that something unpleasant was coming; and the young man quietly withdrew.

"He is my nephew—my only relative," Mr. Dodson began. "He will inherit my property, my dear."

"Well!" said Annie cheerfully.

"Well," Mr. Dodson repeated, stroking her hand, "he will inherit my property; but you must be provided for, too. There seems to me but one way. I have thought of it much; but the best way seems to be—that you should marry. So I have sent for him," said Mr. Dodson, going on hurriedly, "and we have been talking of it, my dear."

Poor Annie had listened silently. Was this kind-hearted Uncle Dodson who was saying these dreadful things?

"A little too business-like to suit you—eh?" said Mr. Dodson, noting her distressed face. "Yes, of course. I expected that. Young folks nowadays have an idea that their elders shouldn't have a word to say about these things—not a word! But don't you see, my dear," he went on kindly "that it's all the same thing. Suppose I had got Dudley here without mentioning my little plan? Well, you'd have been pretty sure to fall in love with each other. He's as nice a fellow as you'll find, Annie, and he knows a pretty girl when he sees one, I imagine. Well, then, why should you hold back, either of you, merely because I give a little push to a sure-enough affair?"

It was a very simple thing surely to put an end to all this. The mere mention of Howard Canby would do it, she was sure, for Uncle Dodson was not an ogre.

And yet how could she meet his possible displeasure and his certain disappointment?

The words died away on her lips.

"A beautiful pair of youngsters you are, I vow!" said Mr. Dodson with a laugh. "If Dudley didn't behave the same way! Oh, well, you'll get over it."

Annie opened her lips, hesitated, closed them again, with a weakness and cowardice of which she was painfully conscious, and rose with helpless tears dropping.

Her recent purchase was still in her hands.

"I have brought a little present for your birthday, Uncle Dodson," she said chokingly, and laid it on his knees.

It was not until a rather late hour that afternoon that Annie found courage to visit Mr. Dodson's room again.

She had carefully avoided Mr. Hobart.

Mr. Hobart! It was certainly the ugliest name she had ever heard.

She had taken lunch in her room, and she had not been out since.

At four o'clock a messenger-boy had brought a very small parcel, addressed to herself in Howard's well-known writing, which, when she had opened it eagerly, had been found to contain a little band of gold, set with a glittering stone.

It is a most unnatural proceeding for a young lady to burst into tears at the first sight of her engagement ring; but that is what Annie did.

For the pretty shining thing seemed only the symbol of her trouble and perplexity.

She knew perfectly that her right course was to put the ring on the proper finger, go boldly to Mr. Dodson, and explain its position there.

She did, indeed, get as far as putting it on, and gazing at it fondly, and admiringly, and tearfully, from every conceivable point of view; but there her courage failed her.

Dear old Uncle Dodson! How could she dash his well-meaning hopes to the ground with a cruel word or two? He was so far from strong, besides, sudden disappointments always did harm him.

She had dried her eyes as these despairing thoughts came over her, and started mechanically for Mr. Dodson's room.

Mr. Dodson sat facing the window, as usual. His head was thrown back and his eyes were closed.

Annie drew a sigh of relief; he was asleep.

Dudley Hobart was sitting in a corner of the room, with a newspaper in his hand, and his feet disposed comfortably, if not gracefully, on a second chair. He rose hastily as Annie entered.

"He is asleep," he remarked after a timid pause.

"I had observed it," said Annie shortly, not deigning to look at the speaker.

The young man looked confused. He had laid down his paper, and passed his hand over his closely-cropped head in a troubled way, and finally offered her a chair.

There seemed to be nothing else to do, and Annie sat down stiffly.

Mr. Hobart took the other chair. If Annie had glanced at him, she might have seen that a pleading look filled his boyish face; but she looked coldly over his head at the wall paper.

There was silence for several moments.

Then the young man, with a nervous clutch of his chair-back, and with a visible effort, began desperately:

"He said he had told you his—his plan."

Annie was cruelly unresponsive.

"May I inquire what you think of it?" said Mr. Hobart, with a face grown pale with agonised embarrassment.

Annie rose sharply.

"Words could not express what I think of it!" she said, flashing an indignant glance towards the young man. "It is absurd and abominable! He is dreadfully mistaken," she went on more mildly, indicating Mr. Dodson. "It can't possibly be!"

The occupant of the arm-chair moved restlessly; he was waking up.

Annie lowered her voice as she went on severely:

"I am already engaged. I——"

She paused in bewilderment. The face of her listener had been suddenly transformed with unmistakable relief and joy. He seized her hands warmly.

"Engaged? Well, if we aren't in the same boat! So am I!"

Annie's severity vanished. Her cold gaze gave way to a quick smile of sympathy.

"Are you, Mr. Hobart?" she cried. "I'm so glad."

"Don't call me Mr. Hobart," said the young man impetuously. "Call me Dud. Everybody calls me Dud."

Annie laughed, and they sat down again in a friendly way.

"I have only been engaged since this morning," said Annie confidentially. "See—he has just sent me a ring. He's the nicest fellow in the world. You'll think so when you see him."

"He ought to be the happiest," said Dud gallantly, taking her hand to examine the ring.

They had lowered their voices carefully; further than that, Mr. Dodson's presence was ignored.

"Very pretty," said Annie.

"She's a pretty girl, too!" said Dud warmly. "I just wish you could know her! She's only seventeen; but you wouldn't think it. Here, I'll show you her picture."

He took it out carefully from an inner pocket, and held it out triumphantly.

"She is pretty," said Annie, looking down approvingly at the fair young face in the picture.

"I know you'd think so," said Dud, looking gratified.

"I have Howard's picture in the album downstairs," said Annie. "I'll run down stairs and get it."

She tripped away softly, and came hurrying back breathless, with the plush-covered book in her hand.

"He looks as though he had something in him," was Dud's masculine comment.

"Well, he has," said Annie with a proud smile. "Of course," she went on hesitatingly, "we must tell Uncle Dodson?"

"Of course!" said Dud rather faintly.

Their eyes met; they smiled guiltily.

"To tell the truth," said the young man candidly, "I'd rather be shot!"

"My case exactly," Annie responded.

"You see," said Dud, looking anxious, "he means it all as a favor, a benefit to us; and to go and knock all his plans endways in that style—I'd just as lief be let out of it, for my part!"

"Precisely as I feel," murmured Annie. "What shall we do?"

"Don't ask me," said Dud entreatingly.

An uneasy pause, filled by a helpless contemplation of each other with wrinkled brows.

"Of course we must tell him," Annie repeated irresolutely.

"Of course," said Dud again.

But that was as far as it went.

A rustling sound from Mr. Dodson's arm-chair roused them to a sudden sense of his presence.

"Are you awake, Uncle Dodson?" said Annie, getting up slowly to go to him, Dud following.

"Wide awake, my dear," said Mr. Dodson promptly.

"Does your head ache?" said Annie, bending over his chair and feeling hypocritical.

Mr. Dodson's reply was a strange one. It was a short, rather sarcastic laugh.

His companions exchanged startled glances. Could he have overheard them? No; it was impossible.

But he turned upon them abruptly.

"So you've gone and encouraged that good-for-nothing young Canby, have you, miss?" he began, fixing Annie with a humorously stern gaze—"thrown yourself away on that young upstart—eh?"

Poor Annie could only stare, bewildered.

"And you, sir," Mr. Dodson went on, turning to his nephew—"you've tied yourself to some little chit of a school-girl not out of bibs yet, I suppose? A nice pair you are!"

His listeners stood speechless.

"Not a word, sir—not a word!" said Mr. Dodson coolly.

"You're a clairvoyant, then!" ejaculated the young man, half believing it.

Mr. Dodson laughed again, in evident enjoyment of their confusion.

"And you were afraid to tell me, eh?" said he. "You were going to deceive a poor helpless old man?"

"No, no!" said Dud in weak protestation.

"How did you know, Uncle Dodson?" she said, beseechingly.

For answer, Mr. Dodson took up the hand-mirror—Annie's birthday present—from its satin-lined case, held it before his eyes, and motioned the two to look into it.

It reflected, with wonderful distinctness, the entire rear of the room, including the chairs in which they had sat.

"When I saw you, my dear," said Mr. Dodson, looking up with twinkling eyes into Annie's astonished face—"when I saw you exhibiting a diamond ring which appeared to be a recent acquisition, and bringing up the album to show—well, let us say old Mrs. Presley's picture—and when I saw you, sir, whipping out an absurd little tintype and actually talking about it as though it were something worth looking at—I drew my own conclusion."

"You aren't angry, dear Uncle Dodson?" said Annie timidly, a queer mixture of relief and apprehension in her face.

"But I am," said Mr. Dodson, with a smile which refuted his words, "and I think I shall leave my money to—well, say to a Home for Destitute Dogs. Neither of you deserve it!"

"But neither of us want it," said Annie tenderly. "You'll enjoy it yourself for a long time yet."

Dud echoed her words.

"I suppose I shall divide it equally between you," said Mr. Dodson musingly, "but you don't deserve it!"

Mr. Dodson was the liveliest of the gay gathering at Anuie's wedding, a few months later.

He gave away the bride; he made a stirring speech, and he led a quadrille.

But his words of congratulation to young Mrs. Canby were a puzzle to the bystanders:

"You owe it all to the hand-mirror, my dear!"

The First Keen Twinge.

As the season advances, the pains and aches by which rheumatism makes itself known, are experienced after every exposure. It is not claimed that Hood's Sarsaparilla is a specific for rheumatism—we doubt if there is, or can be, such a remedy. But the thousands benefited by Hood's Sarsaparilla, warrant us in urging others who suffer from rheumatism to take it before the first keen twinge.

Carter's Little Liver Pills may well be termed "Perfection." Their gentle action and good effect on the system, really make them a perfect little pill. They please those who use them.

The mayor of Vincennes, Ind., accompanied by a committee of the council, made a tour of the city on a recent evening to see how the police force were attending to their duties. One of the officers was found at home in bed, another drunk, a third in a house of prostitution, and the fourth asleep in a saloon. These comprised the entire force.

Take Care of the Children.

For children, Brandreth's Pills are simply invaluable. One or two pills taken every night for ten days will cure them of scarlet fever, diphtheria, whooping cough, colds, diarrhœa or bowel pains. Brandreth's Pills are purely vegetable—contain no mercury, mineral or dangerous drug. They require no care in diet or exposure, and are perfectly safe for old or young, male or female. One or two at night, for a week, taken on an empty stomach will cure the worst case of dyspepsia, liver complaint or rheumatism.

CHRISTMAS.

We positively have nothing new or inspiring to say to our readers for Christmas, beyond our customary Christmas greeting. Nothing came to us during the eve. from Europe, Asia or Africa; nothing from Cape Horn or San Francisco; absolutely nothing from the North Pole, Halifax or the Isles of Shoals; nor did the Putnam fast mail bring anything fresh from Old York.

Christmas after all is the same to-day as ever before. It hath its charms, its enjoyments, its merry gatherings; its visits to the poor, with the bounties of charitable hearts; its promises, and its Christian hopes and consolations. What kind of a people we should be without Christmas! What a forlorn race we should become without its sanctifying and satisfying aid, is hardly worth our while to conjecture. It is one of the privileges vouchsafed us—this season of fruitful enjoyment when every one does or should feel better for the season—hopeful in its anticipation and happy in its enjoyment.

To the young there clusters around the day the joyful beholding of the tokens of fond parents and kind friends. To the old, the more substantial and sustaining contemplations of the era of promised peace on earth and good will to man. There is to all a renewed zest in our annual Christmas greetings, an indescribable happiness, in which we participate as if we deserved it as much as we enjoy it. We are glad again to wish our readers

"A MERRY CHRISTMAS."

And while we renew our promises to labor for their morning enjoyment of our daily visit the coming year, so soon to be upon us, we will take a holiday for rest and recreation to-day, with the assurance of an early call on Monday morning.

Another Colliery Horror.

A despatch of the 23d inst. from Ponty Pridd, Wales, reported that a terrible colliery explosion has just occurred at the Ferndale coal pit, and that four hundred miners were entombed.

A later despatch said that twelve dead bodies had been taken out of the Ferndale pit and thirty miners rescued, more or less injured. The remainder of those who were in the mine at the time of the explosion were believed to be safe.

The explosion occurred in the upper of the two seams. There were 750 men in the mine at the time. The majority were in the lower seam, otherwise the death list would have been much larger. At least fifty men were killed in the upper seam, and scores were terribly bruised. The injured were carried to places of safety by their more fortunate companions, who had not been hurt.

A late despatch of the same date said that 320 men had been rescued, seven of whom were so fearfully burned that they may die.

A despatch of the 24th announced that seventy-five bodies had been recovered, and it was feared many others were yet in the mine.

The dead body of Richard Nelson Lawson, of Fall River, Mass., was found in his wagon near the Plainville hotel, New Bedford, Dec. 23d. He was a dealer in eggs, butter, etc., collecting from the farmers, and selling them to the store keepers; and he had been murdered by shooting with a gun, from beside the road. The murderer was seen by many people, driving the team, the dead man's legs protruding from under the boxes in the wagon; but they supposed it was one drunken man taking home another drunken man. The body was cold when found.

Though a number of persons had been arrested, no positive clue to the murderer had been discovered up to Thursday evening.

The clergy of Salt Lake City, Utah, held a meeting Dec. 21st, and adopted the following address to the country: "The grand jury have unearthed a conspiracy on the part of Mormon officials to blacken the characters of the public men of this city. An attack on Christian ministers has begun. We warn the eastern public against these slanderous reports emanating from Mormon sources." This address is signed by all the pastors of Salt Lake City.

The priests in the Roman Catholic diocese of Montreal have received a letter from Bishop Falere forbidding them to meddle with politics in any shape or form, and directing them not to use the pulpit to disseminate their views, when political questions are on the tapis, and not even to speak in private on political matters. Although the Riel matter is not openly referred to in the letter, it is alluded to in a manner which would seem to show that what several priests have said regarding the national movement has greatly displeased Bishop Falere.

At a ball given recently at the residence of John Warren, in Marion county, Minn., a fatal affray occured between John and Bob Baylis on one side and Thad and Dan Scarborough on the other. Dan Scarborough was shot in the shoulder and his brother was instantly killed, a bullet passing through his heart. Eight shots were fired, but it is not known whether either of the Baylis brothers was wounded, as they disappeared immediately after the shooting. All the participants in the affray were young men of good connections.

D. White & Sons, brushmakers, of Portland, Me., accepted a contract for a lot of brushes at a reduced price from what they usually get. They notified the nailers that they must work for reduced prices on this lot, and seven nailers, the whole force, refused. The firm told them that they could leave, and the men went out on a strike.

Capt. I. H. Washburne, of the marine corps, has had his sick leave of absence extended for six months, but has not, as previously reported, been placed on the retired list.

The Maine Central railroad is about contracting for the building of a fast steamer for the Mt. Desert ferry, to be completed in time for the next season's business. It will be 150 feet long, twenty-eight feet wide and ten feet deep, and will have a speed of at least eighteen miles an hour. The New England Shipbuilding company of Bath will have the contract, its iron works building the machinery. This boat will be built in the best and most approved style, and furnished to accommodate the constantly increasing travel on this route.

Low-necked dresses are going to be very popular with the lovely young damsels, because if they should catch cold wearing them, haven't they got Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup to cure them?

Lost.

ON Tuesday, 23d inst., a small red POCKET-BOOK, containing a small sum of money, a card with name of owner, etc. The finder will be rewarded on leaving the same at the Chronicle Office.

As the time is fast approaching when people will be looking for the beautiful, to make their annual Christmas gifts from, we would respectfully call attention to our stock, selected expressly for the holiday trade.

Our stocks of WATCHES, JEWELRY, CLOCKS, SILVER-PLATED WARE and FANCY NOVELTIES, were never as large as to-day. We take this occasion to thank our friends and the public in general for the confidence and liberal patronage they have bestowed on us for the last six years since leaving the house of HUTCHINSON & CONNELL, and in the future as in the past our motto will be, "Knowledge & Honesty." First, we understand our business in all its branches fully, and cannot take advantage of our customers through ignorance; Second, we sell everything for just what it is.

Our reputation for skilled Watch Work is too well established to need any comment upon; there is no better engraving done in the State than we send out.

Please do not look in our window and think you see the bulk of our stock, for we cannot show but a small part of our stock in the window. Our show-cases are full, our safe is full. Please come in and let us show you.

We could quote our prices but do not think it wise to do so in a newspaper, but being the largest buyer in our line of any dealer in the State, we can give prices that no one can honestly beat.

The custom is growing in favor of purchasing Xmas gifts early and having them laid away, we already have several Silver and Gold Watch and Chain sold, some of them to be sent out of the State. Please call early and see if we cannot please you in every way. Respectfully,

JAMES R. CONNELL, 7 Congress Street,

MAN KILLED.

The engineer of the way freight train on the Concord road to this city from Manchester, Henry Ring conductor, discovered the body of a man terribly mangled beside the tracks Thursday morning about a mile above Candia. Investigation at Candia proved the man to be Henry Buzzell of that town, who, some of the citizens say, was under the influence of liquor the previous day. Blood and hair were found upon the pilot of a freight engine, and also on the pilot of a passenger engine which left this city Wednesday evening, and it is impossible to tell which machine struck him first.

PRESENTATION.

At the regular meeting of Rockingham Lodge of Good Templars, on Wednesday evening of this week, a large and handsome Bible was presented to the lodge by Sister Caroline Randall, Sister Ida M. Dearing making a graceful speech of presentation, and W. C. T. Charles H. Bessellievre responding for the lodge in an appropriate manner. The sister received the thanks of the lodge for her acceptable gift. It is due to Sister Randall to say that she has been one of the lodge's most faithful members, and that the generous spirit which prompts the act is fully appreciated. After adjournment the members partook of an excellent chowder provided for the occasion.

I. W. T.

MONTE CRISTO.

This romantic drama of Dumas' greatest work will be presented at Music hall on Thursday night, Dec. 31st, with a brilliant cast, and new and elegant scenery, specially arranged for this production and painted by Messrs. Merry and Maeder, artists of Wallack's and Niblo's garden theatres, New York. This company carry their own calcium lights and accessories, etc., complete in every detail.

Last evening the Criterion dramatic company played "Lady Audley's Secret" to an audience of very fair numbers, considering that it was Christmas eve and other attractions abounded. To-night they will play "Caste;" to-morrow afternoon they present "The Pirates of the Gulf," which is not the soul-harrowing piece the title might be supposed to indicate, having more of fun than of the terrible in its composition; and to-morrow evening they will end their engagement with the performance of "The Child Stealer."

By order of the chief engineer of the fire department, steamer No. 2 will hereafter answer the first alarm with No. 3; and all other companies of the department, which heretofore have waited for the third alarm will answer the second alarm; the third alarm is done away with until further orders.

Hon. William C. Whitney, in his first annual report as secretary of the Navy, mourns largely over the wasteful and expensive methods of doing work on the navy yards under republican administrations. He will be able to continue mourning, if we may judge from the following statement of a New York paper: "A sample of democratic reform methods in the Brooklyn navy yard is found in the present condition of the flagship Tennesee, which was recently in the dry dock there for several weeks, and was supposed to be thoroughly caulked and refitted before she went to sea. Admiral Jouett, who is in command of her, has complained to Secretary Whitney that the plumbing and caulking were disgracefully done, and that all the repairs were imperfectly attended to. He specifies the work in his cabin in particular as unfit to be put into a vessel. It is understood that the secretary has informed Commander Chandler of the complaint of Admiral Jouett, and the latter has called Constructor Pook to account. The latter refused to say anything about the matter yerterday. The complaint was not unexpected by those who saw the nature of the work done by the men put in the yard for political purposes. There were so many set at work just before the election that one man would caulk a seam, and then another pull out the oakum, and a third put it in again. The Tennessee has been in the dry dock three times of late, and the signs are that she will have to go again."

Marcus P. Norton filed in the office of the clerk of the United States circuit court on Thursday evening motions for a new trial in his suit against the city of Dover, and to remove the order of nonsuits in the cases against Portsmouth, Concord, Manchester and Nashua. A hearing will be had next month at the court house in this city upon the motions.

The storekeepers generally report a better Christmas trade this year than for many previous ones.

The schools of the city closed on the 23d inst., to open again Jan. 4th, 1886.

Deputy United States Marshal Kent went to Great Falls this week to serve subpœnas on witnesses to attend the United States Circuit court in Boston in a case which has been on trial all the week, wherein Charles H. Smith and another claim as heirs of Mrs. A P. Smith of Great Falls, to recover two-thirds of an estate in Cambridge. The defendant, Mrs. Goodwin, is a daughter of Mrs. Smith, and claim all the estate under a deed from the mother. The validity of the deed is questioned. J. A. Edgerly of Great Falls, and Jos. F. Wiggin, formerly of Exeter, are counsel for the plaintiffs; and Stillman B. Allen, and Wm. R. Burleigh of Great Falls, represent the defts.

There will be a public installation of officers of St. Andrew's lodge, A. F. & A. M., at Masonic hall on Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock. After the installation ceremonies a supper will be served, followed by a musical programme by an orchestra in the hall.

No paper will be issued from this office Saturday morning.

The barque Harvard, Lester master, from Cebu, August 9th, arrived at Boston, Dec. 23d, with sugar and hemp to order.

The Advent society and Sunday school had a supper in upper Franklin hall on Thursday evening at six o'clock, followed by an entertainment consisting of vocal and instrumental music, and literary exercises.

The Unitarian church was thronged on Christmas eve, and the services were extremely interesting. The musical exercises were of very unusual merit throughout, the tenor solo of Mr. Idris, "Every valley shall be exalted," from "the Messiah," being given in a most artistic and pleasing manner; in fact, the entire programme was so performed as to reflect great credit on the whole choir.

A Christmas service for the children will be held in the Unitarian church on Sunday afternoon.

The Sunday school, assisted by the choir connected with the Middle street Baptist society, will hold a Christmas service in the church on Sunday evening, commencing at 7:30 o'clock. The service in the morning will be appropriate to Christmas; Rev. Dr. Alden's subject will be "The Song of the Angels," and the excellent choir will furnish appropriate selections.

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS!

Dyspepsia.

GENTS:—I feel it my duty to say respecting Burdock Blood Bitters, that it is the best medicine I ever took. I suffered two or three years from stomach troubles and dyspepsia as well as from liver and kidney complaint. I was not able to attend to my business. My wife was afflicted in much the same way. We read of your Bitters in the papers and made up our minds that we would try them. The result is my wife and I began to improve at once, and I am now able to do more hard work than before in ten years. It relieved my kidney troubles as well. We both wish you, the makers of it, Godspeed.

CONSUMPTION.

I have a positive remedy for the above disease; by its use thousands of cases of the worst kind and of long standing have been cured. Indeed, so strong is my faith in its efficacy, that I will send TWO BOTTLES FREE, together with a VALUABLE TREATISE on this disease, to any sufferer. Give express and P. O. addr ss.
DR. T. A. SLOCUM, 181 Pearl St., New York.

DEAFNESS

Its CAUSES and CURE, by one who was deaf twenty-eight years. Treated by most of the noted specialists of the day with no benefit. Cured himself in three months, and since then hundreds of others by same process. A plain, simple and successful home treatment. Address T. S. PAGE, 128 East 26th St., New York City.

I CURE FITS!

When I say cure I do not mean merely to stop them for a time and then have the fits return again, I mean a radical cure. I have made the disease of FITS, EPILEPSY or FALLING SICKNESS a lifelong study. I warrant my remedy to cure the worst cases. Because others have failed is no reason for a hope receiving a cure. Send at once for a Treatise and a Free Bottle of my Infallible Remedy. It Expresses and Post Office. It costs you nothing for a trial, and I will cure you. DR. H. G. ROOT, 183 Pearl St., N.Y.

SALVO REMEDY!

CURES DRUNKENNESS AND INTEMPERANCE.

STATUE OF "LIBERTY ENLIGHTENING THE WORLD."

More Money Needed.

The Committee in charge of the construction of the pedestal and the erection of the statue, in order to raise funds for its completion, have prepared from model furnished by the artist a perfect ice-duplicate Miniature Statuette, which they are delivering to subscribers throughout the United States at the following prices:

No. 1 Statuette, ten inches in height, the Statue bronzed; Pedestal, nickel-silvered, at One Dollar each, delivered.

No. 2 Statuette, twelve inches high, beautifully bronzed and nickeled, at Five Dollars each, delivered.

No. 3 Statuette, twelve inches high, finely chased, Statue bronzed, Pedestal, Heavily Silver-Plated, with PLUSH STAND, at Ten Dollars each, delivered.

Much time and money have been spent in perfecting the Statuette, and they are much improved over the first work out. The Committee have received from subscribers many favorable commendations. The Committee

The New York World Fund of $300,000 completes the Pedestal, but it is estimated that $80,000 is yet needed to pay for the iron fastenings and the erection of the Statue.

Liberal subscriptions for the Miniature Statuettes will postpone the desired amount.

The edition for 1886 of the sterling Medical Annual, known as Hostetter's Almanac, is now ready, and may be obtained, free of cost, of druggists and general country dealers in all parts of the United States, Mexico, and indeed in every civilized portion of the Western Hemisphere. This Almanac has been issued regularly at the commencement of every year for one-fifth of a century. It combines, with the soundest practical advice for the preservation and restoration of health, a large amount of interesting and amusing light reading, and the calendar, astronomical calculations, chronological items, etc., are prepared with great care, and will be found entirely accurate. The issue of Hostetter's Almanac for 1886 will probably be the largest edition of a medical work ever published in any country. The proprietors, Messrs. Hostetter & Co., Pittsburgh, Pa., on receipt of a two cent stamp, will forward a copy by mail to any person who cannot procure one in his neighborhood.

During a Christmas tree entertainment in the chapel of the county hospital at Chicago, while the room was crowded with patients and others, the tree took fire from a candle, and a panic ensued in which nearly a hundred persons were trampled upon and injured, but no lives were lost.

A Burglar Captured

This morning about two o'clock, John Wood, the well known plumber who resides on Islington street, was awakened by hearing glass break. On getting out of bed he received a blow on the head. He immediately grappled with the burglar, and after a terrible struggle succeeded in holding him until his wife obtained help. On being searched at the station, Mr. Wood's watch and wallet was found on his person. He gave the name of Robert Jerry. The broken glass proved to be a bottle of Sulphur Bitters which had almost cured Mrs. Wood of rheumatism.

At Lewiston, Me., Dec. 24th, Frank Quinn, nearly 100 years old, was suffocated in his bed through the partial burning of his house.

That tired, languid feeling and dull headache is very disagreeable. Take two of Carter's Little Liver Pills before retiring, and you will find relief. They never fail to do good.

Take one of Carter's Little Liver Pills after eating, it will relieve dyspepsia, aid digestion, give tone and vigor to the system. They make one feel as though life was worth living.

Pope Leo, in a letter to the Roman Catholic hierarchy of England, urges the maintenance of religious schools.

J. L. Estes, Burnsville, Chickasaw nation, Indian territory, writes: "I have to thank Allcock's Porous Plasters for saving the life of my wife; she was attacked with pneumonia which commenced with a violent chill, great coughing and high fever. I could not get a doctor, but fortunately had a box of Allcock's Porous Plasters in the house; I placed one between her breasts, one on each shoulder-blade, and one on the small of her back. In two hours her cough almost ceased and was very loose; in four hours she broke into a profuse perspiration. The next day, though very weak, she was free from fever, and the third day was quite well. I also cured my child of diphtheretic sore throat, by wrapping the neck in an Allcock's Porous Plaster."

Samuel Besse, of Wareham, Mass., was arrested at the house of his girl in that town at midnight on the 24th inst., on suspicion of his being the murderer of Richard N. Lawton, the egg merchant. Besse is a drunken and desperate ruffian, and has served eleven years in state prison for crimes of violence.

The dead body of Mary McCarthy was found in a shallow stream near New Haven, Conn., Dec., 25th, under circumstances indicating murder.

In New Orleans, Dec. 25th, Evertine Heimdal, an inmate of a disreputable house, was fatally stabbed by her husband. The woman's father, brother and husband had agreed that she should be killed on account of the disgrace she had brought on the family, and her brother, Jacob Beren, went to the house with her husband, and aided in the assault.

NEW ENGLAND'S SENTIMENTS.

A large part of the great influence which New England has wielded in the councils of the nation and through its progressive institutions has been because of the general unanimity of the six States on most important questions, enabling them to act as a unit. This is not now perhaps so true of political affairs as it once was, but in most matters there is a substantial agreement of opinion. Just at present this is shown in the universal commendation of Athlophoros, praises of which come from all quarters of every State. A few of them follow:

"I have been a great sufferer from rheumatism for the last three years," says E. Parkhurst, of Woonsocket, R. I., "having been unable to do any active labor during that time, and for a large portion of the time being confined to my bed. I had taken hundreds of dollars worth of medicine, with no relief, until I was induced to try a bottle of Athlophoros. The first three doses resulted in my having the best night's sleep that I had enjoyed for three years, and by the time the first bottle was taken I realized that I was on the road to complete recovery. I have since taken six bottles and am now able to attend to my business and consider myself a well man."

Mrs. C. N. Paige, of Boltonville, Vt., says:

"I first saw Athlophoros advertised in a paper, and as it was only recommended for rheumatism and neuralgia I had great faith to believe it could do me some good. My husband, therefore, sent for a bottle. I had been a great sufferer from neuralgia for years, and had spells when no one who saw me thought I could live. Many times I have wished death would end my agony. The pain would commence in the pit of my stomach and go from there right through my heart. I had employed doctors who were thought very skillful, but I got no benefit from them. I had these spells every two or three weeks for over two years before taking Athlophoros. That was one year ago last April and I have had only two of them since, the last one during the winter. I took then part of another bottle and have had none since. Words can never express the relief I feel at being rid of such agony as I suffered when I had those spells."

Mrs. Harriet Strong, of Westville, Ct., tells this straight-forward story:

"I had the rheumatism, which settled in my knees and hips. The joints were so stiff and the pain so great that I could not walk, but was obliged to move around in a chair. Several doctors did all they could for me, but I was no better. While in this condition, sitting in my chair by the window reading a paper, I saw an advertisement of Athlophoros. I thought I would try it and sent for a bottle. When they brought it to me I told them I considered it a dollar thrown away, as I had not a particle of faith, but I commenced taking it and after the third dose I thought I felt a chance for the better. I continued to use it as directed until I have taken four bottles. Strange as it may seem, I am perfectly cured and am about the house all day, doing all the housework, with not a bit of rheumatism about me. I can never return thanks enough to the parties that make Athlophoros for the benefit I have derived from its use. I recommend it to everybody."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price, one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK HEAD ACHE

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cared Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head ACHE is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold by druggists everywhere, or sent by mail.

Peanuts.

"Nearly all the peanuts that are brought to this market come from Virginia," said a dealer. "A good many are grown in Tennessee, too; but the central point of the peanut raising business, which is one of the greatest industries of the State, though of very recent growth, is at Norfolk, Va. In old times—fifteen years ago—all the peanuts were imported from Africa. The African peanuts were small and round, the shell containing usually but a single kernel. The American peanut is simply the African nut modified by the conditions of the soil in this country. The best peanuts are hand-picked; others are thrashed out like grain. In Norfolk there are several factories where peanuts are prepared for the market. They are first thoroughly cleansed and then sorted. The bad ones are picked out by young girls, who stand on either side of a wide revolving belt on which the nuts are thrown. Afterward they are packed in bags and shipped to the market. Peanuts have become a recognized article of commerce, and are quoted on 'Change, like corn or wheat. They sell, wholesale, at from 3½ to 5 cents a pound. Best hand-picked fetch about 5 cents usually. Spanish peanut, an imported article, sell for a higher price, frequently as much as 20 cents pound. Peanuts are frequently used to make a kind of olive oil. Not more than a tough part of the olive oil sold in this country is real; generally it is made either of peanuts or cotton seed. The only way to distinguish peanut from olive oil, is to pour nitric acid into it. The peanut or cotton seed will char, but the real olive oil will not. Most of the peanuts grown in Africa nowadays are sent to Marseilles, and expressed for oil. The latter is sold as a low grade of olive."—Boston Herald.

A Sermon on Whisky.

An aged darky rose to a standing position and a point of order the other night with a tremulous voice and a feeble mien, and combated a sentiment adverse to the crushing out of old king alcohol. Said he, "Mind me, my bredern an' my sisters, of a hard-a-cole I wuse heerd when I was nigh almost a pickaninny. Dar was a sho'-ho'n kaif a rum'l in ob nissel down a sandy lane, when wot should we see but Mr. Snaik a lyin' on de ground wid a big rock on his hed. Says Mr. Kalf: 'Wot', de matter ob you?' Says Mr. Snaik, 'Please, Mr. Kalf, to take dis stone off my hed.' 'Dunno,' says Mr. Kalf, 'spec you'll bite me.' 'Deed, no,' says Mr. Snaik; you take de stone off, an' I' de Lo'd I'll neuber bite you.' So Mr. Kalf he knocked de stone offen Mr. Snaik's hed. 'Which way you gwine, Mr. Kalf?' says Mr. Snaik. 'Down dis way,' said Mr. Kalf, so they started off togedder. Bime-by Mr. Snaik say: 'Mr. Kalf, guess I'll bite you.' 'Why,' said Mr. Kalf, 'you said you wouldn't bite me if I turned you loose.' 'I know dat,' says Mr. Snaik, 'but I kan't help it, it's my nature.' 'Well,' says Mr. Kalf, 'we'll leave dat queschun to de fust niggah we meet.' Well de fust niggah dey met was a fox. 'Mr. Fox,' says Mr. Kalf, 'I tink a stone offen Mr. Snaik's hed awhile back, an he promised he wouldn't bite me. An' now he wants to bite anyhow.' 'Wah,' says Mr. Fox, 'de only way dat I can arborate de matter is to see de 'rig'nal persishuns of de parties.' So dey went back an' Mr. Snaik laid hisself down, and Mr. Kalf put de stone on his hed. 'Now,' says Mr. Fox, 'dat am de 'rig'nal persishuns ob de 'sputants, am it?' Dey both sed it was. 'Well,' sed Mr. Fox, 'Mr. Kalf, you jus go 'bout yo' bis'ness and Mr. Snaik won't bite you.' Dassit, my bredren, dassit. You mus' put de stone on de hed, an' gwine about yo bis'ness, an' de Snaik won't bite you."—Pittsburg Chronicle.

Foreign Names for English Ships.

Who (asks a correspondent) have the naming of the fleet, and on what principle, if any, do they choose the names? We have lately been promised a Renown, an Espir, an Immortalite, and this morning hear that we are to have a Nile. Without objecting to the first-named last, may we not fairly ask why it is necessary to give British ships foreign or classical names? Possibly the two given above may commemorate vessels that formerly belonged to the fleet and were originally prizes of war. If so there is good reason, no doubt, for reviving the name. But this can not be urged on the part of the Achilles, Agamemnon, Ajax, Hector, Penelope, and dozens more of ancient persons who have had no connection with our history and very little with the water. We have no Drake, Frobisher, Willoughby, Hawkins, Richard Grenville, Howard of Effingham, and worst omission of all, we have no Admiral Blake. When these are exhausted we can go back to Hubert de Burgh, and then to the vikings, Hastings, Hengist and Horsa.—Pall Mall Gazette.

Georgia's Picturesque Ruin.

A more romantic spot than the ruins of Cooper's iron works can not be found in Georgia. Great rocks rise up in rugged grandeur, bearing on their sides clambering vines and ripening berries. Old houses are crumbling into ruin and trees are growing up through decaying floors. An ancient mill stands on the river's bank and the water goes bounding over the old rock dam. It is a place where civilization and the busy hum of machinery and of human voice has given place again to nature. Far up the mountain side is a little plateau, where once lived, in a rude rock house, an early pioneer. It is with much difficulty that the place is reached, but when once there the scene that meets the eye is grand and picturesque. To sit there and watch an autumn sunset is better than to be in the vine clad hills of Italy. Looking out from under the muscadine vine that has climbed up and arched the doorway of the scene down the river was too grand for a poor, weak pen like mine. The old "king of the day" was almost touching the treetops in the western horizon. A halo of golden glory flooded the world. The white clouds that lay off towards the south seemed to be catching on fire. The river, under the touch of the sun, seemed to be rising to meet the violet-tinted sky. The hills were gloriously radiant under the bewitching touch of that grand light. The old Blue Ridge mountains towered up far back in the east, and their stern faces seemed almost to smile as the sunlight kissed their brows. From the south there came the softest touch of evening air, bearing on its bosom the last sweet essence of summer. From far below there rose the low musical murmur of the river as it spinned over rocks and dimpled in the zephyr-like breath of the air. Above us the sad pines gently swayed in the breeze and gave out a sweet, soft song that spoke of peace and rest. It was good to be there. The sacred stillness of the place was elevating, purifying, ennobling!—Cartersville (Ga.) Advertiser.

Steps are being taken in Ireland to prevent any further decline of the cattle interest in that country. One of the plans proposed is to establish a dead meat trade with England.

An experiment which should be highly interesting to the public at large took place in the Thames, at Westminster, recently. Several persons, including a lady, a clergyman, and military and naval officers, sat dead in the gardens of their everyday life, embarked in a small boat, and on arriving in midstream proceeded to jump into the water. Each time they appeared to be perfectly at their ease, and making no movement, floated easily, with their heads appearing above the surface. The explanation of the phenomenon was that the clothes worn by them included a waistcoat of a material which, like lifebuoys or cork, were impervious to water.

Bodily pains and accidents will occur not only "in the best regulated families" but everywhere and at all times. Therefore keep Salvation Oil convenient. Price twenty-five cents a bottle.

From the St. John Daily News, March 23d, 1878: "Few remedies have acquired so much fame, and grown so universally popular in the cure of coughs and colds, and all affections of the throat and lungs, as Adamson's Botanic Balsam. Many persons in this city have no hesitation in recommending it to the suffering."

A Novel Feature in Investments.

The whole country after having undergone a period of depression is now asking itself, what business has least been affected and unimjured?

Such a business, industry or corporation, that can make a better showing now than before the crisis attracts the attention of capital, merits the confidence of investors and is being eagerly sought for.

There is such a business, and it has heretofore been monopolized by English and Scotch capital until some three hundred millions have been invested in the Ranches and Cattle business of this great country.

Foremost among the strongest, richest and most successful American Companies stand the United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York, which is now offering $500,000 First Mortgage 6 per cent 10-Year Bonds, for subscription at 90 cash, or at par, upon a novel installment feature which appeals to the Farmer as well as the Banker, the Clerk and Mechanic as well as the Millionaire, and to all who desire to invest their savings at better rates of interest than any bank will allow.

This company issues certificates of indebtedness in One and Five Dollars, each representing an installment, and when the investor has purchased $50 of these certificates he becomes entitled to a $100 Gold Bond, First Mortgage, bearing 6 per cent interest, which he can obtain up on presenting his certificates or forwarding them by letter to the Company's Office, 145 Broadway, N. Y.

The remaining $50 due on the Bond being payable to the Company in monthly installments not exceeding $5.

The Bond commences to draw interest on delivery the same as if fully paid. In addition to which the Company gives as a Bonus, Free, one fully paid up share of stock of the value of $25.

Those desiring to buy their Bonds outright for cash can do so at 10 per cent discount in $100, $500 or $1000 Bonds and receive one, five or ten shares of stock Free. The Bonds are secured by property owned absolutely by the Company, estimated to be worth $3,000,000, and this money received from sale of Bonds will be invested in Cattle, the income from which it is estimated will yield 30 per cent upon the stock after paying 6 per cent on the Bonds.

Applications are being forwarded in great numbers daily, and all those who desire to subscribe should send at once for Prospectuses and full information to The United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York.—"The N. Y. Financier."

Mr. William H. Hayes, who has been postmaster at Farmington under the last four presidents, died on Sunday, Dec. 20th. He was a veteran of the war, and afterward was a contractor for building the Union Pacific railroad. As postmaster he was faithful, enterprising and courteous, and as a citizen and church member his praise is in every one's mouth. Mr. Hayes was forty-four years old, and died from disease contracted while fighting for his country.

After Diphtheria.

Diphtheria is a terrible disease, requiring the greatest medical skill to effect a complete cure. Even when its power is broken, it clings to the patient with great persistency, and often leaves the system poisoned and prostrate. Just here Hood's Sarsaparilla does a vast amount of good, expelling impurities from the blood, giving it richness and vitality, while it renovates and strengthens the system.

MARCUS P. NORTON TO THE FORE.

Marcus P. Norton's notice of his motions to have the United States circuit court re-open and rehear, and set aside the verdict in the suit of Norton against Dover, and for a new trial on grounds of newly discovered evidence, and to hear him upon this motion on the 19th of January, was served on the city of Dover on Saturday. A similar notice in relation to the suit against the city of Portsmouth, that he be allowed to try his case at the next May term of the court in this city, was served on the city clerk of Portsmouth on Saturday. The notices were accompanied by copies of affidavits contained in 122 pages of printed matter. Similar notices will be served upon the cities of Concord, Manchester and Nashua to-day.

MARITIME NOTES.

The ship Lizzie Moses, Lansil master, was towed to sea on Thursday evening last on her way to Bath, Me., by the tug Knickerbocker, of Bath. In going down the river, on account of the towline having too much scope the ship was carried by the tide into the flight above Church point, where she fouled the schooner C. H. Trickey, hauled up there for the winter, parting one of the schooner's maintopmast backstays, springing her maintopmast, unshipping her spanker-boom, and scraping her paint a little. The ship was unharmed, and kept on her way.

The British schooner Arizona, from Moncton, N. B., for this port with railroad ties, was on Saturday reported to be anchored in a dangerous position off Osborne's point. The tug Clara Batemen went to her, and towed her some distance toward Whalesback, when the hawser was parted by the heavy sea, and the schooner was obliged to anchor again, but in a much better berth than before. She remained there over Sunday, making very fair weather of it.

The bark Harvard, Capt. Lester, which arrived at Boston last week from Cebu, on Oct. 20th encountered a hurricane which lasted fourteen hours, during which she was repeatedly boarded by seas, by which her cabin doors were smashed, tarpaulins washed off the hatches, and other damage caused. On Dec. 15th she experienced a heavy northwesterly gale which lasted twelve hours, but no damage was sustained.

CAPE NEDDICK, ME., Dec. 25th.

Editor of Gazette: No doubt most of the numerous readers of your paper in this vicinity will be interested in reading a brief account of an event that occurred in this place last evening. It was a Christmas festival held in the Baptist church, the auditorium being crowded. The exercises consisted of dialogues, recitations, readings, singing, and the distribution of numerous presents from the Christmas tree, which was loaded down with pretty things, some of practical utility, some ornamental, and some only fitted to excite merriment. The singing, under the direction of Mr. Melvin Talpey, was excellent, some of the pieces, as "Joy to the World," "I will sing of my Redeemer," and especially "Memories of Galilee," being rendered very finely indeed. The dialogues were spirited and appropriate; and the readings by Miss Nellie Weare and Miss Lizzie Talpey were uncommonly good. The services were under the general direction of Mr. A. M. Merrow, superintendent of the Sunday school, assisted by Mr. T. A. Oakes, the popular and efficient teacher of the district school. All present seemed gratified with the exercises, and with the presents they received; the latter was especially the case with the pastor, to whom was presented an envelope containing $35, a generous gift from the members of the parish. G. E.

A concert was given in the Methodist church at East Eliot on Wednesday evening of last week, to a full house, by a Dover glee club. The large audience was highly pleased.

Joseph Hobson & Sons, the largest lumber dealers in Biddeford, who shut down their mills recently, offered to settle with their creditors in the full amount, payable in one, two, three, four and five years, but Dr. Hastings of Fryeburg and three other creditors have put $12,000 attachments on the property, and the result will be the bankruptcy of the firm. Some years ago Mr. Hobson failed, compromised at twenty-five cents on a dollar, and subsequently paid all his creditors in full.

Senator Beck, of Kentucky, democrat, last week fired a heavy broadside at the president and Secretary Manning, over the silver question. In the language of Senator Morrill, he "represented the secretary of the treasury as little better than a common thief, and the president and secretary together as having been bought up by the bondholders."

The suicide by drowning, of Rev. John R. Elmore, a Baptist minister, residing near Clayton, Ind., is reported. Two months ago his coagregation learned that Elmore was a bigamist, and he was expelled from the pulpit. He had showed symptoms of insanity for several days, and on the night of the 24th he went to a neighbor's fish-pond, put his hat and coat on a stake, cut a hole in the ice, and drowned himself.

Workmen building a dam at St. Cloud, Minn., have lately dredged up from the bed of the Mississippi a few old newspaper types. They were in use in that town twenty-seven years ago, in the office of a paper edited by Mrs. Jane Grey Swisshelm, and which was destroyed by a proslavery mob.

The New York Sun and World, which hate the president very cordially, have expended lots of ill-natured criticism over the new seal said to have been devised for Mr. Cleveland's executive use. It turns out that he simply had a new die made of the old seal which has been used in the White House for the past seventy-five years. These papers will now feel obliged to hunt up another "new issue."

Osgood Lodge, No. 48, I. O. O. F., have arranged with Bro. A. L. Spring of Lebanon to deliver his lecture entitled "Through the Rio Grande: a journey in the Mexican republic," on Thursday evening, Jan. 14th, in Odd Fellows' hall in this city.

A petition asking that the commission to be appointed by Congress to confer with the English government in regard to the settlement of the fisheries treaty question, be instructed to call for the payment of a duty on the Provincial catch of fish entered in an American market, is being numerously signed by the fishermen and fish dealers of this city. The petition may be found at the office of Randall & Caswell. Similar petitions have been forwarded from many of the fishing ports of Massachusetts and Maine, signed almost unanimously by the fishing interests of the several places.

The new lantern in the archway of National block seems to be rather small in proportion to the size of the building; and the letters I O O F would look better were there a period after each one.

Passed Asst. Paymaster A. K. Michler is ordered to the Tallapoosa.

Three Peculiarities

Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier and regulating medicine, is characterized by three peculiarities, namely:

1st: The combination of the various remedial agents used.

2d: The proportion in which the roots, herbs, barks, etc., are mixed.

3d: The process by which the active medicinal properties are secured.

The result is a medicine of unusual strength and curative power, which effects cures heretofore unequalled. These peculiarities belong exclusively to Hood's Sarsaparilla, and are

Unknown to Others

Hood's Sarsaparilla is prepared with the greatest skill and care, by pharmacists of education and long experience. Hence it is a medicine worthy of entire confidence. If you suffer from scrofula, salt rheum, or any disease of the blood, dyspepsia, biliousness, sick headache, or kidney and liver complaints, catarrh or rheumatism, do not fail to try

Hood's Sarsaparilla

"I recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla to all my friends as the best blood purifier on earth." WM. GAFF, druggist, Hamilton, O.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla has cured me of scrofulous humor, and done me worlds of good otherwise." C. A. ARNOLD, Arnold, Me.

A book containing many additional statements of cures will be sent to all who desire.

"A THING OF BEAUTY IS A JOY FOREVER!"

As the time is fast approaching when people will be looking for the beautiful, to make their annual Christmas gifts from, we would respectfully call attention to our stock, selected expressly for the holiday trade.

Our stocks of WATCHES, JEWELRY, CLOCKS, SILVER-PLATED WARE and FANCY NOVELTIES, were never as large as this year. We take this occasion to thank our friends and the public in general for the confidence and liberal patronage they have bestowed on us for the last six years since leaving the house of HUTCHINSON & CONNELL, and in the future as in the past our motto will be, "Knowledge & Honesty:" First, we understand our business in all its branches fully, and cannot take advantage of our customers through ingorance; Second, we sell everything for just what it is.

Our reputation for skilled Watchwork is too well established to need any comment upon; there is no better engraving done in the State than we send out.

Please do not look in our window and think you see the bulk of our stock, for we cannot show but a small part of our stock in the window. Our show-cases are full, our safe is full. Please come in and let us show you.

We could quote our prices but do not think it wise to do so in a newspaper, but being the largest buyer in our line of any dealer in the State, we can give prices that no one can honestly beat.

The custom is growing in favor of purchasing Xmas gifts early and having them laid away, we already have several Silver and Gold Watches and Chains sold, some of them to be sent out of the State. Please call early and see if we cannot please you in every way. Respectfully,

JAMES R. CONNELL, 7 Congress Street,

JOSEPH B. ADAMS.

Mr. Joseph Edwin Adams, the last surviving son of Samuel Adams, Esq., of this city, died in Minneapolis, Minn., Dec. 24th, at the age of forty-one years, leaving a wife and three children. Though he had been in precarious health from lung disease for some time, his death was sudden at the last, being caused immediately by bronchial hemorrhage.

The deceased as a young man and a man of mature age was of irreproachable character, and though he some years ago ceased to be a resident of this city, he leaves here many who were pleased to be reckoned in his list of friends. He was a graduate of our public schools; served several years as a clerk in the office of Adams & Broughton, lumber dealers, and afterward was a member of the firm until five or six years ago, when on account of his health he removed to Minneapolis, which city he has since made his home. He has been there engaged in the buying and selling of real estate, and has done some building. His remains will be brought to this city for interment.

ALFRED WOODWARD HAVEN

Mr. Haven, the son of John Haven, a prominent ship owner of Portsmouth and for many years president of the Rockingham bank, was born in Portsmouth on the 14th of March, 1801. He studied law with his relative, the late Nathaniel Appleton Haven, Jr., was admitted to the bar in 1825, and for several years was engaged in the practice of his profession. Nearly fifty years ago he retired from practice, and devoted his time to the care of his property and that of others entrusted to him. He took a prominent part in the building of the railway between this city and Concord, and was for many years president of the Portsmouth & Concord railroad, afterward the Concord & Portsmouth. He has also been a director in the Rockingham bank, the Portsmouth Atheneum, and other local institutions. He served for several terms as a representative to the General Court. He has always been of decided political views, and in the days of the whig party was one of its most ardent supporters. He was an enthusiastic horticulturist, and his large garden for many years has produced the finest and most bountiful supply of choice fruit seen in Portsmouth.

Mr. Haven's first marriage was with Miss Louise Sheafe, daughter of James Sheafe, Esq., a prominent merchant of Portsmouth in the olden time. Mrs. Haven died in 1828, leaving one daughter. Mr. Haven was remarried in 1832 to the daughter of the late John Houston of Exeter, a lady well known for her interest in reformatory and charitable concerns, who with four children survives him. Mr. Haven, while reaching advanced years, never appeared like an old gentleman. He was a fine looking man, and until within a few years, when body and mind began to become alike enfeebled, moved in our streets with an elastic step; of late he has been confined to his house by illness, with which his strong constitution maintained a long contest until the end came.

POLICE COURT--BATCHELDER J.

Saturday, Dec. 26th.

Dennis Mahoney was arraigned for drunkenness, and fined $3 and costs. He was committed to jail in default of payment.

Bartholemew Murray and William Woolsey were arraigned on a similar complaint; each was fined $3 and costs, and both were committed to Brentwood in default of payment.

THE REVIVAL IN RYE.

RYE, Dec. 24th.

Rev. E. A. Whittier closed his evangelistic labors here on Wednesday evening last. The meetings have been well attended and of deep interest. Christians have been revived, backsliders reclaimed, and souls saved. Some sixty have risen for prayers, of whom a good proportion are indulging hope. Mr. Whittier has given great satisfaction in his ministration of the Word, and leaves many friends behind. He now goes to his home in Lawrence, Mass., for a few days of needed rest, and then to Vermont. B.

The Methodist society and Sunday school had a festival in their church on Thursday evening; there were two Christmas trees, and the exercises included the distribution of presents, singing, speaking etc. The Pearl street (Freewill Baptist) society had a festival on the same evening, to which all who had no "belong to" in the shape of a church were invited, as well as the regular attendants on that church; there were three Christmas trees, loaded with gifts, and the auditorium was crowded; the pastor, Rev. J. D. Waldron, and wife, were generously remembered by their parishioners.

Rev. Henry E. Hovey on Christmas afternoon held brief services in the children's Home and Cottage Hospital.

The musical programme at the Unitarian church, Sunday, was as follows: Morning—Overture to "Norma," Bellini, violin and organ; anthem, "There were shepherds," Buck; response, "Humbly before Thee," Millard, soprano solo with violin obligato, Miss Wendell; Christmas duo, Noel, Gounod, Mrs. Williams and Miss Wendell; Priest's War March, Mendelssohn, violin and organ. Evening—Selection from Stabat Mater, Rossini, violin and organ; anthem, "Hark, what mean those holy voices?" Buck; Christmas duo, Gounod; response, Traumerie, Schumann, violin and organ; Festival Jubilate, Berge; march from Prophette, Meyerbeer, violin and organ.

The following was the programme of music rendered in St. John's church on Christmas day by the choir, assisted by members of the choir chapter, and repeated on Sunday forenoon: Carol, Schultz; venite, Mendelssohn; glorias,—1, Mosenthal, 2, Armes, 3, Butler; te Deum, Gerrish; benedictus, anonymous; hymn, Mendelssohn; kyrie eleison, Beethoven; gloria tibi, Hodges; hymn, Avison; anthem, Berthold Lours; sanctus, Spohr; hymn, Hodges; gloria in excelsis, ancient chant; nunc dimittis, Barry.

The Universalist society and Sunday school will have a Christmas festival in the vestry of their church this (Monday) evening.

The Christmas festival of the Unitarian church and Sunday school will be held at Franklin hall, this (Monday) evening.

Twelve painters were discharged from the navy yard on Saturday.

It was rumored on the navy yard, last week, that the U. S. S. Vandalia was to be housed over, and retained at the yard until spring before being put into commission.

The ladies of the Unitarian society will give a pound party at Faith Home on Friday, January 1st, and request that all donations of provisions or money may be brought or sent to the Home at or after three o'clock in the afternoon on that day.

The directors of the Granite State Fire Insurance company were in session on Saturday.

Rivers & Hyman's Criterion Dramatic Co. closed their week's engagement at Music hall with the presentation of "The Child Stealer," Saturday evening. The company did not have a profitable week here, and probably no company would have had, on Christmas week.

I had the neuralgia for three months in my face and suffered so much that I was afraid it would drive me crazy. After taking part of a bottle of Athlophoros the pain all left me as by magic. Mamie Dietrich, 16 Hudson St., New Haven, Conn.

Capt. Horatio W. Trefethen, of the steamer Mystic, made substantial presents on Christmas to his employes. Capt. "Rashe" has the reputation of being successful, and certainly deserves success for the energy he has displayed in the improvement of steam navigation on the Piscataqua.

The fashionable fall flower is the banana peel. But the fall may be made pleasant by an application of St. Jacob's Oil.

Read what the people say concerning the ability of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil to cure asthma, catarrh, croup, colds, etc. Mrs. Dora Keefe of Buffalo, says: "For croup it is decidedly efficacious." [Mrs. Jacob Mellner of Marion, Ohio, says the same thing.] Sr. S. Graver, Akron, N. Y., writes: "Had asthma of the worst kind, took one dose of Thomas' Eclectric Oil and was relieved in a few minutes. Would walk five miles for this medicine and pay $5 a bottle for it." Druggist C. R. Hall, Grayville, Ill., says: "Cured an ulcerated tissue for me in twenty-four hours." "Sat up in bed and coughed till the clothing was wet with perspiration. My wife tested it and that I use Thomas' Eclectric Oil. The first teaspoonful relieved me." E. H. Perkins, Creek Centre, N. Y., "Thomas' Eclectric Oil is also a Tiger for external application for rheumatism, cuts, scalds, burns, bites, bruises, etc. When visiting the druggist, ask him what he knows of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil; if he has been long in the drug store, he sure he will say highly of it.
Curious Wonders.

CONSUMPTION.

I have a positive remedy for the above disease; by its use thousands of cases of the worst kind and of long standing have been cured. Indeed, so strongly do I feel of its efficacy, that I will send two bottles FREE, together with a VALUABLE TREATISE on this disease to any sufferer. Give express and P. O. address.
DR. T. A. SLOCUM, 181 Pearl St., New York.

DEAFNESS Its CAUSES and CURE, by one who was deaf twenty eight years. Treated by most of the noted specialists of the day with no benefit. Cured himself in three months, and since then hundreds of others by same process. A plain, simple and successful home treatment. Address T. S. PAGE, 126 East 26th st., New York City.

I CURE FITS!

When I say cure I do not mean merely to stop them for a time and then have them return again, I mean a radical cure. I guarantee the removal of FITS, SPINAL FITS or FALLING SICKNESS to be permanent. I warrant my remedy to cure the worst cases, whether of long standing or not. Have tried in vain to find a case I cannot cure. Send at once for a trial bottle and a Free Bottle of my infallible remedy. Give express and Post Office. It costs you nothing for a trial and I will cure you. DR. H. G. ROOT, 183 Pearl St., N. Y.

STATUE OF "LIBERTY ENLIGHTENING THE WORLD."

More Money Needed.

The Committee in charge of the construction of the pedestal and the erection of the Statue, in order to raise funds for its completion, have prepared, from model furnished by the artist, a perfect fac-simile Miniature Statuette, which they are delivering to subscribers throughout the United States at the following prices:

No. 1 Statuette, six inches in height,—the Statue bronzed; Pedestal, nickel-silvered,—at One Dollar each, delivered.

No. 2 Statuette, in same metal, twelve inches high, beautifully bronzed and nickeled, at Five Dollars each, delivered.

No. 3 Statuette, twelve inches high, finely chased, Statue bronzed, Pedestal, Heavily Silver-Plated, with PLEDGE CARD, at Ten Dollars each, delivered.

Much time and money have been spent in perfecting the Statuettes, and they are much improved over the first cost. The Committee have received from subscribers many letters of commendation.

The New York World Fund of $100 000 completes the Pedestal, but it is estimated that $20,000 yet needed to pay for the iron fastenings and the erection of the Statue.

Seventeen thousand cases of petroleum have been saved from the cargo of the barque Hannah W. Dudley, which was wreck on Lucina shoal, off Braibo, South America. The petroleum was sold at auction at prices giving no profit, and the consignees decline to pay further salvage. This was the vessel commanded by Capt. Dudley of Kennebunk, Me., and recently lost on the voyage from New York to China.

J. L. Estes, Burneyville, Chickasaw nation, Indian territory, writes: "I have to thank Allcock's Porous Plasters for saving the life of my wife; she was attacked with pneumonia which commenced with a violent chill, great coughing and high fever. I could not get a doctor, but fortunately had a box of Allcock's Porous Plasters in the house; I placed one between her breasts, one on each shoulder-blade, and one on the small of her back. In two hours her cough almost ceased and was very loose; in four hours she broke into a profuse perspiration. The next day, though very weak, she was free from fever, and the third day was quite well. I also cured my child of diphtheretic sore throat, by wrapping the neck in an Allcock's Porous Plaster."

PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY,

No. 76 State St., opposite Kilby St., Boston.

Secures Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Counter of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington. No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions. R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"Inventors cannot employ a person more trustworthy or more capable of securing for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, October 19, 1870.

R. H. EDDY, Esq.—Dear Sir: You procured for me, in 1846, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have occasionally employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business, in your line, and advise others to employ you. Yours truly, GEORGE DRAPER. BOSTON, January 1, 1876. eod1y

AN IMAGINARY HELL.

Mr. Frank Morley, of Waterbury, Ct., is the possessor of a breezy and picturesque style of writing, which shows that he has missed his avocation if he is not an ink-slinger on some Connecticut paper that dares to call a spade a spade. He has lately been the victim of neuralgia at his home, 89 Grand street, and describes the disease and his cure in this lively fashion:

"After suffering all the terrors of an imaginary orthodox hell for two weeks with inflammatory rheumatism and daily growing worse, I was induced to try Athlophoros. The effect was like magic. I was relieved immediately and would like to say to all who are suffering with the dread disease, 'Don't wait; try Athlophoros.'"

Those who have suffered from inflammatory rheumatism will appreciate the force of Mr. Morley's remarks, and will also agree with the estimate which Mr. George L. Pease, another citizen of Waterbury, puts upon the value of Athlophoros:

"I would have Athlophoros," he says, "if I had to pay ten dollars a dose for it. After fourteen years of intense suffering it has done for me what our best physicians could not do. During that time I took every known medicine for neuralgia of the stomach, but found no relief at all until I took Athlophoros. The effect was wonderful. All pain disappeared and my general health was so much improved as to cause general comment. I cannot speak too highly of the merits of Athlophoros, and cheerfully recommend it to all who may be troubled with rheumatism or neuralgia."

From Pigeon Cove, Mass., Susannah Brown sends these words of good cheer to those afflicted with neuralgia:

"I had been troubled with neuralgia in my head for four or five years, day and night. Seeing an advertisement of Athlophoros in a Gloucester paper, I thought I would try it and so I sent a year ago for some. I have taken eight bottles and since last March I have had no neuralgia at all. My head, I think, is entirely well. I consider Athlophoros a great remedy for neuralgia and shall recommend it to any one troubled with it."

Mrs. Sarah J. Cross, of Monroe, N.H., says of her experience:

"Athlophoros has done wonderful cures for myself and all those who have used any that I let them have. As for myself the rheumatism is a thing of the past to me, and I feel like a new person."

"When I first tried Athlophoros," says Mrs. Mary T. Hart, of Farmington, Ct., "I was so afflicted with rheumatism in my knees that they were badly swollen, and I suffered a great deal of pain. Three doses began to have an effect, and when I had used two bottles the pain left and the swelling and stiffness disappeared and have never returned. About a year later my shoulder troubled me. One bottle of Athlophoros cured that and I have not had rheumatism since. I recommended its use to one or two neighbors, who tried it and were relieved."

The Inch and the Ounce.

As the Jews had a mystical reverence for seven, and the ancient Welsh and Celts for three and the Greeks a perfect philosophy constructed out of the harmonies of all numbers, so the Romans fell back upon a scale of or more properly a scale with a base of six. Accordingly, as they divided the pound into twelve unciæ so they also divided the foot, which was the standard of linear measure, into twelve sections, and they called these unciæ too. But how did they get the inch originally?—for that, and not the inch, is the unit. There seems to be no precise information. They would divide any unit into twelfths, and a prevailing notion was at one time that the linear unciæ was really the original, and was then transferred as a name to a weight. This though plausible, is hardly the case. Sometimes, especially in old-fashioned books, written at a time when philology was not what it is now, it was the fashion to derive the unciæ from the same word in the Greek, because after the revival of letters in Europe the admiration of the Greek became so great that whenever similar words were found in it and some other language it was always said that other language borrowed them from the Greek. This is very far from being always so; and in the present instance the very reverse appears to have occurred. The ounce is literally the twelfth; and thus we see at once the sense of speaking of an ounce of land and an inch of milk, just as of an inch of a man's will or an inch of interest for money on loan.

It was always the twelfth of a unit—twelfth of an hour; twelfth of jugerum, that half acre which the two oxen plowed in a day; twelfth of a sextarius, or equivalent to our pint; twelfth of the entire hereditas; twelfth of the principal lent on hire when it was money as usury—i. e., over eight per cent. It is accordingly as much a mistake to say the primary meaning of a word is a linear, which is to say that it comes straight from the Greek into the Latin, and thence on to us. The riddle is plain enough when we get to the true origin of the word—a twelfth. Once, indeed, it used to be said that the true origin was that the word meant a thumb breadth, because its equivalent pollex in linear measure was often used in its place. But this is not the case.

Some of the old Latins themselves, moreover, thought it meant literally the unit; but even this will not hold beside the proper signification of twelfth. The pound weight was really never divided by inches or ounces. It was divided by twelfths, by halfs, by thirds, by fourths and by sixths. And here, again, we see what a convenient base a system of twelfths is for division compared with a system of tenths, which could only be divided evenly in two ways—by two and five. For seven ounces they used the literal seven twelfths; for eight ounces they said two parts, i. e., two-thirds; for nine, wanting a fourth, which with us reads like a roundabout way of expressing three-quarters; for ten, wanting a sixth; for eleven, wanting a twelfth.—London Standard.

Norwegian Traits.

The inquisitiveness of the Norwegians increased, if possible, as we advanced. But they never tell you anything in return for what they elicit. They are reserved as they are curious. Only one woman, designated in the guide-books as the "friendly landlady," offered any information about herself. She was a Dane by birth, so she hardly counts. They are a very honorable race, almost never try to take any advantage of you, are always kindly and well-meaning. When you give a fee its recipient gives a funny little "bob," and then offers you his or her hand, shooting it out at you from the shoulder like a pump handle. After we discovered this custom we took care to put on gloves before paying, for the farther we went the dirtier the people became. As for smells, Italy and Spain together can not present such a combination of insufferable odors as a Norwegian guard can furnish in five minutes. How they can exist in the stench and dirt of their own rooms which they do not care for as they do for those of strangers who visit them, and how they can live and thrive on such food as they have is almost inconceivable. Yet I suppose what we saw was luxury compared to what might be found in still more solitary spots where families live on fish alone the whole year round, and find shelter in a miserable little dwelling perched upon some ledge on a mountain or on a scrap of beach with no apparent means of communication with any other point of the known world. It is a thousand times worse than it ever can be in the southern countries, for they have warmth and light, and the physical necessities are few. Here, in addition to all other privations, cold and darkness reign at least three-quarters of the year. The Norwegians are a wonderfully honest people. As we were driving along one day, we saw two umbrellas hanging on the branch of a tree. Some people not caring to be incumbered with them had left them there till they should pass that way again. Although it was raining no one thought of touching them. An English lady told us that going for a walk one day, she found her fur-lined silk cloak too heavy and remarked that she wished that she had left it at home. "Take it off," said a Norwegian friend who was with her, "and hang it on this tree." She did so, and when she returned two hours later, there it still remained. Yet these admirable qualities are hardly more advantageous to the traveler than the universal slackness and slowness are trying.—Springfield Republican.

A Story About Governor Kent.

One of the stories passed down about Governor Kent illustrates his lively sense of humor. After his election as Governor he started for Augusta in a stage coach. They stopped at a tavern on the way, and the Governor asked the stage driver to go in and buy him a cigar. The Governor did not ask him to light it, but he came out of the tavern with the cigar in his mouth, puffing and holding a match to the other end. After he got the cigar agoing he took it from his mouth and handed it to the Governor.

"I guess not," said he. "I might have done it before election, but couldn't do it now."—Lewiston (Me.) Journal.

Brook Trout in California.

The brook trout of Whitney Creek are almost as regally colored as the gold fish. Their sides are barred with gold, while underneath they are of the most delicate, but very richly blood color. They are remarkably tenacious of life. After being dressed for over ten minutes, and after being two minutes in the pan, in boiling fat, they were still vigorously protesting against death and dishonor of cooking. The flavor of these brook trout, though very fair, was not remarkable, but as to beauty, they were incomparably ahead of any fish not of the tropics I have ever seen. To take them from their crystal waters, in all their grace of life, flash of motion and magnificence of color and subject them to the disgrace of the frying-pan and death in pork fat, was adding deeper disgrace to the "deep damnation of their taking off."

That they were never made to be eaten is beyond question. Such beauty and such colors have higher uses. I love to think of them in their flashing, ice-cold pure streams, not in Summer, when human visitors disturb them and the grounds bounding their rivers are hot, dusty and discolored, but when deep, healing snow covers the mountains and silence is supreme. That, indeed, is the only time of real magnificence in the mountains.—San Francisco Bulletin.

A Novel Feature in Investments.

The whole country after having undergone a period of depression is now asking itself, what business has least been affected and uninjured?

Such a business, industry or corporation, that can make a better showing now than before the crisis attracts the attention of capital, merits the confidence of investors and is being eagerly sought for.

There is such a business, and it has heretofore been monopolized by English and Scotch capital until some three hundred millions have been invested in the Ranche and Cattle business of this great country.

Foremost among the strongest, richest and most successful American Companies stands the United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York, which is now offering $600,000 First Mortgage 6 per cent 10 Year Bonds, for subscription at 90 cash, or at par, upon a novel installment feature which appeals to the Farmer as well as the Banker, the Clerk and Mechanic as well as the Millionaire, and to all who desire to invest their savings at better rates of interest than any bank will allow.

This company issues certificates of indebtedness in One and Five Dollars, each representing an installment, and when the investor has purchased $50 of these certificates he becomes entitled to a $100 Gold Bond, First Mortgage, bearing 6 per cent interest, which he can obtain upon presenting his certificates or forwarding them by letter to the Company's Office, 145 Broadway, N. Y.

The remaining $50 due on the Bond being payable to the Company in monthly instalments not exceeding $5.

The Bond commences to draw interest on delivery the same as if fully paid. In addition to which the Company gives as a Bonus, Free, one fully paid up share of stock of the value of $25.

Those desiring to buy their Bonds outright for cash can do so at 10 per cent discount in $100, $500 or $1000 Bonds and receive one, five or ten shares of stock Free. The Bonds are secured by property owned absolutely by the Company, estimated to be worth $3,000,000, and this money received from sale of Bonds will be invested in Cattle, the income from which it is estimated will yield 30 per cent upon the stock after paying 6 per cent on the Bonds.

Applications are being forwarded in great numbers daily, and all those who desire to subscribe should send at once for Prospectuses and full information to The United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York.—"The N. Y. Financier."

Disciplining the President.

When Senator Beck criticised the president's views upon the silver question in the senate recently, not a democratic senator had a word to say in behalf of the administration, and instead of any defence from the house of its political friends, silence reigned supreme in democratic quarters. This is the result of a dogged determination on the part of the democratic senators to have their rights. If they cannot control the offices, then no support is to be given. The question is, who is supreme,—the president, with his peculiar views as to appointments, or the senators of his party, with their hungry and thirsty constituencies urging them on to stratagems and spoils? The victory of the democracy last year hardly, in its results, comes up to the fruition of the cherished plans and purposes of our democratic friends.

Texas Tragedies.

Great excitement exists in Austin, Texas, over a series of daring and brutal murders. It is said that within a few months seven or eight women have been murdered and others criminally assaulted, they being most if not all domestic servants.

On Friday night last the wife of W. H. Hancock was found by her husband dying in the back yard, having been fatally wounded with a dull axe while in bed, and then taken out of the front door and around into the back yard.

On the same night a Mrs. Phillips was awakened by the crying of her little grandson, and entering her son's room found him dying from a terrible blow on the head, the infant being unhurt. The wife, Ella Phillips, was missing, and her dead body was found in the back yard of the neighboring premises, with the head split with an axe.

The mayor called a meeting of the citizens on Saturday, and a committee of safety was formed to hunt down the assassins.

On Saturday the remains of Claude Eames, a white child eight years old, were found half devoured by hogs in the backyard of his mother's premises about two miles from Austin, having been buried only about a foot deep. A few months ago Hugh Eames, the child's father, died suddenly from poison, leaving two children, Dollie, aged eleven, and the boy. The mother tried to give them away, and recently reported that she had sent them to distant places. A man named Charles Courtney, who became a boarder in the family after Eames' death, returned to the house on Saturday after a brief absence, found the place deserted, and discovered the boy's body. He at once gave the alarm, and the woman was arrested in San Antonio on Sunday. Courtney is also under arrest, on suspicion; and search is being made for Dollie Eames, who is supposed to have been murdered by the unnatural mother.

At San Augustine, Texas, on Friday, a wholesale case of poisoning occurred, resulting in the probable death of thirteen persons. James Willey, a negro, had threatened to kill Samuel Tanners, alleging that the latter had "voodooed" him. On Friday, Tanners and his eight children were taken very sick, the man and two of the children soon dying. Fletcher Taylor and four children, living near Tanners and using water from the same well, were also taken sick, and one child soon died. It was thought on Sunday that nine more of the poisoned persons would die. Willey, who was arrested, put arsenic in the well. All the parties are colored.

President Grevy Re-elected.

Francois Jules P. Grevy was on the 28th inst. re-elected president of the French republic by a majority of 135, the senate and the chamber of deputies sitting together as a national assembly. There was intense excitement, and one fight between members of the "right" and "left."

At Stringer, New Mexico, on the night of Dec. 23d, six masked men rode into the town, and forcing the jailer to give up his keys, took from the jail Theodore Baker, charged with murdering Frank Unruh, a wealthy ranchman, with whose wife Baker is supposed to have been criminally intimate, and hanged him to a telegraph pole near the jail. The jailer in the meantime gave the alarm, and the citizens after a brief skirmish drove the mob out, and cut Baker down just in time to save his life.

The schooners Adelia Hartwell of Gloucester, Mass., and Sabra E. Killam of Pubnico, N. S., were totally wrecked at Grand Manan on the 26th inst., and the captain of the latter was frozen to death. The schooner Gazelle is also a total loss, and the A. J. Franklin ashore. The schooner Breeze, of Portland, drifted out of the harbor with one man on board, and is lost. The wind at Grand Manan blew eighty miles an hour.

Mrs. Elizabeth Arrington, about seventy years old, living alone in a small house in Foxboro, Mass., was found dead on the floor of her kitchen, Saturday evening, having evidently been most brutally murdered. She was the widow of a soldier, very poor, and received state aid from Massachusetts; and it is supposed the pittance of $24, paid her the previous Monday, was the cause of her murder. The money was not found by the assassin, it being in a box on a table.

The schooner Nellie G. Thurston, which arrived at Gloucester, Mass., Dec. 26th, from the Grand banks, reported the loss of three of the crew of schooner Lizzie Griffin, who were capsized in a dory, while visiting trawls. Their names were William Cummings, George Arnold and Louis Barnes. The Thurston reports the weather very rough on the banks

Members of the Drawbaugh syndicate met in Boston recently, having delayed meeting until Hon. Frank Jones returned from Europe, and considered a communication from Senator Edmunds, recommending an appeal from the decision of Judge Wallace in the Bell-Drawbaugh suit to the United States Supreme court. It was voted to make the appeal prior to January 1st, and the expectation is that the attorney general will see that the case is placed upon the calendar so as to insure a hearing this winter. The Drawbaugh people take no part in the proceedings to test the chief patent of the Bell company, lately before Secretary Lamar. The Drawbaugh issue is one of priority of invention and not of infringement, and it is of no concern to them whether Bell or Gray should have acquired a patent if it shall appear that Drawbaugh was the earliest inventor of the telephone.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H. M. M. COLLIS, Proprietor.

As the time is fast approaching when people will be looking for the beautiful, to make their annual Christmas gifts from, we would respectfully call attention to our stock, selected expressly for the holiday trade.

Our stocks of WATCHES, JEWELRY, CLOCKS, SILVER-PLATED WARE and FANCY NOVELTIES, were never as large as this year. We take this occasion to thank our friends and the public in general for the confidence and liberal patronage they have bestowed on us for the last six years since leaving the house of HUTCHINSON & CONNELL, and in the future as in the past our motto will be, "Knowledge & Honesty:" First, we understand our business in all its branches fully, and cannot take advantage of our customers through ingorance; Second, we sell everything for just what it is.

Our reputation for skilled Watchwork is too well established to need any comment upon; there is no better engraving done in the State than we send out.

Please do not look in our window and think you see the bulk of our stock, for we cannot show but a small part of our stock in the window. Our show-cases are full, our safe is full. Please come in and let us show you.

We could quote our prices but do not think it wise to do so in a newspaper, but being the largest buyer in our line of any dealer in the State, we can give prices that no one can honestly beat.

The custom is growing in favor of purchasing Xmas gifts early and having them laid away, we already have several Silver and Gold Watches and Chains sold, some of them to be sent out of the State. Please call early and see if we cannot please you in every way. Respectfully,

JAMES R. CONNELL, 7 Congress Street,

POLICE COURT--BATCHELDER J.

MONDAY, Dec. 28th.

John Daley and John Kelley, two tramps, were each bound over in the sum of $100 for appearance before the supreme court.

At the Court street Christian church, Sunday, the musical programme was as follows: Voluntary on the organ; anthem, "Behold, I bring you good tidings;" response, "Bow down thine ear;" Christmas hymns, "Hark! what mean those holy voices?" and "Hark! the herald angels sing;" organ voluntary.

Contractor Shanahan has been permitted by vote of the committee on the new sewer to sub-contract the ledge work on Deer street. It is understood that A. Brackett Trefethen and Enoch J. Conner of this city will do the work, at a price not to exceed $13,000.

Mrs. Drusilla D. Chase, an octogenarian lady of Christian Shore, came down to market street a few days before Christmas, unattended, and purchased the materials from which she made in one day her winter cloak.

Dr. Benedict has removed his office from National block to the corner of Court place and Medical avenue, sometimes known as State street, the home of the doctors.

Joshua L. Foster, Esq., of Dover, was in town on Christmas day. It was not an especially merrie Christmas for our Dover brother, as however much Foster's Democrat, as an organ of the administration, may indorse the appointment of Mark F. Nason as postmaster of Dover, the fearless expounder of democratic ideas, in his heart of hearts, has a decidedly different opinion as to the propriety of the selection.

E. S. Newton on Monday bought 6000 lbs. of cod and 10,000 fresh herring for the Manchester market.

The officers of St. Andrew's Lodge, No. 56, A. F. & A. M., were publicly installed on Monday evening in Masonic hall by D. D. G. M. John Pender, in presence of a large number of members of the order, and invited guests, including many ladies. Following the installation exercises supper was served in the banquet hall, and was succeeded by a dance in Congress hall.

It was reported on Monday that the fish buyers of Rockport, Mass., had all agreed to do no buying or selling on Sunday, and that they were endeavoring to have the same rule adopted by the dealers here.

The postponed "Phantom party" will take place in Franklin hall on Tuesday evening, Jan. 5th.

Civil Engineer T. Dame, of Eliot, has just completed for J. C. Ropes of Boston and Joseph May of Philadelphia a plan of the "Cottage lot" at Norwood farm, York harbor, showing the size, shape and location of a large number of eligible building lots which will undoubtedly be in demand in the near future for the erection of summer residences. Of the execution of the plan it is enough to say that it is as handsome as the one previously made of "Evanston," York, by the same gentleman.

Senator Blair last week introduced in the senate a bill providing "that the secretary of the interior be authorized to place on the pension roll the name of M. Louise Butler, widow of George Butler, late a major of marines in the service of the United States, and pay her a pension at the rate of $50 per month; said pension to be in lieu of any she may hereafter receive." Major Butler died at the Portsmouth navy yard, where he was in command of the marine barracks at the time.

MARITIME NOTES.

The steamer Mystic has discontinued for the winter her late Monday and Wednesday evening trips,—from Kittery at eight o'clock and from this city at nine; she will continue on the evenings named to leave Kittery at 6:30 and Portsmouth at 7:50, and will make the nine o'clock trip on Saturday evenings as heretofore.

The schooner George Bird, Gray master, bound for this port from New York with coal, dragged ashore in Edgartown harbor during the gale of Dec. 26th. Wreckers were assisting her on the 28th, and it was expected she would float with slight damage. Her rudder was injured.

Fish were scarce in this market on Monday; the boats which arrived reported the loss of pretty much all the nets and trawls which were set in Ipswich bay, during the blow of Friday, Saturday and Sunday. The sea was very rough outside, and too rough in the bay for any fishing to be done.

The British schooner Arizona, with a cargo of railroad ties from the Provinces, was towed up on Monday by the tug Clara Batemen, after a sojourn of several days at the mouth of the harbor enforced by stress of weather.

The schooner Florence N. Tower, in coming up the river last week with a load of coal, struck the rocks, but quickly came off; damage not yet known, and will not be until the vessel is hauled out.

The schooner Clara E. Simpson, now at this port, will remain here for some time; her foremast is defective, and a new one will probably be required.

A despatch of Dec. 27th, from Saco, says:—"Schooner Silver Spray of Rockland, Capt. F. E. Robinson, lies near Biddeford pool with a cargo of lime, on fire. She has been cleared of rigging and deck load, and the crew are at work trying to save the cargo, but the flames will probably break through the sides, and she will be a total loss. A telegram was sent to her owners to-night. Negligence is reported on the part of the employes of the life-saving station."

Between three and four o'clock Sunday morning the safe of the passenger station of the Boston & Maine railroad, Eastern division, at Swampscott, Mass., was blown open, and notes, bank books and money to a considerable amount stolen, the tickets being untouched.

THE MAINE MARRIAGE LAW.

Mr. Editor: It has often been observed that persons living in Maine come into New Hampshire to be united in marriage. The law in Maine requires that the intention of marriage be entered in the town clerk's office at least five days before the marriage. It is understood that the object of leaving the state is to escape this requirement of the law. Now such persons should know that when they return to Maine their marriage is null and void under the law of that state. The statute declares such marriage illegal. Five days is all the time that is required for the preliminary notice. This is a precautionary measure, based upon good grounds, and there is nothing unreasonable in it. This has been the law for many years. If the parties conform to it, then they can go into another state and be united and return to Maine, and all will be legal. If they disregard it the marriage will have no legal force in Maine. The consequences must rest upon the parties themselves,—but ministers and justices of the peace in New Hampshire will do well to inquire of parties coming to them from Maine, whether they have complied with this requirement, and if they have not, warn them of the facts in the case. JUSTICE.

*This provision of the Maine marriage law was passed to prevent couples leaving the state to get married; but it never appeared to have any of the effect intended, and we are not aware that the validity of the law was ever tested in the courts. It is more than probable that a marriage ceremony solemnized in New Hampshire in conformity with New Hampshire law, and making the contracting parties husband and wife in New Hampshire and thirty-six other states, and all the territories of the Union, would be decided as of binding force in the thirty-eighth state. At any rate, if there is any Maine husband who, having tired of his marital mate, is thinking of taking a new one on the ground that his New Hampshire marriage was illegal, (notwithstanding it was strictly in accordance with New Hampshire law) on account of something which he did or did not do in Maine, we would advise him to take legal advice before he has the second ceremony performed.—Ed.

—"How charmingly you sing, Miss Guseberry." "Do you think so?" "Oh, yes indeed, I never listen to you without wishing you were where my cousin out in Colorado could hear you."

—"Come, now, Bertie, kiss your little sister and make up with her," said mamma to her ten-years-old boy. "What! the Pawnee chief bow low to pale-face Cry-Baby! Mother, you ask too much."

—If George Washington had been captured by the English he would no doubt have shared the fate of Riel, and we would all be orphans. There would be no Washington market, Washington Territory, or Washington city.

—"Here is a curious case, ma'am," said the superintendent of the insane asylum. "This man imagines he is the motive power that runs the world. He's perfectly harmless though, but he thinks the world would't move without him. Very queer notion, isn't it?" "I don't know about that; my husband has got the same notion in his head."

CONSTIPATION!
There is no medium through which disease so often attacks the system as by Constipation, and there is no other ill flesh is heir to more apt to be neglected, from the fact material inconvenience may not be immediately felt from irregular action of the bowels. When there is not regular action the retention of decayed and effete matter, with its poisonous gases, soon poisons the whole system by being absorbed into it, causing piles, fistula, headache, impure blood and many other serious affections. BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS will immediately relieve, and one bottle positively cure or relieve any case of Constipation.
"Was troubled for a year with torpid liver and indigestion, and after trying everything imaginable used BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS. The first bottle revived me and the second cured me entirely."—J. S. Williamson, Rochester, N. Y.

PROF. CHS. LUDWIG VON SEEGER,

Professor of Medicine at the Royal University; Knight of the Royal Austrian Order of the Iron Crown; Knight Commander of the Royal Spanish Order of Isabella; Knight of the Royal Prussian Order of the Red Eagle; Chevalier of the Legion of Honor, &c., &c., says:

"LIEBIG CO'S COCA BEEF TONIC should not be confounded with the horde of trashy sure alls. It is in no sense of the word a patent remedy. I am thoroughly conversant with its mode of preparation and know it to be not only a legitimate pharmaceutical product, but also worthy of the high commendations it has received in all parts of the world. It contains essence of Beef, Coca, Quinine, Iron and Calisaya, which are dissolved in pure genuine Spanish Imperial Crown Sherry."

STATUE OF "LIBERTY ENLIGHTENING THE WORLD."

More Money Needed.

The Committee in charge of the construction of the pedestal and the erection of the Statue, in order to raise funds for its completion, have prepared, from model furnished by the artist, a perfect facsimile Miniature Statuette, which they are delivering to subscribers throughout the United States at the following prices:
No. 1 Statuette, 22 inches in height—the Statue bronzed, Pedestal, nickel-silvered, One Dollar each, delivered.
No. 2 Statuette, in same metal, twelve inches high, beautifully bronzed and nickeled, at Five Dollars each, delivered.
No. 3 Statuette, twelve inches high, finely chased, Statue bronzed, Pedestal, Heavily Silver-Plated, with PLUSH STAND, at Ten Dollars each, delivered.
Much time and money have been spent in perfecting the Statuette, and they are much improved over the first test cast. The Committee have received from subscribers many letters of commendation.
The New York World Fund of $100,000 completes the Pedestal, but it is estimated that $20,000 is yet needed to pay for the iron fasteners and the erection of the Statue.
Lists of subscriptions for the Miniature Statuettes will possess the desired amount.
Address, with remittance,
RICHARD BUTLER, Secretary,
American Committee of the Statue of Liberty,
22 Mercer Street, New York.

Spectacles.

LOST on Saturday, somewhere within a thousand feet of Market Square, a pair of SPECTACLES, in a case. The finder will be rewarded on returning the same to this office.

A Cloud of Witnesses.

In many instances the opium-eating habit has been contracted through the use of narcotics, prescribed by physicians during sickness. Many remedies which claim to cure coughs contain morphia or opium, and it can easily be understood what a bad effect they must have on children. The new remedy, — Red Star Cough Cure, is entirely free from these dangerous ingredients, and the mass of testimony which has already been collected in its favor from all parts of the country is proof of its wonderful purity and efficacy.

Samuel F. Besse has been held for the grand jury on a charge of having murdered Richard N. Lawton of Westport, Mass., who was found dead in his wagon.

Mothers.

An engine and mail car went down a sixty-foot embankment at Pelhamville, near New York, Dec. 27th, the rest of the train remaining on the track. The fireman was killed, and the mail agent and seven assistants more or less injured. The train left Boston the night previous.

Look Out For Your Head.

No matter what parts it may finally affect, catarrh always starts in the head, and belongs to the head. There is no mystery about the origin of this direful disease. In begins in a neglected cold. One of the kind that is "sure to be better in a few days." Thousands of victims know how it is by sad experience. Ely's Cream Balm cures colds in the head and catarrh in all its stages. Not a snuff nor a liquid. Applied with the finger to the nostrils.

A Burglar Captured.

This morning about two o'clock, John Wood, the well-known plumber who resides on Maine street, was awakened by hearing glass break. On getting out of bed he received a blow on the head. He immediately grappled with the burglar, and after a terrible struggle succeeded in holding him until his wife obtained help. On being searched at the station, Mr. Wood's watch and wallet was found on his person. He gave the name of Robert Jerry. The broken glass proved to be a bottle of Sulphur Bitters which had almost cured Mrs. Wood of rheumatism.

Sockabasin Swassin, governor of the Penobscot tribe of Indians, died at his home on Indian island, Oldtown, Me., last Saturday. He has been governor of the tribe for many years.

The barkentine John Baizley of Philadelphia, which has been extensively altered and repaired by T. M. Hagan & Co., was taken from the firm's wharf in Bath, Me., during Friday night, and towed to sea, leaving a number of astonished creditors, many of them day laborers. The Baizley's destination is unknown to the creditors.

J. L. Estes, Burnesville, Chickasaw nation, Indian territory, writes: "I have to thank Allcock's Porous Plasters for saving the life of my wife; she was attacked with pneumonia which commenced with a violent chill, great coughing and high fever. I could not get a doctor, but fortunately had a box of Allcock's Porous Plasters in the house; I placed one between her breasts, one on each shoulder-blade, and one on the small of her back. In two hours her cough almost ceased and was very loose; in four hours she broke into a profuse perspiration. The next day, though very weak, she was free from fever, and the third day was quite well. I also cured my child of diphtheretic sore throat, by wrapping the neck in an Allcock's Porous Plaster."

WORDS OF PRAISE.

Dr. James D. Bragg, a druggist and physician of the old school, residing at 271 East Main St., Bridgeport, Connecticut, is full of praise for Athlophoros. This is what he has to say:

"I have been a resident of this city for ten years and am conversant with the prevailing diseases in this section. None is so common as rheumatism and neuralgia. During the fall season I have a busy practice with neuralgia and rheumatic patients, and I prescribe Athlophoros with unparalleled success. It is a perfectly safe medicine, and so pure that a baby can take it."

One of the happiest men in Maine nowadays is William Sawyer, of West Hampden, Penobscot county. Mr. Sawyer is a butcher, long and favorably known in his county, and that he has abundant cause for his happiness will appear from the following statement.

"I was sick last fall with rheumatism," he says, "and a lady sent me word to try Athlophoros. I did so. When I got the medicine the minister was at my house. At four o'clock I took him and two others to get me up off the bed. I took the Athlophoros and in less than two hours one man got me off the bed and in ten hours I got off alone, and in eighteen hours my fever had all gone. I have recommended the medicine to three others that were not so badly off as I was and it worked like a charm. I tell the doctors that I will bet fifty dollars that I can cure any rheumatism fever, I don't care how bad, in twenty hours with one bottle of Athlophoros. I am a butcher going around all over the country and I have to tell this story sometimes ten times a day. I wouldn't be without Athlophoros, and carry it with me all the time."

"I wish to say a word in praise of Athlophoros," says E. J. Flood, of Oxford, Me. "I was taken with rheumatism last May and was treated by my family doctor for some time without relief. I then tried every other rheumatic cure I could hear of with the same result. Some five weeks ago I by chance learned of Athlophoros. I bought a bottle and began taking it and in less than twenty-four hours I could walk without a cane and suffered no pain. I have taken two bottles and to-day I am able to do a hard day's work. I consider it the greatest rheumatic remedy ever known. Since I have been cured I have had a number of people come to me to ask what I took to cure me. To-day I have had three ladies from a distance of six miles to hear about the great remedy. There are three persons in my village that are now using it with the happiest results."

Mrs. Charles H. Gifford, of Lincoln Centre, Me., says:

"I cannot express my thanks for the benefit I have received from the use of one bottle of Athlophoros. I inherited rheumatism from my mother, who suffered and told agony until her death. My father spent hundreds of dollars to get help for her and found none. I have tried many different remedies, but never got any relief to speak of from them, except from Athlophoros, which I can truly say has helped me. I wish to get a few more bottles, so that I can let some of my suffering friends have some."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York.

Growing Old Gracefully.

After a certain age, varying from 50 to 60, men are liable to declaim about the vanity of things and to have a settled distaste for pursuits and amusements which occupied earlier years. It is a dangerous time. In order to find relief such men often break up the business vocations of a lifetime and seek in new experiments the glow and ardor which have vanished with youth. It is a prolific source of financial failures; often of domestic disruptions; sometimes leading to suicide or madness. Youth and its passions are not to be recalled by a change of locality or of business. What these people fret about is simply the departure of youth. They have not the philosophy to adjust themselves to approaching age and serenely await the end, and they plunge into chimerical business ventures and break up homes and seek new lands in the vain hope of reviving a fire which can never burn brightly again. There is not one man in a dozen, with a fixed and ample income, who can not with patience submit himself to the conservative dictates of age, and with books and friends lead a life of innocent pleasure. The struggle is always to make sixty beat with the impulsive numbers of thirty, and that can never be. The wise man will bow the yoke, and by so doing will cease to feel it. It is a yoke which all must wear save those which the Greeks declared were blessed of the gods because they died young.—Pittsburg Telegraph.

It was foreseen years ago that California would produce ten times as much fruit as would meet the wants of local consumption. That point is now believed to have been reached, yet fruit culture is still in its infancy there. The only limit to production seems to be the foreign demand, and fruit growers are anxiously casting about to find markets for their crops. They have had several conventions to consider the subject, and will soon hold another. It is expected that they will be enabled to send two freight trains of fruit per week to the Eastern markets next year, and if the business is pushed it can be made profitable, otherwise not. The element of co-operation is essential to success.

The Boston Girl and Her Spectacles.

Boston girls begin early to reflect the unmistakable Boston looks. No matter how giddy they may begin, they end by wearing a determined, independent, very recently groomed expression, as though their brains and skin has just been sandpapered. The really pretty ones are under 16, and wear their glossy hair in braids down their backs and sensible little suits with everything taut about them. Their complexions are fresh and rosy, their eyes bright and they have the air of perfect health. After 18, I regret to say, they are not so comely, unless heaven has intended they should eclipse their sister mortals and be known as "belles." Either the Boston girl is a victim of inherited myopia or she early acquires a weakness of vision by too close application to books, for their reputation for being addicted to eye-glasses is too true. Half the girls I met that morning wore them. "What does it mean," I asked my companion, as a child of 10 passed by having on a pair of gold-bowed spectacles, "what does it mean that the eyesight of Americans should be so defective? If this goes on, babies in arms will be wearing spectacles before they can talk."

My friend then told me of her experience with a highly-reported oculist whom she had consulted for an acute strain of the eyes several years ago. She was always hearsighted, inherited the difficulty, but only used glasses occasionally. One night she read by a flickering gas light and brought on a serious and painful inflammation of the eyeball. Various remedies were tried to allay the trouble without avail, and she then sent for the oculist in question for advice. He examined her thoroughly; sat her staring into brilliant flame; shut her up in darkness; pulled up first one eyelid, then the other, and finally announced there was a grave inequanity of vision, one eye was doing all the work and the other was losing its sight. To make a long story short, she was ordered not to look at a book or do any work of any kind for a month, and then he would write a prescription for spectacles. "Spectacles!" she cried; "no, indeed. I a must wear anything I shall wear eyeglasses." The oculist smiled grimly and replied eyeglasses could not fit the vision. It was impossible for an optician to make them, and she would eventually be blind if she did not put on the spectacles. He had ordered them for a great many persons who took immense comfort with them now. But my friend is not Bostonese, and she said, "I'll not join the spectacle brigade at present, at whatever hazard." She did rest her eyes and she cured them of the acute strain, and then she proceeded to an optician and ordered two pairs of eyeglasses—one to use at theaters and other places where she wished to see from a distance, the other pair to wear when reading. Neither to wear permanently. This was eight years ago, and she still has her eyesight and, in spite of what the oculist predicted, it is stronger than then, and she rarely has to use the second pair of eyeglasses. She declares the parents can not be too wary about inflicting this blemish on their children's good looks; that half of the weak vision is caused by carelessness, and when once the glasses are put on they can never be taken off.—Boston Letter in Albany Journal.

The schooner Sea Flower, from Parrsboro', N. S., for Boston, with a load of knees, ran ashore at West Quoddy, Me., Saturday night, during the gale, and became a total wreck. The crew were saved with great difficulty by the crew of the life-saving station.

Captain Mitchell, of the bark Antoine Sala, New York and Havana trade, came home in May, entirely helpless with rheumatism. He went to the mountains, but receiving no benefit, at his wife's request began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. He immediately began to improve; in two months his rheumatism was all gone, and he sailed in command of his vessel a well man. Hood's Sarsaparilla will help you. Sold by all druggists.

On a Voyage of Rescue.

In response to the urgent telegram from Senator Fair, of Nevada, the secretary of the treasury has decided to send a search party after the crew of the missing whaler Amethyst, supposed to have been cast away in Behring sea. Telegrams were sent on the 28th inst. to Commander Hooper, of the revenue steamer Richard Rush, and Commander Healey, of the Thomas Corwin, at San Francisco, directing them to confer together with a view to the selection of one of those vessels to undertake the search. It is believed the steamer selected will be ready to sail in four days after the selection is made. From the advices received from San Francisco, it is believed that it will not be possible to force a revenue steamer further north than the Seal islands, between 150 and 200 miles north of the Aleutian islands, and well up into Behring sea. The relief steamer will put in at Onalashaka for coal and such stores as may be needed.

Mrs. William Mackin, of Boston, wife of a Faneuil market trader, shot herself in the head in the market on Tuesday. Domestic troubles, due to her own conduct, were the cause.

The democratic caucus of the Boston common council on Monday evening nominated Edward J. Jenkins for president of that body in 1886. This is equivalent to an election.

Christmas night at Little Blue, Mo., Frank Vaughn was married to Eliza Swope. Immediately after the ceremony, while Vaughn and his wife were standing at the window, they were fired at from the outside, the ball grazing Vaughn's head. It was thought that the shot was fired by Abraham Nave, cousin of the bride, who had threatened that if she did not marry him he would shoot the man she should marry. Saturday night Nave visited the Vaughns at Argentine, Kan., and said the reports of the Christmas affair worried his mother, and asked that Vaughn and his wife should accompany him to his home and deny that they suspected him. Sunday morning they started, the married couple in a buggy and Nave on horse back. When half the journey was completed Nave rode up to the buggy and shot Vaughn dead. He then rode home, and upon the approach of the officers killed himself by shooting.

The first comptroller of the treasury has approved the accounts of the United States fish commission for the last fiscal year, without alteration or modification. The republican candidates for representatives in the Ohio legislature from Hamilton county, who were elected by the voters but defeated by the democratic counters and a partisan supreme court, have held a meeting and passed resolutions declaring that while they shall insist that they were legally elected and at the proper time shall present their claims for seats, yet they neither expect to enter the republican caucus for the choice of officers of the house, nor do they regard it as compatible with the best interests of the state or party that they should take part in the caucus.

On the 27th inst., at Gainstown, Clark county, Ala., Alexander Reid, a negro, who brutally murdered Miss Carrie Boyer at that place on the 18th inst., was chained to a tree at the spot where the crime was committed, and slowly burned to death by a crowd of whites and blacks.

The victims are undoubtedly buried beneath the sand, culm and rock, and can never be found.

N. W. Bingham, special agent of the treasury for New England, has written a letter to Supervising Agent Martin, declining to resign as requested by the latter. The Missing Crew.

The news that the Point Judith life-saving crew have safely reached Block island will be received with a feeling of wide-spread and most hearty relief and satisfaction. The peril of these brave men has touched a deep and very tender cord of popular feeling. Indeed a solicitude altogether remarkable has manifested itself for their welfare; it dominated the thought of the city yesterday, and found expression in repeated and anxious inquiry. This was much more than an utterance of that human sympathy which is always stirred by the knowledge of peril and suffering. Back of that lies a very keen and earnest appreciation of the courage and endurance of the men engaged in this work of rescuing the shipwrecked.

There is the finest heroism in this work of the life-saving service. These men are constantly risking their lives for their fellows, defying death cheerfully, with little hope of earthly reward, with a compensation that is but a mere pittance. It is a picture of self-sacrifice that inspires the warmest sympathy and truest pride in humanity, and should be an incentive and stimulus to noble living.

Further than this, the danger of the Point Judith crew and the privations endured by their fellows all along the coast should successfully speak for more generous treatment from the hands of the national government. It has been far from liberal hitherto—almost niggardly, indeed, though the service calls for the expenditure of the best brawn and courage of the land, and intelligence of no mean order.—Providence Journal.

The Bucklyn, Capt. E. O. Matthews commanding, having completed the turning and other trials at Newport, R. I., sailed from that port for New York on the 28th inst.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H. M. M. COLLIS, Proprietor.

As the time is fast approaching when people will be looking for the beautiful, to make their annual bristmas gifts from, we would respectfully call attention to our stock, selected expressly for the holiday trade.

Our stocks of WATCHES, JEWELRY, CLOCKS, SILVER-PLATED WARE and FANCY NOVELTIES, were never as large as this year. We take this occasion to thank our friends and the public in general for the confidence and liberal patronage they have bestowed on us for the last six years since leaving the house of HUTCHINSON & CONNELL, and in the future as in the past our motto will be, "Knowledge & Honesty." First, we understand our business in all its branches fully, and cannot take advantage of our customers through ingorance; Second, we sell everything for just what it is.

Our reputation for skilled Watch work is too well established to need any comment upon; there is no better engraving done in the State than we send out.

Please do not look in our window and think you see the bulk of our stock, for we cannot show but a small part of our stock in the window. Our show-cases are full, our safe is full. Please come in and let us show you.

We could quote our prices but do not think it wise to do so in a newspaper, but being the largest buyer in our line of any dealer in the State, we can give prices that no one can honestly beat.

The custom is growing in favor of purchasing Xmas gifts early and having them laid away, we already have several Silver and Gold Watches and Chains sold, some of them to be sent out of the State. Please call early and see if we cannot please you in every way. Respectfully,

JAMES R. CONNELL, 7 Congress Street,

MONTE CRISTO.

Of the dramatization of Dumas' greatest work, which is to be presented in Music hall on Thursday evening, Dec. 31st, the Rutland, (Vt.) Review of Dec. 8th says:

"Monte Cristo," which is to be presented in Rutland this evening, was played in Burlington last night to a large and appreciative audience. Mr. Horace Lewes, who plays the leading part, is an actor of fine attainments and great promise, and received a perfect ovation. The support was fine, especially that of Mr. Chas. Verner as "Nortier," and the scenery among the most attractive ever presented in the Howard opera house. The play is one of interest, and should draw a large house.

CHRISTMAS FESTIVALS.

The festival of the Unitarian Sunday school and society was held in Franklin hall on Monday evening, and was largely attended; the exercises consisted of the distribution of presents from the trees, a supper, and to wind up with, a dance.

The Ladies' Social Circle entertained the teachers, officers and children of the Universalist Sunday school in the vestry on Monday evening. So admirable were the plans for the amusement of the young folks that a merrier, happier party can scarcely be imagined. Entertaining games, music and a liberal supply of cake and ice-cream helped to make the occasion one of rational enjoyment, and afforded the "Children of an older growth," who were present in considerable numbers, an opportunity to live over again, for a few golden moments, the joyous days of their own youth. A letter full of tender recollections of his pastorate here, and expressing the hope of renewed prosperity in the future of the church and Sunday school by Rev. E. M. Grant of Stamford, Conn., was read by the superiniendent. The entertainment closed at ten o'clock, and the children went home saying they had enjoyed two Christmases this year.

On Tuesday evening the Congregational society and Sunday school had a festival in the chapel on Middle street. There was a great throng present, but there was an abundance of supper for all, and the singing, dialogues, etc., which followed, made the evening pass very pleasantly until the hour for parting arrived.

The Christmas festival of the Court street Christian society, Sunday school and congregation takes place this (Wednesday) evening in Congress hall, and the festival of the Episcopal Sunday school in the Casino; the Middle street Baptist festival commences at three o'clock in the afternoon, in their chapel on State street, continuing through the evening.

The directors of the cottage hospital acknowledge the following donations: From Hon. Daniel Marcy, a bottle of port wine and a Christmas turkey; from Mrs. J. W. Peirce, a large basket of grapes; from Rider & Cotton, five lbs. of oakum; from Mrs. Sherwood, a dozen towels and some dishes.

The Boston Post of the 29th inst. says: "Captain William Lester of the barque Harvard, which is lying at Union wharf, came ashore yesterday afternoon, and left his overcoat and a bag containing eighty-five Mexican dollars in a barrel on the wharf. He afterward took the coat out and went up town, leaving the money in the barrel. When he returned the money was gone. The loss was reported at the eighth station."

It is reported that the stock for a new schooner, to carry 60,000 bricks, has been all taken, and that she is to be built by Mr. William F. Fernald. She is to be commanded by Capt. Freeman, who for old T[illegible] Boston in such style as to make her very nearly "high line" of the fleet every year.

The Army and Navy Journal says that "Among the most prominent guests at the Piney Woods hotel, Thomasville, Ga., are Commodore C. W. Pickering, U. S. N., and Mrs. Pickering; Gen. George Thom, U. S. A.; Ensign W. A. Thom, U. S. N; Rear Admiral Alfred Taylor, U. S. N., Mrs. Taylor and Miss Taylor."

We are requested to say that the statement published in an evening paper on Tuesday, that Mr. Sweet, teacher of the Walker school, had accepted a position in a western city, is incorrect. He was offered such a position, but did not accept it, and it is now filled by another.

Mr. Editor: I hope that the city government, at their next meeting, will take some action toward putting in new gates at the north millpond, for if fire should occur in any part of our city that is dependent on the Brewster street reservoir, or the pond itself, for water for extinguishing purposes, when the water was low outside, the department would be useless for lack of water.

CHRISTIAN SHORE.

Mr. A. A. Gilman of this city has a Jersey cow three years old, which has a record as a butter-maker (as given by Mr. Gilman) that is hard to beat. In June last, she made in thirty days eighty-one pounds of butter; recently from four quarts of her milk, seventeen ounces of butter was churned.

Captain Erickson and Cadet Smith of the salvation army have left this city to labor in new fields. Their places will be filled by Captain Palmer and wife of New York, who have arrived and will carry on the fight against Satan in Portsmouth.

Several consignments of fresh fish have been sent from this city to Minneapolis, Minn., this winter, and have arrived in good condition and been disposed of at remunerative prices. In return, several fine lots of geese and ducks have been sent from Minneapolis to this city.

The Boston Journal of Tuesday evening, in its personal column says: "Howe Call, a prominent Portsmouth politician, is going to New York city, where he will locate in the practice of the law."

The family connections of Mr. Elvin Newton, to the number of about thirty, had a reunion in the fine old Gardiner house on Christmas day, and a large number of handsome presents were made him, some of them showing great skill in the use of the needle by the lady donors, while the gifts of the gentlemen were appropriate and in many instances costly.

Otis B. French of Stratham on Monday sold a yoke of oxen for use on the navy yard, which girth seven feet eight inches, and weigh about 2100 lbs. each.

The funeral services of the late Alfred W. Haven will be held at the Unitarian church at noon on Thursday, Dec. 31st, and not at his late residence as at first intended. Mr. Haven was the 17th graduate of his name at Harvard college, and was a member of the class of 1820.

A Washington despatch says: "It is stated on good authority that the officers will be ordered to the frigate Vandalia, which has just been extensively repaired at the Portsmouth, N. H., navy yard, early in January, to go into commission. Captain Henry L. Howison, now on duty here, will command the ship, and it is rumored that Lieutenant Commander Zera L. Tanner is to be detached from command of the fish commission steamer Albatross, and ordered as executive officer. Paymaster John R. Carmody, who is now treasurer of the Navy Mutual Aid association, will be pay officer on bord."

Persons who feel sympathy with the hardships and perils of the life-saving crews can put it into practical form by sending books and other comforts to the stations. They will be gratefully received and heartily enjoyed.

Lieutenant Eugene H. C. Leutze is detached from the Juniata and placed on waiting orders.

Paymaster A. G. Hobbs is detatched from the Juniata and ordered to settle accounts.

Make Hens Lay.

[From the New England Homestead, December 5th, 1885.]

Everybody who reads newspapers must have noticed the advertisement of Sheridan's Powder, with the above familiar heading, but probably not one in a thousand of all those who keep hens, have bought the powder, or looked into the matter at all. To most people the idea of compelling hens to lay eggs in cold weather, whether they want to or not, seems absurd, but a little reflection will show any intelligent person that it is as easy to make a healthy hen lay eggs as it is to raise any crop. In the spring and summer hens generally find and eat just those things which (with their food) are required to make the yolk, the whites and the shells of eggs, but in cold weather they cannot, and hence they stop laying. Sheridan's Powder is a strictly scientific preparation, designed to stimulate the egg-producing organs and to supply the chemical constituents necessary for the formation of the egg. When this is done a hen cannot help laying. Sheridan's Powder is not a hen food; it is strictly a medicine, and very powerful, one teaspoonful to each pint of food is sufficient. I. S. Johnson & Co., of No. 22 Custom House street, Boston, Mass., are the manufacturers and proprietors of this valuable article. Their business is the oldest of the kind in the United States, and the firm is reliable in every respect. All persons interested should send for an illustrated pamphlet, which they will send free to any address. With eggs at thirty cents a dozen, the hens should be kept at work.

The Exile's Dream.

No kindly hand was near him: his hope was almost gone;
But pleasant dreams came o'er him, and stirred his heart to life.
A voice broke on the stillness—'twas the sweet voice of his wife.

A smile came o'er his features; he saw his home once more;
The dearest form on earth to him was standing in his door;
And years of care and sorrow and hardship were forgot,
The past was all alive again, and brightened was his lot.

That loving voice more potent to him than chime of bells
Which from the distant church-tower on evening's silence swells,
Roused hope once more within him—he wakened from his dream,
And through the clouds of darkness he saw one transient gleam.

And siren voices tempt the soul to deepest depths of gloom;
Of all love's strange and fitful fires the purest, tenderest.

And turn him home from a distant land to worship at its shrine.

The Gallery Gal Expresses Her Opinion.

"Ah, I'm so glad to see you," exclaimed the tired-looking woman who took in the money and made out the receipt in the office of a photograph gallery.

"But—but we have never met before," stammered the visitor.

"True, but you are a man. You are the first man who has been in here to-day. There have been nothing but women—several hundred of them, I guess. They do fatigue me so. I'd rather wait upon fifty men than one woman. The ladies are never satisfied. In the first place, there are not any samples that please them. They are all the time looking for some new attitude. They don't want anything that anybody else has ever had. They discuss all the little things, such as their hair, colors, ribbons, bangs, frizzes, position of the hands, and so on, and change their minds about fifty times. But the worst is when the proofs come in. A woman is never pleased with the first thing she sees. She has to point out this supposed defect or that, and find fault here and there, and talk an hour or two about sitting again. It is right the other way with men. They are easily pleased. If they have any convictions they are convictions, and they express them pointedly. They rarely change their minds. The proofs generally suit them. There is no doubt in the world that, as a rule, men have better taste than women, too. This may surprise you, but it is a fact. The average man will says: 'I don't know anything about such matters,' and say something sensible and pointed about the work in hand. Not one in twenty sits the second time. It seems to me that every other woman must sit twice, and every fourth one three times. I'm so tired."—Chicago Herald.

The National Complaint.

Dyspepsia is the national complaint. Almost every other man or woman you meet has it, and the result is that the number of pseudo-remedies for it is as numerous as Pharaoh's host. They are for the most part worthless. There is, however, a searching eradicant of this distressing and obdurate malady, one whose merits long since raised it to a foremost place among the staple medicines of America. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters extirpates dyspepsia with greater certainty and promptitude than any known remedy, and is a most genial invigorant, appetizer and aid to secretion. These are not empty assertions, as thousands of our countrymen and women who have experienced its effects are aware, but are backed up by irrefragable proofs repeatedly laid before the public. The Bitters also promote a regular habit of body and give a healthful stimulus to the urinary organs.

Gen. Rosecrans says Gen. Butler's accounts as treasurer of the soldiers' home in Washington are to be overhauled in the courts, there being a discrepancy of over $220,000 to explain.

Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites
In General Debility and Emaciation.
Is a most valuable food and medicine where the appetite is poor, and the ordinary food does not seem to nourish the body. This is easily digested and assimilated and gives strength and vigor to the enfeebled body.

A Novel Feature in Investments.

The whole country after having undergone a period of depression is now asking itself, what business has least been affected and unjudged?

Such a business, industry or corporation, that can make a better showing now than before the crisis attracts the attention of capital, merits the confidence of investors and is being eagerly sought for.

There is such a business, and it has heretofore been monopolized by English and Scotch capital until some three hundred millions have been invested in the Ranche and Cattle business of this great country.

Foremost among the strongest, richest and most successful American Companies stand the United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York, which is now offering $500,000 First Mortgage 6 per cent. 10-Year Bonds, for subscription at 90 cash, or at par, upon a novel installment feature which appeals to the Farmer as well as the Banker, the Clerk and Mechanic as well as the Millionaire, and to all who desire to invest their savings at better rates of interest than any bank will allow.

This company issues certificates of indebtedness in One and Five Dollars, each representing an installment, and when the investor has purchased $50 of these certificates he becomes entitled to a $100 Gold Bond, First Mortgage, bearing 6 per cent interest, which he can obtain upon presenting his certificates or forwarding them by letter to the Company's Office, 145 Broadway, N. Y.

The remaining $50 due on the Bond being payable to the Company in monthly installments not exceeding $5.

The Bond commences to draw interest on delivery the same as if fully paid. In addition to which the Company gives as a Bonus, Free, one fully paid up share of stock of the value of $25.

Those desiring to buy their Bonds outright for cash can do so at 10 per cent discount in $100, $500 or $1000 Bonds and receive one, five or ten shares of stock Free. The Bonds are secured by property owned absolutely by the Company, estimated to be worth $3,000,000, and the money received from sale of Bonds will be invested in Cattle, the income from which it is estimated will yield 30 per cent upon the stock after paying 6 per cent on the Bonds.

Applications are being forwarded in great numbers daily, and all those who desire to subscribe should send at once for Prospectuses and full information to The United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York.—"The N. Y. Financier."

CONSUMPTION.

STATUE OF "LIBERTY ENLIGHTENING THE WORLD."

More Money Needed.
The Committee in charge of the construction of the pedestal and the erection of the statue, in order to raise funds for its completion, have prepared, from model furnished by the artist, a perfect, go-ahead Miniature Statuette, which they are delivering to subscribers throughout the United States at the following prices:
No. 1 Statuette, six inches in height,—the Statue bronzed; Pedestal, nickel-silvered,—at One Dollar each, delivered.
No. 2 Statuette, in same metal, twelve inches high, beautifully bronzed and nickeled, at Five Dollars each, delivered.
No. 3 Statuette, twelve inches high, finely chased, Statue bronzed, Pedestal, Heavily Silver-Plated, with PLUSH STAND, at Ten Dollars each, delivered.
Much time and money have been spent in perfecting the Statuette, and they are much improved over the first sent out. The Committee have received from subscribers many letters of commendation.
The New York Herald fund of $100,000 completes the Pedestal, but it is estimated that $60,000 yet needed to pay for the iron fastenings and the erection of the Statue.
Life-size subscriptions for the Miniature Statuettes will produce the desired amount.

The Congregational ministers of Chicago last week listened to the views of August Spies, the editor of a socialistic paper, upon the aims of the socialists. He said there were 500,000 socialists in the United States who believed in anarchy and a resort to force to accomplish their "levelling" process. He said marriage, as practised today, was simply concubinage, and that when the socialistic revolution occured free-love would prevail.

J. L. Estes, Burneyville, Chickasaw nation, Indian territory, writes: "I have to thank Allcock's Porous Plasters for saving the life of my wife; she was attacked with pneumonia which commenced with a violent chill, great coughing and high fever. I could not get a doctor, but fortunately had a box of Allcock's Porous Plasters in the house; I placed one between her breasts, one on each shoulder-blade, and one on the small of her back. In two hours her cough almost ceased and was very loose; in four hours she broke into a profuse perspiration. The next day, though very weak, she was free from fever, and the third day was quite well. I also cured my child of diphtheretic sore throat, by wrapping the neck in an Allcock's Porous Plaster."

LONGEVITY IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Statistics show that New Hampshire is pre-eminently the home of the centenarian, nonagenarian and octogenarian, of hale and hearty old men who began life with the republic. Indeed, so numerous are the veterans of the war of 1812 in some of the remote towns of the Granite State that a popular impression prevails there that "the last war," as it is still called by these warriors of bygone days, was fought entirely by New Hampshire regiments, and that from Lundy's Lane to the battle of New Orleans they carried the American banner to the front on every hard-contested field. Many theories have been spun as to why people should live to be older in New Hampshire than in Vermont or Maine. Of course, there must be some good reason for it. Perhaps it is because they take better care of their health and understand what is the right medicine for the right disease. Such at least would seem to be the inference from the following account by Charles M. Lampney, Esq., a well-known attorney and counsellor, of Hampton, N. H., of how he was cured of rheumatism:

"I have had several attacks of rheumatism within the last thirty years," he says, "and have got rid of them the best I could with the help of good physicians. The last attack, which began in April, 1884, was the severest. I was daily under the care of the doctor, who gave me the best attention to relieve me of the severe pain and to relax the contracted muscles. I was taken in the back of the neck. In a few days the pain moved down into the limbs, and in the course of three weeks had run all through the joints from head to foot. At the commencement of the fourth week it had apparently settled down to stay all over me from the back of the head to the toes, and I was unable to move any part of the body except the right hand at the wrist joints. The day before, Deacon Hobbs, a neighbor, who had been suffering for several months with rheumatism, sent me word that he was taking Athlophoros and that it was doing him good. My father accordingly sent to Boston for a bottle. It was brought into the house at 8 o'clock in the evening and found me lying in bed like a corpse.

"I was about to give up the ghost and of course was ready to take anything in hopes that it might do some good. A dose was administered and three hours later another. My hearing became obtuse and my head confused. I dropped into a sleep and slept all night. The next morning after waking I had no pain and could move any part of the body. In the course of three hours I sat up in bed without any assistance. I continued to take the medicine every three hours through the day and a part of the next day and then stopped.

"In a few days I had very severe rheumatic pains in the thumb, and when I went to bed one dose was administered. I slept all night and in the morning the pain was gone. A few days later it returned in the left hand very seriously. On retiring one dose was taken, followed by sleep and no pain in the morning. The whole amount of medicine taken was one and a half bottles, and I have had no occasion to use any since. I consider that the Athlophoros saved my life and I recommend it to all who have rheumatic troubles."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also cured all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

OUR NEW YORK FASHION LETTER.

New Year Toilettes—Evening and Reception Dresses—New Year Notes.

New Year toilettes are not only important by reason of their exceptional elegance, but as affording a keynote to what may be expected during the remainder of the season, since few novelties occur from that time until spring. In those prepared at present we notice the great favor given to plush,—generally in the front and sides of costumes; scarce ever in the back, because sitting quickly spoils it; rather heavy, too, for the corsage, but very effective as touches and in combinations. Yet more notable is the employment of lace, not so much (though yet to a considerable extent) as edgings or flouncings, as in long drapings, and to accomplish these we note a revival of lace shawls and other large lace garments, which, brought out from obscurity, are tastefully arranged over silk or satin. Economical likewise are lace draperies, since by a little management the same, with different arrangement, can do duty over different skirts, and the wearer obtain credit for variety of costume. Again, as notable, may be mentioned

THIN MATERIAL,

Which is devised in great beauty, and by being worn over different colored silks, produces desirable changes. Here, the whole dress is oftenest made of the thin goods with inexpensive silk below, and it is not unusual to find a lady provided with three or four silk slips to one thin overdress. Silk gauze, crape, crape grenadine, tulle, fancy blond and lace in woven patterns, or with embroidered or applique figures, are most used for these dresses; some tulles and gauzes, being adorned by chenille drops or dottings, which give much richness. Other thin fabrics in vogue that can be combined with silk or satin, or perhaps made alone, are china silk, veiling, surah, crape de chine or muslin. Ribbons are a power in dressy toilettes, especially for the young, and are used with such lavishness as to obviate the necessity for any other trimming or combination. The thicker ribbons are laid on as galoons or panels, while the thinner are very effective in opposite styles, fluttering from the shoulder; elsewhere in jabots, cascades, loops and ends, rosettes or ordinary bows. Wide ribbons are made into ruffles; narrower box plaitings of ribbon are set in rows or as headings; while entire vests or whole front breadths are a mass of loops and ends of narrow ribbon, with this latter style of trimming an intermixture of beads being often observable. This season, too, we see ribbons worn in the hair. Among these various ideas that find skilled exemplification in Lord & Taylor's costume department, the most important one perhaps, is that of

INDIVIDUAL ADAPTATION.

Light, airy dresses for the young and slender, elegant simplicity for those inclined to embonpoint, fullness of drapery for the beauty who, though mature, is somewhat too thin. This, after all, is the great desideratum, and one that cannot be too frequently insisted upon, since like the great Christian grace of charity, it covers a multitude of sins. Fortunately, there is so great latitude not only in material but ways of making, that every one can be suited. Some seasons ago, the most beautiful neck was covered: now it can be displayed or hidden, half hidden or quite brought to light by a low corsage, by the square neck or heart shaped. The arm is usually covered by the long Mousquetaire glove. For costumes of all kinds, whether day or evening, there is a great run on cordings, often laid upon the dress in festoons or supporting drapery, but more frequently in lacing, and many is the costume laid open that it might be laced together.

NEW YEAR NOTES.

Fleece lined jerseys have proved a great success, and give another proof of how welcome is this comfortable garment to women so constantly made uncomfortable by dress.

Along with the comfortable jersey, we note the introduction of corsets which are provided at the sides with elastic sections that "give," and thus painful pressure is obviated. These elastics are not of rubber, and therefore do not easily wear out, while the bones are absolutely unbreakable.

Elegant skirts to wear with handsome indoor dresses, are of light colored satin quilted on flannel and lined with China or Surah silk. Some are also in crimson or black to suit the expensive tastes of dowagers. Bustles, steels and tapes are necessary adjuncts.

A worn silk dress might be utilized by making it into a skirt, wadded and with alpaca lining, and indeed at the present time there is no waste of anything, since combinations give ample room for using up pieces.

Beaded collars, vests, plastrons or independent touchings of beads are very popular, since thereby a plain costume becomes dressy. The three first-named styles are best, because easily transferred. LUCY CARTER.

SKIN, SCALP, BLOOD

NAUGHT BUT GOOD.

We have been selling your CUTICURA REMEDIES for the past three or four years, and have never heard aught but good words in their favor. Your CUTICURA SOAP is decidedly the best selling medicinal soap we handle, and is highly prized here for its soothing and softening effect upon the skin. J. CLIFTON WHEAT, JR., Druggist, WINCHESTER, VA.

THE LARGEST SALE.

Our sales of CUTICURA are as large, if not larger, than any medicine we sell; and we assure you that we have never had a single instance in which the purchaser was dissatisfied. As to your Soap, we can sell no other, everybody wants CUTICURA. MILLER & CHAPMAN, Druggists, LOUISIANA, MO.

SALT RHEUM CURED.

Two of the worst cases of Salt Rheum I ever saw were cured by your CUTICURA REMEDIES, and their sales exceed those of all other skin remedies. I sell very little of any other medicinal Soap than CUTICURA. GEORGE A. ANTHONY, Druggist, KEWANEE, ILL.

BARBER'S ITCH CURED.

I have been using your CUTICURA REMEDIES for the last six years, and I find that they give universal satisfaction. They cured me of a severe case of Barber's Itch when other remedies failed. W. C. ANDREWS, Druggist, CORTLAND, O.

DOCTORS PRESCRIBE THEM.

It's English, You Know.

It is announced that Secretary Whitney of the United States navy department, has engaged English naval constructors to draft plans for the new cruisers. With Secretary Bayard extending the fisheries clause of the treaty with England, against the earnest remonstrance of nearly all the fishermen of the entire American coast, and Secretary Whitney proposing to build our men-of-war on British models, it would appear that President Cleveland's cabinet is a sort of sub-ministry of the British government. If our naval constructors are not competent for their positions they should be replaced by better men; but perhaps Secretary Whitney thinks the American people are eager to duplicate some of the costly naval failures of England for our navy, and would prefer an English clumbungy to a Yankee ship.

A Remarkable Gathering.

Over 300 correspondents of the Atlanta (Ga.) Constitution, from all parts of the Union, were gathered in Atlanta on the 29th and 30th of December as the guests of the paper, which paid all the expenses of their travel, etc., furnished a splendid banquet at the Kimball house, and spared no outlay to make the unique gathering a memorable one. The officials and citizens of Atlanta, and the governor of the state, showed the visitors many attentions.

Naval Intelligence.

Rear Admiral McCauley, commanding the Pacific squadron, reports to the secretary of the navy under date of Payta, Peru, November 30th, that the flagship Hartford arrived there on November 22d, eight days from Panama. She was delayed there for repairs to her boilers, "ten more patches having been put on." She was expected to sail for Callao, December 1st. The Mohican had left the coast of Central America and was on her way to Payta. Thence she would proceed down the coast, visiting intermediate ports, to Callao. The Iroquois was at Callao and the Monongahela and Shenandoah at Coquimbo.

Rear Admiral John Lee Davis, commanding the Asiatic squadron, reports from Woosung, China, November 25th, that the Monocacy was inspected and sailed on November 13th for Tientsin, and arrived at Chefoo on the 15th. The Alert arrived at Shanghai on November 16th from Mok-Po, Corea, where she had been surveying. In this work she lost her steam launch, and as the season was already too far advanced for efficient work it was discontinued. She would remain at Woosung until the completion of her new launch, about December 30th, and would then sail for the southern ports of the station, touching at Palaoman. Repairs to the Palos were being pushed with all practicable speed to completion. The Ossipee, ordered to Woosung under sail from Yokahama, had not arrived. Commander Miller, commanding the Marion at Chemulpo, reported to Admiral Davis on November 10th that matters were quiet in Corea.

Jos. Weare, Esq., for thirty years past the postmaster at Cape Neddick, York, has been so popular as an officer that he is universally recommended to a reappointment by men of all parties. Mr. Weir is a successful business man, and although a pronounced republican, of old-line-whig antecedents, has never been "offensive" to his townsfellows either as politician or office holder.

The Christian Baptist society at Kittery Point, Rev. Mr. Webster pastor, had a Xmas tree in the church on the evening of Dec. 24th, Mr. Fred Grace officiating as Santa Claus. The tree was heavily loaded with presents; the pastor was the recipient of a purse of $25, and his wife of $15. The Sabbath school also gave a concert which was highly enjoyed by all present. The Freewill Baptist society of the Point, Rev. Mr. Anderson pastor, had a Christmas tree in their church on Christmas evening; the tree was weighted down with presents, useful and ornamental, the pastor receiving among his gifts a most enormous doughnut—the biggest one, probably, ever fried in the state of Maine. A most enjoyable concert was afterward given by the members of the Sunday school, the singing, dialogues, recitations, etc., being all pleasingly and creditably rendered.

Barrell's mill at Beech ridge, York, is being put in order for work after lying idle a year. It will saw lumber and grind corn and grain.

Mrs. Hannah Gerrish, an aged lady of Kittery Point, over eighty years old, fell a few days ago, breaking one of her wrists.

The Congregational church at Kittery Point is closed for the present, being without a pastor.

Mr. Martin Kingsbury of the Scotland district, York, on the 21st inst. had his blacksmith shop hauled from there to Beech ridge, where he will carry on the smith's business during the winter.

"NOBILITY IN MAINE."

John Marr, or De Marr came to Kittery, Me., about 1717, after the failure of John, the eleventh earl of Marr's rebellion in Scotland (1715-17.) He was reputed to be a grandson of Charles Erskine, tenth earl of Mar, through George Edmund Erskine, a younger son, and Katherine De L'Orme, a French lady whom he married at Arras. Papers in the family and in possession of the Maine Genealogical society, go to to show that some claim such as this existed, and one of the descendents claimed the title by right of nearest descent. The English house of peers has since decided that Francis Erskine Goodere shall be Earl of Mar. The recognition of this title, after it had been claimed by one of the family, depends upon: First, the restoration of the kingdom in France; secondly, upon the condescension of the king of France. This is believed to be the only earldom and dukedom claimed in Maine.

The Marrs of Kittery are descendants of the John Marr spoken of above, and if they are not all heirs to an earldom they can claim the prouder title "American citizen."

I have suffered with rheumatism for the last four years, and now from the use of Athlophoros am comparatively free from it. I consider Athlophoros a wonderful medicine, and have recommended it to every one. Mrs. L. F. Jones, Barnstable, Mass.

C. H. Eaton, Esq., of Calais, Me., has just made a trip in the little steam yatch Leila to Florida, arriving in safety. On the passage four men were rescued from death by Mr. Eaton. They were discovered clinging to the bottom of their boat, which had been capsized. Two of the men were wealthy New Yorkers, and the others were seamen in their employ.

People who are down with rheumatism sometimes go to the Hot Springs to be cured. But there is no need of getting into hot water, when St. Jacobs Oil will effect a cure.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H. M. M. COLLIS, Proprietor.

As the time is fast approaching when people will be looking for the beautiful, to make their annual brisimas gifts from, we would respectfully call attention to our stock, selected expressly for the holiday trade.
Our stocks of WATCHES, JEWELRY, CLOCKS, SILVER-PLATED WARE and FANCY NOVELTIES, were never as large as this year. We take this occasion to thank our friends and the public in general for the confidence and liberal patronage they have bestowed on us for the last six years since leaving the house of HUTCHINSON & CONNELL, and in the future as in the past our motto will be, "Knowledge & Honesty:" First, we understand our business in all its branches fully, and cannot take advantage of our customers through ingorance; Second, we sell everything for just what it is.
Our reputation for skilled Watchwork is too well established to need any comment upon; there is no better engraving done in the State than we send out.
Please do not look in our window and think you see the bulk of our stock, for we cannot show but a small part of our stock in the window. Our show-cases are full, our safe is full. Please come in and let us show you.
We could quote our prices but do not think it wise to do so in a newspaper, but being the largest buyer in our line of any dealer in the State, we can give prices that no one can honestly beat.
The custom is growing in favor of purchasing Xmas gifts early and having them laid away, we already have several Silver and Gold Watches and Chains sold, some of them to be sent out of the State. Please call early and see if we cannot please you in every way. Respectfully,
JAMES R. CONNELL, 7 Congress Street,

MONTE CRISTO.

The company which is to present Monte Cristo in Music hall this evening is well heralded by the press, and the appointments and scenery are said to be unusually fine; the play itself is one of absorbing interest, as is well known. Reserved seats can be secured at Goodrich's.

A LUCKY SKIPPER.

Captain William Lester, of the barque Harvard, who reported to the Boston police on Monday night of this week that some one had stolen eighty-five Mexican dollars, which he had left in a barrel on Union wharf, while he made a trip up town that afternoon, explained next day that he found the money in his cabin on his return to the barque.

THE NEW MARCUS P. NORTON RAID.

A conference of mayors and solicitors of the New Hampshire cities whose equilibrium is threatened with being upset by that disturbing element, Marcus P. Norton, was held in this city on Wednesday of this week, at the office of City Solicitor Emery, to discuss a course of action to be pursued in regard to Norton's latest move in the perennial Knibbs patent valve matter. There were present Solicitors T. M. Pray of Dover, George W. Prescott, of Manchester, and Samuel W. Emery of this city, and Mayors Stearns of Manchester and Ross of Dover. It was stated that Concord had retained Hon. W. L. Foster as counsel; and after considerable talk an adjournment was taken to Manchester on Saturday, Jan. 2d. It will be remembered that the New Hampshire cities "pooled their issues" against Norton's first raid on their treasuries, and made so good a fight that he was sat down upon by the jury in his suit against Dover, and didn't care to pursue the cases any further just then. It is likely a similar course will be taken this time, in case Norton's motion for the re-opening of the once-settled cases is allowed by the court.

The ball of Moses H. Goodrich engine comes off tonight in Franklin hall. It will be a big affair.

The Austin-Lincoln Association of colored people will have their annual ball on New Year's night in Franklin hall.

George W. Butler, Esq., of Gloucester, Mass., on Wednesday of this week purchased of Elvin Newton & Co. 1500 gallons of cod liver oil. An extra price was paid by the purchaser, who is an expert, because the oil was manufactured from fresh livers, for medicinal purposes.

Mr. Edmund T. Philbrook fell on the ice on State street, Tuesday night of this week, striking on his nose and causing a violent hemorrhage, and on Wednesday it was reported that he was in a critical condition.

Editor Andrew J. Hoyt, of the Exeter Protest, was in town on the 29th inst.

Miss Annie E. Smart, who received an offer of a position as teacher in one of the schools at Chicopee, Mass., and handed in her resignation as teacher in our schools to the board of instruction, has reconsidered her action and withdrawn her resignation.

The breaking of a bolt in a derrick used in excavating for the new sewer allowed the derrick to [illegible] the fore-[illegible] of the workmen, so hard as to knock him down and bruise him considerably. From the effects of the blow, the fall and the fright he was insensible when picked up, and was taken to his home in Mr. Jos. R. Holmes' team. He soon regained consciousness, and as his injuries did not seem serious medical aid was not called.

Col. Wm. H. Sise on the 30th inst. received from the agent of W. A. Greenough & Co., of Boston, who recently canvassed this city for a new Directory, a postal stating that the number of new names added to the list of 1883-'84 is 964, and that the corrections and changes of old names will be fully as many. Most of the corrections have been rendered necessary by deaths, removals from the city, and changes in residence or place of business in the city: but the number of names dropped from the list is small when compared with the number of additions.

Damon Lodge, No. 9, Knights of Pythias, on the evening of Dec. 29th elected officers for the ensuing year as follows: John Parkin, P. C.; Wm. P. Pickett, C. C.; Geo. H. Sanderson, V. C.; Francis R. Johnson, prelate; A. P. Wendell, M. of E.; Geo. W. Pickering, M. of A.; Thornton Betton, K. of R. & S.; Frank J. Philbrick, Chas. H. Sides, Samuel C. Whittier, trustees.

A prominent democratic politician of North Kittery, who was disappointed in regard to receiving the share of the spoils which he considered due to his long and faithful political service, now denounces the party, and proclaims his intention of acting with the republicans next spring.

HAMPTON, Dec. 28th.

Landlord Whittier, of the Union house, has about completed an addition to his already commodious hotel, by a building thirty-five feet wide and sixty feet long, the first floor of which will be fitted up as a dining hall, and the second floor cut up into chambers; the whole building will be artistically painted, and will make quite an ornament to our village.

The Christmas eve entertainment at the Bride hill school-house was a pleasing affair; the recitations by the scholars, interspersed with dialogues and choice selections of music by the teacher and friends of the school, went far towards making it a success; the tree was liberally hung with presents, and nearly everyone received a souvenir of the pleasant occasion. C.

KITTERY, ME., Dec. 28th.

Morrill Lodge of Good Templars, at North Kittery, will give an entertainment and oyster supper at their hall in the vestry of the 1st Methodist church on Thursday evening, the 31st inst.; general admission five cents; supper fifteen cents.

The Christmas entertainment at the 1st Methodist church, North Kittery, Thursday evening, 24th inst., by the Sabbath school of that church, was well attended and proved a success. SUB ROSA.

MARITIME NOTES.

The ship Paul Jones, Winn master, from Boston arrived at Melbourne, Australia, Dec. 26th.

During the heavy blow of Dec. 26th, the schooner Grace K. Green of this port, Seaward master, then lying in port at Salem, Mass., dragged her anchors and fouled the schooner Vulcan, carrying away the latter's jibboom, one cathead and most of her headgear. The Grace K. Green lost part of her port rail and some shrouds of her main rigging.

A poor lady passing in the vicinity of the Catholic church, Monday evening, slipped on the ice and broke her ankle. She was taken to the hospital, where she will be cared for by the city.—Times

An unknown man left a team with Deacon E. M. C. Lane of Stratham on Christmas night, and as it has not been called for since it is supposed to have been stolen.

Sick Headache.

GENTS:—I have been subject to Sick Headache for years, and have tried, in vain, many advertised remedies and several physicians, but all to no purpose. At last I tried your B. B. Bitters—without much faith. I admit—but to-day I can truly say, that after taking the third bottle I have not suffered from it. I recommend it to all my friends; several have been cured by it. My little grandson was permanently cured of Billiousness and Sick Headache, which were so severe as to cause convulsions. They have all ceased since he commenced the use of B.B.B.

Applejack in New Jersey.

Besides the coons and weasels living in New Jersey, writes Prentice Mulford, there are many human beings, descendants of the Dutch. There are, it is said, still hereabout some very old people who speak Dutch—or could if they wished. Applejack is the favorite beverage among this class, but they do not commence its energetic manufacture until nearer the sea coast—about Long Branch, where popular belief inclines against the killing of the fish-hawks whose frequent nests are conspicuous on the taller trees (suggesting bushel baskets lodged thereon). "Kill a fishhawk," says a Dutch descended Jerseyman of this section, "and your cows will give bloody milk." They believe it and believe in applejack too.

I drank once a huge applejack punch concocted for me by one of these landlords (they were building the Long Branch iron pier at the time), and in fifteen minutes after the fluid had begun the assimilating process with my organization I saw countless iron piers stretching away in dim tapering perspective far down the Jersey coast. It is one of the most insidious of stimulants in its effects, and may not give a hint that it means business until it has been within you fifteen or twenty minutes.

Rest for the Weary.

The public has long suffered from the fiendish scream of the steam-whistle, but there is a prospect of alleviation. Lately attention has been turned to this matter, and that great remedial agent, the inventor, has perfected different styles of what has been known as a gong whistle. But someone with the love of musical harmony in his soul has taken a step farther in the way of removing the offensive noise, and produced a musical cause whistle, the great merit of which consists in producing a musical chord composed of the first, third, and fifth tones of the common musical scale. The effect of this chord in the whistle is to remove the piercing, hurtful effect upon the ear and at the same time very much enhance the carrying qualities of the sound, from the fact that more tones or vibrations of the air are produced.—Boston Traveler.

Some years ago Senator Butler, of South Carolina, was one of a party of gentlemen at Fargo, Dakota. A country doctor came up to him and asked: "Are you Gen. Butler, of South Carolina? My name is Dr. Shaw." "I am," responded the senator. The doctor looked him over deliberately and carefully and then remarked: "Well, you don't look like a man who'd kill niggers." "No, I don't suppose I've killed as many as you have, replied Gen. Butler. It was some time before the doctor saw what the crowd was laughing at.

Look Out For Your Head.

No matter what parts it may finally affect, catarrh always starts in the head, and belongs to the head. There is no mystery about the origin of this direful disease. In begins in a neglected cold. One of the kind that is "sure to be better in a few days." Thousands of victims know how it is by sad experience. Ely's Cream Balm cures colds in the head and catarrh in all its stages. Not a snuff nor a liquid. Applied with the finger to the nostrils.

A Novel Feature in Investments.

The whole country after having undergone a period of depression is now asking itself, what business has least been affected and unirjured?

Such a business, industry or corporation, that can make a better showing now than before the crisis attracts the attention of capital, merits the confidence of investors and is being eagerly sought for.

There is such a business, and it has heretofore been monopolized by English and Scotch capital until some three hundred millions have been invested in the Ranche and Cattle business of this great country.

Foremost among the strongest, richest and most successful American Companies stand the United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York, which is now offering $500,000 First Mortgage 6 per cent 10-Year Bonds, for subscription at 90 cash, or at par, upon a novel instalment feature which appeals to the Farmer as well as the Banker, the Clerk and Mechanic as well as the Millionaire, and to all who desire to invest their savings at better rates of interest than any bank will allow.

This company issues certificates of indebtedness in One and Five Dollars, each representing an installment, and when the investor has purchased $50 of these certificates he becomes entitled to a $100 Gold Bond, First Mortgage, bearing 6 per cent interest, which he can obtain upon presenting his certificates or forwarding them by letter to the Company's Office, 145 Broadway, N. Y.

The remaining $50 due on the Bond being payable to the Company in monthly installments not exceeding $5.

The Bond commences to draw interest on delivery the same as if fully paid. In addition to which the Company gives as a Bonus, Free, one fully paid up share of stock of the value of $25.

Those desiring to buy their Bonds outright for cash can do so at 10 per cent discount in $100, $500 or $1000 Bonds and receive one, five or ten shares of stock Free. The Bonds are secured by property owned absolutely by the Company, estimated to be worth $3,000,000, and this money received from sale of Bonds will be invested in Cattle, the income from which it is estimated will yield 30 per cent upon the stock after paying 6 per cent on the Bonds.

Applications are being forwarded in great numbers daily, and all those who desire to subscribe should send at once for Prospect-uses and full Information to The United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York.—"The N. Y. Financier."

STATUE OF "LIBERTY ENLIGHTENING THE WORLD."

More Money Needed.

The Committee in charge of the construction of the pedestal and the erection of the Statue, in order to raise funds for its completion, have prepared, from model furnished by the artist, a perfect facsimile Miniature Statuette, which they are delivering to subscribers throughout the United States at the following prices:

No. 1 Statuette, six inches in height—the Statue bronzed; Pedestal, nickel-silvered,—at One Dollar each, delivered.

No. 2 Statuette, in same metal, twelve inches high, beautifully bronzed and nickeled, at Five Dollars each, delivered.

No. 3 Statuette, twelve inches high, finely chased, Statue bronzed, Pedestal, Heavily silver-Plated, WITH PLUSH STAND, at Ten Dollars each, delivered.

Much time and money have been spent in perfecting the Statuettes, and they are much improved over the first sent out. The Committee have received from subscribers many letters of commendation.

The New York World Fund of $100 000 completes the Pedestal, but it is estimated that $20,000 is yet needed to pay for the iron fastenings and the erection of the Statue.

Liberal subscriptions for the Miniature Statuettes will reduce the desired amount.
